This action will unquestionably strengthen the position of Japan abroad and possibly have the effect of shortening the war because it places Russia in the position of fighting to hold Manchuria. It has been generally anticipated that Japan would seize and unqualifiedly annex Korea, dethroning the Emporer. Japanese troops already in possession of the country are apparently capable of resisting Russia's invasion. In spite, however, of Korea's inability to offer any opposition in face of this situation, Japan voluntarily offers to guarantee her integrity and merely assumes a protectorate.

TERMS OF THE TREATY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—The Japanese legation has received from Tokio the text of the treaty between Korea and Japan by the terms of which the Japanese government "guarantees the independence and the territorial integrity of Korea." The treaty was signed February 22 at Seoul. Its text follows:

Mr. Hayashi, the Envoy Extraordinary and Minister plenipotentiary of His Majesty of Japan, and Maj.-Gen. Yo Tchi Yong, the Minister of State for Foreign Affairs, ad interim of His Majesty have agreed on these following articles:

"Article 1. For the purpose of maintaining a permanent and solid friendship between Japan and Korea and firmly establishing peace in the Far East, the imperial government of Korea shall place full confidence in the imperial government of Japan and adopt the advice of the latter in regard to improvements in administration.

"Article 2. The Imperial government of Japan shall in a spirit of firm friendship insure the safety and repose of the imperial house of Korea.

Article 3.—The Imperial government of Japan defi

WAR POINTS OF THE DAY.

A large Russian force has invaded Northern Korea and an early engagement is expected near Anju.

Japan assumes protectorate over Korea, but guarantees the country's independence and territorial integrity.

Russia is mystified by continual attacks of Japanese at Port Arthur, not knowing whether these are bona fide attempts to make a landing, or merely a feint to cover extensive operations elsewhere.

England is making ready a Canadian force of 100,000 men to be prepared for any emergency that may arise from the war in the Far East.

Consul General of United States in St. Petersburg says this country will have an opportunity to step in and end the war and cement the long-standing friendship between the two nations.

POLITICAL.

HARMONY FAR AND WIDE.

All Opposition to the President Vanished.

Even His Enemies Now Admit His Leadership.

Platt Foiled—New York Goes With the Crowd.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] During the last week the strength of the President among members of his own party has grown so perceptibl and his direct leadership has assumed such commanding proportions that even his political enemies have been obliged to recognize it. He is bringing his party together, solidifying all factions and putting it into splendid fighting condition for the national campaign of the coming summer and fall.

There was more trouble in New York State than anywhere else, and some trouble-makers there have been trying for months to make a split in the party so that united action could not be had. Their game has been to play Senator Platt against Gov. Odell, and, if possible, to make both these men turn against the President. It was their chief ambition to prevent the Republican State Convention from indorsing him. That they are going to fail utterly in this was shown today, when the New York State Central Committee met to call the Republican State Convention and adopted resolutions indorsing the President absolutely, without debate or friction of any kind.

In Washington, particularly among members of the Senate, the President is making progress in solidifing factions, although there are some individuals who are still at outs with him over matters of Federal patronage. It is entirely probable that the old Hanna men in the party will be called upon to furnish a chairman for the National Republican Committee, and that some good political manager from the Middle West will be chosen and then indorsed by the President.

The opinion is growing that Ex-Gov. William Murray Crane of Massachusetts will not be offered the chairmanship because he is utterly unfamiliar with political conditions west of the Allegheny mountains and is not very well posted on anything west of the New England boundary line. Some strong man from the Middle West is wanted by the President and by Republican managers generally. There was no man in the country who was more persistently and insistently in favor of nominating Senator Hanna for President than Senator Scott of West Virginia. Since Hanna's death, however, Senator Scott has gone over bag and baggage to the Roosevelt camp.

Out in Ohio, the President will keep in intimate touch with the Hanna people through the Senator from that State, Gen. Charles Dick, who for years has been Hanna's political lieutenant and who is now at the head of the Hanna faction in that State. It is said that Gen. Dick will be recognized by the administration in a signal manner as soon as he returns to Washington with his commission as Senator in his pocket.

Nowhere at the present moment is there serious trouble in any State among Republicans; and instead of signs of coming breakers, there are increasing tokens that whatever little trouble exists is being adjusted satisfactorily.

NEW YORK REPUBLICANS.

INDORSE THE PRESIDENT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—April 12 was agreed upon as the date for the State Republican Convention, and the President was indorsed for the Presidential nomination, at the meeting of the State Committee today. Both resolutions were unanimously adopted. The convention will be held in Carnegie Hall, this city. A committee was appointed to draw up resolutions of regret at the death of Senator Hanna. Gov. Odell sat in the meeting, holding a proxy.

The resolutions indorsing the President were as follows: "The Republican State Committee of New York takes this occasion to declare its entire loyalty to President Theodore Roosevelt as the representative of his party in his native State. We are proud of his distinguished services to his country. We admire his alert Americanism and his devotion to the highest ideals of government. His character, his fidelity to the progressive principles of Republicanism, and his singleness of purpose in administrating the affairs of government in the interest of the entire nation have commended him to all good citizens, without regard to party. We pledge him our earnest support for nomination, and with confidence to the verdict of the people on election day."

Chairman George W. Dunn presided. The resolution indorsing the President was offered by J. Sloat Fassett. The meeting was held in the Fifth Avenue Hotel. Senator Platt did not attend, but during the session remained in the lobby of the hotel, where, with former Lieut.-Gov. Woodruff, he held an informal reception and was greeted by many of the politicians present.

TO GET NEW THRILL.

Emperor William Will Have First Trip in Modern Steamer—Will Pass Antwerp By.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

BERLIN, Feb. 27.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Emperor William has never traveled far in a modern passenger steamer, and that fact is given present reason for taking the North German Lloyd steamer Koenig Albert on his twelve days' trip to the Mediterranean. His Majesty has rather suddenly decided not to call at Antwerp at all. No explanation is made of this change in the plans. The Emperor will go from Bremerhaven to Vigo, Spain, direct. At the latter place King Carlos of Portugal will doubtless meet him, and at Gibraltar, where he will stay two days, His Majesty will see the fortress for the first time. He will debark also for a few hours at Port Mahon and will leave the Koenig Albert and board the Imperial yacht Hohenzollern at Messina on March 24. The Koenig Albert will, consequently, be thankful to leave Genoa that day, as she is advertised to do.

The gossip regarding the Emperor's meeting President Loubet outside of Brest is altogether incorrect. The cruiser Heinrich II will convoy the Koenig Albert all the way to Messina and afterwards, with dispatch boat Sleipter, will accompany the Hohenzollern in a leisurly four weeks' cruise without a fixed itinerary to Corfu and as far eastward as Athens, but not to Constantinople. On his way back Emperor William may see the King of Italy at Naples. The Empress may join the Emperor toward the end of the excursion. The return will be made overland, and at no time during the trip will His Majesty be more than two days out of reach of land.

CASE OF BENSON.

Proposition on Foot to Have Examination Held in California—Counsel for Accused Asks for Dismissal.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—The examination of John A. Benson, charged by the government with bribing O. A. Harlan and S. A. Volk, clerks in the Land Office at Washington, was concluded today and a motion was made by counsel for the accused to dismiss the charge. This motion was based upon the evidence of Harlan and Volk, both of whom testified that the money Benson paid them had been for work and services rendered him in 1899, not to divulge the result of an examination made by the Land Office of Benson's method of securing titles to California and Oregon school lands, as alleged by the government. United States Commissioner Shields said, in view of the evidence, he would read over the testimony and render a decision later.

Evidence was taken on the second charge, wherein Benson was charged, together with Frederick A. Hyde of San Francisco, of having conspired to defraud the government in securing titles to school lands. Benson placed in evidence his contract with Hyde concerning the lands in question, showing that Hyde had secured title to the school lands before Benson became interested in the deal, and that Benson was only to profit through the sale of the property.

Judge Campbell, representing the accused, said that, in view of the fact that all of the government's witnesses were in California, it would be more convenient for all concerned if the examination were held there, and offered to surrender Benson to the California authorities, and then have the examination in that State. Those representing the government said the suggestion would be acceptable, when adjournment was taken until Tuesday, to give time to consult with the Washington authorities.

Reginald C. Vanderbilt, who has been in ill health for several weeks, is reported to be on the road to recovery.

WAR NEWS AFTER MIDNIGHT.

PARIS, Feb. 28.—The Matin this morning publishes information which it declares to be reliable to the effect that recent Japanese attacks at Port Arthur were preliminary to the execution of the plan which follows:

The investment of Port Arthur; the renewal of the attack by land and sea until the place is reduced; the occupation of Korea and the erection of fortifications there, and then await offensive operations on the part of the Russians. In any event, the Japanese will not venture into Manchuria, but await their adversaries in Korea.

JAP SHIPS AT POSSIET BAY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 27.—Although there is no confirmation here of the reported landing of Japanese at Possiet Bay, near Vladivostok, private advices received here say that Japanese warships have been sighted off Kyeng Seng, Korea, about eighty miles southwest of Possiet Bay.

BRITISH STEAMERS CAPTURED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PARIS, Feb. 28.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Figaro telegraphs that the Russian cruiser Dmitri Donskoi has captured three steamers flying the British flag which were conveying 15,000 tons of coal to Nagasaki.

The correspondent further asserts that Russia's plan of campaign contemplates the retirement of Russian troops without opposing the Japanese landing and when sufficient reinforcements arrive the offensive will be taken and Port Arthur relieved.

The cruiser Dmitri Donskoi and other Russian warships under the command of Admiral Wirinius have been in the Red Sea since the war began.

ITALY GETTING COAL SUPPLY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PARIS, Feb. 28.—A dispatch from Brindisi says Italy is accumulating large stocks of coal on the west coast and at Sicilian ports.

NAGASAKI, Feb. 28.—The British steamer Kwang Ping has arrived here from Chin-Wang-Tao, on the Gulf of Liao Tung, with 630 Japanese refugees, mostly women, from Manchuria. Many of the women claim that they were robbed and maltreated by Russian soldiers at Harbin.

WILLING TO BE GENEROUS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BERLIN, Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An important statement was made at the Japanese legation here today. It was stated that if Japan were successful in the war she would allow Manchuria to remain Chinese territory. It was also declared that as Russia had spent so much money on railroads in Manchuria, even in case of victory Japan would not try to prevent Russia from keeping troops there to guard the lines.

GREATLY OVERRATED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PARIS, Feb. 27.—"The Black Sea fleet has been greatly overrated. It was examined a short time ago by an American naval officer, who reported it not in very good condition, and that it was of no use for over-sea operations, in consequence of the small coal capacity of the vessels composing it. These vessels had been constructed simply for operations in the Black Sea, and not for service in the Far East."

The above is a statement made by an American official who for the last two years has been studying conditions in the Balkans.

TURKEY LAYING MINES.

Prince Alexander Offers to Equip Horde of Dreaded Savages to Fight Japs.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Prince Alexander of Oldenburg has caused a patriotic sensation, cables the St. Petersburg correspondent of the Herald. He not only has given a million roubles toward the war fund, but has proposed that the Emperor raise a troop of irregular cavalry of the dreaded tribes of Buriats and Kalmucks of the Steppes, the condition being that they be under military rule in the Far East, but allowed to do all they like in the way of independent raids of their own, according to their typical style of warfare.

Prince Alexander offers to equip and pay for the support of 1500 throughout the war.

CALLS US TACTLESS.

Charles R. Crane, who is reported to have given $10,000 to the "Young Empress Fund," for Russian soldiers and sailors, and who does not deny the reports from St. Petersburg that an association of merchants is countermanding orders for goods from the United States, because of sympathy by the people of the United States for Japan in the war, indicates the culmination of a tactless and unwise course by the United States in its dealings with Russia.

TO OPERATE CAR FERRY.

With a proposed capital of $1,000,000 a company is being formed to organize and operate a car ferry and lighterage system of boats on the Chicago and Calumet River and the drainage canal.

SULLY ON BOARD OF TRADE.

Daniel J. Sully, the "Cotton King," today went through the formalities necessary to his admission to the Board of Trade and incidentally experienced at the hands of the traders in the wheat pit a few informalities improvised for the occasion. Mr. Sully's introduction to the operators in the wheat pit preceded his formal admission to membership. The New York speculator was accompanied to the wheat pit by E. F. Leland and Herbert Ware of Ware & Leland.

REALLY DOESN'T NEED IT.

President William R. Harper of the University of Chicago will be operated on early this week for the removal of the appendix. The operation is not regarded by medical men as dangerous, but will be taken to prevent the recurrence of attacks which twice this winter have given Dr. Harper serious trouble. Drs. Arthur Dean Bevan and Charles P. Small, his attending physicians, today decided on the operation.

BOTH KILLED IN DUEL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

JACKSON (Mich.) Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] John C. Huddy and his wife are dead, slain by each other in a duel at the home of Mrs. Huddy's sister, Mrs. George Arnold, this morning. The couple had separated and the wife had sued for divorce, refusing all her husband's efforts at a reconciliation. Today he appeared at the Arnold home and asked for his wife. She heard him and shouted that she would not see him, and ran from the sitting room up the stairs. Huddy hurried after, brushing aside Arnold. Seven shots rang out. Mrs. Huddy was picked up dead. A bullet had pierced her brain, another had gone through her arm. Her husband had a hole in the temple but was still breathing. He died on the way to the hospital. Huddy was a Michigan Central switchman, 30 years old and his wife a few years younger. They had been married eight years.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 27.—While vast tract of land south of Sacramento is flooded, conditions in Yolo county, on the other side of the river, are almost equally as bad.

The immense volume of water rushing through the Yolo basin has done considerable damage to the railroad tracks of the Southern Pacific Company between this city and Webster station. All along the line, the water is nearly up to the height of the track and in many places the current has washed the gravel bedding from between the ties, thus weakening the track and preventing trains from crossing. A section gang has been at work for several days at this point, making the roadbed firm, but this morning the water reached such a height and so weakened the bedding that traffic was temporarily suspended.

In Yolo county, a few blocks out of the town of Washington, there is an immense sea of water which extends east and south for several miles. All of the ranches are under water and the farmers have either driven their stock to this side or taken them to high ground on the levees.

There was a heavy fall of snow in the mountains last night and this morning snow is falling in every station from Summit to Towle. This will have a tendency to check the streams somewhat unless more warm rains follow. At Cisco, during the past twenty-four hours .23 of an inch of snow fell, making the total depth six feet. The fall was also heavy at Cascade and at Summit. The total depth at Summit this morning was nine feet and two inches.

In the Sacramento Valley yesterday the rain was not as heavy as on previous days, but the Sacramento River is again rising at Red Bluff. On the Oroville branch of the Southern Pacific the water is again rising and railroad traffic on that line cannot be resumed for several days. The section of track near Marysville is still out of use and will remain so until the water recedes. SACRAMENTO, Feb. 27.—At 3 o'clock this afternoon, eighty boiler makers employed in the shops of the Southern Pacific Company in Sacramento walked out in accordance with the order said to have been received from the Oakland branch of the Boiler Makers' Union. The understanding is that a demand for 40 cents an hour was made and that the company refused to pay that rate. At this point, the rate has been 36½ cents an hour.

About 200 helpers went out with the boiler makers, making a total of 280 strikers in this city.

VAST TRACT OF LAND FLOODED.

HIGH WATER ABOUT SACRAMENTO DAMAGES ESPEE.

Ranchmen Drive Stock to High Ground to Prevent Drowning. Woodbridge Buildings Propped up to Prevent Tumbling Over—Levees Hold Good.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 27.—While a vast tract of land south of Sacramento is flooded, conditions in Yolo county, on the other side of the river, are almost equally as bad.

The immense volume of water rushing through the Yolo basin has done considerable damage to the railroad tracks of the Southern Pacific Company between this city and Webster station. All along the line, the water has risen up to the height of the track and in many places the current has washed the gravel bedding from between the ties, thus weakening the road bed, preventing trains from crossing. A section gang has been at work for several days at this point, making the roadbed firm, but this morning the water reached such a height and so undermined the bedding that traffic was temporarily suspended.

In Yolo county, a few blocks out of the town of Washington, there is an unbroken sea of water which extends unbroken south for several miles. All the ranches are under water and the owners have either driven their stock this side or taken them to higher ground on the levees.

There was a heavy fall of snow in the mountains last night and this morning snow is falling in every station from Summit to Towle. This will have a tendency to check the streams somewhat unless more warm rains follow. At Cisco, during the past twenty-four hours .38 of an inch of snow fell, making the total depth six feet. There was also heavy at Cascade and at Summit. The total depth at the latter this morning was nine feet and two inches.

In the Sacramento Valley yesterday the rain was not as heavy as on previous days, but the Sacramento River is again rising at Red Bluff. On the Marysville branch of the Southern Pacific the water is again rising and railroad men on that line cannot be resumed for several days. The section of track near Marysville is still out of use and will remain so until the water recedes. The track on the main line near Marysville, which was damaged a few days ago by the high water from the Yuba River, has been repaired. No damage has been reported on the Oregon line nor on the route over the mountains.

BUILDING DAMAGED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

STOCKTON, Feb. 27.—As a result of the high water at Woodbridge, Masonic Hall of that place has been severely damaged and it will be necessary to take out the front wall. The foundations have sunk about an inch, and it has been found necessary to prop up the front of the building to keep it from toppling over. The structure, which is of brick, contains the postoffice and the general merchandise store of Beckman and Beattie. The water ran over into the street at the residence of the late Dr. Newton for the first time in years, and for a part of the time a good part of the town was under water. A heavy rain just now would endanger Stockton, as the rivers carrying the water away are congested and there is now little or no outflow. More rain is looked for.

LEVEES STAND STRAIN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 27.—Special dispatches to the Bee from various points along the Sacramento River below this city indicate that in the island sections there is no danger from flood. At Isleton, there is a great deal of backwater from the Yolo basin, but the levees thereabouts are in good condition. At Clarksburg, on the Yolo side, a stretch of levee is being closely watched, but there is no immediate fear of its giving away.

LIFE LOST IN FLOOD.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

DUTCH FLAT, Feb. 27.—Edward Fuchs of Colfax, a carman at the Shady Run mine, near here, was carried over the rock dump last night and his body has not yet been found. The water is high in the cañon and his body was swept into the American River.

SAN JOSE RAINFALL.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN JOSE, Feb. 27.—The rainfall since yesterday has been .41 of an inch and in the foothills at least an inch has fallen.

HIGHEST EVER REGISTERED.

SACRAMENTO RIVER WAY UP.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

COLUSA, Feb. 27.—The Sacramento River registered 27 feet 9½ inches here last night at 11:45. This is the highest water ever registered here. The river has since receded four inches. The levees on the Colusa side are still intact. They probably will all hold.

There were several dangerous places found near Colusa last night. The most dangerous was at Granger's, where a large hole was found, but it was repaired after much hard work. Another bad place was a mile below Colusa, and many men were required to make the levee hold. At Sycamore, water was running over the levee, but sacks of dirt were used to make the levee higher. Considerable trouble was caused at Princeton by water seeping through the levee, but a large dam has been built across the weak places, and it is now thought the worst of the danger is over. On the east side of the river, from Colusa, three breaks occurred last night below Meridian, flooding reclamation district No. 70, about 4000 acres.

CREST OF FLOOD TODAY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27.—Unsettled weather prevails over the entire western half of the country. Rain is falling at Los Angeles, San Luis Obispo and Fresno, in generous amounts, while snow is falling from Carson City to Salt Lake City.

The temperature has fallen about 20 deg. over the intermountain region.

Warnings of a further rise in the rivers of Northern California have been issued. The crest of the flood will probably be felt south of Sacramento on Sunday.

The following river readings are reported: Red Bluff, 19.4, falling; Sacramento, 27.7, falling; Tehama, 14.6, falling; Marysville, 18.1, falling; San Joaquin bridge, 15.6, rising, and Waterford, 7., rising. The Consumnes, Mokelumne, Calaveras, Stanislaus, Tuolumne and Merced rivers will rise rapidly.

SITUATION UNCHANGED.

FLOOD AT SACRAMENTO.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 27.—The situation in the Sacramento Valley is unchanged, though the break in the levee three and one-half miles below Sacramento has widened slightly in the last twenty-four hours. A mighty stream of water is pouring through the crevasse into the cultivated region on the Sacramento side of the river. The loss will be greater than was at first estimated, as the work of filling the gap in the levee will take longer than the engineers expected. The magnificent hopyards just below Sacramento are drowned out, and will yield no crop this season. Many gardens owned by Italians, Portuguese and others will be flooded, until it is too late for getting much out of them except potatoes. The weather has cleared up. There is no apprehension of the levees of the city of Sacramento giving way, as they stand high and strong above high-water mark.

FRESNO'S BANNER RAINSTORM.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

FRESNO, Feb. 27.—Fresno has been visited during the past twenty-four hours with the banner rainstorm of the season. It began about midnight last night, and has kept up a steady drizzle ever since, soaking the ground in fine shape. The fall so far has been 1.17 inches. Reports from the mountains are that the snowfall has been heavy, promising water for the irrigating ditches late into the season.

SLOPE BRIEFS.

Indictment Declared Void.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27.—On the ground of insufficiency of indictment, Judge Carroll Cook of the Superior Court this morning declared void the grand jury indictment against Albert B. Mahoney, ex-County Clerk, and ordered the case submitted to the present grand jury. At the same time the court expressed a wish that the District Attorney take an appeal from his decision in order to have a final ruling on a mooted point.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 27.—Superior Judge Hart this morning denied the motion for a new trial in the case of Convict Joseph Murphy, convicted of murder in the first degree, and sentenced him to be hanged at Folsom State prison May 20, next. Murphy was one of the participants in the break at Folsom prison, July 27, last, which resulted in the death of Prison Guard W. L. Cotter.

FLORIDA'S FREEZE.

The Oranges of That State Compared With Those of California by a Florida Grower.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—A Florida paper takes up the interview with J. L. P. Bishop, a leading grower and handler of Florida oranges. Mr. Bishop asserted very emphatically that the oranges which come here during January were chilled on the trees in November, and deteriorated because they were left hanging on the trees. The paper declares that none were frozen on the trees. They weren't even chilled, it says. But it does admit serious drops as a result of the cold at that time.

Mr. Bishop replies that he knows what happened in his own groves, and naturally assumed that others were affected in substantially the same way when exposed to similar weather conditions. He further asserts that early freezing and the subsequent loss of juice can be ascribed to only one thing, chilling, and failure to pick until after the sap has flowed down and the juice has all escaped from the orange never to go back to it. Mr. Bishop says further that the best qualities of California oranges have been and are of better quality than the best Floridas. This opinion ought to be worth something since he owns extensive groves there, and understands the practical growing end as well as the selling in New York. He shows no disposition to retract his previous statements, and maintains that there was a freeze in his own groves in November, that his oranges suffered because his care-takers did not immediately strip the trees, and that fruit from other groves came here looking just the same as his. The inference is that they were affected in the same way.

The dispatch boat Mayflower, with Admiral Dewey on board, has arrived at Guantanamo, Cuba. The United States warships are engaging in target practice at night in Guantanamo Bay.

BUTTE MINER WHIPS SAILOR.

Munroe Outfights Sharkey in Six-round Bout.

Latter Much Punished but the Miner Not Scratched.

Jeffries Must Now Defend Title Against Munroe.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 27.—Jack Munroe outfought Tom Sharkey in their six-round bout at the Second Regiment Armory in this city tonight. Munroe stepped from the ring without a mark, while both of Sharkey's eyes were badly swollen from vicious right and left swings of the Butte miner. In only one round, the first, did Sharkey have any advantage over Munroe. After this the battle was almost wholly in Munroe's favor. When Munroe began to find the sailor's stomach, Sharkey became wild and nearly all of his leads went around Munroe's neck.

In the fifth round Munroe had his antagonist in trouble and again in the sixth round Sharkey was in great distress. The blows which Munroe landed on Sharkey's stomach went straight from the shoulder and were hard enough to have knocked out almost any fighter. The general opinion seems to be that Jeffries will now be called upon to defend the championship against Munroe.

FIGHT BY ROUNDS.

First round—Sharkey led and missed. Munroe landed a left blow on Sharkey's ribs and the latter fell through the ropes, but did not land on the floor. Sharkey landed right on stomach and Munroe a left to Sharkey's wind. Sharkey missed a left and then the men clinched. They sparred for an opening and in a rush Munroe slipped and fell to the floor. Sharkey missed a left swing and Munroe missed a right. Munroe drove left to Sharkey's nose and right to stomach and got away without return. Sharkey missed a left swing and then landed a right to Munroe's jaw, sending him to the floor. When they came up Munroe clinched to save himself. Sharkey landed another left to the jaw, which bewildered Munroe. The men were clinched at the bell. This was Sharkey's round.

Second round—Sharkey landed a vicious blow over Munroe's stomach and the men came together. They sparred a moment and then Sharkey landed right on Munroe's stomach. Sharkey landed a light left on Munroe's stomach and then slipped to the floor. Munroe tried a left, but Sharkey stepped inside and landed a light left on stomach. The men rushed to a clinch without damage. Munroe landed hard right on Sharkey's stomach and a moment later repeated it.

Third round—Munroe landed hard right on stomach. The men rushed to a clinch and Munroe landed a left on Sharkey's stomach. The men sparred a second and then Sharkey landed lightly on Munroe's wind. Sharkey rushed but Munroe met him with hard right on the wind. Sharkey was short with right and Munroe countered with right to the wind. Munroe staggered Sharkey with straight left to chin. Sharkey rushed in, but Munroe met him with right to wind. Sharkey was wild. Munroe missed left for head, but landed right to the wind.

Fourth round—Munroe landed right Sharkey's wind and the latter clinched. They sparred for a moment and then rushed for another clinch. Munroe landed right on Sharkey's wind. Sharkey landed a right on Munroe's stomach and the men clinched. Munroe landed light left on Sharkey's face, and right to stomach. Munroe pushed his left to Sharkey's nose, getting away without a return. Munroe landed another left on Sharkey's face and the latter slipped to the floor. Munroe landed hard right on Sharkey's stomach and the latter looked pained. They were clinched at the bell.

Sixth round—The men rushed to a clinch. Munroe landed a right on Sharkey's stomach, and Sharkey's left went around Munroe's neck. Munroe drove hard right to Sharkey's wind and pushed his head back with a left. Sharkey landed a left on Munroe's head. Munroe landed hard left on Sharkey's jaw and the latter looked worried. Sharkey landed a right on Munroe's wind and the latter opened Sharkey's eye with a vicious left. Sharkey was holding on. He was groggy and held on to save himself. Munroe landed hard right on Sharkey's stomach and the latter landed a light left on Munroe's head. The latter slipped to the floor. Sharkey led but missed, and Munroe landed hard left on Sharkey's wind. The men were sparring as the gong sounded.

Extension of Coastwise Navigation Advised.

Merchant Marine Committee Gives Hearng.

Two Years in Prison and Fine for Machen et al.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Advocates and opponents of an extension of the coastwise navigation laws to the Philippines were given a hearing today by the House Committee on Merchant Marine. The only opponents of this measure who were present today were William C. Smith of Hawaii and W. M. Alexander of Alexander & Baldwin ofg San Francisco, although ex-Representative George W. Farish of Indiana gave notice that cordage manufacturers, whom he represented, probably would ask for a hearing within a few days.

Messrs. Smith and Alexander said that in the shipping of sugar from Hawaii to the United States there are not even at the present time enough ships to carry sugar from Honolulu to New York at a rate which Hawaiian planters wanted to pay. After a long-drawn-out controversy lasting most all day, they substantially admitted there was an abundance of tonnage for this purpose if shippers chose to pay the rate asked, but $5.50 per ton had been set as the upset price for sailing tonnage from Honolulu to New York, and thousands of tons of American shipping were laying idle rather than pay this rate.

Representative McDermott of New Jersey undertook to press this upon Mr. Alexander, but could not obtain a direct statement from him. Representative Littlefield brought out the fact that Hawaiians paid $3 more by a water-and-rail route to New York than they did for an all-water route, in order to keep down water rates.

Winthrop L. Marvin of Boston presented a list of thirty-one steam vessels of an aggregate tonnage of more than one hundred and sixty thousand tons which would be available for Philippine service, and which, later in the day, he compelled Mr. Alexander to admit were not now engaged in Hawaiian trade; and, consequently, that trade could not be injured in the slightest degree by their entering the Philippine business.

Representative Greene of Massachusetts picked up Mr. Alexander on his statement that sufficient insurance could not be obtained for cargor sugar in wooden sailing vessels.

"I don't believe that," said Mr. Greene. "I've been in the insurance business for fifty years and that has not been my experience."

F. F. Luckenbach of New York said his firm had a number of vessels laid up in New York for want of business and that all of them are available for the Philippine trade.

Capt. I. E. Thayer, representing general shipping interests of San Francisco, spoke in favor of the bill. There was an abundance of American shipping, he said, for both Hawaiian and Philippine trade.

Mitchell Bunker, representing the Chamber of Commerce of San Francisco, said that organization supported the bill because it believed in developing and protecting American shipping. It looked forward to the development of the Oriental trade and was anxious to have as many American vessels as possible engaged in it. He predicted that when the present war between Russia and Japan was over there would be a tremendous contest for Oriental trade and that all nations would put forth their best efforts to get it. It was therefore necessary to get in line and be ready for the struggle when it comes.

OPENING FOR CALIFORNIA FRUIT.

WANTED IN SOUTH GERMANY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The State Department today issued the following statement, which comes from the American Consul at Munich, Germany:

"There is considerable opportunity in this field for preserved and evaporated fruit. There is already quite a little trade in California canned fruit, which has increased within the last year, showing that a large trade could be developed if proper attention were paid to this field. First of all, there should be steps taken to reduce transportation rates, for at present California fruits are selling at just about double what other fruits are bought for. There should not be more than an increase of 20 to 25 per cent. To illustrate: California peaches are selling here for 60 cents per can, while French and Tyrolese fruits can be obtained for 30 cents. The difference in prices is 70 per cent. between Italian and American goods. To the layman, like myself, this seems out of all proportion. An effort should be put forth by American fruit dealers to bring about a reduction and thus secure the very large trade that might be had in Southern Germany."

CHARGES AGAINST SMOOT.

FIRST AUTHORIZED STATEMENT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections will next week commence hearing charges against Senator Reed Smoot of Utah. Senator Burroughs of Michigan, chairman of the committee, made the following statement regarding the charges that are being investigated, and this is the first authorized statement of the exact nature of the investigation that is to be had.

"That Reed Smoot himself is a polygamist, and, for this reason, should not be permitted to retain his seat in the Senate; second, that if he himself is not a polygamist, the body of men with whom he is officially connected is; that the president of the Mormon Church and the twelve apostles were—or at least a majority of them—were guilty of polygamy, and that the governing body of the church, consisting of its president and twelve apostles, teach the right of polygamy and that, being associated with them in the capacity of one of these apostles, Smoot must have knowledge of this violation and himself become responsible for it or a party to it, and for this reason should be excluded; third, that the president and the twelve apostles constitute the governing body of the Mormon Church in the State of Utah, and, claiming to receive revelations from the Almighty from time to time, presume to dictate to their adherents, the course of conduct to be pursued by them, or, in other words, that while by legislation of the State of Utah the church and state are completely divorced, yet, as a matter of fact, by reason of the domination of the church, the union of church and state is consummated, with the church in the ascent, and that Mr. Smoot comes here as a Senator, not from the State of Utah, as much as a Senator of this governing body of the Mormon Church and that he is really a representative of a hierarchy which dominates that State in all state affairs; fourth, that, as an apostle, he has taken an oath to the church inconsistent with his oath of allegiance to the government of the United States.

"These," Senator Burroughs added, "are the main contentions in this case."

FOR PHILIPPINE RAILROADS.

LEGISLATION NEXT WEEK.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Legislation authorizing the Philippine government to execute a guarantee of 4 per cent. per annum on $40,000,000 of bonds for railroad construction in those islands is to be introduced in the House next week by Chairman Cooper of the House Committee on Insular Affairs.

This legislation will have the support of the administration through Secretary Taft, whose conviction that railroads are the next most essential step in the development of the Philippine Islands has been made known to the Committee on Insular Affairs. Secretary Taft, Chairman Cooper and Col. C. A. Edwards, chief of the insular bureau of the War Department, were in conference today at the War Department and later at the Capitol.

While the text of the proposed legislation has not been prepared, its verbiage will be most simple and contain the authorization to the Philippine government to issue the guarantee on the capital to be invested in railroad building. A restriction will be placed in the legislation limiting the guarantee to American or Filipino capital.

The first roads to be built will be in the Island of Luzon. Some sections of the island, according to the belief of Secretary Taft, will yield 4 per cent. from the beginning. Other sections of the islands where railroads would lead to greater industrial development will not earn this amount on the investment.

At the most, however, it is estimated that the government guarantee will only be needed for a limited number of years. The strictest kind of safeguards are to be embodied in the legislation, looking to an absolute accounting to government representatives.

The plan, as at first outlined, provided for a 5 per cent. guarantee on a total investment of $60,000,000. Upon further consideration of the matter, it was deemed advisable to reduce the total amount to $40,000,000 and raise the guarantee to 4 per cent. Should the total amount of the guarantee be called for, it would mean a total yearly expenditure of $1,600,000.

It is predicted that telegraph lines will follow the railroad, newspapers will be established along its lines, and educational, social and industrial development of the islands will be accomplished faster and more surely than in any other manner.

TWO YEARS FOR MACHEN ET AL.

POSTAL GRAFTERS SENTENCED TO MOUNDSVILLE PRISON.

With Lorenz and Groff, He Must do Time, as Well as Pay Fine of Ten Thousand Dollars—Notice of Appeal Given.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—August W. Machen, formerly general superintendent of the free-delivery postal service; Dr. George F. Lorenz of Toledo, once postmaster of that city, and Diller B. Groff of this city, all of whom were convicted of conspiracy against the government in connection with the supply of Groff fasteners to the Postoffice Department, today were sentenced by Judge Pritchard to two years' imprisonment in the Moundsville, W. Va., penitentiary, and to pay a fine of $10,000 each. The defendants immediately gave notice of appeal to the Court of Appeals and were released on $20,000 bonds each.

Samuel A. Groff, as to whom Special Counsel Conrad, for the government, said some days ago that there was not sufficient evidence to convict, was not sentenced, his motion for a new trial and for arrest of judgment being allowed further consideration, and his counsel were given four days within which to prepare to argue the motions.

The sentence imposed on Machen, Lorenz and Diller is. Groff is the maximum allowed under the law, although the court, contrary to the contentions of the prosecution, decided that the several counts in the indictment constituted but one offense. The appeals to the upper court will be pressed as rapidly as possible, according to the defense, but months may elapse before the appeals can be heard.

The government has not yet decided on its next step in the prosecution of the postal cases. There are fourteen indictments against Machen, either singly or jointly with others, and the government expects to bring him to trial on most of them.

'FRISCO TURFMAN NAILED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Postoffice Department today issued a fraud order against W. A. Woolf, who has been running the Turf Investment Concern at No. 36 Geary street, San Francisco, under the name of E. Clarke & Co. and Alfred V. Terry. Woolf advertised to give telegraphic tips on races free, but he asked the recipients of his benefactions to mail him 50 cents to cover the cost of his telegrams. Then he dropped the 50 cents into his own pocket and sent the tips by mail as circulars. He operated in other and grander ways also.

CANAL COMMISSION COMPLETE.

HARROD SEVENTH MEMBER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—The President has decided to appoint Benjamin M. Harrod of New Orleans a member of the Isthmian Canal Commission. This completes the commission, and the names of the members will be sent to the Senate today. The President went thoroughly into the charges against Mr. Harrod and satisfied himself that there was nothing in them.

REGULAR TROOPS NOT NEEDED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Admiral Walker, who will be president of the new Panama Canal Commission, does not approve of the immediate use of United States regular troops on the isthmus. He has told the President that three or four hundred marines will serve all present needs in that quarter. This may affect the orders to the Third Infantry to proceed to the Isthmus of Panama.

Lieut.-Gen. Chaffee has selected that regiment to relieve the marines on the isthmus, at the instance of the Navy Department. But that request was based on the apprehension that it would be necessary to continue the force on the isthmus at its present strength of about one thousand men. The marines were wanted elsewhere, some at Guantanamo and some in the Philippines, and the department could not spare the 1400 men who had been guarding the line of the Panama Railroad, but when the demand for guards was reduced to 400, this could be granted and the War Department was so informed. The Third Infantry had been notified to be in readiness for service on the isthmus, but final orders had not been given.

That is the present situation—the Third stands ready to go to Panama whenever troops are required there.

POWELL THANKS NAVY.

BULWARK OF NATION'S HONOR.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Before Capt. Miller of the cruiser Columbia left Dominican waters, he received a formal letter of thanks from United States Minister Powell, in the course of which the Minister said:

"Allow me to say that our people in the States owe very much to our navy and to its officers for the able and efficient manner in which they at all times have maintained the national honor and conserved American interests abroad. When such occasions have occurred, they have won and added new laurels not only for themselves but for the nation at large and added a new page to our country's history. The American people cannot be too proud of their naval vessels and the officers who man them, as they stand today before the world as the great bulwark of the nation's defense and the nation's honor."

THE CONGRESS.

REGULAR SESSION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—SENATE.—Immediately after convening today, the Senate resumed consideration of the bill requiring the use of American vessels in transporting government supplies. A roll call was ordered on Mr. Carmack's motion to recommit. The motion was lost—19 to 39.

Mr. Hale moved to lay on the table Mr. Daniel's amendment relieving the government of the necessity of enforcing the provisions in the proposed law in cases in which the charge of American vessels exceeds that of foreign vessels to the extent of 10 per cent. The motion was carried—42 to 20.

Efforts to fix the figures at 15 and then at 20 per cent. also were unsuccessful. The votes were all on party lines.

Mr. Mitchell offered an amendment to postpone the date when the bill shall take effect until July 1, 1905. He expressed the opinion that the bill, as a law, would have the effect of restricting trade between the United States and its dependencies in the Pacific. He also charged that the effect would be to discriminate in favor of some Pacific Coast ports as against others. None of the American vessels that would be engaged in the trade ever enter the Columbia River. He said all oriental trade from the Columbia River ports would be immediately destroyed if the bill should become a law.

Mr. Hale moved to lay Mr. Mitchell's amendment on the table, which was carried—34 to 23, Messrs. Mitchell, Fulton and Dietrich voting with the Democrats.

The Senate also tabled amendments giving American vessels the preference where the charges do not exceed by more than 25 per cent. those of foreign vessels, and extending the time when the bill shall take effect until 1905.

Mr. Patterson suggested an amendment excluding from the benefits of the bill American vessels employing Chinese and other than those entitled to reside in the United States.

The amendment provoked a debate, in which Messrs. Patterson, Perkins, Tillman, Elkins and others participated.

In a colloquy between Messrs. Perkins and Tillman, Mr. Perkins stated that Mr. Tillman was always willing enough to vote for improvements in the harbor at Charleston. The latter replied that Mr. Perkins was just as jealous in his advocacy of measures calculated to benefit the harbor at San Francisco.

Mr. Elkins spoke in support of a discriminative duty in favor of goods shipped into the United States in American bottoms. Such a policy would, he said, work a revolution in five years.

Mr. Patterson expressed a willingness to vote for such a measure as Mr. Elkins outlined.

On motion of Mr. Hale, Mr. Patterson's amendment was laid on the table—37 to 18.

Mr. Daniel suggested an amendment making the proposed law inapplicable unless reasonable bids were received from American vessels in response to advertisements, but it was dropped when Mr. Hale consented to strike out the section authorizing the President to suspend the act and also to amend the first section that increases of excessive charges in the matter may be determined under the existing law. Both amendments were accepted, as also was an amendment by Mr. Hoar, striking out section 3, giving the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy power to enforce the act. A unanimous agreement was reached to vote on the bill on Tuesday next.

The Senate, at 5:08 p.m., adjourned.

HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—HOUSE.—By agreement, the House considered pension bills today. To further expedite their passage, the House considered the bills in the House as in committee of the whole, so that each one passed might be finally disposed of, instead of being acted upon both in the committee and in the House.

With the reading of the first bill, Mr. Adam of Pennsylvania complained that he had filed a batch of pension bills with the committee, none of which had been reported. He said he had been asked to send his bills to the committee, but he could not find a single one of them on the calendar. He gave notice that unless his district received fair treatment he would put all other districts on the same basis, but withheld objection today.

Mr. Slayden said he had not been requested by the Invalid Pensions Committee to send in any bills, and wanted to know under what rule the requests came. The speaker evoked laughter by suggesting to Mr. Slayden that he would "take it under consideration."

RUSHED PENSION BILLS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—A total of 289 pension bills were passed today in record-breaking time. The method employed of considering the bills was an innovation.

A resolution calling on the Secretary of the Interior for information as to the receipts from sales of town lots in Lawton, Hobart and Anadarko, Okla., for a copy of the report of an inspector or person employed to investigate charges against any officials in Indian Territory and for other information pertaining to Indians in Indian Territory, was passed.

Other bills were passed as follows:

To authorize the acceptance of lands from the State of Montana for the enlargement of the Fort Missoula reservation.

Providing for an additional associate justice for the Supreme Court of New Mexico.

Setting apart a tract of land in Arizona as a public park, to be known as the Petrified Forest National Park.

Authorizing the construction of a bridge across the Cantalla River in Alaska.

The House adjourned at 4:30 p.m. until Monday.

The President's Horses Ruined.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—A number of the President's horses practically have been ruined by being kept in the old stables, which are damp and unhealthful. Frederick the Great Statue.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—At the instance of the President, Baron Speck von Sternberg, the German Ambassador, has had a long conference with Secretary Taft and Maj.-Gen. Gillespie respecting the location of the statue of Frederick the Great, which is to be dedicated October 12. It was decided that the statue should make one of a quartette of four of the world's greatest soldiers, and it will stand in line on the beautiful terrace of the War College between Alexander the Great, Caesar and Napoleon. The German statue will differ from the others in one respect—it will be the only one of the four that is a presentation to the United States. The President has decided that the United States government should provide the other statues at its own expense. The arrangements made are highly satisfactory to the German Ambassador, who will acquaint his Emperor with them.

BATTLE WITH HOLD-UP MEN.

SALT LAKE (Utah) Feb. 27.—A special to the Tribune from Milford says that in a battle on board a train which followed the attempt of Marshal Hickman and Deputy Sheriff Stoddard to arrest two men suspected of holding up and robbing a gang of Greek laborers at Callentes last Tuesday, one of the suspects was shot and probably fatally wounded. Marshal Hickman had a finger shot off, and one Italian laborer was shot through the hand. Fifteen Italian laborers were in the car asleep. Thinking the train was being held up by highwaymen, they pulled their guns and commenced firing in all directions, shouting and yelling. One struck the Marshal over the head, and one of the bullets took effect in his finger. In the excitement, one of the desperadoes escaped.

This is simply an example illustrating one of the advantages manufacturing establishments have in locating in Southern California and nowhere else.

The products of our manufacturing establishments last year were over $27,000,000 representing an invested capital of over $14,000,000. The products raised aggregated $97,000,000. The income from the tourists is increasing over $10,000,000 every year. The bank clearings are averaging increasing at the rate of over $60,000,000 a year and our new buildings are increasing at the rate of over $13,000,000 a year. WISCONSIN MUST NOW BUILD NEW CAPITOL.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

MADISON (Wis.) Feb. 27.—The Wisconsin State Capitol was damaged to the extent of $500,000 by fire today. The fire involves the building of a new Capitol, a special session of the Legislature and the probable renewal of the agitation in favor of the removal of the Capitol from Madison to Milwaukee.

The fire was caused by defective electric wiring, and started before daylight, and at 8 o'clock had completely ruined the east and west wings, containing the Senate and Assembly chambers and the departments of the Tax Commission, the Adjutant-General, Railroad Commissioner, State Superintendent of Schools, Superintendent of Public Property, Board of Agriculture, State Normal School, Commissioner of Fisheries, Fish and Game Warden, State Board of Pharmacy, State Land Office, Dairy and Food Commission, State Treasurer, Commissioner of Labor, Governor, Secretary of State, State Board of Control, and Insurance Commissioner, the Supreme Court law library and the State Library Commission.

Practically all the valuable State records are believed to be safe. Most of them remain in masonry and steel vaults in the ruins. Fire apparatus was sent from Milwaukee.

Gov. Schofield maintained insurance on the building throughout his term, totaling $800,000, but the last Legislature instituted an insurance fund and ordered the State's officers to allow the insurance policies to lapse. In June of 1903 there lapsed $510,000, and in December $90,000. There is in the insurance fund at present about $6000 to meet the loss, which conservative estimates place at $200,000.

The fire practically devastated every portion of the Capitol, with the exception of the north end. This was saved, but is in such a dilapidated condition that, with the standing walls, it will have to be torn down.

Gov. La Follette was early on the scene, and by his coolness and self-possession did much to enforce order among the workers. All the contents of the immense law library were carried out, together with a large quantity of other books and papers. The priceless records stored in the Grand Army room also were saved.

Chief Charles Bernard was overcome by smoke and fell from a ladder, receiving serious injuries. He is unconscious.

From an original cost of $80,000 in 1857, appropriations from time to time for new additions made the cost of the Capitol to date about $900,000.

ICY ROCHESTER RUINS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ROCHESTER, Feb. 27.—The fire which started in the business district yesterday is still burning in the ruins. Over half the block on Main street between St. Paul and Clinton streets is a mass of smoking ruins, the walls coated thick with ice. The firemen worked all night and many of them will have to work tonight also. All day the firemen were at work tearing down the unsafe walls.

The Rochester department of the Underwriters' Association, after a careful estimate, places the actual loss at $2,500,000, and the amount of insurance in the regular stock insurance companies at $2,000,000.

SHAMOKIN (Pa.)—Feb. 27.—Fire broke out today in the Cameron colliery, operated by the Mineral Railroad and Mining Company, causing the line to suspend operations and throwing 400 men and boys out of employment. The mine may have to be flooded to extinguish the flames.

WAR DEPARTMENT AIDS DUSKY BRIDE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LEAVENWORTH (Kan.) Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The War Department, through the military authorities at Fort Leavenworth, has seized an attorney of this city to defend Mrs. Concepcion Vasquez de Burbank, a Filipino, in the suit for annulment of marriage filed here by First Lieut. Sidney S. Burbank of the Sixth Infantry last September. A motion was made in court today to strike out Burbank's case from the docket, in its language:

"For the reason that the court has no jurisdiction either of the person of defendant (Mrs. Vasquez de Burbank) or of the subject matter of the action."

In the event the court decides there is jurisdiction, the attorney states that the Filipino woman will be brought here in person to defend the suit.

A copy of affidavits and documents covering a hundred type-written pages, relative to the alleged marriage, came in from the Philippines today. They were prepared by a native Filipino lawyer, who gives an epitome of the contents and tells of the marriage, saying in part: "Mrs. Vasquez has the sympathy of many Americans, including the principal army officers, who have some of them gone to the town of her home and there seen the signature of Mr. Burbank, (meaning to the marriage contract,) which we are told by all who know anything of the matter can be proved to be genuine."

Speaking of the woman, he says: "Her father was a Spaniard, and her mother a Filipino, legally married to her father. She is quite light in complexion, having only a tint of brown, with the form and dress of the best of European models. She is bright, intelligent and well educated in the Spanish language, and is very well calculated to win the heart of an exiled army officer stationed in a remote provincial town."

ROCK ISLAND GETS BACK IN THE FOLD.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Through Passenger Traffic Manager Sebastian of the Rock Island gave notice today that it had decided to reënter the Western Passenger Association as a full-fledged member. This notice was sent to P. S. Eustis, chairman of the Executive Committee, and it is understood that the Rock Island's membership will be gladly received, and that Sebastian will again be made a member of the Executive Committee.

The return of Rock Island to the Western Passenger Association fold bears a wide breach which has existed for more than two years, and which at times seriously threatened the life of the organization.

The withdrawal of the road from membership was due to the failure of association lines to accord the Rock Island an added percentage of immigrant traffic on account of the company's opening of the new El Paso line, in opposition of the Rock Island were refused, the Southern Pacific refusing even to arbitrate the matter. The Rock Island accordingly withdrew from the association, and ceased to be a factor in any of the pools which it helped.

REMARKABLE BILL IN SENATE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] One of the most remarkable bills before Congress has been delivered to the joint custody of Senators Kean, Dolliver and Tillman, as a subcommittee of the Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce, to pass upon the merits of the measure. It was introduced by Senator Elkins and at his suggestion referred to the committee of which he is chairman.

The title of the bill is "To promote safety of employés and travelers upon railroads and persons living or doing business in vicinity thereof." It prohibits, under severe penalty, transportation by railroads of gunpowder or other explosives, or ammunition or fireworks, except under onerous conditions set forth with great detail.

EXCITING MAN HUNT.

BINGHAMTON (N. Y.) Feb. 27.—After a most exciting man hunt, lasting nearly thirty hours, Morris Odell, charged with attacking two women, has been captured. Prompt arrival of policemen saved him from the crowd chasing him. Odell is a white man, nearly 50 years old, and was captured by Levi Ray, colored. Foremost in the crowd was Frank Fancher, husband of one of the victims. Fancher jumped for Odell and attempted to wring his neck. Odell, after attacking his step-daughter, visited Fancher's house, where he formerly boarded, and seized Mrs. Fancher, choked her almost senseless and fled when the children gave the alarm.

Your Pool Cleans Up a Paltry Six Millions by Going Long on May Wheat.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It was said today that the Armour pool has accumulated $6,000,000 bushels of May wheat around 91 cents a bushel. Figuring at yesterday's Chicago price of $1.09 a bushel, that would represent a profit of just $6,000,000. Whether the pool, however, will be able to finally liquidate so successfully remains to be seen. There is a big difference sometimes between paper profits and profits in one's pockets. But well-informed persons in financial and produce-exchange circles say the Armour pool has already reaped enormous profits.

ENGLAND'S ACTIVITY.

PREPARES CANADIAN FORCE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TORONTO (Can.) Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Lord Dunonald of Ladysmith fame, now commanding officer of the Canadian militia, addressing the Dominion Artillery Association, said that a Canadian force of 100,000 men is being prepared for any emergency arising from the Far East war, adding:

"We have lately had an object-lesson on the necessity of being prepared for war. We see the difference between a power that is ready to strike and a power that requires two or three weeks to get ready."

CHANCE FOR UNITED STATES.

TO END THE WAR.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There may come soon to the United States an opportunity for bringing to an end the war between Japan and Russia, and that opportunity if duly taken advantage of by the American Executive will result in removing all danger of a misunderstanding between Washington and St. Petersburg, and in cementing the friendly relations which are a tradition of the two countries. By one stroke the United States can do Russia a good turn and can benefit herself and the world at large.

This is the opinion of a hard-headed business man who has had exceptional advantages for forming a seasoned judgment. He is W. E. Smith, Consul-General of the United States in St. Petrsburg, who is at present in London. Mr. Smith said this afternoon that Russia had been surprised into the war. Three weeks before the rupture of diplomatic relations, a contract had been entered into for the electric lighting of Port Arthur. Russia could not but go on fighting now, but once she gained a victory on land her prestige would admit of her listening to the pour parlers for peace. Said Mr. Smith: "Let the United States step in and offer its good offices."

FRANCE WILL KEEP FROM WAR.

NO PROSPECTIVE DANGER OF MIXING IN HOSTILITIES.

Japanese-Korean Treaty Not Sufficient Cause to Make Her Show Her Hand—Sentimental Reaction for Russia No Criterion.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PARIS, Feb. 27.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Reports of international entanglements growing out of the war continue to occupy a prominent place in the sensational branch of the press. But within a week officials of the government in close and constant touch with the cabinets of other capitals have satisfied themselves: First, that no international complications are imminent or likely, at least, for the present; second, that France is in no present or prospective danger of being imbroiled in an international conflict.

The recent bourse panic brought about a rather thorough survey of the situation throughout Europe, as the heavy decline in securities resulted mainly from fears that the European powers might be drawn into the conflict. The inquiries disclosed that while the possibilities of unexpected complications are always present, there is no immediate reason to expect European complications, the military activities at various points being the natural result of an outbreak of war between two great powers.

Concerning the ability of France to hold aloof from the war, the officials base their belief on the experiences of the first few weeks of hostilities. At first, the determination to observe neutrality brought out a sentimental reaction favorable to Russia, with popular demonstrations and subscriptions in behalf of that country. The authorities have now been able to take into account all the various currents, the result being a firm conviction that France will not have her hand forced by internal agitation or external complications.

An official said today that the new Korean-Japanese treaty had been the occasion for putting out a number of reports calculated to foment discord between France and Korea and perhaps force the hand of France in relation to other powers, particularly Russia.

The authorities had taken note that the reports emanated from high Japanese sources. But the official declared French policy was definitely fixed to maintain neutrality and refrain from the slightest active participation in the war and this will not be changed by the Korean-Japanese treaty or other events so far as possible to forsee at present.

It is the understanding in government circles that Japan will not ask the powers to give formal recognition of the Korean-Japanese treaty, particularly its indirect establisament of a protectorate. Korea's position is likened to that of Roumania after taking advantage of the Turkish war to declare its independence but before the Berlin Congress had sanctioned its becoming a kingdom.

JAPAN'S CLUMSY ATTACK REPULSED.

OFFICIAL ACCOUNT OF LAST PORT ARTHUR FIGHT.

Russians Drive Off Enemy's Torpedo Boats and Pour Shells Into Bunched Vessels, Probably With Great Effect—Two Accounts.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 27.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Czar has received the following from Viceroy Alexieff, dated Port Arthur February 26:

—"After the moon had set early in the morning of February 25, the Retvizan repelled several attacks by the enemy's torpedo boats, two of which are believed to have been sunk in the open sea. Our torpedo boats, under Capt. Matussvich and Capt. Prince Lien supported, encountered and pursued the enemy's torpedo-boat flotilla. They sighted no large warships. Later in the morning of February 25, the cruisers Bayan, Diana, Askold and Novik were sent out to prevent the Japanese cruisers from pursuing a portion of our returning torpedo-boat flotilla.

"One of our torpedo-boats, which was cut off by four Japanese cruisers, sought shelter in Dove Bay. It had no casualties.

"The Japanese fleet, on sighting our cruisers, came in closer to the forts, which, together with our warships, opened fire at 10:50. Our cruisers, still firing, entered the harbor, which our torpedo boats had already safely reached.

"The enemy's shell, for the most part, fell short. One seaman was wounded, but we sustained no other losses.

"The Japanese fleet consisted of seventeen large warships and eight torpedo boats, whereas the squadron which attempted to block the entrance to Port Arthur on the previous day had twelve torpedo boats."

ANOTHER STORY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 27.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Port Arthur correspondent of the Russ telegraphs as follows:

"On the morning of February 25, a Japanese squadron consisting of six battleships and four light cruisers appeared on the horizon. The Russian cruisers Askold, Bayan and Novik were on the outer harbor. The Japanese ships, upon attaining a position within thirty-five cable lengths (about four and one-quarter miles) of the Russian ships, began an attack.

At this time two of our torpedo boats were returning to our ships from Pigeon Bay. All the Japanese cruisers attempted to cut them off; nevertheless one of the torpedo boats succeeded in reaching Port Arthur, while the other turned back. The scene of the battle was thus cut in two, the Japanese battleships cannonading the Askold, Bayan and Novik, which were supported by the batteries and the cruisers pursuing the Russian torpedo boat which entered Pigeon Bay.

"The cannonade lasted forty minutes, and several shells fell at various points in the fortress. One Chinaman was mortally wounded by a splinter and one by a shell.

"In yesterday's affair the maneuvers of the Japanese appeared to be defective. While turning back to sea the Japanese battleships got bunched, and our ships did not fail to take advantage of this fact. They opened a running fire, and one could clearly see shells bursting amid the tremendous target. This clumsy maneuver on the part of the Japanese is considered as affording weighty reason for the belief that the enemy's losses were heavy.

"A Japanese torpedo lies on a bank off Fort White Wolf. It is apparently one of those which participated in the night attack with the freighters."

JAPS GIVE WAR LESSON.

FOOD IN SMALL SPACE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Foreign military experts loudly praise the excellence of the Japanese arrangements for the transport of their commissariat, says a World's dispatch from Koyang, Korea. Gen. Allen, United States Army, who is here on leave of absence, especially commends the arrangements. Each infantry unit has a detachable cylinder two and a quarter feet high and two and one-fourth feet in diameter in which to build fires. The cylinder holds a large sheet iron kettle, and this again holds a perforated kettle in which can be cooked rice for one meal for 100 men.

With the troops are carried half-pound tins of meat. Eighty of these are packed in a box and three boxes make a load for a horse. Rice is carried in sixty-pound sacks, one sack being a load for a man to carry, two sacks for a pony.

The army takes with it a quantity of sulphate of sodium to purify drinking water. Each soldier carries an aluminum mess pan which contains two rations of cooked rice, and six emergency rations of rice, which, having been boiled and dried in the sun, is wrapped in cotton bags and weighs very little.

WAR BULLETINS FROM MANY POINTS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHEFOO, Saturday, Feb. 27, 10:— a.m. (eastern time.) [Exclusive Dispatch.] A boat containing eight Japanese arrived here during the night, and from Japanese sources I learn that they are from the four sunken transports, but it seems incredible that a boat could be rowed seventy-five miles in three days against a head wind. The Japanese authorities state that the seven sailors and an officer who arrived here are the sole survivors of the four transports which were sunk off Port Arthur on Wednesday. Immediately after the transports were sunk the survivors were picked up by the escorting torpedo boats, which took them abroad and purposely dropped them at the nearest point to Chefoo, so as to enable them to telegraph full details of the fight to Japan. Two of the sunken steamers were formerly the Portland, Or., steamers, the Rohilla and the Brindis.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27.—The Pacific Mail Steamship Company's steamer China sailed for the Orient this afternoon with a big cargo and a large number of passengers, including many newspapermen, who will report the progress of the war between Russia and Japan. The China was scheduled to leave yesterday, but was detained to permit the removal from her hold of 4000 cases of mess beef consigned to the Russian government. It was feared by the shippers that it might fall into the hands of the Japanese.

The inquiry is prompted by the receipt by all the subordinate officers of the Ohio National Guard of a letter promising promotion and big pay to all who will join a military expedition about to be organized. Only vague information is given of the purpose of the expedition, and the officers are requested to inquire further of William Wayne, Norristown, Pa. The letters are dated New York, and mailed at different places.

United States Army Officer, an Authority on Military Conditions There, Forecasts Result of War. Russia Cannot Possibly be Whipped.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON (D. C.) Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Japan and Russia may continue their fighting for years without either nation gaining material advantage. This was the opinion of an American army officer, given in a paper read before the War College in Washington this week. The officer, who belongs to the General Staff and who was with the American soldiers who marched to Peking, is accepted here as one of the most reliable authorities on military conditions in the Far East. It was prepared and read before the Japanese troops landed near Vladivostok. Extracts of it are herewith given:

"The strategic value of command of the waters surrounding Japan and Lao Tang peninsula is of very great importance to Japan. The value to Russia is not so great, as Russia has communication by land with home, her base of supplies and source of reinforcements.

"Realizing the vital importance of controlling the seas, Japan's first move was to insure the predominance of her navy over that of Russia in eastern waters and she now controls the waters necessary for the conduct of any land operations which she may contemplate.

"What was the next move? Knowing ones now look for a great battle along the Yalu. Look rather for attacks upon the railroad leading from Russia to Manchuria, simply because that is the plain common sense thing to do. If that railway is cut, the Russian army in Manchuria will be isolated and Japan will then find herself called upon to face an army smaller than her own, separated several thousand miles by land from its source of strength and with no means of communicating therewith by water. In the meantime Japan will jealously guard her present advantage upon the seas. The fleets at Vladivostok and Port Arthur will be watched and every move made by either will be known and promptly met.

"Now that Japan has control of the ocean, Russia cannot conquer her. She cannot invade Japan. She cannot prevent her receiving supplies. On the other hand, Russia's army in the East will fight and hang on as long as life is in its members. If the army is cut off from Russia by the destruction of the great Siberian railway, it will still fight. It may be destroyed, but that will not conquer Russia. Japan can never conquer Russia. She can give her a set-back in the East; she can worry and harass her; but Russia will come back with strength and vigor. Her resources are as inexhaustible as our own. Her people are as proud and patriotic as our own. Japan will find her strength taxed mightily. Her army will be sadly worn before arriving where the Russian army in Manchuria will await her. It will be sadly shattered before that army is beaten, if ever it will be beaten. If the powers of the world do not intervene, the war will last for years. As it now stands, neither nation can be conquered by the other. The bitterest animosity actuates the people of both nations in the struggle. Whether other nations will be drawn into the conflict is a question that is agitating the minds of navy men. This will not be the case unless causes for interference should arise which are not now discernible."

NEUTRALITY MEASURES.

SWEDEN AND DENMARK ACT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Saturday, Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An agreement has been entered into between Sweden and Denmark to insure against the harbors of either country being used by any power as a base in the event of naval warfare.

The proposition that a cable be laid between the Philippines and Japan is looked upon here as another demonstration of the pro-Japanese leanings of the United States.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL

Few People Know How Useful it is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better it is; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking, or after eating onions, and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion; it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another; but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Absorbent Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered willow charcoal, and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form, or rather in the form of large, pleasant-tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician, in speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Absorbent Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in the stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, and though in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Absorbent Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

JAPS FACE DEATH TO BLOCK HARBOR.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

TOKIO, Feb. 27.—[By Asiatic Cable.] Naval officers commanded and "Jackies" manned the five steamers that were sunk at the entrance to Port Arthur. Merchant crews volunteered for the dangerous undertaking, but their services were not accepted, Admiral Togo deciding to entrust the perilous mission only to regulars. The naval officers who commanded the five merchantmen were Commander Ryoketsu Arima, Lieut.-Commander Takeo Haiose, Lieut. Shichigoro Saito, Lieut. Yoshita Masaki, Sub-Lieut. Yasuso Toriaki, Chief Engineers Daiso, Lamaga, Tomitaro, Kurita, Yasuo and Misamisawa and Asst. Engineers Chikanon, Chishi, Masando and Sugi handled the five engines. There were ten officers and sixty-seven sailors in the five crews and all volunteered for service. They bade farewell to their comrades, expecting to die under the fire of the batteries of the enemy.

The rescue of the entire crews surprised even the Japanese, who expected that a majority of the daring seamen would be killed. The steamers did not carry lights and were not armed and consequently were not discovered until the operation of sinking them was practically completed. Japan is ringing with praises of the volunteer crews who participated in the dangerous work.

It is expected that the Emperor will publicly thank them and give them medals to commemorate the daring act. Asst. Engineer Chishi is a son of the leader of the Progressive party.

OFFICIAL REPORT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

TOKIO, Feb. 27.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The official report of the naval officers who attempted to block the entrance to the harbor of Port Arthur on the morning of February 24, differs in some respects from the accounts already printed. From this report it appears that the Russian searchlights discovered the approach of five Japanese steamers before they had reached the point where it was proposed to sink them and that the Russian guns disabled three of the five. Another new feature is that a portion of the crews of the sunken steamers were not picked up until the afternoon of the 24th. The report of the officers in substance is as follows.

Five vessels intended to obstruct the entrance to Port Arthur, advanced about 4 o'clock on the morning of the 24th from the southward through the Lao-Thie-Shan channel toward the mouth of the port. It appears that the Tenshin Maru, which was in the van, was steered too far to port and when she was about three miles to the southwest off shore she was shot and seriously damaged. She was run on the shoals intentionally. The other steamers which were in her wake changed their course to the northeast and advanced, but the enemy's searchlights flashing upon them impeded their progress.

The enemy's fire first struck the steering gear of the Bushiu Maru, disabling her. She grounded near the Tenshin Maru, and after striking, her officers destroyed her and she sank. Next the Buyo Maru was seriously damaged by the enemy's shells, and she sank before reaching the harbor entrance. In the meanwhile the Hokoku Maru was on the while the Hokoku Maru and the Hinsen Maru had advanced with great energy and had reached the entrance to the harbor with considerable difficulty. The Hokku Maru was on the outer side of the stranded Russian battleship Retvizan, and the Jinsen Maru on the eastern side of the Retvizan.

The crews of each lighted explosives to destroy the merchantmen, and after giving a loud cheer got into their small boats. When they found their vessels sinking the crews endeavored to row to the Japanese torpedo boats, which were ready to pick them up, but the Russian searchlights lit up their path and the Russian fire became very severe. The crews in their small boats were compelled to row around under cover and they were unable to reach the torpedo boats. The sea became heavier at sunrise and the crews suffered great hardship. They finally succeeded in reaching the Japanese squadron at 3 o'clock in the afternoon of the same day.

GERMANY WANTS TO BE FREE TO ACT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BERLIN, Feb. 27.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The silence of the German press toward the war is very marked. The news agency dispatches from abroad are printed with occasional explanations of their meaning to military and naval students, but that is all. The usually opinionated editor has nothing to say on the Japanese-Korean treaty, concerning Russia's protest against this alleged infringement of Korea's neutrality, whether the Kiel Canal may be used by belligerents or on Foreign Secretary Von Richthofen's statements to the Budget Commission respecting the continued occupation of Chi-Li province by the troops of the powers. The government has given the press to understand that neutrality in utterance and reserve as complete as the government's own, is a patriotic duty at this time.

The Foreign Office has the conviction that the German press has large powers of doing mischief in supplying material for ill-natured foreign commentators, and the government desires to be perfectly free to act should action be desirable at a later period in the developments of events without foreign feelings or that of either of the belligerents having been excited against Germany by injudicious comment.

He asked was appealed to, but on examination he refused to accept responsibility for a recommendation. He passed the matter to Governor and Dr. Foster of the State Board of Lunacy. Again the matter went for reexamination before Dr. Wilcox, the local member of the board. In this procedure is regarded with wonder by the hospital staff, and the thought that a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush, there is a constancy about pressing the matter to the advancement of Dr. Wilcox and avoiding an examination that might result disastrously to well-laid plans.

EASTERN MAN CHOSEN.

A substitute plan has been evolved. Dr. M. Francisco of Minneapolis has been called to the Highland hospital, and possibly as interne. But with the knowledge that Dr. Francisco has given his life to hospital work, a fact acknowledged by Dr. M. H. JUGGLING THE ROLLS.

Just how the salary roll will or must now be juggled by such an arrangement remains to be seen, and in view of the fact that the amicable adjustment between superintendent and his assistant secretary has suffered a severe jar, resulting in an official trip to Sacramento, the situation gives promise of interesting developments.

DOLAN'S MARRIAGE THWARTED.

Not satisfied with Dr. Dolan's withdrawal from the hospital, his personal enemies are busying themselves in his private affairs. Two weeks ago Dr. Dolan was to have married a fair milliner of San Bernardino, but the anonymous letter writer got to work and the ceremony was deferred. Explanations followed with a resetting of the wedding day, but again discord was created by officious parties. Now the union of two hearts that would beat as one is a problem the future alone can solve. In the event of marriage Dr. Dolan will locate in San Bernardino. Otherwise he will launch a hospital project upon Los Angeles.

THE GREAT HIT IN MUSIC.
"The Gondolier" Now Sweeping the Country.

The beautiful Venetian intermezzo, "The Gondolier," has made its composer famous and added thousands of dollars to his bank account. The romantic circumstances attending the composition of "The Gondolier" would commend it to attention aside from its great merits. W. C. Powell, the student gondolier, thought it out in Venice, inspired by lovely music on a delightful evening in that wonderful city. The arrangement of "The Gondolier" is novel and varied. The melody is catchy, and the composition has been taken up by orchestral leaders and lovers of music all over the country. It is now the musical craze of the East. From budges of good music it has received high praise, and the tune is now being played by our leading orchestras here and in San Francisco. "The Gondolier" is another of the many examples of the foresight of the Whitney-Warner Publishing Co., Detroit, Mich., who paid $2000 for the composition. It is certainly great.

Less Than Two Weeks Now--Many Things Gone--Balance at Great Sacrifice

Fine china painted by Takamura, carved tables, stands and chairs. Bronze candle sticks, vases, bowls, Japanese slippers, Japanese dolls, antique bronze incense jars, tall or squatty vases of fine ware cracker jars, tea sets, plates, hand painted screens and pictures, dinner gongs, bells and chimes.

Everybody wants Japanese art goods. What else adds such tone to a home? And Kabato's stock, in point of real art, ranks with the foremost in the country.

Two fine pieces went last week to London and many an eastern home will be beautified by rare bargains gathered by visiting art critics.

Every article is distinctly the best of its kind. The Satsuma and Cloissonne are products of Japan's highest talent—many of them single-piece objects without duplicates in the world.

Furniture carved by Kodama, antique bronzes, exquisite bits of china and porcelain—each separate piece a treasure to which clings the charm of master-workmanship.

While of vastly greater value than the ordinary Japanese goods these art pieces are sacrificed considerably less than common goods. Less than two weeks will close out the collection.

Embroidered hand bags, pocketbooks, etc. Japanese fans, belts, silk scarfs. Quaint cuff-links, match safes, watch chains. Curious breast-pins, belt buckles, charms. Japanese baskets, lacquer work, wooden trays. Fine pieces in Satsuma, cloissonne, porcelain. Jandiniers, flower baskets, plant pots. Kimonas in crepe, antique crepe, silk. Japanese lamp shades, bronze lanterns, etc.

CALIFORNIA AND CALIFORNIANS.

The flood is rising in Stockton.

Standing baldly by itself, the foregoing statement needs an explanation. It is, indeed, not impossible, nor even improbable, that the flood of water is rising in the city of natural gas, for the all but incessant rain of Central California's February is beating a ceaseless tattoo upon the roof above my head as I write, but that is not the flood to which I refer. No, I allude to that surging tide of love which so often bears gentle woman away upon its breakers and leaves man, a sort of hopeless but delirious jetsam, upon the shore of time. Two instances will suffice to show how the flood has raged, and they should be recorded with a tender touch.

Vernon Westcott is a coy young creature of sixty golden summers, who is somewhat shy in health, but not in the pocketbook. Over the head of Lizzie Shaver (now Westcott) twenty-one lonely winters had drearily passed. Lizzie met Vernon, and the fluttering heart in her gentle bosom at once told her that she was destined to be his'n if he only would be her'n. At this Vernon did not know how Lizzie felt, for they had just met, and his heart, being somewhat spavined and rheumatic, had not yet filed its report. Lizzie could not wait for the report. Taking a tight grip on her fluttering heart, and advantage of leap year, she went right to Vernon, told him how queer she felt and asked him to be her'n. He responded. Never did an old horse trot more friskily at sight of an unexpected pail of oats. He replied: "I will be your'n," and Lizzie covered him with yearnful caresses. That was one day; the next day Vernon procured a marriage license while Lizzie purchased her trousseau, and their blissful and romantic honeymoon has but begun. Isn't it beautiful?

The other case is different and more pathetic. Miss Jessie Houghland had been wooed and won by Fred Spinney; that is, she was won to the extent of being engaged to the gentleman, which is not quite the same thing as being one, but is the next thing to it. Events progressed blithely. Mr. Spinney built a nest for his bird (which she evidently is); the wedding day was set for last Monday, and some of the presents for the proposed bridal pair had been received. Then, just three days before the time set for the marriage, Miss Houghland sprung a little surprise on her Freddie, and it worked beautifully. She married one Frank William Peters of Santa Cruz, and went to live with him; the nest was left unoccupied. I fear that it is yet a little early to extend congratulations to Mr. Spinney, for he might not appreciate them now, but after awhile he will, and when one thinks of what he escaped—well, here are my congratulations, anyway.

And can't you see how the flood is rising in Stockton? If it keeps on an overflow is certain.

At the twenty-sixth anual meeting of the State League of Iroquois Clubs, recently held in San Francisco, a resolution was introduced by William M. Cubery urging all American citizens to observe Washington's Birthday more punctiliously.

But how would you have them do it, man?

The banks were closed, I've heard,
And so were the public offices all,
Or you may doubt my word.
But as for the "common people," they
Were bustling around in the good old way
Perfecting plans for their "grub" to pay.
How should they do it, man?

How would you have them do it, man?
By speeches and shouts and parade?
By rockets and flashes and noises and crashes
And artillery's loud fusillade?
Well, I think, and I hold, that the day's labor done
Right loyally, bravely, no duty to shun,
Is a tribute to gladden e'en great Washington;
And thus do the millions, man.

The other night, in San Francisco, a woman turned on the unlighted gas, and on its fumes her soul managed to make its quittance of this life. Straightway some of the San Francisco papers, in headlines or otherwise, were out with the old rantings concerning the deadly gas of that city. Now, I am not "standing in" with any gas company, and the gas in the metropolis by the bay certainly might be greatly improved, but why, in reason's name, should the people be treated as if they were fools? Illuminating gas is deadly whenever and wherever it is inhaled; the poisonous variety is not exclusively a San Francisco product. The newspapers know this, as do their readers, yet with a stupidity that is inexplicable the former continue to deal out to the latter diatribes about the "deadly gas." They fool nobody, yet they keep right on. "The public is a fool; treat it accordingly," appears to be the motto in some newspaper offices other than those of Mr. Hearst, whence issue the Little Charlie editorials on How to Feed Soothing Syrup to the Baby. If the San Francisco papers are dissatisfied with the gas furnished to the people of that city (and they have a right to be, for it is a poor article,) let them make a fight fairly and squarely on that issue, and ultimately they will win, but no absurd howling about "deadly illuminating gas" can have any effect other than to increase the feeling, already painfully prevalent in some instances, that the newspaper is entirely untrustworthy and valueless except as a dispenser of news.

If it were not for chickens and cows what a blessed, peaceful world this might be; or, at any rate, it seems that way up in Auburn—"sweet Auburn, loveliest village of the plain"—just now. Up there one man grew weary of feeding another's cows on his land, and impounded them. Thereupon the owner of the cows notified the impounder to keep his chickens out of his yard, and, when he failed to do so, got out his little gun and ended the predatory career of several fowls and the fowls themselves at one and the same time. Then the man whose chickens had been sacrificed to the law of vengeance as it is observed in Auburn, got out a gun of his own, and it looked so much as if he were going to bag a neighbor for breakfast that he has been arrested and compelled to give bonds to keep the peace. All of which, as has been suggested, naturally leads to the reflection what a glorified world this would be—in Auburn—if there were no chickens and cows.

A sweet young miss of Livermore—
But, oh, I dread the tale to tell—
Went walking, slipped as ne'er before,
And kept on slipping till she fell.
And when she rose, all mud bestrewn,
She called her brother, large but plain,
And, oh, her laughter seemed a tune
To hear him bellow "—the rain."

MORE SCHOOLS NEEDED.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 27.—H. J. Baldwin, County Superintendent of Schools, who returned from the Colorado River section today, reports a growing demand in the Imperial country for more schools. Silsbee has already voted an issue of $3000 bonds for a school building. Brawley will build a schoolhouse and arrange later for the payment. Silsbee and Calexico want two additional schools each. One is also wanted northeast of Brawley and another at Holton, where a private school is being maintained at the expense of citizens with an attendance of eighteen pupils. Mr. Baldwin reports that the country is looking fine and the prospects are for abundant crops.

MINOR NEWS ITEMS.

The Chamber of Commerce has adopted a resolution indorsing a bill before Congress confirming the right of the California Development Company to take water from the Colorado River. Copies of the resolution are to be sent to the committees on irrigation of the Senate and House.

In view of the desire of the people of Imperial to become incorporated as a city of the second-class, Deputy District-Attorney Andrews is there to make an examination as to who are properly qualified to vote.

THE TIMES IN SAN DIEGO.—Sold regularly by Harry Orcutt, authorized agent, at No. 1206 C street, and by J. C. Packard, No. 961 Fifth street; Loring & Co., No. 753 Fifth street; Gray's Book Exchange, No. 1202 F street; McKee, No. 1104 D street, and at the Hotel Robinson.

The following-named dealers refuse to sell The Times because they lack the courage to stand up against the small faction of local labor-unionists and their newspaper allies who have joined forces in boycotting The Times in San Diego, viz., Snyder, No. 624 Fifth street; Avery & Jones, No. 909 Fifth street; Sam Taylor, No. 805 Fifth street, and Percival Bread, No. 1214 E street. The latter, especially, has shown double dealing, hypocrisy and cowardice by his course. Independent citizens who have a contempt for the boycotting know where to find The Times.

MOISTURE, CROPS AND "LINERS."

TIMES' "LINER" CROP RESPONDS TO WET WEATHER.

This Journal Prints Twenty-five Per Cent. More Classified Announcements Than Its Four Contemporaries Combined—"Liner" Prize Winners.

Rain makes the crops grow. It also stimulates business.

The showers that have fallen in Southern California in the last few weeks have started the grass and grain nicely and have been of great benefit to the orchards. The moisture has revived business all along the line, as witness that unfailing business barometer, the advertising columns of The Times.

The Times "Liners" crop has responded beautifully to the rain. "Liners" (classified advertisements) inserted in The Times are planted in fertile soil, and it is not surprising that the rain makes them grow. Any quantity of water has little effect on "Liners" planted in barren soil, (in other words, in "the shops across the way.") A comparison of The Times "Liners" crop with that of the other Los Angeles newspaper is infallible proof of this assertion.

During the week ended February 20, The Times printed 1154 more "Liners" than during the preceding week, a gain of more than 15½ per cent., while the four other Los Angeles dailies (two morning and two evening) combined had a net increase of only 153 classified announcements during the same period, a gain of only a little more than 2 per cent.

Still more striking is the fact that The Times during the week ended February 20 printed 25.3 per cent. more classified announcements than the four other local newspapers combined. The figures for the week were:

Times	8578
Examiner	3428
Herald	1663
Express	1078
Record	662
Combine's total	6846
Times' majority over the combine	1732

THE WINNING ESTIMATES.

The ten best estimates for which the above prizes were awarded were as follows:

No.	Liners printed by—	The Times.	The combine.
		8573	6846
		—Nearest estimates—
1.	Edw. McCann	8563	6902
2.	R. M. Dunkin	8497	6834
3.	L. Graham	8574	6753
4.	M. J. Collins	8536	6785
5.	Ray Steele	8521	6799
6.	R. D. Gould	8537	6902
7.	Edw. McCann	8588	6741
8.	E. M. Arfwedson	8500	6900
9.	L. A. Collins	8457	6827
10.	D. W. Hopkins	8573	7013

Mrs. M. J. Young of No. 1113 W. Sixteenth street came within 9 of guessing the number of "Liners" printed by The Times, but made a miss of 279 in her estimate for the combine.

Grant Baxter of Whittier, B. F. Bean of No. 110 N. Figueroa street, and Mrs. R. Collingwood were also among the close Times guessers, but missed it badly in sizing up the "Liners" of the combine.

H. W. Jones of San Bernardino came within 2 of making the right guess for the combine, but gave The Times credit for 267 too many in the same guess.

Grant Baxter of Whittier, Mrs. Collingwood of Long Beach, F. C. da Silva of No. 157 W. Sixteenth street, Christopher Multhaup of No. 1348 Shatto street, and Jennie S. Clarke, of Prescott, Ariz., also made close estimates for the combine, but their corresponding estimates of Times "Liners" failed to balance.

The prizes were awarded for the best average estimates.

BAND SOLOIST GOING TO ITALY.

DIMITRIS WILL HUNT FOR RARE SCORES AND VOICES.

Member of Ellery Forces Will Visit His Native Village of San Severo, and Expects to Bring Back Two Marvelous Singers.

On Tuesday, Eliseo DiMitris, trumpet soloist of the Royal Italian Band, will leave for Italy.

His absence will be short, and the journey will take only such time as is necessary for him to consume in making the trips there and back, with ten days spent in visiting on his native shore.

DiMitris is the handsome fellow who sits on the outside of the trumpet row, next to Chiaffarelli's baton. He has doting and aged parents in Italy, who wait for his coming with eager hearts. It has been several years since they have seen him, and their age and feeble health makes it imperative for their only son to go now, if he ever wishes to look into their living faces again.

But DiMitris has another errand—several of them, in fact. One is to fetch the complete band score for the opera of "Faust," a thing not now in possession of Ellery's Italians. He will also bring scores of other operas—some so rare that there are reputed to be none on the American side of the Atlantic. Much music is to be collected by this delegate of his expatriated brethren, and when he returns to Los Angeles—about May 1—he expects to have in his trunk as complete a collection of classical scores for full military band as can be found anywhere.

He has still another commission. He goes to the little Italian town of San Severo, nestling at the foot of great mountains in Southern Italy, where nearly all of the Ellery men come from. There are in this town two vocalists whom the Ellery forces believe will one day become world-famous. One is a baritone, with a magnificent voice, of splendid natural quality and considerable training. He is eminently suited to grand opera roles, and will be brought to Los Angeles by DiMitris when the latter returns. There is another singer in San Severo whom the trumpeter would like to induce away from his native town. He is a tenor, a big, strapping fellow, scarcely yet out of his teens, but with an iron throat and tones so gorgeous that one would think that Campanini had again come to earth. This chap was heard several seasons ago by DiMitris, just before the latter left Italy, and he says that he does not believe that there is a more splendid tenor voice in the world. Its owner is a happy-go-lucky sort, the traditional romantic chap who sings the "Salve Dimora" at serenades and takes ringing chest high Cs on the streets at midnight. He and the baritone are both poor, and if they can be induced to come to America their expenses will be paid by Ellery.

San Severo has two bands within its precincts, or more exactly, two bands have come up from its residents, and are playing all over Southern Italy. They are called the "Red" and "White" bands, and are representative of powerful rival political organizations in Italy.

In the Ellery group of instrumentalists are players from both factions, and though there is apparent harmony there are frequently fierce discussions over political matters which little concern the average citizen of the United States.

BURNER'S CLAIM IS SCOUTED.

DOCTORS DOUBT THAT HE HAS MUCH RADIUM.

Exhibition of Alleged Effects of Precious Mineral Given at Old Y.M.C.A. Auditorium Yesterday is Pronounced Doubtful—"Radio" Water by the Gallon.

At the old Y.M.C.A. Auditorium yesterday afternoon a good-sized audience listened to "Prof. H. Russell Burner, M. D., President of the British Medical Institute Company, (Limited,) and Surgeon-in-Chief of the San Diego British Medical Institute"—if there had been anything else the bills would doubtless have said so—as he unfolded the mysteries of the wonderful radium as used in the cure of diseases.

The professor-doctor claims to have secured—or that his institution secured for him—a good big chunk of the precious stuff, "as they learned in advance of the published facts of the great and wonderful curative power of radium," and thus practically got a first grip on any old disease that is in the running. Dr. Burner says his institutions have in possession $365,000 worth of the mysterious chemical.

A great mass of scientific apparatus was on the platform, and various colored lights were shown that to the layman's mind created the impression of profound knowledge and scientific lore. What was represented to be "active radio-water" was run out through glass tubes in front of the audience, and bottled up and scattered free to the auditors. The bottles went like hot cakes.

And now come reputable members of the medical profession and state the Y.M.C.A. Hall show hasn't a speck of radium, and they know it. One man says that Prof. Burner visited the Bun Drug Company yesterday and asked a member of the firm to show him some radium, as he had never seen any.

Dr. Albert Soiland of No. 615 Johnson Building, who was one of the first physicians on the Pacific Coast to secure some of the much-talked-of radium, says that there is not a spark of the precious stuff in the Burner establishment. He says the peculiar effects produced by the machine exhibited by the lecturer are caused by the use of the Edison spark coil and the introduction of the Geissler tubes, which emit the colors when charged with an intense electric current.

As for the radio-active water, which the audience of yesterday sought for so eagerly, Dr. Soiland says it is all bosh.

Dr. A. B. Newkirk of No. 218 South Broadway, yesterday received through the Braun Drug Company what is said to be the largest consignment of radium yet sent to this Coast. There are two butts of the metal of ten kilograms each, and with an intensity of 300,000 radium activity. Its cost was several hundred dollars.

Dr. Newkirk denounces the pretensions made by Prof. Burner as to his use of radium, and declares that the public is being grossly deceived by the lecturer.

VETERAN'S DEATH.

Col. Gilbert Governor Fancher, Dies from Result of Bullet Wound Made Many Years Ago.

The funeral of Col. Gilbert Governor Fancher, a veteran of the Mexican War, aged 77 years, will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Church of the Epiphany, corner of North Sichel and Altura streets, and will be conducted by Rev. Wilton Hall Doggett. The interment will be in Evergreen Cemetery.

Col. Fancher's death occurred Friday night at the residence of his daughter, No. 307 North Prichard street. He has been a sufferer for years from a bullet wound received in the war, and it was this that eventually caused his death.

In Gen. Winfield Scott's notable march across Mexico, Col. Fancher took active part, and participated in all of the battles until he was wounded. He came to California in 1849, and resided in San Francisco many years. Two years ago he removed to Los Angeles.

OLD RESIDENT CALLED.

Death from Heart Failure Claims A. B. Merriman—Dissolution Due to His Advanced Years.

A. B. Merriman, for fourteen years a resident of Los Angeles, died Friday evening at his home, No. 1109 West Thirtieth street, of heart failure, after an illness of several weeks, a result of a general failing, incident to his advanced age.

Mr. Merriman came to California from Grass Lake, Mich., and had many friends in this section. He was 73 years of age. He leaves a widow and a son, who reside in Redlands, and a daughter, Mrs. F. E. Palmer of No. 999 West Thirty-second street. The funeral will be held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon from the family residence, and the interment will be at Rosedale Cemetery.

AT DEATH'S DOOR.

All Hopes of the Recovery of Dr. L. D. Scherer Abandoned by Friends. Sick Months.

Dr. L. D. Scherer, a well-known physician, residing in the southwestern section of the city, is lying at the point of death at his home at the corner of Jefferson street and McClintock avenue.

The doctor has been ill for several months and although he is receiving all the attention that members of the medical profession can bestow, it was stated last night that there is practically no hope of his recovery.

AN UNPLEASANT EXPERIENCE

Has it ever been you happy lot to be told by your physician that you must go to a hospital and submit to an operation? If so, you remember with what dread and shrinking you awaited the day when you must endure the knife.

The present day surgeon appears to be possessed by a mania for operating, especially in cases of hemorrhoids or piles, and while the greater number of the profession do not recommend this "last resort" unless they honestly believe it necessary, the fact remains that much needless operating is done, and the patient put to much expense and suffering for what?

To obtain a possible temporary relief; these words are used advisedly, because in nine cases out of ten the affliction returns and the patient is just where he started from. Oftentimes he could be cured much more simply and easily by the use of such a remedy as the Pyramid Pile Cure; this has come to be recognized as the best remedy on the market for the painful disease named, and the druggists now sell more of it than all other pile remedies combined.

The writer personally knows people who were afflicted with the worst form of bleeding and protruding piles and who were permanently cured by the use of Pyramid Pile Cure. In every one of these cases the attending physician assured the sufferer that only by an operation could he rid himself of the disease; so much for the infallibility of the doctors.

This remedy, which is sold by all druggists at the low price of fifty cents, is in suppository form, is applied directly to the parts affected, and performs its work quietly and painlessly. The Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., will mail free to any address a book telling all about piles or hemorrhoids, their cause and cure.

A suggestion is offered that if the reader is afflicted, or knows anyone who is, this book be sent for, as it will be found invaluable.

WORK OF NOVICES.

Burglars Who Possess No Skill Make Futile Attempt to Force Open Safe in Furniture Store.

Burglars, who were evidently novices, entered the furniture store of I. T. Martin, No. 531 South Spring street, some time Friday night and attacked the safe. They bored several holes in the front door, knocked off a combination knob, jammed one of the handles until it could not be turned, and broke the paint on the strong box in several places, but instead of opening it, they made it all the harder to open.

The thieves are thought to have stolen the tools with which they worked, and the manner in which they operated showed that they had no mechanical skill whatever or no knowledge of safe construction. They did not attempt to use explosives, and even if they had, the holes which they drilled were in such places that it would have profited them nothing.

NEARLY SCALPED.

Clayton Hall Meets With Peculiar Accident by Falling from His Wagon on the Street.

Clayton Hall of No. 1129 San Julian street sustained serious injury yesterday afternoon at Ninth and San Pedro streets by falling from his wagon. He struck the ground in such a manner that his head came directly in contact with one of the wheels, cutting a gash from his temple to behind his ear, tearing off the scalp almost to the top of the head. Hall was taken to the General and Emergency Hospital, where the scalp was sewed up and later he was removed to his home.

CASINO APPOINTMENT.

Arthur A. Lotto, formerly on the editorial staff of the San Francisco Call, and a member of the staffs of several San Francisco theaters, has just been appointed business manager of Waldeck's Casino Theater in this city. Mr. Lotto will succeed H. S. Duffield, who resumes his engagement with the Nells-Morosco Company, and will commence his duties at once.

SHIPPED TO ST. LOUIS.

The first consignment of Southern California exhibits for the St. Louis World's Fair, consisting of two carloads of fruits in glass jars, was shipped yesterday from the storage vault in the Chamber of Commerce building. Another carload will go within ten days, and the entire mineral exhibit will soon be on the way.

FOR THE VETERANS.

Dr. Levi Johnson of Whittier, will address the veterans at the soldiers' mission in Sawtelle, at 2 o'clock on Monday afternoon. The meeting is held under the auspices of Mrs. Frances Helen Fish of Ocean Park.

Force of Habit.

Edward Jewitt Wheeler, editor of the Literary Digest, in addition to his numerous office duties, found time to deliver speeches for the Citizens' Union during the last campaign. At the breakfast table on the morning following one of his particularly arduous efforts, all heads were bowed for the customary grace before meat when Mr. Wheeler startled his family by starting off in a loud voice with:

"Mr. Chairman."

The burst of laughter that followed caused the blessing to be deferred to a later and less hilarious occasion, though breakfast was eaten as usual, and with apparently no injurious effects.—(New York Times.

HAMMERED BRASS

A Special Display of Hand-wrought Pieces. The Work of a Los Angeles Artist.

About a year ago a brass worker from Munich arrived in Los Angeles and took up his art of making beautiful things out of old brass. He has produced something over fifty pieces, each one a beautiful example of the brass worker's art. There are two magnificent center lights for the dining room; a side wall light at $8.50; three or four clocks round, about $25.00; jardinieres, vases, teapots and other things. We shall place his entire collection on sale tomorrow morning and a rarer lot of real art treasures has never been seen in Los Angeles. The pieces will be shown no place else, and as there is only one piece of a kind we suggest an early inspection.

We can also have pieces wrought to order from any special design or sketch.

See the window display of these beautiful pieces and the artist at work.

We Paid $100,000

For the American rights to Liquozone—the highest price ever paid for similar rights on any scientific discovery. We did this after testing the product for two years, through physicians and hospitals, in this country and others. We paid it because Liquozone does what all the skill in the world cannot do without it. Any drug that kills germs is a poison, and it cannot be taken internally. Every physician knows that medicine is almost helpless in any germ disease.

Not Medicine.

Liquozone is the result of a process which, for more than 20 years, has been the constant subject of scientific and chemical research. Its virtues are derived solely from gas, made in large part from the best oxygen producers. By a process requiring immense apparatus and 14 days' time, these gases are made part of the liquid product.

The result is a product that does what oxygen does; and oxygen is the very source of vitality, the most essential element of life. The effects of Liquozone are exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying. Yet it is a germicide so certain that we publish on every bottle an offer of $1000 for a disease germ that it cannot kill. The reason is that germs are vegetables; and Liquozone—like an excess of oxygen—is deadly to vegetable matter. That is why Liquozone kills every disease germ, and with a product which to the human body is life.

Germ Diseases.

These are the known germ diseases. All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help Nature overcome the germs, and such results are indirect and uncertain. Liquozone kills the germs, wherever they are, and the results are inevitable. By destroying the cause of the trouble, it invariably ends the disease, and forever.

BANKERS NOT TO BLAME.

[illegible] disposition to blame the bankers for all ills of our financial system is [illegible] by the American Banker, a New York publication, which says:

"It is one of the curiosities of the financial comment that the public is the blame which is directed in the way in which the 'New York bankers manage their establishments is generally unmeasured. If a severe financial period is in course of development these bankers are wholly to blame for it; when the collapse occurs it is their fault; they are heedless except their own security when by a fall of prices at the Stock Exchange, and when the movement upward there does not seem to be any limit to the chances which they are willing to assume. The fluctuations in values, the perturbations in trade, the critical periods when heavy losses are to be gathered, an extravagant investment, experiments in currency legislation, the settlement of an immense [illegible] main at a rate unprecedented, a period of great and far-reaching movements which most of our credit distrubances have their origin, are forgotten and the heart and nerve center of the whole system gets the whole credit for the effects that are inherent in the system as a whole.

"And on the other hand when [illegible] are recalled, when the use of the [illegible] insurance certificate looms into proportion of a savior of the country, when devotion to exacting and [illegible] duties are noticed among the [illegible] bankers, then the praise takes the same exaggerations of statement [illegible] such times our unrivaled [illegible] partly due to the preeminence of [illegible] banking leaders, and we perceive that we must become the greatest financial power of the world because we have the greatest bankers. We go from one extreme of emotion to the other. A parallel may be drawn between the [illegible] steel trade and our emotions. [illegible] is either a prince or a pauper, and all this only goes to show that [illegible] economic waves are the most violent on the globe so the mutations of our aspirations and despairs are, perhaps, in violence duplicated nowhere else. And it follows that the praise or the blame which we hear for the way in which matters are done in New York is largely based on a misconception of the realities. The absence of criticism leaves room for mere [illegible]

DRIED FRUITS. The Commercial News says. "There is hope for the dried fruit of the orange market, and possibly a little improvement during the next few days, but present conditions are still pretty well demoralized. The sale of fresh fruit have sold in Eastern markets the past week at prices, although the bulk of sales and results about equal to those of the week. The few days of good weather early in the week brought an active demand with it, but as the week in all the large distributing points are lined with cars of oranges, there are more or less injured fruit, low prices are bound to rule for at least another week. Prices will undoubtedly be very low for the ensuing two weeks, as fruit is well matured and a large percentage of the navels will have to be used out promptly to insure its arriving in sound condition.

"There is really no f.o.b. market, and shippers are obliged to let their crops go with also a possibility of having many deficits besides.

"The lemon market is steady, with a good demand. The greater part of the crop is taken from the trees now is being stored for shipment late in the fall or summer. There is an improvement in the general condition of the crop here, and with fair rainfall the fruit will grow to desirable size and insure a large output."

COFFEE. The Grocer and Country Merchant of San Francisco says:

"Brazils have dropped again in New York this week, the net decline being ¼ cent in Rio and ¾ cent in Futures have been proportionately affected.

"Central American has also been marked down ¼ to ½ cent. In the same time the Hamburg market for Central American was cabled yesterday dull at about ¼ cent lower than two weeks ago. Translated into cents per pound the quotations were: Prime washed Guatemala, 11.43; current do 10.35; Prime washed Salvador, 11.01; current unwashed do, 8.75.

"In the face of the general downward tendency our local market for Central American has been idle. Supplies of the new crops are still very slow in coming forward, but for which fact prices would be lower. The City of Panama arrived on the 17th inst. with 1532 bags of Guatemala."

CANNED CORN. Maine packers are being met this year with orders far in excess of their last year's contract sales, and at prices ranging from 97½ to $1.02½ f.o.b. Portland, Me. There will of necessity be a general scaling down of the quantity, for the reason that the crop will not be large, owing to the difficulty in securing acreage.

Furthermore, sweet corn is a troublesome crop to raise and the farmers, discouraged by the results of 1902 and 1903, are not inclined to contract to grow.

Similar reports come from other sections, particularly from Iowa, where the last two years have been exceptionally poor; as a consequence, the farmers of that State are disposed to turn their efforts in the direction of Yellow Feed Corn, for stock purposes.

There is every reason, therefore, to believe that the prices of future Maine and Western Corn will surely be maintained.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

The rain will have the effect of checking receipts of eggs and prices late in the afternoon were steadier.

Contrary to general expectations better prices were not interfered with by the Butter Board of Trade at their meeting this afternon. It is only a question of days, however, when butter must be cheaper. Another advance occurred today in local flour as was forecasted in The Times yesterday. This advance also affects brands of blended eastern and California flour. Wheat advanced 5 cents to $1.70 and Texas red seed oats to $1.45.

NEW YORK MARKET.

SHARES AND MONEY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Today's stock market was almost idle and the drift of prices was listless in the extreme and totally insignificant. Yesterday's setback to the rally which occurred on Thursday discouraged traders from attempting to make prices and today's trading indicated that the market is awaiting some new development to give an initiative to prices. The fact that another decision day of the Supreme Court is imminent with a decision in the Northern Pacific case possibly to be handed down aggravated the dullness. The beginning of the Paris stock market settlement is another motive for a waiting attitude in the securities market. The London market was practically stagnant in response to this influence. Pomeroy's response to the annual report was an advance of ⅛ and Reading closed unchanged in spite of the heavy decrease in the net earnings for January. The bank statement revealed a larger gain in cash than indicated by the preliminary estimates, but speculative sentiment would be more encouraged were there evidence that a more active use of money in business. The decrease in loans was not clearly explained unless by a report that some of the clearing-house banks have intimated to the trust companies their disinclination to carry heavy deposits at 2 per cent. The market closed almost stagnant but easy and at small net losses.

Total sales of bonds par value $415,000.

GENERAL EASTERN MARKET.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—The big slump in wheat came shortly before the close today. The opening was weak on low cables, both English and continental markets showing lower. The market was ¼ to ⅜ lower, July was off ¼ to ⅜c at 84¾@85c. During the first few minutes of trading the leading long interest was an open seller of the May delivery. Local professionals also took the selling side. In consequence, May declined to 82.04, but the July option held comparatively steady around 86c after touching 85¼c early in the trading. A noticeable feature in the early situation was the absence of any influential buying. The market lacked its usual support, the restatement of big lines previously held out. The seeming reason was that most of the large traders were disposed to await developments over Sunday. Another factor in discouraging general buying early was for the purpose of enabling the purchase of July wheat at lower prices. As the session was nearing the close there was a sudden outbreak of speculative selling of May. The heavy orders were generally supposed to be for the account of the principal long. The movement thus suddenly inaugurated resulted quickly in a severe slump in the price of the May option.

From around $1.05 May dropped to $1.01¾. Many stop-loss orders came out, accelerating the decline. On a partial cessation of the selling a large portion of the loss was recovered within the last few minutes of trading. Closing figures on May showed a net loss for day of 1¾c at $1.03¾. July was down ¼ at 86¾.

Lower cables and weakness in wheat caused an easier feeling in corn. May closed at 56¾, and July was off a shade at 56¼@56⅝c.

The feature of trading in oats was the comparative strength of the market in the face of weakness in wheat. May closed ¼c lower at 45½c. July was off ⅛c at 42¾c.

In provisions trading centered in pork. Local packers were the principal buyers. There was

[NEWS REPORTS FROM TIMES CORRESPONDENTS.]

KARLS IS FOUND GUILTY.

THE JURY RETURNS VERDICT OF MANSLAUGHTER.

Brothers of Convicted Man Mortgage Farm in Effort to Save Him. Several Perperty Owners Object to Planing Mills in Their Neighborhood.

RIVERSIDE, Feb. 27.—At 3:15 o'clock this morning the jury came into court with a verdict of guilty of manslaughter in the second degree in the case of Alexander Karls. The case came up last Tuesday and has been on trial all week.

Karls was accused of killing Andrew P. Petersen in cold blood on December 29 last. Soon after his arrest he made an effort to commit suicide, and later he made some very damaging admissions to the officers. These things apparently had much weight with the jurors, and eight of them stood for conviction in the first degree, while four favored the second degree. The jury retired at 5:30 o'clock last night.

The result is gratifying to Sheriff P. M. Coburn, who has labored to develop the facts. Sheriff Coburn was materially assisted by Policeman John Baird.

Next Friday Karls will be sentenced, and it is generally thought that he will not get off lightly. The limit is life, but the sentence is left at the discretion of the court.

Karls does not seem to care whether the court grants his attorney's motion for a new trial, and it is considered certain that the case will not be appealed to a higher court. His brothers mortgaged their property over in New Mexico, thinking that the proof against him was only slight, and Karls promised to work as soon as released and thus repay them the amount which they had raised for his freedom.

OBJECT TO MILLS.

What promises to become a widespread movement has just been inaugurated by certain property owners adjoining the planing mills. An effort was made to have all such structures excluded from the fire limits, but, failing in this, the owners are going to act independently. Clare Keith, Caldwell, Senator A. A. Caldwell, H. B. Everest, E. A. Day and J. T. Somerville, property owners in the vicinity of the Lynn-Lewis Company, have brought an action in the Superior Court to restrain it from running its mills. They allege that the noise is injurious to their health, and that in case of illness it would seriously interfere with recovery. They also state that the nearness of the mills prevents their renting their premises, and that they are generally a nuisance.

CAME WITH THE MORMONS.

DEATH OF COL. KELTING, SAN BERNARDINO PIONEER.

Was First United States Attorney at Salt Lake and One of Earliest Promoters of Transcontinental Railroad—Boxall Case to be Heard Next Thursday.

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 27.—Col. John Kelting, a pioneer of this valley, and the first United States Attorney at Salt Lake City, died yesterday morning at his home in Colton at the advanced age of 93. He was born in Philadelphia, October, 1811, and in 1847, traveled to Utah in an ox team, having become a convert to the Mormon faith. He organized the courts in Utah, and was appointed United States Attorney, serving for a number of years with distinction. In 1855 he drew up a memorial to Congress, asking for the construction of a transcontinental railroad, but the idea was considered visionary.

With the Morman colonists he came to this valley in 1853, since which time he resided in this vicinity, having been an active participant in the stormy scenes which constantly embroiled the locality during the early days. He was ever a worker for the upbuilding of the town, and constructed the first brick building here, afterward removing to Colton, where he centered his business interests.

This afternoon the funeral occured from his late residence, being attended by the members of the pioneer society in a body, and numerous friends and former business acquaintances. He often referred with pride to the honor which once befell him in shaking hands with General Lafayette, of Revolutionary fame.

TO HEAR BOXALL CASE.

The following jurors have been selected to hear the Boxall assault case, which will commence next Thursday before Judge Oster; J. C. Burton, Hiram Clark, John Besant, Clark Gentry, Myron Simmons, Lyman Able, Robert Bosworth, Thomas Cadd, E. F. Cresmer, Luther Carter, Jerry McElvaine, and J. E. Lawson.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Habeas-corpus proceedings have been instituted for the release from custody of Frank Bell and two companions, who were arrested at Colton several days ago as vagrants, having been caught sleeping in a Southern Pacific box car. They claim to be miners.

John E. Light and W. R. Lang are being sued by the estate of R. C. Glover to recover $1500 alleged to be due the estate under a contract for the purchase of Hesperia land. They had paid all but the sum sued for on a $4000 purchase.

Francisco Medina, charged with highway robbery, was bound over by Judge Thomas today to answer before the Superior Court, the amount of bonds being fixed at $1000.

John Blakeman, a vagrant, made a break for liberty this morning, was after a run of several blocks was brought to a halt by a shot from the revolver of Deputy Sheriff Yager. Blakeman was working in the county jail yard when he escaped. He is now serving four days in the dungeon, being fed on bread and water.

Judgement was today granted the plaintiff in the foreclosure suit brought by Mrs. Leona Wood against D. G. Henderson and others to recover $1500 due on a promissory note.

THE TIMES IN SAN BERNARDINO.—A. W. Izenour, authorized agent, headquarters near cigar and news stand, N.E. corner Third and E. streets. Subscriptions and advertisements taken. The paper is not handled in San Bernardino by W. H. Eadie, nor in the store of L. D. Houghton. For fear of the bogieman (the walking delegate) these persons refuse to keep the paper for sale, thus weakly yielding to the bluff of the boycotters and the threats of the local labor-gnionists. Izenour, however, stands fast, the same as before, and independent citizens may always be served by him with their favorite journal.

TRUSTEES OF EDUCATION.

BISHOP CONATY ADDRESSES THE SCHOOL TEACHERS.

High Office of the Teacher as a Molder of Character His Theme. Declares That Religion Cannot be Divorced from Education.

The public school teachers assembled at the High School yesterday forenoon, and were addressed by Rt. Rev. Thomas Conaty, D.D., on "The Teacher as the Trustee of Education." Bishop Conaty spoke of the prominence of the teacher in the life of the people, and in discussing his general trusteeship as to education said that he should have clear views of this great work, in order to determine not only the dignity but the responsibility of his high calling.

"Education aims to form manhood," said the speaker. "In order to do this successfully one must understand man's destiny so that he may be developed according to the lines in keeping with the aim and purpose of his creation.

"The teacher should never lose sight of the high character of his vocation. Mind, will, and heart are in his keeping and he is indeed the trustee of all. He should have a clear and correct conception of life, of character, and truth. God is the supreme master of life and is the essential element of education. Outside of Him, the family, society, and church, are sources of educational mastery and the teacher, to a certain extent, is trustee for them all.

"Parents are the first teachers upon whom really devolves the responsibility of education. They share their authority and responsibility with the teacher, who thus becomes trustee for the parents whose children are placed in his care. Civil society has its responsibilities as well as its rights and gives to the teacher something of a trusteeship in demanding the influences that make for future citizenship. The church has its responsibility to the life of its children and shares with the teacher the trusteeship in religion."

Bishop Conaty spoke of the importance of religion in education as something more than sentiment or vague generalities.

"The demand for moral training is becoming so general that those in charge of public instruction will need to study thoroughly well the essentials of that morality which alone can produce goodness," said the speaker.

"The teacher stands before the world greater than the noblest heroes of military science or conquest. His fame is acquired not by the blood of others, but by ability to lead others to higher thought.

"Every incentive is given to the teacher invested with honor and responsibility. He should aim in himself toward scholarship and character; he should possess what he desires the child to acquire; he should be what he desires the child to be.

"Personality weighs far more than cast-iron methods. Sympathy will not be satisfied with making a child a reading or ciphering machine, but a mind taught to think and reason and a life made to feel that nobility of character and perfection of virtue make the true man.

"Great teachers never die, their influence lasts forever. Their very names are an inspiration. The true teacher can never part from a pupil without a feeling that some of his life has gone from him and entered into the other.

"It was personality more than system that in all the ages of scholarship has made the master live in his pupil. We never forget that it is the living voice one loves to listen to, the living hand one loves to touch. The master who really lives is the one teacher whom we never cease to love.

"Noble men and women in all ages have consecrated themselves as the teachers of mankind. Like the apostles, they have been the salt of the earth, the light of the world, the benefactors of mankind.

"The great teachers have been reverent, moral, religious, and they are in all times an inspiration to those who would assume the trusteeship to education. Religion is the sunlight which education needs for its life. It can no more be divorced from education than the soul be separated from the body with the expectation that life would still continue."

She Ran the Court.

At the election of 1896, in which the Populist party was so much in evidence, a justice of the peace was elected in the city of Shawnee of the name of Miller. He had been engaged in a little merchandise business in the suburbs of the village and resided over the store with his family. The building was made out of native lumber, which, when seasoned, left large cracks in the floor between the upper and lower rooms. The justice held his court upstairs, and during the trial of a case, when the lawyers were arguing the question of evidence of the case upon its merits, the justice would listen with great patience, but when the argument was closed would go downstairs and ask his wife how to decide the issue presented. His children, hearing him consult their mother upon every question in the case, inquired of their mother:

"Are we little justices of the peace, mamma?"

"No," she replied, "only me and pap."—[Kansas City Journal.

POMONA BOYS WIN THE CUP.

RESULT OF INTERSCHOLASTIC DAY AT RIVERSIDE.

Crowd in Attendance and Enthusiasm Runs High—Riverside Takes Second Honors and Redlands Team Wins Third—The Events in Detail.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RIVERSIDE, Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The interscholastic field day events brought in large delegations of "rooters" from Pomona, Redlands and Colton; San Bernardino, drawing out, sent only a few interested spectators. All day, college yells and colors have everywhere been in evidence. A crowd assembled at Chemawa Park, where the events took place. At times enthusiasm ran high and there was great rivalry between supporters of the different teams as to which could give vent to the most varied yells and cat-calls. The weather was bracing and a slight drizzle of rain was falling, but this did not dampen the ardor of the contestants or the backers.

The track was in good condition when the first event was called. It took active work to put through all of the eleven contests by 6 o'clock. Some of the out-of-town delegations missed their trains, but they were looked after and royally entertained by students of the Riverside High School. The events resulted as follows:

Fifty-yard dash, entries: Gare and McIntosh, Redlands; Lane and Mosher, Pomona; McDonald and Cooper, Riverside; Cooper first, Lane second, and Mosher third; time 5 4-5 secs.

Shot put, entries: Casey and Tulley, Pomona; Gay and Fuller, Redlands; McDonald and Hodson, Riverside; Fuller first, Casey second, Hodson third; distance 39 feet 9¾ in.

One hundred-yard dash, entries: Lanta and Smith, Colton; Cooper and Kimball, Riverside; Hartzell and Hinckley, Redlands; Lane and Casey, Pomona; Cooper first, Casey second, Hartzell third; time 11 1-5 secs.

Hammer throw, entries: McDonald and Allen, Riverside; Smith and Brown, Colton; Gray and Fuller, Redlands; Tuller and Smith, Pomona; Tuller first, Smith of Pomona second, Gay third; distance 118 feet.

Two hundred and twenty-yard dash, entries: Hartzell and Hinckley, Redlands; Mosher and Thomas, Pomona; Cooper and Kimball, Riverside; Cooper first, Kimball second, and Hinckley third; time 24 1-5 secs.

Pole vault, entries: Lantz and Wilbur, Colton; Hodson and Holeman, Riverside; Seaver and Luddon, Pomona; Gregg and Stolz, Redlands; Hodson, first, Gregg and Stolz tied for second; distance 9 feet.

High jump, entries: Bush and Cooper, Riverside; Ward and Carner, Colton; Seaver and Powers, Pomona; Gay and Stolz, Redlands; Gay first, Seaver second, Stolz third; height 5 ft. 4 in.

Four hundred and forty-yard dash, entries: Hill and Meon, Riverside; Hinckley and Gore, Redlands; Tuller and Harris, Pomona; Hinckley first, Gore second, Tuller third; time 58 1-5 secs.

Broad jump, entries: Walters and Brown, Colton; Tuller and Casey, Pomona; Hartzell and Roberts, Redlands; Boalich and Cooper, Riverside; Casey first, Cooper second; Tuller third; distance 18 ft. 11¾ in.

One-mile run, entries: Wilbur and Ward, Colton, Oakley and Smith, Redlands; Hinrod and Palmer, Pomona; Strong and Blackman, Riverside; Hinrod first, Strong second, Palmer third; time 4 min. 55 3-5 secs.

Relay race, entries: Hill, McDonald, Cooper, Hewitt and Kimball, Riverside; Lane, Mosher, Thomas and Casey, Pomona; Hinckley, Gore, Hartzell and Roberts for Redlands. As this was about to be run it was forfeited and given to Pomona by five points.

This gave a total score points as follows: To Pomona, 44; to Riverside, 30; to Redlands, 21.

Thus Pomona carried off the cup.

Explained.

"Yes, they're engaged," said Ethel. "But it's the most remarkable case! She says she's in love with him and yet she has known him only four days. I don't understand it."

"Simplest thing in the world," mused her companion; "if she had known him any longer than that she wouldn't have been in love with him."—[Detroit Free Press.

Broad Interpretation.

He: Are you aware that there is a passage in the Bible commanding girls to kiss young men?

She: No, indeed. Tell me about it.

He: It reads thus: "Whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them."—[Chicago News.

TIMELY CALLING

How the Pastor Saved a Life.

A man near Fort Gay, W. Va., made an entire failure in getting strength from the kind of food he ate and not knowing that the trouble was with the food kept on losing health until the doctors gave him up to die.

It was supposed to be consumption because he was wasting away steadily and slowly dying. His minister called from time to time and one day brought along a package of Grape-Nuts, thinking from what he knew of the famous food that perhaps it might help him. The sick man took to it at once and from that day began to get well. In writing he says:

"I walked to town today. 3 miles. Have gained over 40 pounds in about 2 months and my neighbors don't know what to say. I frequently am told it was as if I am raised from the dead. Everybody here knows of my case, you can tell people to write to the Postmaster or Rev. L. D. Bryan. I will make a sworn statement that Grape-Nuts saved my life." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

This is another illustration that where all other food fails one can be brought back to health and strength on Grape-Nuts. "There's a reason."

SUNDAY MUSIC AND DISCORDS.

CHURCHMEN OF PASADENA TAKE OPPOSITE VIEWS.

Rev. Malcolm J. McLeod Advocates Cessation of Hostilities and Bickering, and C. V. Sturdevant Throws Down Glove to Him—Bankers' Clerk.

PASADENA, Office of The Times, No. 60 North Raymond avenue, Feb. 28.—Rev. Malcolm J. McLeod, the popular pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, shortly after participating in the protest meeting at the First Methodist Church a week ago today, whereat it was sought to devise ways to prevent Sunday band concerts, appeared in public advocating a cessation of hostilities on the part of the church people and the concerts on the ground that the mutual bickering on their part would do more harm than would the Sunday concerts.

C. V. Sturdevant, a member of the First Methodist Church and one active in opposition to the concerts, has thrown down the glove to the reverend gentleman. In a letter Sturdevant says:

"It is not that Rev. Malcolm J. McLeod is a popular pastor makes it just and the more unpleasant and unmanly to criticise his action in running up the white flag in the Sunday concert question. Had there not been a principle at steak there had been no opposition to the concerts, and no principles are involved there can be no surrender before the battle is finally decided. If we give up to you because it fights back a little no peace would ever be made along any line. It is scarcely conceivable that the Imperial Union will say die simply because one of its generals has run away. They certainly cannot do so if they believe what they said at the mass meeting last Sunday afternoon, and there were hardly of the kind who 'cry peace, when there is no peace.' I fail to understand how gentlemen of the Council or out of it could wish to do anything upon the people which is positively and painfully in violation not merely of their wishes, but of their consciences. Probably they have looked at it in this light. We may call it of queeries,' as The Times Councilman Heiss as saying, but he will admit that the opposition is fierce."

While the concerts go merrily on, the committee appointed at the meeting to interview the Mayor and City Council have so far failed to do anything.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock, the weather permitting, the following program will be rendered in Library Park: March, "American Belle" (Arr. by Bentley;) waltz, "As a Dream" (Gray;) sacred song, "Jerusalem," (Tours;) Mexican serenade, "Lolita" (E. Redio;) duet for clarionets, "Two Thoughts" (Strong;) "Sweet Love" (Morceau;) overture, "The Peasants" (Suppe;) sacred song, "Beautiful Eden" (Byer;) "Crusade," descriptive (Z. F. Myers;) finale, "America" (all join in song.)

APPROACHED WRONG MAN.

Judge Congdon may be easy, but John O'Connor, professional mute and panhandler, did not find him so today when he wandered into the office of the judge and asked alms in deaf and dumb language as the survivor of the Johnstown flood. It is then because the judge did not listen to the appeal for aid, O'Connor slammed the glass door and the judge will have to spend the money in a new door that O'Conner might be spending instead of reposing in the Los Angeles County Jail.

At the station Miss Maude Blanchard, stenographer for Judge Congdon, was called as a witness against O'Connor, and as the prisoner made a premature pass the young lady he reached out a strong right arm as though to strike her, but was prevented by Officer O'Conner fought Constable Hall and Capt. Austin all the way to the door, and the former experienced considerable difficulty in landing the prisoner in the County Jail. O'Conner soon forgets that he is a mute and lets a streak of profanity that would do honor to a past master in the art.

Announcement has been made of the organization of the Bankers' Trust Bank of Pasadena. The new bank, while in no way connected with the Pasadena National Bank, will occupy in a connecting room, part of those to hold an interest in the new bank are now identified with the Pasadena National.

The capital stock is $50,000, all subscribed and half paid in.

The stockholders are Isaac Bailey, Jr., Winthrop B. Fay, L. P. Fay, H. Bauer, B. W. Hahn, H. Edward J. Pyle, Ira A. Hill, Thomas E. B. Webster and N. Bell, the first seven being the directors.

HOBBINS GOT HIS.

Hobbins, arrested Friday for petit grafting, was given thirty days in the chain gang. He had the sympathies of a number of people, including Rev. Mr. Shumaker, rector of All Saints' Church, by representations to be of the same name as Aside from this his actions indicate that he was a chance to do porch-climbing articles of value when the opportunity arose, since as he seemed determined be the case at the time of his arrest, as told yesterday in this column.

SORORITY AFFAIRS.

The first of a series of four Wagnerian recitals by Mrs. W. S. Crosby was given Friday morning at the home of Mrs. Fullman, and the attendance larger than at any of the recitals yet given. The great music drama "Parsifal" was the theme, and great interest was displayed in it on account of the notoriety it has gained through the heated discussion over its production in America. In the absence of Mrs. Crosby was rendered by her rendition was highly satisfactory as to the solemnity and religious character of Wagner's music. These recitals have been delightful affairs to music lovers, and have been highly appreciated by the representative members of society.

Miss Clarissa D. Daggett gave a tea yesterday afternoon in honor of Miss Lucretia Garfield, widow of the late President, who was unfortunately unable to be present. The drawing-room was ornamented with acacia and the dining-room lovely with pink roses. Among distinguished guests were Mrs. Harrison Gray Otis of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Booth of Hollywood.

A musicale was rendered more enjoyable by vocal solos given by Mrs. Walter Raymond. The young ladies assisting Mrs. Daggett were Misses Behr, Guyer, Morehous, and Elizabeth Stone of New York.

Mrs. Lutie Wright Benton of Congress street will entertain a small party of friends at cards Wednesday afternoon in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Angel of Rochester, N. Y.

C. Mortimer Henderson is perhaps the happiest man in Pasadena today. He is receiving the congratulations of his many friends upon his engagement to Miss Francina Emery of New York. Miss Emery is a beautiful brunette and a most accomplished and charming girl. Her childhood was spent in Pasadena, and at present she is visiting her brother, Frank Emery, at his ranch near Fullerton. Her father, Charles G. Emery, is a capitalist and owns extensive property interests in Pasadena and elsewhere in Southern California. Mr. Henderson is one of Pasadena's most estimable and promising young business men, the senior member of the firm of Henderson & Macomber, investment brokers. No definite date has been set for the marriage, but it is understood that it will be in the near future.

SHAKESPEARE CLUB.

"Russia through American eyes; America through Russian." One of the most interesting programmes given this year, was that yesterday afternoon, when a number of Shakespeare Club members enjoyed two most entertaining addresses upon that all-absorbing topic, Russia. John Wadsworth of this city, who last year spent several months in Russia, told of his impressions in the larger cities, and in sharp contract were the views of Stephen Korwin Szymanowski of Los Angeles, who spoke most entertainingly upon "The Life of Women in Russia," but who incidentally expressed very vividly his impressions of some phases of women's life in America. The situation was somewhat unique, while Mr. Wadsworth was speaking, since Mr. Szymanowski showed very plainly his intense interest in all the impressions of the American in Russia. At times his astonishment, dissent, amusement and wonder were very apparent, and in his speech which followed, some points not wholly understood by the first speaker were explained in a very clear way.

Mr. Wadsworth in his address, told of the things which naturally interest the general traveler, who follows the beaten paths of travel. His pictures of the street life in St. Petersburg and Moscow were well drawn, and the characteristic features of the Russian life, commerce, religion and government, as he saw them, were interestingly told. Being himself especially interested in the churches, Mr. Wadsworth gave quite full descriptions of the second largest in the world, that of St. Isaacs in St. Petersburg. The unusual beauty of architecture, fittings, liberal use of jewels and previous stones, of marble floors, the exquisite gold and silver hanging lamps, and the elaborateness of the great screen, which separated the church proper from the holy of holies, were all described in glowing word pictures, until at least a conception of its magnificence was realized by those who listened. The church services also were of unusual interest to Mr. and Mrs. Wadsworth, and they were more than usually fortunate to see a marriage ceremony in St. Isaacs, following the regular morning service. In regard to the city of Moscow, Mr. Wadsworth said he was surprised to find it with modern buildings and improvements, and, in fact, the great manufacturing center of Russia.

The Kremlin, with its chapels, war relics, statues, and magnificence of gold, silver and jewels, was well described. Mr. Wadsworth had brought for exhibition some fine samples of the beautiful drawn work of the Russian peasantry, which, together with pictures of church saints and photographs, were on the table at the front of the hall, where many of those present inspected them after the close of the programme.

Mr. Szymanowski, who was born in Russia, but is today proud of his American citizenship, is a most interesting man, with strong personality, a ready speaker, keen of wit and happy in his expression. In the opening of his address, Mr. Szymanowski expressed his satisfaction at being able to hear an American tell his impressions of Russia, and then in a very courteous way, he explained some of the points not understood by Mr. Wadsworth in a very clear, interesting way. While his subject was upon the women of Russia and their life, he very often branched off on a just condemnation of the autocratic government of Russia and the wide and evil results of the system. Once in contrasting the customs among the Russians for the protection of their girls and in the preserving of the perfection of womanhood, Mr. Szymanowski took off some of the American customs among careless girls, especially the reprehensible habit of gum chewing, in a very telling way. It was plain to see how some of the ways and manners of the "new woman" impressed a foreigner.

In considering the women of Russia, the speaker divided them for convenience into three classes, the lower, the middle and the upper classes. The peasant woman was characterized as ignorant, hard working, good and with but little in her life to inspire higher ambitions. The woman of middle class was described as somewhat better educated, and usually dressed in European costume, whose husband was ordinarily a factory hand, but the well-educated and refined woman of the upper stratum of society, was declared to be very like, in most ways, all intelligent women all over the world. The same books were read by all, the same music enjoyed; and many of the same pleasures of charity and philanthropic work indulged in. The life of a typical Russian girl was then quite fully described. The whole talk was of the most absorbing interest, and the audience was very sorry when the hour was at an end. It is hoped that a chance to hear the uniquely interesting gentleman again may soon be given, since so many of the club members failed today on account of the rain to hear him.

MME. BLAUVELT SINGS.

Last evening, despite the rain, Mme. Blauvelt sang before a large and appreciative audience at Lowe Operahouse. The charming singer was surprised to know that her drawing powers could bring people from their homes through a torrent of rain to the chilly theater. They were amply rewarded by a splendidly-rendered programme and even encores were given to meet their demands. Pasadena's beauty and fine gowns went in carriages, the students on the cars, and top boots and rain coats were in evidence. This was Mme. Blauvelt's sixteenth concert this season, during which the rain has fallen and she has the reputation of bringing refreshing showers as well as refreshing songs.

The programme last evening was thoroughly and artistically given.

NOTES BY THE WAY.

Marcus Croswaite is a Mexican, who does not stand one chance in a thousand of being acquitted on the charge of insanity that was last night filed against him. ENGINE CRUSHES LIFE OUT.

FATAL ACCIDENT IN RAILROAD YARDS AT SAN PEDRO.

Defective Rail Throws Locomotive from the Track and Grinds Unfortunate Man Under Pilot—Bursting of a Water Tank Causes Temporary Flood.

SAN PEDRO, Feb. 27.—Giles B. Sullivan, aged 30, a switchman employed in the yards of the Southern Pacific Company here, was run over by engine No. 1072 about 2 o'clock this afternoon and instantly killed.

The accident occurred on a sidetrack and curve, and was caused by a defective rail. The fish-plate on the rail was only bolted on one side, and the rail spread, throwing the engine off the track. It plowed along the rails for several feet, and finally sank down into the soft earth. Young Sullivan was standing on the front board of the engine, and was carried down with the wooden foot board and the full weight of the pilot and front of the engine crushed the life out of the unfortunate man. The section crew was sent for, and after several minutes succeeded in shoveling enough dirt from under the pilot to enable them to extricate the unfortunate man, but life was extinct.

N. B. Stetson, a fellow-switchman, was on the foot board with Sullivan, but was on the upper side, and had a narrow escape. The trousers on his left leg were badly torn, but he escaped uninjured. Sullivan was married only a few months ago, and in addition to to his widow, leaves a mother, two sisters and a brother residing here, and has a married sister, Mrs. Nellie Sheehan, living at Long Beach.

Considerable blame attaches to the railroad company on account of the unsafe condition of the tracks on the switch where the accident happened. The rails are very light, and do not seem to be sufficiently bolted for heavy switching. Where the engine plowed through, several of the ties were more or less decayed. The death of young Sullivan is the second among the trainmen in this yard, Yard Foreman L. M. Mathews having lost his life a few wekes ago.

COLLAPSE OF WATER TANK.

The large water tank at the corner of Front and Fourth streets broke open this afternoon, with a report like a young cannon, totally demolishing the tank. The streets in the vicinity were flooded, and 10,000 gallons of water used for sprinkling streets ran into the bay.

Considerable interest is manifested in the approaching city election, at which time the question of licensing saloons is to be submitted to a vote. No candidates have been announced as yet, but considerable quiet caucusing is going on. It is reported that there has been a heavy registration of new voters.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL.

The ladies of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, gave a very pleasant ice-cream social on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. R. Bierbower.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Davies and Miss Clarice Hall of Pasadena spent the first of the week as the guests of Mrs. Davies's brother, Frank W. Hall and family.

Although Miss Elleane Griffiths will be eight years old on Monday, that day will be her first birthday, the vagaries of the calendar for the past eight years having cut her anniversaries short. Invitations have been issued for a birthday party, which will be a great occasion for her.

THE POPULAR VOTE OF 1904

Is Unanimously in Favor of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets—They Are the Nation's Favorite.

No article on the market, whatever be the purpose for which it was created, can be a phenomenal success and be universally popular unless it possesses great and unfailing merit. Inferior and worthless articles may flourish for a limited time if their praises are sung by sufficient clever and catchy advertising; but their days are numbered from the start and their finish is a foregone conclusion. This is an age of the survival of the fittest, and only articles of true worth endure.

The unparalleled and phenomenal success of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets from a business standpoint is not unnatural nor surprising. It is due directly to their unparalleled and phenomenal success in curing multiplied thousands of cases of dyspepsia throughout the English-speaking world.

The reason of the wonderful success of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is so plain and simple that a child can understand. It is this and nothing more; they are natural in their workings and effects. They take up the work of the worn and wasted stomach and do it just as the stomach did when it was well and strong and able. They actually digest the food and do it thoroughly, completely and independently, thus giving the weak and weary stomach an opportunity to renew and regain its wasted strength. You forget that you have a stomach just as you did when you were a healthy boy or girl and Nature restores and heals that organ and makes it well and strong.

A St. Louis business man says: "I was a confirmed dyspeptic for years. What I ate had to be forced down and most of it soured or lay like lead in my stomach and did me no good. I was in constant misery both in mind and body and came to be cranky, morose and irritable. My natural disposition, which was cheerful and pleasant, left me and I was alienating all my friends. The doctors did me no good. I got so I hated the sight or name of a doctor. My wife finally worried me into buying a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets which I began taking under protest, as I had no faith in anything or anybody. I was sore on creation.

"I had not taken a third of that box before I noticed a decided and most welcome change. I could enjoy a good meal and feel no bad effects followin it. I forgot my stomach and had a change to think about something else. I went ahead with my business in ease and comfort. Six boxes of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at a total outlay of $3.00 cured me completely and I have not suffered a pain from dyspepsia for two years. I have an appeti like a sixteen-year-old boy. I wish everyone who suffers from dyspepsia could know what a change this great remedy made in me."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale by druggists everywhere at 50 cents a box. All druggists carry them and the best doctors are prescribing them. You need not fear that you will ever be unable to get them; for, because of the good they have done mankind and the suffering they have relieved and the happiness they have caused, the fame and the success and the popularity of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets from generation unto generation will endure.

SANTA CATALINA.

ALBICORE, NOT TUNA.

AVALON, Feb. 27.—A disturbance by big fish not far out at sea this morning caused the cry of tuna to be raised. Reports of that kind of ocean game seen by several fishing parties recently added interest to the prospect. Mexican Joe, M. Ordoqui and Harry Nichols went out, but found it was simply a lot of albicore. They caught nine weighing over thirty-five pounds each.

ALHAMBRA.

A TALK ON BIRDS.

ALHAMBRA, Feb. 27.—There was a large attendance at the meeting of the Alhambra and San Gabriel Farmers' Club Thursday evening at the residence of Mrs. Gates on Electric avenue. After preliminary business and songs by the Alhambra Glee Club, W. Scott Way of Pasadena read a highly interesting and profitable paper on "The Feathered Friends of the Farmer," or birds, and the necessity for their protection. Mr. Way is one of the best-posted men on birds and bird life in this part of the country and with others is interested in the protection of the feathered tribe, both from a practical and sentimental standpoint. Mr. Way gave a perfect description of the habits of the numerous birds in this part of the country, showing conclusively that they do more good in devouring insects, worms and seeds of weeds than injury to fruit or any product of the field or garden.

BRIEF MENTION.

The class play, "An Economical Boomerang," by students of the High School at Parish Hall last evening, was well rendered and largely patronized.

A series of evangelistic services will begin tomorrow morning at the Baptist Church. The pastor, Rev. T. N. Lord, will be assisted by Rev. W. F. Harper of Redlands. Good music will be provided and meetings will be held afternoon and evening.

It is proper to state that all those who are not on the last great register for this precinct, in order to vote at the coming city election, must be registered on or before March 17, twenty-five days before said election.

Another business change took place here this morning. E. W. Stanton, for many years proprietor of the Alhambra Livery, sold his business to M. U. Butterbaugh and Harry R. Townsend. Mr. Stanton will take a rest and visit the East and the St. Louis Fair.

Charles Bazata is being warmly congratulated by his home friends over his oratorical victory in the college debate at Los Angeles last evening.

SOLDIERS' HOME.

NEW BARRACK OPENING.

SOLDIERS' HOME, Feb. 27.—The new barrack (Co. K) will be opened Tuesday. As the hot air and hot water connections are not yet completed, only a limited number in three of the wards will be accommodated for a while. To prevent disappointment among veterans contemplating application for admission, it is stated that the new barrack will be filled by eligibles already notified from among the 1500 and more already on file.

Capt. Hiram H. Wayman has been appointed to the command of the new company. Wayman was appointed in 1886 to the clerical force at headquarters of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers in Hartford, Ct. He remained in that place until 1891, when advised by his physician to come to the Pacific Coast. Upon his arrival here the late Gov. Treichel made him his personal clerk. He was appointed sergeant-major under the late Governor Rowland, and upon the death of Adjutant Davis in 1897, was promoted to the vacancy, which place he held until 1900 when illness compelled him to resign.

Henry W. Vail, late Co. H, Sixteenth Conn. Infantry, who has just returned from a long furlough, is appointed hospital clerk, vice Collin, resigned. Mr. Vail's services as a typewriter will be in demand here. He claims to have manipulated the first typewriting machine invented.

An amateur company of ambitious young people essayed the production of "Priscilla," a musical—something, in Memorial Hall on Thursday evening.

Mail intended for persons at the Soldiers' Home should not be marked "Sawtelle."

Weberfields Closing.

The engagement of Weber & Fields at the Grand Operahouse closed with last night's performance, and left the biggest receipts in the box office that have been entered upon the books of the house since the "palmy" days of early Los Angeles. The local engagement of the big New York company was carried through uneventfully, thanks to the skilful management of Winfield Hogaboom, and notwithstanding the inclement weather every inch of possible space was occupied at all three performances. Monday evening the Weber & Fields aggregation opens the new Elks' Theater at Albuquerque, N. M., and from there goes to Denver.

WAR TALK IN TURKEY.

Sentiment so Strong That She May Refuse to Carry Out the Macedonian Reforms.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Serious news comes from the Near East, saying the idea that Turkey, if she sees an opportunity, will refuse to carry out the Macedonian reforms.

A Greek authority here, accounting for the arming of Greece, says that an agreement has been entered into between that country and Turkey, whereby, in case of war, Greece will occupy Macedonia.

The "appeal-to-war" sentiment at Yildis Kiosk has reached such a point that it may, at any moment, get beyond the control of the ruler, Abdul Hamid. Knowledge of this accounts for Austria's eager military preparations.

DOWIE'S MEETING BROKEN UP.

MELBOURNE (Australia) Feb. 28.—John Alexander Dowie's meeting this afternoon in the Exposition Building was broken up by the crowd shouting and singing comic songs. He was obliged to abandon the evening meeting, and was himself chased around the city by the rough element, the mob yelling challenges to him to justify himself as a prophet. Public antagonism is so strong that Dowie has been refused rooms at a fashionable hotel.

FIRE IN STROLLERS' CLUB.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Excitement was caused in the Strollers' Club in Madison avenue at the close of a musical entertainment today by a slight fire on the stage, resulting from the explosion of a flashlight cartridge that set fire to some decorations. On the cords carrying the decorations were strung many empty China flagons, one of which fell, striking Conried of the Metropolitan Operahouse on the head, injuring him so severely that he had to be taken home in charge of a physician.

RUSSIANS ATTACK THE JAPS.

First Shots Exchanged by the Land Forces in Korea Near Ping Yang and Both Sides Claim Success.

Heavy Fighting Expected Now That the Muscovite Cavalry Have Crossed the Yalu—Mikado's Forces Up Against Thirty Thousand Men.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] First shots have been exchanged between Russian and Japanese land forces in Korea. The affair of outposts near Ping Yang is claimed by both sides as a success. It is here regarded as important only as indicating how much or how little the Japanese have done in Korea. Ping Yang is taken to have been the first objective on both sides, a sort of strategical half-way house between the Korean capital and the Manchurian frontier. The English view is that the Japanese infantry have forestalled the Cossacks at this half-way house.

RUSSIANS DRIVE BACK JAPS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 28.—A dispatch received here from Liao Yang, and dated February 28, says that Chinese on the Yalu river report that an advance guard of Russian cavalry which has penetrated Korea for a distance of about two hundred versts across the river had an encounter with a detachment of Japanese and the Japanese were compelled to retreat. They fled, leaving their horses, which were seized by Cossacks. Gen. Linevitch dispatched cavalry and a body of infantry in pursuit, and with an order to occupy northern Korea.

JAPS REPULSE RUSSIANS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, Feb. 28.—The following official dispatch has been received at the Japanese legation here:

"TOKIO, Feb. 28, 9 a.m.—A number of the enemy's cavalry appeared at a point 700 meters north of Ping Yang, Korea. Our infantry fired on them, causing them to retreat."

RUSSIANS DISPERSE KOREANS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

TOKIO, Feb. 28.—Korean soldiers on the Ham Gyeng frontier have been attacked and dispersed by Russian troops.

FACING A HUGE FORCE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHEMULPO, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Ping Yang is now the center of operations in Northern Korea. A large body of Japanese troops, with many guns, are encamped there. They are faced by a huge force of Russians, estimated to be thirty thousand. It is apparent the Russians are determined to advance still further south. Military authorities at Chemulpo expect a battle hourly.

ROUTED RUSSIANS AT HUNCHUN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SHANGHAI, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Japanese troops have destroyed large stores and Russian provisions and forage at Kin Chow. The Japanese have routed the Russian garrison at Hunchun, about fifty miles inland from Possiet Bay, and are now marching on to Kirin.

RUSSIAN CAVALRYMEN'S VENTURE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SEOUL, Feb. 28.—Details of a skirmish at Ping Yang last Friday show that fifty Russian cavalrymen approached the north gate of the Japanese camp and fired, at 1000 meters. A sharp fusillade took place and the Russians retired. All foreigners are safe.

The Emperor has contributed 100,000 yen and the Crown Prince 5000 yen to the Japanese relief fund.

TROOPS FROM PAO TING FU.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PEKING, Feb. 28.—Since February 23 four troop trains have left Pao Ting Fu for the northeastern frontier. The last contingent leaves today on two trains, completing the force of 10,000 men. These troops are all regulars and their equipment is excellent. They will be replaced by troops from Shantung province.

GEN. PFLUG REPORTS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 28.—An official dispatch received from Maj.-Gen. Pflug, Viceroy Alexieff's chief of staff, dated February 28, says: "The night of February 27 passed quietly at Port Arthur. The enemy's squadron keeps in sight of this city. Reports are coming in of movements of Chinese troops west of the Liao River, and according to rumors, about ten thousand Chinese troops under Gen. Ma are on the road between Tung Chun and Chao Jan. The military guard on the Sin Min Tu Railroad has been reinforced, from forty to sixty Chinese soldiers having been placed at each station. Our mounted troops have entered Korea, and the attitude of the population is friendly toward us."

ALEXIEFF AT MUKDEN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

YINKOW, Feb. 28.—Viceroy Alexieff has arrived at Mukden, where he probably will remain until the reorganization of the forces has been completed. He has been living aboard a train, but he will enter his headquarters tomorrow. The schedule of all regular trains on the railway has been annulled. The Novikrai declares there is great hostility in Korea, especially in Chemulpo, against the Japanese protectorate.

HEAVY FIGHTING EXPECTED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 28.—The official announcement by Maj.-Gen. Pflug, chief of staff of Viceroy Alexieff, that Russian cavalry had crossed the Yalu River, is expected to be followed shortly by news of rather heavy land fighting, as, according to seemingly trustworthy reports, Gen. Lenevitch has sent a whole army corps of infantry to support the Cossacks, who have penetrated to a point below Anju and who are reported to have beaten the Japanese in several skirmishes. Nevertheless, if this movement in force is progressing, it must not be assumed that the Russians have taken the offensive, but rather that they are taking up a strong position in Northern Korea, in order to check the advance of the formidable army of Japan landing on both shores of Korea, while the concentration of Russian troops behind the Yalu is being completed. This concentration is making better progress than is generally believed abroad.

JAPS BLOCKADE VLADIVOSTOK.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, Feb. 29.—Vladivostok has been blockaded by a Japanese fleet since Thursday, according to a Daily Mail dispatch from Hakodate, which adds that incoming steamers report Russian cruisers on the east coast of Kinkwasan, in the bay of Sendai, Japan. Japanese warships have been reported in the vicinity of Vladivostok, but this report of a blockade, although considered probable, has not yet been confirmed from other sources.

QUIET AT PORT ARTHUR.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PORT ARTHUR, Feb. 28.—There has been no change in the situation here during the past two days. A gale blew from the north today, accompanied by thunder and lightning. The sea is very rough, rendering impossible any attempt to effect a landing.

JAPS THINK LITTLE OF PORT ARTHUR.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

TOKIO, Feb. 22.—[By Asiatic Cable.] As the campaign progresses, it seems that the chances are growing slimmer for a great pitched battle on the open sea between the fleets of modern battleships, which the world has long awaited. It is believed here that the Russians lack the strength to assume the offensive, and that they will probably stick to Port Arthur doggedly, to await a sea and land investment. Whoever wins the war, Port Arthur will undoubtedly cease to be an important base. The fortifications will probably be dismantled, as they are small and cramped, and however many guns are defending, it is thought they are incapable of insuring protection. It is estimated that the Russians have two hundred guns mounted at Port Arthur, making it theoretically one of the strongest forts in the world.

In regard to the opening of Wiju, for which United States Minister Allen has long been pressing, it has been decided to await the formal announcement of the Japanese, whose influence is now being felt in Korea. Japan undoubtedly approves it, and the inci-

STEAMER ON FIRE IN A HEAVY SEA.

The Queen's Terrible Experience Costs Fourteen Human Lives.

Vessel is Enveloped in Flames When Off the Mouth of the Columbia—Boats are Lowered and Two Capsize—Passengers and Crew Bring the Craft Through a Terrific Storm to Port.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PORT TOWNSEND (Wash.) Feb. 28.—After suffering the most harrowing experience from fire and storm that has ever befallen a craft on the Northern Pacific Coast, the steamer Queen today put in here to report the loss of fourteen lives.

The list of dead is as follows:

First-class passengers:

MISS STEINER, Clallam, Wash., drowned.

MRS. ADAMS, died from exposure.

Second-class passengers;

D. NEWSBURY, Texas.

H. RUCKLEY, drowned.

Members of the crew:

A. NEILSON.

J. NELSON.

P. FREITAS.

Stewards:

H. HENEMEN.

M. SOMERS.

H. DOUGLAS.

A. DONNELLY.

The fire was extinguished at 7:45 a.m., and the steamer proceeded to this port.

About 3:45 o'clock Saturday morning, while off the mouth of the Columbia River, the Queen caught fire in her after salon in some unexplained way. With indescribable swiftness the fire gained headway, and threatened soon to envelop the whole ship. To add to the horror, the heavy seas running meant death to any sent away in the lifeboats. The flames became more and more threatening, until, when it seemed a choice of deaths, Capt. Cousins ordered the lifeboats launched. They were manned by the crew and ordered to remain close to the ship. Into these the women and children were placed. Hardly, however, had the boats been loose, than, unable to weather the fierce waves, two of them were capsized.

The passengers and those of the crew who remained on board continued to fight against the flames with increasing success until, at 7:40 a.m., the fire was under control. When it was thought the danger from the fire was past, Capt. Cousins recalled the lifeboats, and the occupants were taken aboard.

The Queen was headed for the mouth of the Columbia River, and about 9 o'clock the steamer Santa Monica was sighted. The Queen signaled her, and asked her to stand by until temporary repairs could be made. When everything had been made safe, the Queen continued on to the mouth of the Columbia, only to find the bar was too rough to cross in. The distressed craft was pointed toward Puget Sound, but bad fortune still pursued, and when she rounded Cape Flattery she encountered a terrific electrical storm. With difficulty she weathered the gale, and arrived here without further mishap and proceeded to Seattle, where she arrived at about nightfall.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.

THREE BOATS CAPSIZED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) Feb. 28.—Fourteen people lost their lives as the result of the fire on the steamer Queen from San Francisco to Seattle, early yesterday morning. The origin of the fire is as yet unknown.

It started in the social hall of the vessel at about 4:30 o'clock in the morning, and raged for three hours before it was gotten under control. When the conflagration was first discovered, the lifeboats containing the women and children and many men were launched, but three of these, owing to the heavy seas, capsized, spilling the passengers in the water and causing the loss of nine lives. Three men, waiters on the vessel, were suffocated before they could reach the outer air in safety from their bunks in the "Glory Hole," in the after part of the ship, and one woman died later from exposure.

According to the stories told by passengers and crew of the Queen, which arrived in this port at 5 o'clock this afternoon, the vessel was off Tillamook and about thirty miles from land when the fire was discovered. There was a heavy sea on, and the ship was pitching badly. When smoke was discovered coming out of the social hall on the after main deck of the vessel, the crew was immediately routed out and the hose manned, while the stewards went from cabin to cabin, waking up the passengers. There was no disorder either among crew or passengers.

SMALL BOATS CAPSIZE.

When Capt. Cousins, commander of the vessel, discovered the extent of the fire, which embraced practically all the rear portion of the vessel, he at once ordered the lifeboats launched. Four, filled with women and children and sufficient men to man them, were dropped over the windward of the vessel, each containing about sixteen people. The first boat capsized almost as soon as it touched the water by getting under the stern of the ship. All the passengers in this boat were rescued by the other small boats, with the exception of a Miss Steiner, a first-class passenger, who was drawn under the ship when the boat capsized. The second boat capsized while being lowered. There were no passengers in this at the time, but the crew of four men who were aboard were spilled out and lost.

A third boat filled about half a mile from the Queen, and all but four of its passengers and crew were rescued by the other small craft in the vicinity.

The lifeboat that was floated safely and two rafts that were thrown over to pick up any who might be thrown in the water remained in the vicinity of the burning vessel and within view of it, while the fire was being fought by the crew and those among the male passengers that remained on board. Every available stream of water was thrown into the burning cabin, the men working coolly and without any excitement. The survivors state that every man kept his head and worked hard to subdue the flames. Despite their efforts, however, it was after 7 o'clock before the fire was under control and the signal given to the small boats to return to the vessel.

Passengers, when interviewed this afternoon, stated without exception that everything was done by Capt. Cousins that was possible to insure their safety. Had it not been necessary to send off the boats, not a life would have been lost, but as it was dark when the fire started and it was impossible to light the vessel or to confine the women to their staterooms, it was absolutely necessary to send them away to avoid a panic.

Practically the entire afterpart of the ship is in ruins. The intense heat of the flames has bent and twisted the interior ironwork into a shapeless mass, and sailors, viewing the ruins today, state that they do not understand how it was found possible to get control of the flames. Were it not for the fact that the captain, crew and passengers behaved with the utmost coolness, the vessel would have undoubtedly been destroyed and the loss of life been very great. The vessel carried more than two hundred passengers.

ESCAPED THE FIGHTING.

A Scheme That Will No Longer Work in the Army.

In olden days when the government sought to impress young men into the army, there were many who escaped because they were incapable. Their unfitness was in many cases due to careless habits, and different forms of vile excesses, and there were no such things as Mormon Bishop's Pills to put them to rights again in those days. It took more than ordinary remedy to do that, and they had to wait for the twentieth century for such a thing as Mormon Bishop's Pills. Mormon Bishop's Pills are perfect nerve and manhood builders, and cleanse the system of all impurities. They are sold at 50c per box, six boxes for $2.50, by Off & Vaughn Drug Co., 203 S. Spring street. Sent in plain package, postage prepaid, to any part of the world on receipt of price.

TOKIO, Feb. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Measures have been concerted to defend middle and southern Korea from the Russians should the Japanese meet with reverses on the Yalu River and in Manchuria. So, to carry out these measures, it is assumed that the Japanese very soon will make a determined effort to land troops west of the mouth of the Yalu. A number of Russian cavalry appeared at a point 700 meters north of Ping Yang. The Korean Japanese infantry fired on them, and they retreated.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 28.—Grave rumors are in circulation here concerning the suffering of the troops crossing Lake Baikal, and were communicated to the officer in charge, who telegraphed that there were no cases of severe frost bite occasioning either death or amputation. He says that the journey of twenty-five miles, which takes twelve hours, is broken at a relay station in the center of the lake, where a hot dinner is served, and that particular care is taken of the weaker men during transit.

ANN ARBOR CAR FERRIES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MILWAUKEE (Wis.) Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] As the result of the success of the cross-lake car ferry lines in keeping up communication with east shore points during the present winter, it is said that the Goulds may secure docks here to operate the Ann Arbor car ferries to the Ann Arbor railway connections, on the east shore. Other railroads are said to be planning to take advantage of the gain in time by the cross-lake ferries, as against the long delays which may be expected in the transfer of freight through Chicago to the seaboard lines.

RAILROAD VICTIMS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A report of the number of persons killed and injured on railroads in the United States, compared with the number in Great Britain for the six months ending June 30, 1903, shows 1871 killed and 22,972 injured in this country, against 311 killed and 8202 injured in Great Britain. The railroad reports explain this by the following statement: "Taking into consideration that the railway mileage in the United States is nine times that of the United Kingdom, the passenger mileage two and a third times greater, and the freight ton mileage more than ten times greater, the railway employés two and a half times as numerous, the American railways do not suffer in comparison.

ROTTEN POLITICS AND CRIME.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In an address before the Anthropological Society in the Masonic Hall, Matthew Pinkerton of the detective agency declared that political corruption and dishonesty in public places is responsible for a large part of crime.

"As long," he said, "as the majority of our public officials are servants and blackguards, efforts to suppress crime will prove a dismal failure. One thieving alderman can corrupt hundreds. The downfall of one man known to thousands will have more effect than the conviction of a hundred petty thieves. Aldermen in large cities generally purchase at a considerable cost their political positions. They corrupt many of their constituents, and start thousands on the road of crime. The most successful foe of crime is universal and perfect education."

BOOM FOR MILWAUKEE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

APPLETON (Wis.) Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Since the loss of the Madison capitol building, a general movement has been started in this county to change the location of the State capital to Milwaukee. Early tomorrow morning, a large number of Appleton men will start out through Outagamie county with petitions for the removal to the State metropolis.

GOVERNOR RUSHES TO SAVE A NEGRO.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The South tonight has its eye on Gov. James J. Vardman, who a few weeks ago was inaugurated Governor of Mississippi. He was elected on the most rabid anti-negro platform ever launched. In the South thousands of blacks confidently believed that his election meant a return to slavery, and when he was elected hundreds fled the State. Vardman's anti-negro policy was the talk of the country.

Yesterday the first threatened negro lynching since his inauguration was sprung in Panola county at Batesville, on the Mississippi Valley Railroad. The Governor nearly burned up the wires from Jackson, ordering Sheriff Johnson of that county to protect the negro, Albert Baldwin, charged with the murder of Engineer Fogerty at Tutweiler. He displayed an aggressiveness to save the black's life never known in the history of Mississippi governors. Towards night he called out the militia and ordered the Greenwood and Brookhaven company to the scene. Special trains were hired. Later the Governor summoned his staff, employed a special train from the Illinois Central and left for the scene to assume personal command of the State Militia and save Baldwin from being burned. It will probably cost the State a large sum.

Tonight the special train returned to Jackson, the capital, bearing the Governor and militia and the negro, Baldwin, he having been rescued from the mob. He was safely locked up in a Jackson jail.

LETTER FROM BOOKER.

PROTEST AGAINST BURNINGS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BIRMINGHAM (Ala.) Feb. 28.—The Age Herald tomorrow will publish the following letter from Booker T. Washington:

"Within the last fortnight three members of my race have been burned at the stake, of these one was a woman. Not one of the three was charged with any crime, even remotely connected with the abuse of a white woman. In every case, murder was the sole accusation. All of these burnings took place in broad daylight, and two of them occurred on Sunday afternoon in sight of a Christian church.

"These barbarous scenes are more disgraceful and degrading to the people who inflict punishment than those who receive it. If the law is disregarded when a negro is concerned, it will soon be disregarded when a white man is concerned.

THREW OPEN THE SWITCH.

Alvin Taylor, Colored Porter, Arrested at Richmond.

Claims He Got Signal from Engineer Bennett.

Arizona Republicans for the President—Meyers Mixed.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

RICHMOND, Feb. 28.—Alvin Tay-, the colored porter who threw the witch open at Luzon station, last ght, precipitating the wreck on the Santa Fé, was arrested at his home this city today. The officer was t refused admittance to the house Taylor's wife, but he forced the r open and found Taylor in bed.

After the wreck, last night, Taylor nt to Pinole, three miles west, conductor Lane of train No. 3, rt the affair by wire. He re- to the operator, and then out of sight. Taylor made a to the railroad company after arrest in which he claims that he s signaled by Engineer Bennett of in No. 8, standing on the siding, open the switch, and he obeyed signal before he thought of the rrible consequences. Taylor says came to Point Richmond on a outhern Pacific freight train soon af- leaving the Pinole telegraph office. was taken to Martinez to the unty jail by Sheriff Veale. Taylor s a white wife.

Fireman Thomas, who was injured, ll recover.

The electrical register in the buffet r of the Limited shows the train have been running fifty miles an ur. The switch was thrown when train was only thirty-five feet ay. All three engines were re- ed to scrap iron.

VICTIMS OF THE WRECK.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

OAKLAND, Feb. 28.—Two men ed, one seriously injured and six htly cut and bruised are the total alties resulting from the wreck the California Limited and the over- trains on the Santa Fé at Luzon ing last night. Besides, Engineer L. Baker and Bennett were killed ight and their bodies were terri- crushed and mangled.

Fireman Edward Thomas of the ited suffered the most serious in- s. His right leg was broken the knee, his back was bruised, is injured internally. He also s a L-shaped scalp wound and a finger missing from his right . He will recover. Thomas is a ve of Huston Thomas, for many years sheriff of San Bernardino county. The injured are:

FRED KING, of Newark, N. J., a sleeper passenger on No. 8, scalp wound.

ROBERT GREER, of San Francisco, passenger on No. 3, bruises on right hand, nose and hip.

JOHN KELLY, of Tulare, a passen- er on No. 3; cut on upper lip and on back between the shoulders.

H. B. MOULTON, residence un- own, a passenger on No. 3; spine in- ured.

C. D. MATHESON, baggagemaster on No. 3; severely bruised on side.

ED. PETERS, tourist, porter on No. 3, slight scalp wound.

With the exception of Greer, who went to his home, all the injured were taken to the Santa Fé hospital in San Francisco.

The overland had orders to wait for the Limited at Luzon Siding, eight miles from Point Richmond. It was waiting on the switch when the ac- cident happened. Brakeman Alvin Greer was sent forward to throw the switch so that the overland could go on the main track. He had done so, pulled the switch, and obeying the orders of the company, had stepped across the tracks from the target. Greer, he says, it suddenly occurred to him that No. 8 was standing on the siding, instead of the siding. On account of the curve, the siding is in a natural course of the track, and Greer, seeing a waiting train stands on the main track and lets a passing train open the switch. Taylor declares it is supposed the usual custom of signal followed and that a mistake was made in closing the siding. He claimed to unlock the switch and throw the siding open. Hardly had he pulled the lever when the Limited dashed by into the siding and onto the overland.

The force of the impact threw the overland about fifty feet ahead. The tender of the Limited broke from its locomotive, and the baggage train was deflected to the left, missing the overland about one hundred feet.

An investigation clears up the de- tails of the wreck, it seems almost a miracle that the accident did not re- sult in a terrible catastrophe, with great loss of life among the passen- gers. Only the most fortuitous cir- cumstances seem to have prevented the trains from telescoping and being set on fire by the oil which was thrown in all directions from the wrecked engines. When the two trains struck, the Limited was run- ning at the rate of fifty miles an hour.

ARIZONA REPUBLICANS.

ALL FOR THE PRESIDENT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Advices received tonight from Yavapai county, the only doubt- ful part of the territory, show an over- whelming victory in the Republican primaries for a delegation instructed to the indorsement of the Federal and Territorial administrations and for a delegation to Chicago pledged to vote for the renomination of the President. This practically makes the Territory unanimous, and accurately foreshad- ows the action of the Territorial Re- publican convention at Tucson, March 8.

At no time has there been acknowl- edgment of opposition to the President among the Republicans of the Terri- tory, but the faction headed by ex- Gov. Murphy has steadily opposed the suggestion of instructions to the six delegates who will represent Ari- zona. It is now assured that one of these delegates will be Judge Joseph H. Kibbey of Maricopa county and another Frank Wright of Yavapai.

MEYERS IS MIXED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—Four days ago a man called at the Central Emergency Hospital and said he had forgotten his identity. He has since been detained, under the name of John Meyers, a small Episcopalian Bible in his pocket bearing that name.

The man thinks that he is a native of New York, and that he lives some- where up the Hudson River; also that he is a graduate of Yale, and that he may at one time have been engaged in literary work, either as an illustra- tor or a writer. This is borne out by his conversation, and yesterday he drew a character picture, and down in the corner placed a signature, "P. C. W. '04." In his pockets, when he came to the hospital, was a small memorandum book containing the ad- dress of parties in Spokane, Wash., and Butte, Mont. He also had a card of Rev. H. B. Collier of San Francisco. Rev. Collier called on the man, but was unable to place him, and Meyers was unable to recall the minister. A peculiar feature was that the card he had was one that was printed seven years ago. The man's hands are soft, and he has an aristocratic face.

Shot at a Christening.

FRESNO, Feb. 28.—José Portelli was shot and killed here tonight at an Ital- ian christening. He attempted to put several noisy Italians out of the house, and one of them drew a revol- ver and fired two shots into him. Sub- sequently Joe Renno, believed to be the murderer, was captured after a bat- tle with the officers.

Sacramento Flood Waters.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 28.—Reports received tonight say that the flood waters of the Lower Sacramento River have flooded Sherman Island and Tyler Island, and that half a mile of the levee on Andrus Island was menaced today and was saved only by putting a hundred men at work with sacks. Wires are working badly on account of the high water, and it is impossible to get full particulars.

BRITISH WAR ESTIMATES.

LONDON, Feb. 28.—War Secretary Forster's explanatory statement of the war estimates was issued tonight. The estimates for the coming year are $144,500,000, against $172,500,000 last year. The principal reduction is in this year's estimates for South Africa, which total is $3,070,000. Secretary Forster's estimates make no provision for expenditures in Somaliland, owing to the impossibility of forecasting the duration of operations there. He an- nounces that it has been decided to concede the priority of India in the supply of new pattern rifles and quick- firing equipments for horse and field artillery. The equipment of the whole army will be completed by March, 1907.

SYMPOSIUM ON BALKANS.

ROME, Feb. 28.—Negotiations are now proceeding between the govern- ments of Russia, Austria and Italy with a view to reaching a complete understanding concerning the ques- tions affecting the Balkans in which these governments are interested. They are endeavoring to look into and con- sider all possible eventualities, with the object of avoiding disagreements in the future.

PATTI DID NOT SING.

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—Adelina Patti will not sing here tomorrow night. A telegram from Indianapolis today said she was unable to come, because of a cold. It is generally understood, how- ever, that the sudden change in her plans is an unsatisfactory advance sale of seats.

EVANGELIST IN FEATHERS.

SUPPLY BILLS IN CONGRESS.

Senate to Discuss Army and Navy Funds.

General Appropriation Measures Occupy the House.

Smoot Case and the Dietrich Charges on Tapis.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—It is ex- pected that both the Naval and Army Appropriation bills will be reported to the Senate during the present week, and it is expected to take them up for consideration as soon as possible, re- gardless of all other legislation, and henceforth to give the supply bills right of way to the exclusion of all other matters. The Army Appropria- tion Bill has been under consideration by a sub-committee of the Military Committee for some time, and will be taken up early in the week. The pros- pect, however, is that the Naval Bill will be the first to secure considera- tion by the Senate. Both measures will meet opposition, and probably will be debated at length. Tuesday will be devoted to the bill regulating the shipment of government supplies.

It is not expected that the confir- mation of Gen. Wood will be consid- ered during the week, owing to the absence of Senators Foraker and Blackburn, both of the Committee on Military Affairs and both interested in the case. It is the general expecta- tion that the case will receive atten- tion next week.

At the request of Mr. Beveridge, next Thursday has been set aside for consideration of legislation in the in- terest of Alaska. There are several bills pertaining to that point on the calendar. Mr. Beveridge, however, will not press these bills, if there are appropriation bills ready.

The Committee on Elections will begin its investigation into the Smoot case Tuesday, and it is also expected that the special committee appointed to inquire into the charges against Senator Dietrich will proceed with its work during the week.

The first week in March finds the House with a very small proportion of the big supply measures awaiting its action. The Naval was the eighth of the general appropriation bills that have been disposed of at this session. The remaining supply bills will be given precedence over other meas- ures, as it is the desire of the leaders to clear up all the regular business of the House as early as possible. The District of Columbia Appropriation Bill will be taken up next, and then will follow the Indian Appropriation Bill. The time allotted for general debate on these bills will give ample opportunity for political discussions.

With these two bills out of the way, the Postoffice Appropriation Bill will be placed before the House, the consideration of which will consume some time. In the meantime the Appropriations Committee will perfect the Sundry Civil Bill, now in ad- vanced state of preparedness for this time of the session, in order that it may be taken up at the earliest pos- sible moment.

FEVER ON THE ISTHMUS.

REPORT BY SURGEON PERRY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Surgeon J. C. Perry of the Public Health and Ma- rine Hospital Service, who has been since last month at Colon, making a special study for the President of the sanitary conditions of the isthmus, has submitted an exhaustive preliminary report to Surgeon-General Wyman. He devotes the greatest portion of the report to the city of Colon, but also describes the conditions at Panama and along the proposed route of the isthmian canal.

He describes the present condition of Colon as woefully unsanitary and unhealthy, and says that its redemp- tion will be an immense task, but that it should be successful. The climate at the camps along the route of the canal he describes as far superior to that of Colon and Panama, and he says that with proper sanitary regulations the health of their occupants should re- main good.

Surgeon Perry says that all types of malarial fever are more frequent in Colon than in Panama. He says he believes both towns can be made healthy by the installation of a good supply of water, which can be had at a distance from each place by the con- struction of a sewage system, and the destruction of the unsanitary negro huts.

SPECIAL INQUIRY ON ELLIS ISLAND.

COMMISSION FINDS SANITARY CONDITIONS IMPERFECT.

Charges Made by the Staats Zeitung Not Sustained Save in the Matter of Overcrowding—Immigrants are Treated With Every Possible Consideration.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The report of the special committee appointed by the President on September 16 last to investigate the conditions existing at the Ellis Island immigration station, New York, was made public today by the Secretary of Commerce and Labor, to whose department the matter was referred by the President. The report says in effect that charges or criticisms made against the management are not sustained, except in the instance of overcrowding, which, it is said, is due to the lack of facilities and lack of room.

The charges were made by a reporter of the Staats Zeitung, published at New York city, who had been a repre- sentative of the paper at Ellis Island for many years. The commission held many public hearings, and did not con- fine itself to calling those who desired to testify, but personally made inquiry of many whose intercourse with the station presumably gave them an op- portunity of supplying reliable infor- mation. The managers of various be- nevolent societies all testified under oath that there was no ground for complaint as to the treatment of immi- grants, and the commission accord- ingly declares that it is forced to as- sume that the reporter of the Staats Zeitung had been misled by the per- sons who furnished him information as to nearly all the charges made by him against the government officers.

The commission devotes some space as to the adequacy, both in adminis- tration and government, of the build- ings used for the accommodation of aliens, and finds that certain changes are necessary. It calls attention to the fact that as many as 12,000 aliens sometimes arrive at the port of New York in a single day, although the capacity of the buildings will not pro- vide for more than 6000 persons per day.

It also reports that the hospital building is entirely inadequate, and that it has but 125 beds, whereas 250 are needed. The report states that the bedclothes were not sufficiently disin- fected, and recommends greater privacy than is now possible. The commission thinks that the sanitary arrangements on the island are im- perfect and require immediate im- provement.

Calling attention to the fact that $3 is paid as a head tax on each arriving alien, of whom over six hundred and eighty-nine thousand arrived during the last fiscal year, the commission contends that the government has abundant funds to provide suitable ac- commodations to prevent the over- crowding of aliens.

The report holds that the charge that there has been improper detention of large numbers of immigrants for spe- cial inquiry is unfounded. It says that the charge that immigrants have been refused permission to leave Ellis Island until their relatives are heard from is true, in so far as every effort is made to protect immigrants from fall- ing into evil hands. The charge that there have been deportations of large numbers of immigrants who should have been allowed to land is not sup- ported by any evidence, the commis- sion finding the contrary to be the fact.

The commission reports that the im- migrant is not treated unkindly, but, on the other hand, with every possible consideration, so far as the inadequate facilities at Ellis Island will permit.

It is said that the principal causes for deportation are violations of the contract-labor law and the likelihood of aliens becoming public charges, the proportion of deportations for any other cause being comparatively small. Incidentally, attention is called to the fact that during the past year the arriving aliens exhibited an average of $20 each, a total of about $16,000,000 for the whole number.

THE PRESIDENT TO PAYNE.

SENDS CONGRATULATIONS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The Presi- dent yesterday sent the following let- ter to Postmaster-General Payne:

WHITE HOUSE.

Washington, Feb. 27.

My Dear Postmaster-General: While all the work of the Postoffice Depart- ment and the Department of Justice in connection with the postal frauds is not yet over, there is already to the credit of the departments, and there- fore primarily to your credit, such an amount of substantial achievement that I take this opportunity to congrat- ulate you personally on it. It is im- possible to expect corruption will not occasionally occur in any government; the vital point is the energy, the fear- lessness and the efficiency with which such corruption is cut out and the corruptionists punished. The success of the prosecutions in this case, as com- pared with previous experiences in prosecuting government officials who have been guilty of malfeasance or misfeasance, is as noteworthy as it is gratifying, and must be a source of en- couragement to all men who believe in decency and honesty in public life. What has been accomplished by you, by those who have worked under you in your department, and by the De- partment of Justice, redounds to the credit of our whole people, and is a signal triumph for the cause of pop- ular government.

If corruption goes unpunished in popular government, then government by the people will ultimately fail; and they are the best friends of the peo- ple who make it evident that, whoever in public office or in connection with public office sins against the funda- mental laws of civil and social well- being, will be punished with unsparing vigor.

Sincerely yours,

[Signed] THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

To Hon. H. C. Payne, Postmaster- General.

New Sources of Rubber.

A French botanist, in the course of his explorations a few weeks ago in the sandy plains of the French Congo, discovered a plant the bark of which contained a large quantity of fibrous rubber. At the time scarcely any at- tention was paid to the discovery, but owing to the scarcity of rubber and its high commercial value, which is in reality so prohibitive as to prevent a very wide employment of the sub- stance, attempts are being made in England to turn this new discovery to commercial use. The plant also thrives profusely in Northern Nigeria, and it is these forests which are to be ex- ploited. A sample of the plant has been analyzed by the botanical author- ities of Kew Gardens, London, and these investigations show that the rub- ber exists in the roots in sufficiently large quantities to warrant develop- ment. The name of the plant is Lon- dolphia thrallonii. It is to be found in many places on the west coast of Africa. One firm which is already en- gaged in the manufacture of this rub- ber is placing it upon the market at 75 cents a pound, and it is in every respect equal to the ordinary rubber.

India rubber has become such an in- dispensable material in the arts and sciences that users will be glad to learn that a fresh source of supply is said to have been found in the white man- grove tree, which grows plentifully in the swampy lands along the coast of Central Queensland. The sap is ob- tained by making incisions in the bark of the tree and allowing it to run into tins. Some samples of the rubber thus obtained are said to have brought $1 a pound in England. An idea of the importance of the rubber trade may be formed from the statement that the United States and England alone ab- sorb over 50,000,000 pounds annually.—[Scientific American.

Oranges from Japan.

A singular consignment of produce, and one that may be of significance to the fruit growers of the country, has just been received by the surveyor of the port in Kansas City. It is a car- load of oranges from Japan, the duty upon which amounted to almost $300. The car arrived from the north, hav- ing reached its destination by way of th Canadian Pacific Railway and its southern connections. Accompanying it was a Jap.

Besides being unique as a shipment, the manner of getting it here is inter- esting. As an uncleared consignment of importation the oranges came in a bonded car under government seal. But the routing through the Northwest made it necessary to have a man in attendance to see that the car was kept properly heated. To accomplish this without infringing on the import- ation laws a burglar-proof cage was constructed in one corner of the car for the occupancy of a man. It was in this pen that the little Jap made the long journey.

Oranges from Japan constitute an en- tirely new commodity of commerce so far as Kansas City receipts are con- cerned. The shipment just received is the first of the kind to arrive since the town became a port of entry. It is thought that the oranges have been brought here for the purpose of ex- periment, just as a few years ago a carload of wheat from Odessa, Russia, came in and was distributed among prominent Kansas farmers for seed. The specimens of oranges are, how- ever, of inferior appearance, being not much larger than a lime. The ex- pense of importing them is so great as to preclude the possibility of estab- lishing an American market for Jap- anese oranges. It is probable that the entire carload has been brought here for free distribution by the Japan- ese government.—[Kansas City World.

SAVED THE LIVES OF SEVENTEEN MEN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ASTORIA (Or.) Feb. 28.—Capt. Smith of the bar tug Wallula to- day braved the unusually rough sea at the mouth of the Columbia River and saved the steam schooner Dollar and the lives of the sev- enteen men aboard her. The Grace Dollar was the steamer spoken by the Columbia yesterday and thought to be the Rival.

When the Wallula returned to Fort Stevens, her smokestack was snow white with salt from the waves, which swept clear over her, carrying away a solid iron door, smashing her boats and at times almost com- pletely hiding her from sight.

Capt. E. M. Olson of the Dollar made the following statement to the Associated Press:

"We left Westport Wednesday last with a cargo of lumber for San Pe- dro. The next day a gale came up, and shortly before noon our engines broke down, either as a result of a broken shaft or because the propeller dropped off. The accident happened off Heceta Head, 150 miles down the coast from the Columbia River.

"We made sail and began working north, but saw nothing until the Brit- ish bark Thistlebank came in sight yesterday afternoon. Later, we sighted what I believe to have been the soldier Wellington, bound south. I showed distress signals and whistled continu- ously, but the steamer evidently failed to see us, owing to the storm. By this time the weather was very heavy.

"Last night, we worked further to the north, and were eight miles off the Columbia River, when the Wallula picked us up this afternoon."

LONDON, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dis- patch.] The Times heads its war news from its special correspondent at Chemulpo "By De Forest's Wireless Telegraphy." A message was sent Saturday to Wei-Hai-Wei and for- warded thence Sunday. It mentions the approach of warmer weather in Korea, accompanied by a gradual breaking-up of the roads. The troops north of Seoul find the marching la- borious. Chinmampho will be open in fourteen days. The opinion in Seoul of the Japanese-Korean agreement is that it is evidence of Japan's desire to make the situation regular in for- eign eyes, while it saves Korea's face.

VIENNA, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dis- patch.] The news that China pro- poses to intervene in Russian-Japa- nese hostilities causes apprehension here. An American refugee from Harbin says the Russian authorities have shown considerable bias in expelling British, Americans and Japanese, while other nationalities remain unmolested. This is virtually the situation in other cities, especially Port Arthur, where nearly all German officials have been allowed to remain, while the few British and Americans have been required to sign an agree- ment to leave.

JAPS SEIZE AN ISLAND.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TOKIO, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dis- patch.] Japanese have already seized the Island of Hai Yang Tau, one of the Elliott Islands in Korea Bay, about one hundred miles northeast of Port Arthur. It is expected the Japanese will convert Thornton Harbor in Hai Yang Tau into a naval base, for the harbor is fairly free from ice. From Thornton Harbor, they will move northeast to the Manchurian post, Ta- kuskan, where they will attempt to land in force.

STRONGLY FORTIFYING.

NOVELTY IN WARFARE.
TACTICS OF THE JAPS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

TOKIO, Feb. 28.—[By Asiatic Cable.] On account of Admiral Togo's successes at Port Arthur, the reopening of the sea to Japanese merchantmen and the revival of shipping, the Japanese government does not anticipate that it will have further need for the auxiliary cruisers America Maru and Yawata Maru, and they will be disarmed and returned to their owners. Nothing now prevents the America Maru from resuming her place on the San Francisco line and the Yawata Maru on the Australian run.

In preparing for the war, Japan armed a big fleet of fast auxiliary cruisers on account of the equality of naval strength between the Russians and Japan, but it is believed that the auxiliary cruisers are no longer needed. It is expected that other auxiliary vessels will be disarmed and released.

The Nippon Yusen Kaisha Company are chartering a fleet of British vessels for reestablishing the Chinese coast lines. Lack of details of formation, evolutions and firing ranges prevents a full understanding and appreciation of Admiral Togo's tactics. He seems to be endeavoring to accomplish the maximum destruction with the minimum of exposure. He is carefully balancing those considerations, and relying upon superior mobility, marksmanship and ammunition. At the outset, the equality of naval strength, the probable necessity of fighting the Russians under the batteries of Port Arthur, made extreme caution essential.

The loss of a few ships endangered the ultimate success of the Japanese arms, hence the brevity of the engagement of February 9, and the avoidance of the engagement of the fortress. The same tactics were followed in Thursday's engagement and bombardment.

These dashes, brief battles, speedy withdrawals are a novelty in naval warfare which warrant the consideration of strategists. Admiral Togo's reliance, particularly on gunnery, is fully warranted by his gunners clearly outshooting the Russians. He constantly fought at a long range, punishing the enemy severely and escaping without serious damage himself. The personnel of his forces is shown in another way, by the superiority of the officers and men who are anxious to undertake hazardous duty.

Togo's ships are apparently in better condition than the Russian vessels. The heavy scoring of the torpedo craft is one of the surprises of the war, so far. Foreign naval experts say, however, that, making every allowance for the skill and daring of the Japanese, the Russians are largely to blame for a lack of watchfulness and poor marksmanship.

FOREIGN FINANCIAL MARTS.
SHORTAGE OF RUSSIAN BONDS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, Feb. 28.—[By Atlantic Cable.] During the past week, the Stock Exchange was occupied in settlement. Business was inactive, and it is likely to be so until it is seen whether the settlements in Paris and Berlin reveal further trouble arising from the panic of the previous week, which had a demoralizing effect on all foreign stocks. A feature of the settlement in London was the shortage of Russian bonds for delivery, and the consequent heavy backward action was charged to them.

It seems that Russian selling on the continent has been wholly confined to speculators, real investors retaining their holdings.

It is believed that if there should be no further trouble in Paris or Berlin, the cheap money now prevalent will induce a healthier period of buying for investment, all stocks being now attractively cheap. Business in the American markets has been very restricted, with weak prices owing to the pressure of sales from the continent.

MONEY FOR THE JAPS.
NEW YORKERS GIVE LIBERALLY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The accounts of the Japanese army and navy relief and Red Cross funds made up yesterday at the close of business at the Japanese consulate showed $80,000 in subscriptions for the second week, or $7000 more than was received the first week. This makes $156,000 received, and, as Consul-General Uchida said, "They are still coming in."

The money thus far received at the consulate represents only the subscriptions made to the fund in and near this city. Collections are being taken in Philadelphia, Boston and Chicago, and thousands of circulars asking for funds were sent out last week to the New England States and the West. The money collected on the Pacific Coast will be sent direct to Tokio.

FIGHTING FOR LIFE.
WHY JAPS KEEP SECRECY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, Feb. 28.—[By Atlantic Cable.] In reference to the severity of the censorship exercised by the Japanese government over the news dispatches of foreign correspondents, Baron Hayashi, the Japanese Minister, tonight said to the Associated Press:

"I have had numerous representations from English and other newspapers upon this subject, but I believe that our position in the case is not only right, but will be admitted to be such by those who look carefully into the circumstances. We are fighting against numerical odds which are quite out of proportion to the odds against any combatant in recent wars. We are fighting for our existence, and our only hope of maintaining it is to strike swiftly and secretly at the beginning. To get in the first blows means more to us, I think, than it has ever meant to any belligerent, and to insure this it is vital for us to demand a degree of secrecy which has not been necessary in any recent warfare. Even at the risk of alienating temporarily the friendship of the press of the world, we must prevent even a whisper of our real intentions reaching our powerful enemy.

"Before the war was declared, I knew that our military authorities had decided that our censorship must be more rigid than ever before attempted. One line would have ruined our first attack on Port Arthur—one line might ruin our projected land operations.

"When we fought China we gave the war correspondents free latitude, and in many cases they took advantage of this to predict our future movements. That did not matter much when China was our enemy, but against a power like Russia, so immensely superior in eventual resources, it might turn the scale. When you fight for life, everything else becomes of minor importance.

"I cannot believe that Japan will lose friends in the world because she has been obliged to impose such a careful censorship. I do not think the present rigor of this censorship will be continued very long, but momentarily the conditions of the campaign make even insignificant movements clews toward our main naval and military objectives. When our preliminary operations are complete, I have no doubt the censorship will be relaxed. Our own press and people are undergoing the same regime. There is no discrimination, and I think you will find as much, if not more, news of the war from the Japanese side in the New York and London papers as you will in the leading Japanese organs."

Baron Hayashi does not expect that his government will issue any proclamation of the blockade of Port Arthur until the Japanese are able to cut the communication by which food supplies now reach that place. He points out that Newchwang is practically blockaded by the ice. When the ice breaks up and if the naval necessity still exists, the Minister says that Japan probably will issue a blockade proclamation. It does not look as if there will be any immediate serious land action, but it appears possible that Japan may make another attempt to bottle up Port Arthur by sinking across the channel one of the old Chinese battleships captured during the war between Japan and China.

MOVEMENT OF TROOPS.
ST. PETERSBURG SUMMARY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 28.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The movement of troops eastward over the Trans-Siberian Railroad will be greatly accelerated henceforth, as telegraphic reports say that the ice railroad over Lake Baikal was completed today. Up to this, the tracks have been used as far as laid, the soldiers marching from the terminus of the line to the other shore.

Maj.-Gen. Pflug's report that Gen. Ma's army is west of the Liao River agrees with the statement of the special correspondent of the Russ at Tientsin, that the Chinese War Minister is hurrying large bodies of troops to the northeastern frontier of Pe Chi Li. This report says the troops are not going by rail, but are marching by night.

The military situation will be greatly complicated if Gen. Ma's army is really moving to the rear of the Russian position with the intention of making common cause with the Japanese, as it will expose both Russian flanks to attack.

The blockade of Port Arthur continues. The Russians seem resigned for the present not to expect to accomplish much by sea, realizing that the Port Arthur fleet is overmatched in both ships and guns, but they hint that things may be different in the spring if the Baltic fleet goes out and effects a juncture with the Port Arthur fleet.

Serious consideration also is being given to the feasibility of spending about $5,000,000 on torpedo-boat destroyers to be sent in sections to Vladivostok and Port Arthur.

Three hundred mechanics and drydock yard artificers were sent to the Far East last week, and experts declare the boats could be built, sent and fitted out in eight months. After all, however, the hopes and hearts of the Russians are centered in their army, and with Gen. Kuropatkin at its head, although he has not faced a foe since the siege of Plevna, victory is considered assured.

The war excitement here and throughout Russia generally seems to be dying down. The patriotic demonstrations which everywhere followed the outbreak of hostilities, have been succeeded by calmness on the part of the people, but that the crowds still eagerly gather about the bulletins from Viceroy Alexieff which are posted in various parts of the city, and which are issued soon after they are received. The frankness with which the government publicly announced the initial reverses, as well as the stringent measures taken to prevent the dissemination of all false reports of successes, is perhaps the best evidence of the complete confidence which the authorities have in the loyalty of the people.

An interesting incident occurred on the day the news was received of the sinking of the four steamers with which the Japanese sought to block the entrance to the harbor of Port Arthur. The original report was to the effect that four battleships and two transports had been sunk, and this caused so much enthusiasm that a session of the council immediately ordered a Te Deum. A member of the council just from the Winter Palace burst into the session and said: "Gentlemen, countermand the order. Only four old steamers were sunk. The Emperor does not wish a thanksgiving service to be held."

In connection with this attempt of the Japanese on Port Arthur, a story is current here that the steamers sent in were painted to represent warships, and that on arriving close to the channel they dropped contact mines. This story, however, lacks confirmation from any authoritative source.

THE NOVIK BELCHED AND SEAMEN JOKED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, Feb. 29.—[By Atlantic Cable.] A Russian correspondent of the Associated Press at Port Arthur, cabling under yesterday's date, describes the combat between the Russian cruiser Novik and the Japanese squadron, following the attempt of the Japanese to bottle up the Russian fleet in Port Arthur, February 24, as follows:

"The Novik, impetuously bearing down on the squadron of the enemy, was observed to fire on the Japanese flagship, and she then immediately opened fire with all her batteries. The Japanese answered with a running fire. The guns of our squadron thundered and the batteries of the forts roared. The battle had begun.

"The Novik, going at full speed, did not give the enemy a chance to aim, but flew by, her bow guns belching solid shot. Then, turning at full speed, she showered him with shells from her stern battery. The Novik was in the very midst of the enemy's fire, and shells hissed past and fell close by, raising tremendous columns of water. That's what you call serving guns.

"The officers remained cool and calm. The firing proceeded without the least confusion, and was seasoned with that humor which never deserts a Russian, even in moments of terrible danger. With the accompaniment of the whistling of shells were heard the witty remarks of the gunners. One stoker could not help running on deck to see what was going on. Approaching the ammunition storekeeper, this stoker took a shell and handed it to a gunner with the words, 'God bless it,' adding, 'Send them back with my compliments.'

"The Novik continued maneuvering, alternately approaching the enemy and withdrawing until she received an injury to her stern. One gunner was killed. Still energetically sustaining her fire, the Novik turned to the shore. At this moment, a column of fire and smoke was noticed on the Japanese flagship. After that the Novik repaired to her dock."

LAST PORT ARTHUR FIGHT.
EYEWITNESS'S VERSION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

YINKOW, Feb. 28.—[By Asiatic Cable.] The first report by an eyewitness of the engagement at Port Arthur in the early morning of Wednesday last has been received here. It says that one Japanese coal hulk was sunk and one beached near the Retvizan and that nineteen Japanese, in civilian clothing, reached shore, and were made prisoners. The Askold and Bayan approached the Japanese fleet and then retired, being unable to enter to engage the enemy. From a long range, two shells struck in the city.

The Retvizan is not serviceable as an auxiliary, for the engineer has abandoned hope of raising her, as the patching on the four-foot cleft made by a Japanese torpedo, has given way and stopped progress, and the Russian engineers have interfered with the original plans for raising the vessel. The Czarevitch is kept afloat by constant pumping; the Novik has been repaired, and the Pallada has been docked.

Repeated attacks by the Japanese during the past week have resulted in the constant shifting of the troops, including the naval contingent organized from the crews of the disabled and idle warships, to all parts of the defenses, and also to the hinterland.

Refugees, who have arrived here, report that the Russians momentarily fear a land investment of Port Arthur from Pigeon Bay.

Four trains of Russian refugees from points south of Taschischias went north yesterday. One American citizen and two British subjects, who were expelled from Port Arthur without being given the right to retain their property, declare they were expelled because of alleged relations with newspaper correspondents, which charge, they say, was unjustifiable, though the authorities declare they are justified in expelling all civilians who are not required for defense. The authorities have refused to permit the British captain, Riddle, to take his ship, the Foxton Hall, to Chefoo. It is understood that if the ship be released, a Russian skipper will be sent with her for the purpose of preventing intelligence of the Russian operations being given to the Japanese blockaders.

JAPS' DISEMBARKATIONS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, Feb. 29.—The Times' Chemulpo correspondent, under date of Wei Hai Wei, by De Forest wireless telegraph, says that the Japanese disembarkations of the last few days were confined to supplies for the transport corps and to 4500 ponies. The total number of troops landed is 20,000, including the First Division and a portion of the Second Division. The guards that have not yet arrived at the armory consist of six batteries belonging to the Twelfth Division. Another disembarkation, believed to be on a smaller scale, is taking place immediately south of Hai Ju, whence the troops will advance parallel to the Peking road adjoining those now in the British neighborhood of Hwang Ju, thus effecting a gain of five days on the march.

The advance of the Russian patrols is steadily marked by the interruption of the telegraph, which was broken at Anju February 21.

There is no trustworthy information concerning the Russian movements. The Koreans estimate that up to February 21, 3000 Russians crossed the frontier, 1000 being at Wiju, 1000 at Chasun and the remainder scattered in small parties.

The approach of warm weather and the gradual breaking up of the roads, continues the correspondent, is apt to make marching laborious north of Seoul. This circumstance, together with the fact that Chinnampho will open a fortnight hence, doubtless explains the lull in the process of disembarkation. It is believed the Japanese will not commit themselves to a definite plan of campaign which would entail marching through Korea without first endeavoring to gain possession of Liao Tung Peninsula.

WAR BULLETINS FROM MANY POINTS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PARIS, Feb. 28.—A Mukden correspondent says that the last passenger train to the southward over the Trans-Siberian Railway left yesterday, and that henceforth all mail and passenger cars for Port Arthur will be attached to the military trains. Traffic northward continues to be regular. The correspondent adds that snow is falling abundantly after several fine days.

CHANCE FOR STAARK.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PARIS, Feb. 28.—According to the St. Petersburg correspondent of the Echo de Paris, the Russian general naval staff is convinced that if the Japanese attack Port Arthur, Vice-Admiral Staark, commanding the naval forces there, will allow the vessels to approach the port, confining himself to defensive operations, unless an attempt is made to land troops, in which case the Russian torpedo boats will make an effort to destroy the transports at any cost. The staff is convinced that Admiral Staark, despite the state of his health, which causes anxiety, will succeed in destroying the torpedo boats. Port Arthur is amply supplied with coal and ammunition.

ADVICES TO LONDON.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, Feb. 29.—The Daily Telegraph's Shanghai correspondent expresses the belief that the Russian report of the hanging of three Japanese officers in connection with the Sungari incident is a fiction. The correspondent gives a report that the Japanese have destroyed a large Russian store of provisions and forage at Kinchow, thirty miles from Port Arthur.

According to Seoul reports the decision of the Koreans to join the Japanese in the field is due to the killing of some Koreans in North Korea by Russians, who justify the attack upon the Koreans by the fact that Korea has concluded a treaty with Japan.

The Russian squadron along the Red Sea continues to stop and examine British steamers.

WON'T LEAVE BLACK SEA.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PARIS, Feb. 28.—The correspondent at St. Petersburg of the Echo de Paris says that he learns that no Russian vessels will leave the Black Sea, notwithstanding the rumors in foreign papers.

The Manchuria railway and telegraph lines are admirably guarded from Port Arthur to Mukden and from Mukden to Harbin. The correspondent says further that he is assured from high sources that nothing is known concerning the rumor that Foreign Minister Lansdorff is to be replaced by the present Russian Minister to Denmark.

TRAINS FILLED WITH TROOPS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

IRKUTSK, Feb. 28.—The movement of troops on the Trans-Siberian Railroad has attained unprecedented proportions. Trains going East are filled with troops. All trains from Manchuria are crowded with women and children, and the station here is filling with refugees, awaiting an opportunity to return to Russia, many of them remaining two days before being able to continue their journey.

A locomotive broke through the ice on Lake Baikal, near the shore, and sank, but no loss of life has been reported.

GEN. SMIRNOFF'S POST.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MOSCOW, Feb. 28.—Gen. Smirnoff has left for the Far East to take command of a fortress at Port Arthur.

MOST EFFECTIVE BLOW.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, Feb. 28.—The correspondent of the Standard at Tien-tsin, under date of February 26, in a dispatch speaks of the Japanese flanking movement on Kirin as promising to be the most effective blow yet delivered. This is probably only a rescho of the reported landing of the Japanese at Possiet Bay, which has not yet been given any authentic confirmation.

The Daily Mail's Newchwang correspondent says that the Retvizan is fast across the middle entrance to the harbor of Port Arthur, and that there is only room for vessels to pass between her stern and the eastern side at high water.

STOPPED THE SHIPMENT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LIBAU, Feb. 28.—A shipment of 600 horses was about to be loaded into a steamer here, when it was stopped by the authorities. The horses were believed to have been bought by British agents for Japan.

SECRECY AMONG THE JAPS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHEFOO, Feb. 28.—While the Japanese report that their fleet is still concentrated in the neighborhood of Port Arthur, yet endeavors are being made to prevent definite information from becoming public. The survivors of the sunken transports who were landed Saturday were not allowed to see anybody, and they will be sent home. The Japanese fleet originally consisted of sixteen warships, but two battleships and a dispatch boat are now missing from that number, and from two sources it has been learned that two Japanese warships returned to Sasebo in a disabled condition. It is being circulated among Chinese that Port Arthur has fallen.

HAD A HARD TIME.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHEFOO, Feb. 28.—The Japanese sailors who arrived here Saturday are from the Jinsen Maru and the Bushiu, two of the five merchant vessels with which Admiral Togo attempted to block the entrance to Port Arthur on the morning of the 24th. Lieut. Saiot commanded the Jinsen Maru and Lieut. Tarisaki the Bushiu. Each steamer was manned by thirty men, twenty-nine of whom are here.

One of Lieut. Saito's command was killed while lowering a boat on the Jinsen Maru. The details of how the steamers were taken into the entrance to the harbor and sunk are being withheld by the sailors, but Lieut. Saito stated that they got so close to the Russian battleship Retvizan that had they been armed with rifles they could have fired into her crew.

When it was found that the scheme was a failure they dropped anchor and the crews crowded into the remaining boats. They then blew up the steamers. A strong wind and the glare of the lights prevented the men from reaching the torpedo flotilla, and at daylight they were out of sight of the fleet, having been driven in an easterly direction by the wind to the Miao Tao Islands, which they reached the same evening. The boats did not land together, but the men found each other on the island. They chartered a junk in which they went to Tung Chow Fu. They walked forty miles to Chefoo, going two days without food.

The fate of the crews of the other steamers is not known by the men here.

BRITISH STEAMERS SEIZED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SUEZ, Feb. 28.—The steamers laden with coal for Japan, captured by Russian torpedo-boat destroyers, are reported to be the British steamer Etrickdale, from Barry, February 3, for Sabang; the British steamer Frankby, from Barry, February 6, for Hongkong, and the Norwegian steamer Matilda, from Penarth, January 30, for Sasebo.

JAPS AND KOREANS SIGN A PROTOCOL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEOUL, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] By the terms of a protocol signed at Seoul February 23, M. Hayashi, the Japanese Minister and Maj.-Gen. Yet Chi Yang, Minister of Foreign Affairs of Korea, respectively empowered for the purpose, agreed upon the following articles:

"First—For the purpos of maintaining permanent and solid friendship between Japan and Korea and firmly establishing peace in the Far East, the government of Korea shall place full confidence in the government of Japan and adopt the advice of the latter regarding the improvement of the administration.

"Second—The government of Japan shall, in the spirit of firm friendship, insure the safety and repose of the imperial house of Korea.

"Third—The government of Japan definitely guarantees the independence and territorial integrity of the Korean empire.

"Fourth—In case of the welfare of the imperial house of Korea or the territorial integrity of Korea being endangered by the aggression of a third power or internal disturbance, the government of Japan shall immediately take all necessary measures, such as circumstances require, and in this action the government of Korea shall give full facilities to promote the action of the Japanese government. The latter may, for the attainment of the above object, occupy, when circumstances require it, such places as is necessary, from a strategic point of view.

"Fifth—The governments of both countries shall not in future, without mutual consent, conclude with a third power such an arrangement as may be contrary to the principles of the present protocol.

"Sixth—Details in connection with the present protocol shall be arranged as circumstances require between the representative of Japan and the Minister of Foreign Affairs of Korea."

RULES OF WARFARE.
AS FRAMED BY RUSSIANS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 28.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Rules of war were published officially tonight, which Russia intends to follow during the war with Japan. The original draft of these rules was indorsed by the Czar with the words: "It must be so."

According to Rule 1, Japanese subjects will be allowed during the war to remain in Russia under the protection of the law, and will be permitted to pursue peaceful occupations. Japanese living in the East under the jurisdiction of the Viceroy are excepted.

Rule 2 declares that Japanese merchantmen which were in Russian ports when war was declared will be permitted to remain there, but they must leave when they have loaded their cargoes, which must not include contraband of war. Sufficient time will be allowed for loading, but in any case these vessels will be allowed not more than forty-eight hours after the publication of this proclamation.

Rule 3 says that subjects of neutral States will be allowed to carry on business uninterruptedly within Russian ports and towns, provided they observe Russian law and the principles of international law.

Rule 4 points out that it is the duty of high military authorities to take all steps to ensure the freedom of the lawful trade of subjects of neutral States, in so far as their commerce is permissible, under the exigency of war.

Rule 5 says that in regard to neutral trade the following points must be observed: (a,) The flag covers the cargo for a belligerent, excepting contraband of war; (b,) neutral goods under the enemy's flag, except contraband of war, are not subject to confiscation; (c,) blockades, to be obligatory, must be effective; that is, they must be of sufficient force to cut off approach to the enemy's territory.

According to Rule 6, the following will be regarded as contraband of war: (a,) Every kind of small arm and guns complete or in separate parts and armor; (b,) parts of firearms and ammunition, fuses, shells and bullets; (c,) caps, cartridges, cartridge cases, powder, saltpeter, sulphur, explosives, or materials for purposes of explosion, such as mines, dynamite, pyroxyline, various explosive substances, conductors and everything for exploding mines; (d,) everything appertaining to artillery, engineering and troop trains, such as gun carriages, timbers, cartridges, ammunition boxes, field smithies, field kitchens, instrument wagons, pontoons, bridges, trestles, barbed wire, horse harness for transport service, etc.; (e,) material for equipment and clothing of trcops, such as bandoliers, knapsacks, sword belts, cuirasses, entrenching tools, drums, field kettles, saddles, harness, uniforms, tents, etc.; (f,) ships bound for the enemy's ports, even if sailing under a neutral commercial flag, if their construction and internal arrangements or any other indication makes it apparent that they have been built for warlike purposes, or are for sale or are destined to be handed over to the enemy on reaching their destination; (g,) every kind of ship, machinery or boilers, mounted, or in parts; (h,) every kind of fuel, such as coal, naphtha, spirits, etc.; (i,) telegraph or telephone materials; (j,) everything intended for warfare on land or on sea; also rice, foodstuffs, horses, beasts of burden and any other animals intended for war purposes, if they are sent at the enemy's cost or order.

Neutral States are forbidden, by Rule 7, to transport the enemy's troops, to carry letters or dispatches for the enemy, or to place transports or warships at the enemy's disposal. Neutral ships, with contraband of war of any sort, can, according to circumstances, not only be seized, but also can be confiscated.

According to Rule 8, the imperial government reserves the right to depart from the above decisions with regard to a neutral or hostile power which, for its part, does not observe them, and in any given case to make its regulations suit special circumstances.

COLORADO JUDGE TALKS OF BOY

ADVANTAGES OF THE JUVENILE COURT ARE DETAILED.

Success in Commitments Since Institution Has Saved Colorado Many Thousands of Dollars—Work of Los Angeles Juvenile Court Strongly Commended.

Judge Ben Lindsey of the Denver Juvenile Court addressed a meeting held at the Unity Church last night under the auspices of the Civic League, speaking of the local work, the judge said:

"You are to be congratulated on the work established in Los Angeles, and on the judge who presides over this court and whose heart and soul are in the efforts to save the boys and make them worthy and reliable citizens.

"You are also to be congratulated in having such a magnificent institution as the State school at Whittier, which has the privilege of visiting this evening. But when I learn that this state is taking care of between 7000 and 8000 children at its own expense, I think the burden has reached too great a proportion, and this evening I would speak on the duty of the parent and the State toward the children.

"Our Divine Master never spoke more clearly than when He spoke of the children. How tender are His words when He declares that 'of such are the kingdom of heaven;' and then there is the denunciation of the one who offends one of these little ones, and the declaration that it were better for that man that he had a millstone hanged about his neck and were cast into the sea.

"It is an appalling fact that more care is devoted to fine live stock nowadays than to children. One of our great writers has said that a boy is the most destructive animal on earth. It is this fact that has brought into existence the Juvenile Court.

"This court starts in to study the child and its needs. We find that we must somehow secure different methods than those employed in the past. It is astounding that the State has not realized before. For 1600 years the state has placed the child in the same category as the adult for punishment, and has passed it as an infant in business affairs.

"Now, in this new movement the state would do for the child what the parent has failed to do; to correct the child, and thus reach the child, and where the parent has been helpless, to correct and help the child directly. The boy problem is one of the great problems of the times. In six years 1500 boys between the ages of 10 and 20 have been brought into the courts of Denver, and this is a fair average. In Seattle in one year 1000 were brought before the courts, and there were 1000. The police department of San Francisco has stated that over one-half the arrests made would be of young fellows under age. If the law were strictly enforced, in proportion to your population, you have twice as many boys in the streets as men, and the inmates of jails and penitentiaries are increasing every year.

"The problem of the children is the problem of the State; and the Juvenile Court would substitute the detention home for the jail, and thus correct and protect the child."

Judge Lindsey then detailed many of his experiences in the Denver Juvenile Court work, showing how far-reaching the work was, and how much could be done by appealing to the inate manliness in each boy, no matter how apparently degraded he may have become. He dwelt on the advantage to be had by making the parents responsible to the law, and cited numerous cases where they had been brought before the courts for delinquency in caring for their children in their moral development.

"How many parents think their duty ended when they supply food and clothes and shelter for their boys.

REV. KENDALL IS ASSAULTED.

Long Beach Purity Worker Struggles With Maniac.

Demented Electrician Tries to Stab the Preacher.

Insane Man Leaps Through a Window and is Captured.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)

LONG BEACH, Feb. 28.—Struggling with an insane man holding sharp scissors dagger-like and bent on violence, Rev. Sidney C. Kendall, purity worker, preacher and author, narrowly escaped serious injury this morning.

Malcolm M. Libby, an electrician, aged 24, lately of Worcester, Mass., was a guest at Mr. Kendall's home. The young man came Saturday to visit his sister, Miss Lucy A. Libby, a teacher in the Long Beach public schools. Miss Libby is staying at the Kendalls.

Just before daybreak young Libby caused some disturbance, and Mr. Kendall went to his room. The visitor met him with a pair of scissors until Kendall had come near to him and then almost without warning, drew the scissors as if to stab Kendall.

The preacher caught the man by the arm and struggled in an effort to overpower him. The encounter lasted for several minutes until Kendall was much weakened, but without the preacher having gained much advantage. Suddenly freeing himself from his antagonist, Mr. Kendall ran from the room with a view to getting help. Released from the hands that had mainly striven to restrain him young Libby leaped through a window and fled from the place. The sister, Dr. Freeman and F. A. Crowe, who had been summoned, pursued him and were soon joined by Constable Lynn. Libby running gained a Los Angeles Railway car and tried to get possession of the controller. Constable Lynn, with a quick turn of the handcuffs, secured the disordered man, who at once submitted peacefully and made no further resistance. The prisoner was taken to the County Hospital in Los Angeles. The insanity charge is to be lodged against him Monday.

Overstudy is the assigned cause of Libby's unfortunate condition. He has a sister in Redlands. He had not seen his sister in Long Beach for eleven days until yesterday.

COLORADO JUDGE TALKS OF BOYS.

ADVANTAGES OF THE JUVENILE COURT ARE DETAILED.

Decrease in Commitments Since Institution Has Saved Colorado Many Thousands of Dollars—Work of Los Angeles Juvenile Court Strongly Commended.

Judge Ben Lindsey of the Denver Juvenile Court addressed a meeting held at the Unity Church last night, under the auspices of the Civic League, speaking of the local work, the judge said:

"You are to be congratulated on the court established in Los Angeles, and on the judge who presides over this court and whose heart and soul are in his efforts to save the boys and make them worthy and reliable citizens.

But when I learn that this school is taking care of between 7000 and 8000 children at its own expense, I think the burden has reached too great a proportion, and this evening I would urge on the duty of the parent and citizen toward the children.

"The Divine Master never spoke more severely than when He spoke of the little ones. How tender are His words when He declares that 'of such are the kingdom of heaven;' and then there is the condemnation of the one who offends one of these little ones, and the declaration that it were better for that man that he had a millstone hanged about his neck and were cast into the sea.

"It is an appalling fact that more care is given to fine live stock nowadays than to children. One of our great writers has said that a boy is the most destructive animal on earth. It is this boy that is brought into existence the Juvenile Court.

"The court starts in to study the boy and all his needs. We find that we must somehow secure different methods than those employed in the past. Realizing that the State has not done before. For 1600 years the State has treated the child in the same way as the adult for punishment, considering it as an infant in business.

"Now, this new movement the State must do for the child what the home has failed to do; to correct the child and thus reach the child, and where the parent has been helpless, to assist and help the child directly.

"The problem is one of the greatest problems of the times. In six years the boys between the ages of 10 and 20 have been brought into the Juvenile Court in Denver, and this is a fair average. In Seattle in one year 1000 were brought before the courts, and there were 1000. The Police Department of San Francisco has found that over one-half the arrests made be of young fellows under the age when the law were strictly enforced. In proportion to your population you have twice as many boys in your prisons as men; and the inmates of our penitentiaries are increasing every year.

"The problem of the children is the problem of the State; and the Juvenile Court would substitute the detention home for the jail, and thus correct and protect the child."

Judge Lindsey then detailed many of his experiences in the Denver Juvenile Court work, showing how far-reaching the work was, and how much could be done by appealing to the innate manliness in each boy, no matter how apparently degraded he may have been. He dwelt on the advantage to be gained by making the parents responsible by the law, and cited numerous cases where they had been brought before the courts for delinquency in caring for their children in their moral development.

"Many parents think their burden ended when they supply food and clothing and shelter for their boys. Next to the deserter of his family stands the man who takes this contemptible stand, and who carries to his boy no courage, no love, no patience, and no incentive to develop into a worthy citizen.

"The image of God is in every boy, and can be brought out. We've got to study their environment. The worst boys we've had were the victims of environment and careless and improvident parents."

Speaking of the practical results attained by the Juvenile Court work, Judge Lindsey said that 75 per cent. of the boys brought to the courts under the old regime used to be sent to jails or institutions, and that of these 75 per cent. at some period returned to the courts or suffered jail sentences; but that in the Denver Juvenile Court for four years no boy had been charged with crime, and that last year only 3 per cent. were sent to any institution.

"In two years," said the speaker, "this court has saved the State of Colorado $88,000 by the decrease of commitments to institutions and jails and the costs of defending children charged with crime. It is cheaper and wiser to save the children than to punish the criminals."

At the close of Judge Lindsey's address, Judge Curtis Wilbur made a short talk, in which he stated that the police department of Los Angeles and the Juvenile Court were working in perfect harmony, and that Capt. Auble has warmly commended the work.

FRAUDS IN A SALE OF HAY.

Which Suggest a Word or Two About Frauds in Watch Cases.

According to an article in the Cincinnati Commercial, a 51-pound stone was recently found in that city secreted in a bale of hay of eighty pounds.

This is not as bad as finding a lump of lead of nearly one-half the weight of the solid-gold watch case secreted in the center of the case.

Gold watch cases are sold by weight, and no one can see where the lead is secreted until the springs of the case are taken out and the lead will be found secreted behind them.

These cases, are made by companies who profess to be honest but furnish the means to the dishonest to rob the public. It is not pleasant for anyone to find that he has lugged a lump of lead in his watch case.

Another trick of the makers of spurious solid-gold watch cases is to stamp the case "U. S. Assay." The United States does not stamp any article made out of gold and silver except coin, and the faker, by using this stamp, wants to make the public believe that the government had something to do with the stamping or guaranteeing the fineness of watch cases.

Another trick of the watch faker is to advertise a watch described as a solid, gold-filled watch with a twenty or twenty-five-year guarantee. These watches are generally sent C.O.D., and if the purchaser has paid for the watch he finds that the company which guaranteed the watch to wear is not in existence.

The Dueber-Hampden Watch Company of Canton, Ohio, who are constantly exposing these frauds, will furnish the names of the manufacturers who are in this questionable business.

KILLED DEFENSELESS KOREANS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEOUL, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Russians in Northern Korea have killed defenseless Koreans because the Koreans have allowed the Japanese to conduct war in the country. In consequence the Korean troops have been ordered to join the Japanese in fighting the Russians.

KOREANS FIRMING UP.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEOUL, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A number of former officers and military students have petitioned the Korean War Office to be allowed to defend their country. Three mountain batteries of eighteen big guns, to be used for fortifying the hills around Seoul, have arrived.

The new Korean government has been appointed. All of its members are progressive, and the pro-Russian party is absolutely powerless. One of the first acts of the new government was to impeach Yi Yong-Ik, but that wily minister sought the protection of the Japanese, and escaped, to the great exasperation of his opponents, who threaten him with assassination.

The Korean people have been commanded to receive the Japanese military notes in exchange for goods. These notes will be cashed on the 5th and 15th of each month. All of the employés of the American Minting Company, with women and children, numbering more than seventy persons, have been withdrawn from Unsan to Ping Yang.

MOSCOW NOBILITY'S LOYALITY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MOSCOW, Feb. 29.—A large representative meeting of the marshals, nobility and chief government officials was held here yesterday to discuss the best methods of assisting the Russian wounded during the war in the Far East. At the close of the meeting a telegram was dispatched to the Czar, expressing unbounded loyalty to him. His Majesty immediately replied, expressing his heartfelt gratitude for the noble thought which inspired the message and the sentiments voiced toward himself, adding: "I see in these expressions testimony of a determination on the part of the Russian nobles to serve their Emperor as they did in former days, and to work in common with the sons of Russia for the welfare of our dear fatherland."

WINDY CITY RISES AGAINST THE UNIONS.

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] On ground that "to have strength of a giant is excellent, but to use it like a giant is tyrannous," the grand jurors, the courts and the Employers' Association have been invoked to wipe out the outrages that have been inspired or winked at by the labor unions of Chicago. Already half a hundred men have been indicted by the December and January grand juries for assault, intimidation, conspiracy and inciting to riot. One man has been convicted, and the chances are that a score or more of others will feel the weight of the law before the snows of winter are gone.

Chicago is aroused as it never was before against what it calls the tyranny of union labor. The city has suffered untold loss and inconvenience by reason of strikes, riots and lockouts during the last year. Property has been destroyed, lives have been sacrificed, persons maimed for life, and common rights trampled upon until the limit of endurance has been reached, according to the expressed views of property owners, employers and manufacturers.

ARMIES OF STRIKERS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Chicago is preparing for its first crop of labor difficulties for the year 1904. The situation is fraught with the possibility of walkouts affecting in the aggregate 30,000 men [illegible] longing to the labor unions, whose wage agreements expire this month. Here is the list of employés who will strike if their demands are not met: Truck teamsters 12,000 blacksmiths and helpers 4000, painters and decorators 2500, cement finishers and helpers 2500, brewery workers, laborers, beer-bottlers and maltsters 2100, woodworkers (door and sash) 1800, carriage and wagon-makers (locked out) 1100, van teamsters and helpers 1000, lathers, 400; total, [illegible] 400.

Carriage and wagon-makers were locked out a month ago, and are still negotiating with their employers. The unions in the foregoing list held meetings today and took what they term final action on the demands and propositions submitted by the employers. Strikes or cessation of work are considered certain in the case of [illegible] ers, brewery workers, brewery [illegible] ers, beer-bottlers, malsters and [illegible] ment workers, and employers threatened to lock out the painters [illegible] they recede from their demands.

The painters decided to ask for a minimum of 45 cents an hour and a two-year agreement. The bosses have offered 42½ cents an hour for one year, the present schedule of 40 cents to continue this year.

MILLS WOULD BUILD OVER THE CASCADES

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA (Wash.) Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] At a meeting to be held in San Francisco this week the stockholders will determine whether the Bellingham Bay and British Columbia Railroad shall build across the Cascade Mountains to Spokane, there connecting with the Harriman system. The line is controlled by D. O. Mills, its largest stockholder. Several months ago he asserted his control by causing his nephew and Pacific Coast representative, H. H. Taylor, to be elected president, deposing his lifelong friend, P. B. Cornwall. Before the election Taylor visited Bellingham Bay and spent a month inspecting the company's immense holdings in Northwestern Washington. His visit was during the rainy season and he is said to have taken a decided to the contrary, expressing himself as averse to making further improvements.

A dispatch from Bellingham says that Taylor will oppose the project of building across the mountains, to accomplish which Mills favors the issue of bonds for about $2,000,000. [illegible] Donovan will make a plea for building the line, showing the company's present railroad into the timber and coal belt is paying large profits.

CARTER HARRISON'S BRAND NEW BOOM

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Chicago Democracy started a brand new boom for Mayor Carter Harrison for President today. The movement was given decided impetus when State Committeeman Quinn of Peoria proposed the Mayor's candidacy and said that many leading Democrats of Illinois were for him and he could swing the Illinois vote in the national convention.

At the recent meeting of the State Democratic Committee, Congressman Williams of Carmi was put forward as a Presidential candidate, but the showing he has made is disappointing to the Chicago leaders, who now believe that Harrison is the only man for the Democracy in this State.

It is believed the advocacy of Harrison is intended more to obstruct Hearst than anything else. The [illegible] belittles the movement started [illegible] but close friends of his say that he is secretly pleased with the growing sentiment in his favor. His friends who took the recent trip to Washington say there is favorable sentiment for him in the South.

NEW HOME OF POSTOFFICE.

Plans Drawn for Building to be Erected Soon.

L. A. Groff Surrenders Office to Postmaster Flint.

W. H. Harrison Assistant. No Other Changes Now.

Plans have been drawn and negotiations are in progress with two different property owners for the erection of a model postoffice building for this city—that is, as near "model" as a temporary home for the local postal force can be.

This fact developed at the old temporary quarters yesterday at Spring and Eighth streets during the upheaval attendant upon the transfer of the office of postmaster by Lewis A. Groff to Morley H. Flint, who became postmaster in fact late in the afternoon.

If Postmaster Flint has his way, the postoffice will be in brand-new quarters before another year. The fight over the location and construction of the proposed new Federal building will wax and wane—the Los Angeles postoffice is going to move just the same, 'tis said.

"There simply isn't room enough here—we must have new quarters," said Mr. Flint yesterday just before he stepped into Mr. Groff's official slip-

NEW EXPRESS OFFICE.

Wells-Fargo Company Moves Into Johnson Building on Main Street. Fine Quarters.

The fine new quarters of Wells, Fargo & Co., in the new Johnson building on Main street between Fourth and Fifth streets, will be thrown open for business this morning. Workmen were busy putting on the finishing touches yesterday, and the different departments of the company were moving in.

These quarters occupy a space of 40 x150 feet, with an alley in the rear, and a platform from which to load and unload the wagons, a great improvement over the conditions at the old offices, corner Main and Third streets, where the company's wagons often impeded the progress of west-bound Traction cars.

The move was made imperative by the expansion of the company's business in this city. The regular force here now consists of eighty-one men and twenty-four wagons. The old offices had been occupied twelve years.

On entering the spacious new place of business the offices of Assistant Superintendent William Pridham and Route Agent W. S. Bullis are on the left, and the office of Agent Campbell is on the right. The money order, forwarding, delivery and other departments stretch back successively to the rear of the building. The entire basement is given over to the storage of packages.

Superintendent James H. Langtry was down from San Francisco yesterday, looking over the quarters.

MUCH-SHIPPED EGGS.

Sent from Missouri to California and Thence to New York and Sold There.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—One of the curiosities of the recent egg famine in New York has been the arrival here of a car of refrigerator eggs from California. They came on a lively market and sold around 30 cents a dozen. Some brought a shade more. It was said that the broker cleared about $1000 on the car. The freight bill alone was $424.

The early history of this car of eggs was interesting. They were originally collected in Missouri and were shipped from Kansas City to California early last fall. They were held in refrigerators there until the price of held eggs advanced so rapidly here that it was worth while to send them back across the continent. They went very readily for storage eggs are entirely exhausted in this city.

About 5000 cases of eggs have been imported from Germany in the past two months, bringing good prices on arrival here. Leading dealers here say that it seems feasible to establish poultry and egg farms in warm climates like California and make a good profit on the eggs alone. The high prices this year are due to the lack of cold-storage eggs which were exhausted about the holidays. The highest wholesale price was in January, when best qualities of fresh-gathered eggs sold at 42 cents in car lots and retailers asked 47 and 70 cents a dozen. Since then prices have been about 33 to 35 cents continually. An effort will be made this season to get enough into the refrigerators to carry the trade through.

CLARK LECTURES.

Chicago Collegian Will Deliver Lectures at Cumnock This Week Upon the Classic Drama.

Prof. S. H. Clark of the University of Chicago will come to Cumnock Hall again this week with his series of interpretative lectures. Prof. Clark appeared in Los Angeles last year, proving himself a scholarly and able speaker upon subjects connected with the classic drama.

There will be three afternoon and three evening lectures, on alternate days, the first subject being taken up tonight. His range of subjects is well selected, and should prove a delight to lovers of good literature.

The title of Prof. Clark's discourses, taken from comedy and tragedy, comprise the following for evening consideration: "The Spiritual Meaning of Tragedy," "The Tempest," "Ulysses." Afternoon subjects are "Hamlet," "The Spanish Gypsy," and "Antigone."

sentiments fragrant with his love for America.

"I was born in Ireland," he said, "and I love England, but I love America a great deal more. This is the only country that ever cared anything for a poor man, and the only fellow that finds fault with it has a name that you can't spell when you see it in print."

He called upon all men to take no part in the detraction of men in authority, but to show their loyalty by supporting the acts of the President and of Congress, and applied the same principal to State and city officials.

The musical programme was very elaborate, conducted by J. W. Eccleston, and was received with great enthusiasm. Two numbers were sung by J. Wheaton Leonard, baritone; Miss Jessie Terry of Buena Park, Miss Goodwin and Mrs. Jones-Simmons sang solos. Miss Stella Callender and Mrs. Jones-Simmons sang a duet.

The meeting closed with the usual season of pledge-signing.

DANISH STEAMER GROUNDED.

CHRISTIANSAND (Norway) Feb. 28.—The Danish steamer Oscar II of the Scandinavian American Line from New York, February 16, from Christiansand, Christiana and Copenhagen, grounded while entering the harbor this morning, but slid over the obstruction. She sprung a leak, however, and was beached in the harbor of Fiekkero, where she occupies a safe position. She is damaged on the starboard side, and there is water in the engine-room and in two of the holds, where the cargo is damaged. The passengers were landed.

TWO LIVES CRUSHED OUT.

Southern Pacific Brakeman and Blacksmith Victims.

C. A. Stephens Fatally Injured Near Indio.

Joseph Meyers Killed at a Street Crossing.

C. A. Stephens of No. 1812 Downey avenue, a brakeman in the employ of the Southern Pacific Railroad, and one of the best known men in the local train service of that company, died yesterday afternoon on a train while being brought to Los Angeles for treatment for injuries received yesterday morning near Indio.

He was a member of the crew of freight train No. 248, west bound, and was returning home from the other end of the division at Yuma. At Indio there was a car to be "cut out," and Stephens proceeded to do that work. The car had been placed on a sidetrack and Stephens started to uncouple the engine to return with it to the rest of the train. He gave the signal to the engineer, intending to draw the coupling pin at the proper instant. In some manner he got caught between the engine and the car in such position that his body was crushed above the hips.

He had presence of mind enough to hold on, and when found he was hanging to the tank of the locomotive, his body being held between the bumpers. He was quickly released and conveyed to Colton, where he was placed on board a passenger train to be brought to Los Angeles. Before this city was reached he expired. The body was taken to Bresee Bros.' morgue, where an inquest will be held.

The deceased was married, and had a number of relatives in this city. The funeral arrangements have not been completed.

KILLED AT A CROSSING.

Joseph Meyers of No. 121 East Ann street was knocked down and run over by a Southern Pacific switch engine at the corner of Main and Redondo streets yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock. He was ground under the driving wheels of the engine and horribly mangled. Death ended his suffering at the Receiving Hospital about 6:15 o'clock.

Eye witnesses say the accident was due to Meyers's carelessness. The man was walking south on Main street, while the switch engine, in charge of Engineer S. C. Mason and Fireman J. F. Hock, was going east at the rate of about ten miles an hour. Meyers appeared to be absorbed in thought when he approached the track, and though the fireman was ringing the bell and there was no chance for him to cross in front of the engine, the man stepped deliberately on the track and was knocked down by the pilot and thrown under the wheels. The engine was stopped quickly, but not until the big drivers had crushed the man's legs and lower part of his body in a frightful manner. He was removed to the Receiving Hospital unconscious, but all efforts to save his life were unsuccessful.

Meyers was 53 years old and was an employé of the Llewellyn Iron Works. He was a widower, but leaves two grown sons in Detroit. David Meyers, the elder son, has been notified of his father's death. An inquest will be held at Bresee Bros'.

A FIRST-CLASS BATTLESHIP.

Grant Friel, a son of Legrand Friel, an old-time resident of this city, is an apprentice on Uncle Sam's warship, the Wisconsin, now in oriental waters. He recently sent his father an interesting souvenir, in the shape of an album containing over a score of large half-tone illustrations, showing groups of the officers and crew of the big ship, which indicates there is no limit to the enterprise of the American "write up" man. A glance through this volume gives an outsider a good idea of what a little world of its own a modern battleship is.

The Wisconsin rates as a "first-class battleship." It is one of the mechanical triumphs of the Union Iron Works in San Francisco, which turned out the Oregon. It has a displacement of 11,565 tons, and has made as high as 18.7 knots per hour, or over 20 miles, which is pretty fair railroad speed. Among its armaments are four 13-inch guns. It is the flagship of the cruiser squadron on the Asiatic station, of which Rear-Admiral P. H. Cooper is in command, Capt. Uriel Sebree being in command of the vessel. The population of the Wisconsin, including officers and men, amounts to over 600—equal to that of a good-sized village.

Some of the groups in the photographs are surprising to those who are not aware of the diversified life on board a big man-of-war. For instance, there is a band of 17 pieces, a signal corps of 11 men, a race boat crew, a baseball team, in costume, also football team, and even a minstrel troupe, in appropriate costume. The officers' mess men—Japs and Chinamen—make up quite a little force. One of the groups, taken from the forecastle, is a striking one, showing the whole crew clustered over every part of the vessel, like a swarm of ants, with the heads of two "jackies" peeping out of the muzzles of the big guns.

It is a striking thought that such a vast, complicated and expensive piece of mechanism may be sent to the bottom, with all its living freight, in a few minutes, by a ten-foot torpedo. It was suggested, quite a number of years ago, that the time would come when big battleships would become obsolete, for the reason that it is altogether too big a risk to put so many eggs in one basket. A recent dispatch from the Orient stated that the Japanese had decided not to undertake any further sea fights in the open with battleships, as they had found they can do much more effective work, with far less risk, by using torpedo boats. This would be in line with the changes that have taken place in the ideas of military commanders regarding land fighting, especially since the Boer War, which showed the great advantage of skirmishing in open order, under cover. The rapid-fire gun has done away with the spectacular bayonet charge, and the torpedo may have sounded the death knell of the imposing battleship. The next decade is likely to see great changes in methods of warfare. The present conflict is the first great war that has been fought for a third of a century. Military and naval men all over the world are watching with intense interest the developments of the present contest.

CUBA AND SANTO DOMINGO.

Unless there should be a change for the better before long in the conditions prevailing in Santo Domingo, it may become the manifest duty of the United States to take some action looking to the restoration of tranquillity and the protection of lives and property. The possibility of such action may be remote, but it is a possibility nevertheless. Conditions may arise which will make our duty in the premises as clear as it was in the case of Cuba.

Since independent constitutional government was formally proclaimed in Santo Domingo on February 27, 1844, the island has been the scene of numerous revolutions and of almost continuous turmoil. If there were any prospect of improvement in this respect, the case would not be so hopeless. But matters appear to be going from bad to worse. President Heureaux was assassinated in July, 1899, and since that time the island has been in control of eight different "governments," either provisional or constitutional. A revolution is now in progress, and there is little prospect that it will end with permanent peace or stable government.

Under such untoward conditions, prosperity is of course out of the question. Yet Santo Domingo is as rich in natural resources as is Cuba, although less than half as large in territorial extent, Santo Domingo having an area of 19,000 square miles, while Cuba has 45,000. The population of Santo Domingo is approximately 650,000, while that of Cuba is about 1,600,000. The commerce of Santo Domingo is necessarily a matter of conjecture, because of fraudulent administration and imperfect records of imports and exports. The imports are estimated at about $3,000,000 annually, as compared to $60,000,000 for Cuba; and the exports are estimated at about $6,000,000, those of Cuba being $70,000,000. The total revenues of Santo Domingo do not exceed $2,000,000, while those of Cuba are $18,000,000. The national debt of Cuba (including the recent loan of $35,000,000) is only about one-third larger than that of Santo Domingo.

These figures show how far Santo Domingo has fallen short of realizing her possibilities of development. The cause of this failure is easily traceable to the political turmoil that has prevailed, with brief intermissions, for more than half a century. If a permanent government were established in the island, assuring favorable conditions for the investment of capital and the operations of enterprise, an era of progress would be started which would soon bring prosperity—something which Santo Domingo has never yet enjoyed in the course of her tempestuous career.

Notwithstanding the unfavorable conditions which have prevailed, some $40,000,000 of foreign capital is invested in Santo Domingo, of which about $20,000,000 is American apital. If the United States had acquired control of this island thirty years ago, as there was some prospect of our doing at one time, it would now be one of the richest garden spots in the world. A liberal, honestly-administered government is all that would be required to bring about such a consummation, for the island presents unusual opportunities for advantageous development.

SOME MANUFACTURING POSSIBILITIES.

The field of manufacturing possibilities in Southern California is constantly widening. Even as recently as ten years ago few would have been so bold as to venture the prediction that Los Angeles would ever become an important manufacturing city. This is now not only possible, but quite probable. This section possesses many advantages over eastern cities for manufacturing. The climate is a valuable asset, obviating the necessity for expensive, solid buildings, and permitting work to be continued all the year round, while in the East much work has to be discontinued during the winter months. The high freight charges from the East act as a sort of protective tariff to the local manufacturer, especially where, as in the case of woolen goods, freight has to be paid from here to the East and back again, a distance of 6000 miles. Last, but by no means least, the comparative freedom from labor troubles that Los Angeles enjoys must, if continued, act as a great inducement to those who are looking for a location for a factory where they may pursue their legitimate business unmolested by unreasonable union-labor tyrants.

The climatic advantages enjoyed by Southern California are even more far-reaching than is indicated in the above reference. In certain lines of manufacturing the sun plays a very important part. For instance, in the manufacturing of woolen and wooden goods, it has been shown that much finer grades of wool can be manufactured here, in this sunny climate, than in the East. It has been the custom for the northern lumber mills to send trainloads of shingles to Southern California, to be stacked in the open, so as to become "cured" before they are shipped to the East. This climatic feature promises to result in great things to Southern California, in the shape of musical instrument making, particularly musical instruments into the composition of which wood enters largely, such as pianos and violins. Reference was recently made in The Times to an interesting industry established here about a year ago, in the shape of a factory for the manufacture of piano sounding boards. This looks like a small thing, but in the aggregate the number and value of these boards consumed every year in the United States is great. It has been shown that such boards, made in Southern California, are vastly superior in point of resonance to those made in the East, because they can here be dried in the sun, whereas in the East they have to be steamed, which takes the gummy matter out of the cells. The difference in tone can be immediately detected by anyone. Alfred Dolge, who is at the head of this enterprise, as well as of the felt factory approaching completion at Dolgeville, in the San Gabriel Valley, recently returned from the East, where he secured orders for as many boards as his factory can make in a year. Thus it is not impossible that before long Los Angeles may not only supply the United States with this product, but may ship large quantities to Europe.

This, however, is only a beginning. As stated, there is no reason why Los Angeles should not, in time, become a noted center for the manufacture of musical instruments of wood. Already we have an organ factory that has turned out some fine instruments, and is now constructing the largest organ in the world. An eastern piano manufacturer has been looking over the field, and admits that Los Angeles offers many advantages for the establishment of a piano factory. In addition to the feature of resonance in the sun-dried lumber, there is the advantage that the Los Angeles manufacturer can dry his varnish in the open air, which means that the varnish will be much harder, and consequently present the highest polish, such as we find on Japanese goods. Since a piano manufacturer can here obtain the best kind of lumber at a very low price, and also can have his felts and hammers made here and will furthermore have the advantage of $12 to $15 freight which every dealer has to pay who gets his piano from the East, it seems as good a proposition as can be wished for.

Another interesting fact in this connection is the statement that the celebrated Cremona violins, which are noted for the sweetness of their tone, and for which immense prices have sometimes been paid, are made under very similar conditions to those prevailing here, climatically, and in regard to the wood supply. This is a fact that should be brought to the attention of some experienced manufacturers of musical instruments, such as violins and guitars and mandolins. It might result in the establishment of a new and important industry here.

Returning to the question of piano making, American manufacturers of pianos were recently astonished at a report sent in by one E. L. Harris, a United States commercial agent in Europe, who unequivocally stated that "Germany leads the world in piano manufacturing." Being an official report, it was sent out by the Associated Press and appeared in the daily papers. Believing that so erroneous a statement should meet denial, the editor of the Musical Times wrote a letter to the Chicago Tribune, which was published, and a piano manufacturer, in behalf of the piano-manufacturing industry of this country, sent the article to his personal friend, George B. Cortelyou, Secretary of Commerce, accompanied by a letter that expressed his opinions. In this letter the manufacturer stated that his company alone manufactures annually one-fourth as many pianos as are made in all Germany, and as for quality, it has been known for years that the leading artists of the world use American pianos.

The remark of Judge Lindsey of Denver, who spoke in this city last night, that the labor unions are responsible for the downfall of many boys on account of their ridiculous and flagrant rules with regard to the employment of apprentices, is full of significance. Judge Lindsey is one of the leading authorities of the country on juvenile court law and procedure, and what he has to say is the product of wide and ripe experience. He does not shoot in the air, but cites many instances which have come within his knowledge, wherein boys have been cast adrift on the streets, and become criminals after having been debarred from an opportunity to work and earn an honest living by labor union autocrats afraid of losing soft snaps should more workers enter the field which they had been slighting.

Postmaster Flint does not pretend to be a bigger man than Uncle Sam, but almost anybody may be quicker, and our new postmaster proposes to have a new postoffice while the government authorities are lost in the fog of legal and real estate complications. If this great country of ours must needs hire a postoffice for us, it might as well hire a good one; and by the way, Postmaster Flint, it would be a capital idea to hire it in the business center of the town, instead of in the suburbs.

The bellicose designs of our friends, the Colombians, seem to have subsided very suddenly. It is now believed that our Gulf and Atlantic seaports are not in any immediate danger of a Colombian invasion, though it may be well to keep a few battleships cruising about in those waters.

The manner in which the sensational press is illustrating the war is a great compliment for American enterprise, but we should not forget to also give just credit to the American imagination.

The plan of the Japanese to destroy the Russian fleets and then land troops and drive the Russians out of Manchuria may be all right, but the trouble will be in getting Russia to agree to it.

The postal boodlers were greatly surprised at their conviction. It is a wonder they did not appear highly insulted and demand of Uncle Sam what he meant by such conduct, anyway.

MUSIC AND MUSICIANS.

Blauvelt.

We are to hear charming Lillian Blauvelt once more—her "farewell" concert being scheduled for tonight at the Mason Opernhouse.

It is not likely that it will be a permanent good-bye, however, for the dainty Dresden China singer has fallen so completely in love with Southern California and its people that she is unwilling—very unwilling—to leave it for even a little while. She has picked oranges, bought ostrich feathers right out of their pristine owners' tails, ridden burros on Mount Lowe, and buried herself in the sands of Santa Monica. She is delighted with birds and flowers in February, and says if it's all a dream she doesn't want to wake up.

Said she, yesterday afternoon: "You really don't know how I dread going back East. I sing in the great Mormon Temple on Wednesday—I fear I shall look like a mere punctuation mark in that vast hall against the huge organ. From there I go to Omaha, which is a return date. Last month I received some beautiful flowers there after the first part of my programme, and I guarded them so carefully for days, only to discover that in California the people make pledges of them! I think Southern California is the most wonderful place I ever visited—far ahead of Italy and Southern Spain.

"There is one thing I cannot understand, and that is why you do not have a great conservatory of music. If I were free from my engagements I would come here and start one. I was surprised to find in my manager's office so many photographs of distinguished artists. I really do not think that there are ten cities in the United States as favored with great musical organizations and soloists as is Los Angeles. When I meet these celebrated folk abroad they all speak of Los Angeles, and all the speeches are good, too.

"I am soon to make a new departure in Washington, where I shall sing the 'Stabat Mater' with the Washington Choral Society. I visit there each year and have always been the soloist at the spring concerts. I'd give up Washington, though, if I might stay here through the two delightful months that are to come. A dear friend of mine in New York has for years urged me to visit here, and it was her advice that our mutual friend, Paul de Longpré, headed when looking for a new home."

Mme. Blauvelt sang with excellent success in Pasadena Saturday night. Her programme at the Mason this evening will be: "M'h presa alla" (Faradies;) "Batti Batti" (Mozart;) "La Danza" (Durante;) "Mondnacht" (Schumann;) "Guten Morgen" (Grieg;) "O Komm im Traum" (Liszt;) "Fruehlingslied" (Van der Stucken;) "La Fauvette" (Gretry;) "L'absence" (Bizet;) "Si mes vers" (Hahn;) "Les Filles de Cadix" (Delibes;) "My Heart" (Ramdegger;) "Roses After Rain" (Lehman;) "Irish Folk Song" (Foote;) "Sweetheart and I," (Beach;) Valse, "Romeo and Juliet" (Gounod.)

SAN DIEGO.

CONSULS FORM CLUB.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 28.—At the suggestion of Dr. J. Diaz Prieto, representing the Mexican government here, a club of the local consuls has been formed with the following members: Dr. J. Diaz Prieto, Mexico; Maj. Allen, Great Britain; Philip Morse, Bolivia; J. Engelbret, Scandinavia; T. J. Dowell, Honduras; L. Mendelson, San Salvador.

The winter reunion of the Iowa Society was held yesterday at Unity Hall. Judge M. L. Ward presided. The principal address was by Judge W. A. Sloane.

Neiderman, the so-called king of the crib district property, has demanded a jury trial of the charge that he is renting his buildings for immoral purposes. The trial is set for March 8.

THE TIMES IN SAN DIEGO.—Sold regularly by Harry Cozett, authorized agent, at No. 1256 C street, and by J. C. Packard, No. 861 Fifth street; Loring & Co., No. 731 Fifth street; Gray's Book Exchange, No. 1235 F street; McKee, No. 1234 D street, and at the Hotel Robinson.

The following-named dealers refuse to sell The Times because they lack the courage to stand up against the small faction of local labor-unionists and their newspaper allies who have joined forces in boycotting The Times in San Diego, viz., Snyder, No. 646 Fifth street; Avey & Jones, No. 949 Fifth street; Sam Taylor, No. 946 Fifth street, and Percival Wood, No. 1214 E street. The latter, especially, has shown double dealing, hypocrisy and cowardice by his course. Independent citizens who have a contempt for the boycotting know where to find The Times.

DROVE OUT HIS FATHER.

Alleged Cruelty of Son to Parent Causes Police to Interfere in Family Row on Agatha Street.

Early yesterday morning a telephone message was received at police headquarters asking that an officer be sent to Seventh and Agatha streets, where an old man was found who stated that despite the fact that he was ill his son had driven him out into the muddy street almost without clothing and refused to permit him to reenter his own home. Patrolman Wright was sent to the place and found Fred Giovani wrapped in a horse blanket, but almost fully dressed except that he had no hat. The officer took Giovani back to his home, and there the man's wife produced his hat, which she said she had kept to prevent him from leaving, but whether the son had forced his father to leave the place she would not say. Giovani asserted that his son had secured all of his money and desired to get rid of him. Giovani refused to prosecute his son, and inasmuch as the officer had witnessed nothing he could not legally arrest the son.

NEW CHURCH AFTER WAITING MANY YEARS.

THE Central-avenue Methodist Episcopal Church, No. 1021 East Vernon avenue, was organized by the pioneer preacher, Rev. D. Cobb, on March 18, 1888. The Sunday-school room, costing $2000, was built on Vernon avenue near Central avenue. The stone of the main church will be laid by the delegates of the Southern California Conference elected to the General Conference. Rev. John L. Pitner, D.D., and others will speak, and Rev. A. W. Adkinson, presiding elder, will officiate at the ceremonies of laying rapid growth of the city and the increase of membership in church and Sunday-school have made it necessary to enlarge, and on Sunday, March 13, the sixteenth anniversary, the corner-

At the Churches Yesterday.

Will Form New Church.

YESTERDAY a large number of the former officers and members of the First Presbyterian Church, who resigned at the time Rev. Frank Dewitt Talmage assumed the pastorate, united with the Grand View Presbyterian Church, as a prelude to the efforts that is to be made by the combined congregations to establish a new Presbyterian church in the southwestern part of the city.

Rev. A. G. Fessenden, pastor of the Grand View Church, in welcoming the new members, said:

"In the spring time it is a beautiful sight to see the trees bursting forth into buds, prophecies of the coming fruit. So is the sight here as we behold this church enlarging, and in that growth so gratifying we have the hope of that which is to come.

"To you, dear friends, who have united with Grand View today, we give you loving Christian welcome. May the union today consummated be one that shall grow strong and perfect, as together we bear the burdens and receive the joys of church life.

"What there is before us we know not, in detail, but in our hearts there is a burning desire, I am sure, to fulfil the plan and purpose of God. Before us there seems to be the privilege as well as the burden of rearing to the glory of God, a new house of worship; one that shall in all its appointments, and in all its beauty be a fit abode for this church of Jesus Christ. Do not our hearts respond with great gladness to this privilege. May not this structure, the loving gift of our beloved founder, Rev. F. M. Dimmick, D.D., bloom forth speedily, into the larger temple. Then there are before us the problems of a larger Christian fellowship. And certainly our hearts pray that our borders may be enlarged till we are strong even in numbers. But in this growth, we desire to continue, even as today we are one.

"Perhaps as in very few churches, the life of Christian fellowship here is one of love, in which social cleavage has had no part. We welcome you, dear friends, most heartily, because we know from evidence that you will give added zeal to this spirit, and will help continue in Grand View a beautiful and powerful Christian fellowship.

"Then there are before us the problems of winning this neighborhood for Jesus Christ. This church, I am sure, is not to be simply an evangelical church, but also an evangelistic church. Evangelical and evangelistic are in a sense kindred words, but the first has particular reference to a church's attitude toward divine truth, and the second, toward the mission of Jesus Christ, which is to seek and save the lost. Surely it is our prayer, that here many may be saved. There is joy in heaven over one sinner that repenteth. May not our highest joy be in winning souls for Jesus Christ.

"There is also before us the wide world, which is the field. As we grow not in numbers, may we also grow in missionary zeal. This church from the beginning has been permeated with the spirit of missions. The founder, Dr. Dimmick, was deeply imbued with the spirit of the Master's great commission, 'Go ye into all the world.' Associated with him were Rev. and Mrs. [illegible] for years missionaries in [illegible]. Out from this church have gone [illegible] their children to mission work [illegible].

"Today, a sister of our beloved Mrs. Dimmick, Miss Chase, a member of this church, is a missionary among the Indians of California. And last, but not least, Mr. Fisher, for eleven years the much loved pastor of this church, is a returned missionary. Do we not all with us praise the Lord for such a record.

"Today our motto is 'Onward march.' No time of small things is past, and we stand on the threshhold, facing large and great things.

"Let us infuse into the veins and arteries of our church life a large hope. Appreciation is the word we want, and that appreciation. May we see our church in the light of her opportunities, and you may be sure others will esteem us about as we value ourselves. Pursue the policy of a false modesty, and we will not only receive, but merit the slights of this neighborhood; but pursue the policy of a brave appreciative outlook, and this church will be as a city set upon a hill, whose light cannot be hid.

"Let us get the spirit of good times, when everybody has a good word for this church, and God's cause here is precious to our hearts.

"There are some who are greatly impressed with the fascinating fallacy of the limitless possibilities of human nature alone.

"Let us claim His presence, and let us not grieve away His holy spirit by our doubts and worldliness. Exalt Him. And why should we not? 'for there is no other name under heaven given among men whereby we must be saved.'

"In the second place, we need to heed His words, 'Search the scriptures.'

"If we only have ears to hear, there are messages for us in every sunbeam, in the singing of the birds, and in the blooming flowers. There are sermons in stones, and books in running brooks; but in the word of God, if we have faith, is His spiritual message to His earthly children. How essential that the ears of a church should be open to hear the word of God. It is not the gift that goes with the Anglo-Saxon race that has done most for that foremost race, but rather the grace that goes with God's word. The strong nations are the Bible nations. Likewise the strong Christian is the Bible Christian.

"And lastly, as a church, we need to heed the Master's command, 'Go, work today in my vineyard.'

"In taking up the cross of service, then, let us not choose one so light that we can hardly feel its weight, but one that makes us bend every energy to carry it.

"When in her war with Russia, Japan wants men for some desperate service, do you fancy that volunteers will be scarce? By no means. Shall we not have the same heroic spirit here in the cause of Jesus Christ?

"In the life of every church, as in the life of individuals, there are destiny corners. This church has rounded such a corner today. The opportunities are before us, shall not each one spring to the front, and do his full part, even till it hurts, that through us God may make the destiny of this church, noble and glorious, that good may be done, and Jesus Christ exalted, and our Father in heaven glorified."

The Mills Meetings.

Another immense audience assembled yesterday morning in Hazard's Pavilion to listen to Rev. Benjamin Fay Mills, who spoke on "The Gospel of Going On." In the afternoon at 3 o'clock he spoke in Simpson Auditorium on "The Divinity of Christ." His treatment of this topic was kindly and constructive.

At 7:30 p.m. his subject in Simpson Auditorium was "The World to Come." This was not treated as some may have been led to expect, as Mr. Mills's development concerned the possibilities of this world, rather than the way in which we may exist hereafter.

Mr. Mills will speak this evening in Unity Church on the topic, "Three Ways to Love;" this will be an elaboration of an address which he gave at noon a month ago in Blanchard Hall, and which numbers of people are desirous to hear. This is Mr. Mills's last week of meetings on week days, and he will speak every evening up to and including Thursday in Unity Church, but no afternoons.

Last evening in closing his address on "The World to Come," Mr. Mills used the following peroration:

"I know not what ice-clad Alps shall rise before us, but I believe that we shall scale them. I know not what steaming, malarial marshes shall yawn before our feet, but I believe that we shall redeem them, and plant them with flowers of Paradise. I know not what hopes may dawn in the human breast, but I believe that the reality will be better than the hope. I know not what armies shall be marshalled as our foes, but I believe that we shall conquer them. I believe that we shall go from victory to victory, and I mean to live now in 'the power of an endless life.'

"You know the story of the Isle of the Sirens—how no ship or crew had ever been able to pass it and resist the magic of the sorcerers' music that lured the voyagers to their doom. At last there came a man who passed the Sirens' Isle and did not land with the crew of his vessel, and he triumphed in this fashion: He filled the ears of his crew with wax, and had himself bound to the mast with knotted thongs, and so Ulysses passed the sorcerers' isle. After a time there came another man, Orpheus by name, and he, being a great musician, simply set up a better music and sailed by in exultant disdain.

"Let us learn the lesson. Too long have we been binding ourselves by prohibitions and dulling our hearing with the sanctions of tradition. Though better would ears be filled with wax and thongs bind han to the mast than to land on the Isle of the Sirens, tonight I would strike on a golden harp some notes of the anthem of a rational future, producing the melody of justice and the entrancing harmony of a perfect love. May it aid some of us to pass with disdain the sorcerous shores of pride and prejudice and passion until we shall reach the longed-for haven of an Eternal Content for all and by the help of all."

The Name Above Every Name.

Rev. C. Carey Willett, D.D., delivered the second sermon of a course on "The Sacred Tri-Unity," yesterday morning in the Orchard-avenue Church. Following last Sunday's discourse on "God the Father," he took for his second topic "God the Son," the text being Philippians ii, 6-11.

"The pulpit," said the doctor, "is preeminently the place for preaching; and preaching is proclaiming. Dogmatics rather than polemics; religious exhortation rather than philosophical disquisitions. I believe there is no city on earth that so much resembles the Athens of Paul's day as our own city, Los Angeles, where new things are sought with such avidity, and among whose culture, cults and creeds the Deity of the Bible remains to a vast multitude to 'unknown God.'

"In proclaiming the deity of Christ let us bear in mind that it is with us a matter of testimony, not argument. 'What saith the scriptures?' is our first and final appeal.

"Remember these three things. First, that the nature of God is incomprehensible. Second, that in all creation there is no adequate resemblance of God. Third, that though we believe in the tri-unity of the Godhead, we do not profess to know or believe anything at all concerning the manner of subsistence of three persons in one essence. We believe what God has said concerning Himself without presuming to ask 'How can these things be?'

"The deity of Christ is the mystery and glory of the Christian faith. Our text asserts that 'He thought it not robbery to be equal with God.' Christ did not correct Peter when he said, 'Lord, thou knowest all things, thou knowest that I love thee,' for 'He knew what was in man.' To search the heart is peculiar to God, as Solomon prayed at the dedication of the temple, 'Thou only knowest the hearts of the children of men,' and as Jesus Himself says in Revelations ii, 23, 'All the churches shall know that I am He which searcheth the reins and hearts.' He is represented in Hebrews i, 3 as 'Upholding all things by the word of His power.' In Messianic psalm and prophecy He is called the 'Most Mighty' and 'the Mighty God,' and speaking through the trumpet of Revelations He declares Himself to be 'the Almighty.' Demons trembling confessed Him 'the Holy One of God.' Disease and death obeyed him. At Cana's feast 'the unconscious water saw its God and blushed.' Stormy billows ceased to rage and boisterous winds forbore to breathe when He said, 'Peace, be still.' As a prophet and teacher He spake as never man spake. He not only declared truth, but He bestowed a spiritual capacity, as John says, in his first epistle, 'We know that the Son of God is come, and hath given us an understanding,' concluding in exultation, 'This is the true God and eternal life.'

"In John's first apocalypse, in the first chapter of his gospel, he saw Christ as the Word in the beginning with God, bringing into existence all that was. Then through the veil of flesh he saw a glory shine 'as of the only begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth.' In his last apocalypse the Omega joins the Alpha, and the 'Faithful and True,' who is 'clothed with a vesture dipped in blood, and his name is called the Word of God,' becomes the 'King of Kings and Lord of Lords.' Then he to whom the Father said, 'Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever,' and of whom the command was given, 'Let all the angels of God worship Him,' shall receive His due of universal adoration. Then shall all men 'honor the Son as they honor the Father,' and 'at the name of Jesus every knee shall bow, and every tongue confess that Christ is Lord to the glory of God the Father;' or, in the words of John: 'I beheld, and I heard the voice of many angels round about the throne and the beasts and the elders: and the number of them was ten thousand times ten thousand, and thousands of thousands; saying, with a loud voice, "Worthy is the Lamb that was slain to receive power, and riches, and wisdom, and strength, and honor, and glory, and blessing." And the church of Christ, redeemed from earth, shall break forth in responsive song."

Race Prejudice.

A strong appeal against the evils of race and social prejudice was given by Frank DeWitt Talmage in his sermon last evening at the First Presbyterian Church.

Said he: "Jesus wished to reprove racial antipathy, and he said by his acts to all mankind, 'The man with the flattened nose and thick lip of the negro, the man with the aquiline nose of the Hebrew, the Australian aborigine with his low forehead, the Bengali with his calveless limb, the stunted Esquimaux, the Herculean Saxon, and the gigantic Slav—all are brothers. The Jew has no right to hate the Samaritan, neither has the Samaritan the right to hate the Jew.'"

Continuing his argument, Rev. Talmage dwelt upon some facts of Biblical history, and said: "I contend that racial prejudice is opposed to the spirit of Christ and Christianity, and I base my belief, first, on the journey that our Lord took through Samaria. Equal is the Jew to the Gentile in the sweetness and purity of his domestic life. Not only are they faithful as a race, as husbands and wives, but they are also irreproachable in their relation as parents and children. You never hear a Hebrew girl insulting her mother. You never see a Hebrew son sitting in the presence of an old father when that father has to stand. Filial duty is always practiced in the Hebrew home.

"Another reason why Christ 'must needs go through Samaria' was that He wanted to reprove ecclesiastical and religious prejudice. The disciples of John the Baptist and of Jesus were antagonistic and jealous of each other. They were bitter in the same way that the Established Church and the Methodists were bitter against each other during John Wesley's life.

"Absolutely necessary is it for Christian people to love one another, before they can as a church welcome the man of the world into their midst with the 'everlasting peace of the Gospel.' And yet, my brother, there are scores and hundreds of churches in this land which are practically a source of dissension to the world instead of a Christian harmony. They are rent and torn into factions by internal strife. The young people's societies are pulling against the Session; the Session is finding fault with the trustees; the Ladies' Aid Society is sulking because its members do not define the minister's wife; the choir is in open mutiny because the preacher will not let the quartette sing as much as it wants to.

"Want of gospel harmony in a church, although it be composed of only a series of little frictions and disturbances, will after awhile suck out the life's blood and kill the usefulness of a church. Indeed, the little church disturbances, like the little sins of life, are those to be dreaded more than great church tornadoes, which may arise and subside in a day.

"Christian friends, as with Christ when He took His Samaritan journey, pray hard, sacrifice, plead, apologize and overlook fancied insult—do everything in your church family that is honorable rather than have one pew unchristianly find fault with another pew. A forgiving layman bowing at the mercy seat is just as essential for church harmony as a forgiving minister breaking the bread and pouring out the wine at the table of Holy Communion."

How to Live.

Rev. C. J. K. Jones preached yesterday morning in the Church of the Unity on "The Difficulty of Living." He said in part:

"Those of you who have read 'Amiel's Journal will recall the sentence with which he closes his book, 'O, my weary heart, how difficult it is to live.' Many voices echo these words. Each man and woman has fears, anxieties, burdens and sorrows which are not spoken save in the sanctities of secret prayer. Men and women all around us are carrying loads of distressful burdens of which we have no hint. Now and then one 'rashly importunate, weary of life,' who can stand the strain no longer, ends 'the direful fever' by some insane act of suicide. In such cases let us not be swift to condemn. We do not know the exceeding great weight which has overbalanced the mind. Let us be thankful that unto us, who likewise have our troubles, there has come the strength, or the faith that has enabled us to endure.

"These subtle secrets of our breath' whereby one man differeth from another we cannot explain. The border line between sanity and insanity we cannot define. It is one of the hard questions to answer, why, in the nature of things, there should be any sorrow in the world. Troubled lives, and broken hearts have ever been asking this question of each other, 'why must we have grief?' 'Why the heart-breaking sorrows which come to us?'

"The ages of human faith have been trying to answer these and similar questions. The hearts and heads of men are not satisfied with any,' and with all of the answers that have been given. Science may say to the head that these conditions are a necessary result of human evolution. Men grow into nobler and finer conditions of life by experience of suffering. The higher we develop, the greater our capacity and liability, too, for suffering. We are often told that if we will do thus and so, there shall no evil touch us. Such assurances are void of the truth. Neither social well-being nor moral conditions can save us entirely from the common experiences of our race. 'Into each life some rain must fall.' We cannot always command our fate and fortune. 'It is the part of a wise and good man to see how well he lives, and not how long,' said Seneca. And part of this living well is to so accept life, with all its incident changes of good and ill, as not to be overcome by either. I say 'either' intentionally, because what men call good is often a source of greater temptation than are the conditions of ill. It is more difficult for men who are prosperous to carry themselves with even balance and poise of rectitude in all things than it is to conduct themselves manfully when burdens press upon them. For the saving of our souls under difficulties we need courage and that cheerful optimism which can sustain the most fatigued spirit. Say that we are 'born unto trouble as the sparks fly upward,' why, then we will recognize this fact as a law of our being and meet it is we do all other laws of nature. We will accept it, and adjust our minds to meet the conditions it imposes."

Body and Spirit.

Rev. J. S. Thomson, pastor of the Independent Church of Christ, in the Simpson Auditorium, preached yesterday on "The Secret Functions of Body, Soul and Spirit." Said he:

"The heart has mysteries. We know it has laws, forces, regularity, as manifested in the circulation of the blood; but how and why it should have been made a perpetual clock, registering in beats the passing moments of life, we do not know. The heart suggests questions that no anatomist could answer.

"The food which we eat is converted into blood, nerves, muscles, horn, hair, skin, brain, bones. New atoms displace old ones. Good microbes drive out bad ones, or vice versa, supply and decay are in constant competition. Who knows the mysterious regulator of all these wonderful processes?

"There is a difference between soul and spirit; and this difference is declared in the Bible. The soul represents the faculties of the body—passions, senses, appetites, and powers. The soul is the projection of a spirit in a body. 'God breathed inot man's nostrils the spirit of lives, and man became a living soul.' That is, the spirit in the body became soul. The soul superintends the known and unknown processes of the body. The soul, as a manager of the body, will not be needed in the next state of existence, because there will be no earthly bodies in the next state of existence. Then shall the dust return to the earth, as it was, and the spirit to God who gave it.' Christ said, 'My soul is exceedingly sorrowful, even unto death, bue He commended His spirit to God on the cross. A man may lose his soul, but he cannot lose his spirit. The spirit never commits sin. Paul makes this very plain in these words: 'I delight in the law of God after the inward man,' and 'the flesh lusteth against the spirit, and the spirit against the flesh.' We 'must worship God in spirit.' The soul is a bridge between the body and the spirit. The body in the brain meets the spirit in the soul. It is a fact that we dream that we have excursions, that we visit wonderful scenes, that we are in great perils, that we commit crimes that would be utterly impossible to us when awake, and that we fly over mountains. Telepathy is an occasional fact. It is an operation of the spirit. It has laws, but nobody knows them yet. Things that happened many years ago and have not been thought of since frequently escape from the chambers of memory and surprise us. These things are hints that the functions of life extend to other worlds and to secret conditions. The realities of life are invisible. The tree could not exist without its invisible roots. The foundation of a great building is unseen. The roots of our being are in the invisible God. The spirit is not only immortal, it is eternal, because its Father is eternal. Christ teaches that we can inherit eternal life, not merely immortal life, and that we should endeavor to become conscious of our eternal life. We are conscious of our moral nature, of our intellectual nature, of our emotional nature, of our physical nature; why should we not become conscious of our spiritual nature? Christ assures us that we ought to be 'born from above,' and that while we can love and serve God with and in other faculties, we can worship only in the spirit."

In World of Sport—Intercollegiate Entries—Bowling Record Broken.

LOCAL WOMAN BEST BOWLER.

MAKES NEW COAST RECORD FOR LADIES' TENPINS.

Much Good Work Was Done for the Sport by Interurban Players—Class B Men Improving—High Scores for the Past Week.

Mrs. E. C. Bates, who is well known to the bowlers of Los Angeles, has made a new Coast record for ladies in competition, and it is one that will probably not be lowered for a long time.

Thursday night, while bowling against Mrs. M. Quirk, she made the remarkable average of 220 1-3 for three games, her high roll being 243. This broke the Monarch alley record for ladies, Mrs. H. C. Scott having previously made 227. Mrs. Bates has been bowling only about a year, but has developed a wonderfully effective ball, and from her work at present no score seems too high for her. The three games on which she made her record were 187, 231 and 243.

INTERURBAN LEAGUE.

MUCH GOOD WORK DONE.

The Interurban League, which has just finished its tournament has the satisfaction of knowing that its work has done as much if not more than any other tournament to advance the interests of bowling in this end of the State. About eighty men have taken part in the play, and as the records show some of them have done exceedingly good work. While the majority of them are below the 160 average mark, the experience they gained in competitive play will manifest itself in future tourneys.

The Tuxedo team of this city finished first in the prize list, with a grand total of 34,419 pins, the Pasadena team being a close second, with 34,192 pins. San Pedro was the lowest, with 45,544 pins, but the majority of the men in that team were inexperienced as compared with the other teams, and the harbor players are entitled to praise for staying in the tournament when every match showed that they were against more seasoned men.

Lustig of the Tuxedo team ended the tourney with the very good average of 185 6-63 for sixty-three games, and his teammate Benfer was close behind with 180 35-63. The total pins made by the various teams, and the individual averages of those players who had better than 160 are as follows:

Team standing—Tuxedo, 34,419; Pasadena, 34,192; Sporting News, 33,851; Reliance, 50,598; Ocean Park, 50,417; Crescent, 49,403; Santa Fé, 46,852; San Pedro, 45,544.

LEAP YEAR TOURNEY.

In the Leap Year tournament at the Monarch alleys, Mrs. Bates and Lustig lead Mrs. Scott and Mackenzie by 43 pins, the scores being 5016 to 4973. The totals are as follows: Mrs. Bates and Lustig, 5016; Mrs. Scott and Mackenzie, 4973; Mrs. Knox and Bowron, 4562; Mrs. Lapham and Clarke, 4753; Mrs. A. MORLEY'S TOURNEY.

The Class B tourney at Morley's alleys on South Main street has developed some good play the past week, and the majority of the players are showing better form as the play goes on. The Sunnyside team has an apparently safe lead of over 500 pins over the nearest team, but four teams are bunched close behind the leaders, and any match may decide second place. Hawkins of the Sunnyside team still leads in individual average.

The following high scores were made at the various alleys last week:

Coursing Dead.

From present appearances the coursing game in this county seems to be dead, and whether or not it will ever be revived is a question. There is a strong opposition to the "sport" in certain quarters, and it is very doubtful if the local coursing men will care to go to the expense and trouble of fighting the matter through the courts, for the sport is not on a foundation strong enough to warrant the expenditure of much money in its defense.

PORTLAND TRAINING AT BAKERSFIELD.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO THE TIMES.]

BAKERSFIELD, Feb. 27.—All the players on the Portland team of the Pacific Coast League who are to train in this city for the coming season are comfortably housed in the Southern Hotel. Louis Castro received transportation to this city at Baltimore over a week ago, and is reported en route. But some of the Eastern magnates are trying to interfere with his Portland contract, and this may delay the clever shortstop's arrival. Walter McCreedy and Sam Iburg are expected on one of tonight's trains with manager and owner Fred Ely. They have been in San Francisco. John P. Thielman is en route from Milwaukee.

The following players are now here and have already commenced training: Ike Butler, Charles Shields and Charles Druhot, pitchers; Harry Steelman and Daniel F. Shea, catchers; Jerry Freeman, first baseman; Ervell Beek, second base; Ike Francis, third base; Phil Nadeau and Kirby Drennan, outfielders.

Ike Butler, a holdover pitcher, was the first to arrive. He landed in Bakersfield about December 20, and has been on the box for the local nine every Sunday. Jerry Freeman and Phil Nadeau have been here six weeks, and participated in all the Sunday games. The latter took possession of second base, while Freeman had his regular station on the initial bag. Nadeau has given some phenomenal exhibitions at bat, putting the ball nearly out of the park many times. He led the league last year with the stick. His fielding at second base is not first-class, but he belongs in the field. Butler has been too much for the local teams, and if he can pitch the same ball against the big teams the Webfooters will have a great twirler. Freeman has a clean record at first base. Third baseman Francis is still quite fat, but put up two good games Sunday and Monday. Harry Steelman has a very peculiar style. He is a wiry young man and limber-jointed. While playing ball he kicks his legs and throws his arms. He does not appear to stop a thrown or batted ball until it is absolutely necessary, and then he catches like an automaton. He is a hard hitter.

While the Portland team is at practice at Athletic Park, exhibition games are to be played four times every week. Bakersfield will have a very strong team in opposition to the leaguers, and much enthusiasm is already shown. It is believed the local nine in its present strength will defeat the Webfooters in a majority of the games.

Last night the following members of Eastern leagues arrived, and are reported to be in first-class condition for tomorrow's game against Portland: E. H. Householder, Brooklyn; F. C. Raymer, Boston; W. E. Murdock, Colorado Springs; V. G. Drinkwater, New Orleans, and C. W. Curtis of Peoria. The best of the home talent are Catcher Bear, Tom Burke, formerly with Los Angeles, and Tom Harrell, an old-timer from Merced. The last named are prosperous business men of this city and will play against the league team.

RACES SURPRISE MANY SPORTS.

TRACK CONDITIONS AFFECT SOME NAGS STRANGELY.

Favorites Have Done Very Well the Past Week—Three Final Events Won by Outsiders—Curtis's Derby Trial Was a Good One.

The racing at Ascot Park during the past week has at least demonstrated the one fact that you can't most always sometimes tell. Dry tracks and sloppy ones have not seemed to affect the running of some of the horses, while others who were supposed to do their best on either kind have proven sore disappointments to their owners. The week's racing has shown that the sports need not be surprised at anything on a race track and many of them have come to learn that whatever happens is to be expected.

Favorites and medium-priced horses have about held their own during the week, and no long shots have arrived to bring solace to the ring. From the talk at the track the sports have done fairly well in their struggle to beat the books, and while some of the pikers have lost money, others who bet large amounts have won handsomely, one sport having won about $3000, the last $1500 of this sum having been pulled down on Friday.

What might be called noticeable happenings of the week were the victories of outsiders in the last race on three different days. Farmer Jim landed on Thursday at 4 to 1, McGrathiana Prince on Friday at 10 to 1 and Lowrieea at 15 and 10 to 1 on Saturday. Form charts are valueless when these things happen, and dope students are entirely at sea.

The sports are still talking of the easy manner in which Bill Curtis won the Ascot Derby on Saturday, his time being 2:37. As a matter of fact only four American Derbies at the same distance have been run in faster time during the past twenty years. Still, it must be remembered that while Bill Curtis won easily by four lengths, he had the best of the weights over any of the big Derby horses that finished in the money, but had the worst of the going, for the track was muddy and the race was run in a drizzling rain that blew from the south in the runners' eyes all the way through the stretch. His light weight would doubtless offset the advantage that any of the big Derby winners would have on a fast track.

Curtis is entered in the Chicago Derby at one and a quarter miles, and is expected to give a good account of himself, for a number of horsemen believe he is one of the best three-year-olds in America.

GRIFFIN IN TROUBLE.

EVEN ASCOT AFTER HIM.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW ORLEANS (La.) Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The scandal over H. Tommy Griffin clearing up $30,000 on Sweet Pepper and his subsequent suspension is the talk of the turf here. The stewards of Ascot Park, Los Angeles, where the western division of Griffin's stable is now racing, today telegraphed the Crescent City Jockey Club for a copy of the ruling. It has been forwarded not only to Los Angeles, but to San Francisco and all other racing organizations in this country. Yesterday the stewards had Trainer J. H. McClosky of the Griffin stable before them and he was suspended. The fact that California is wiring about Griffin leads local turfmen to believe that drastic measures will be taken against him out there.

COLLEGE MEN ON THE DIAMOND.

BASEBALL SEASON OPENS IN EARNEST THIS WEEK.

Pomona Will Not Have as Easy Run for Pennant This Year—St. Vincent Will Show up Well—The Schedule of Games.

This week college baseball will open up in earnest. Pomona, as usual, is in the van. Her team has been in active practice for two weeks past. Many of last season's men are in school this year, and the personnel of the team will be little changed. The knowing ones say Pomona will not have the same easy run for the championship that she has had for the past few seasons, but the Congregationalists are as hopeful as ever.

St. Vincent College, rankling from her disappointment in track athletics and seeking only a fair chance to show her prowess, promises to make things hum on the diamond. Capt. Moriarity is a twirler of renown, and the Higgins brothers are all splendid infield men, Martin at short will be hard to beat, and there is excellent talent for the outfield.

Occidental is as yet a doubtful quantity on the diamond. Her whole strength has been thrown into the formation of a track team that is a credit to the college, many of the baseball men are out on the track every day, and it is too early to give an idea of the relative strength of the nine; but it is safe to say that the Presbyterians will be present with the goods when needed.

U.S.C. has been fortunate in securing Darby, the Long Beach High School crack shortstop. He is one of the best infielders in the southland, and probably the best amateur shortstop outside of the league teams. Broderson will occupy the box for the Methodists, and in the intervals of track instruction he has received some valuable suggestions from Winnie Cutter, the champion spheroid twirler of the Fisher tribe. Flint will probably wear the catcher's mitt. Miller of the Law School has qualified for third base, and Shark Lennox will hold down second. If the ban is raised from E. Caley he will be a shining star at the initial plate. Garcia, Dean, Henderson and Waddell are trying hard for the outfield positions. The U.S.C. diamond has been carefully prepared and Manager Broderson is pleased with the bright prospect for the opening of the season. Schedule of games to date:

U. S. C. vs. St. Vincent; Occidental vs. U.S.C.; Pomona vs. Occidental; Woodbury vs. Compton High School.

CHESS CLUB ELECTION.

The annual election of officers and directors of the Los Angeles Chess Club will be held at the clubrooms in the Los Angeles-Pacific building on Fourth street on Monday, March 28, and the members are already preparing for the event. It is too early to forecast the results, but in all probability there will not be any changes from the present list of officers, providing they express any desire for re-election. President A. R. Greenwood, who has presided over the destinies of the club for the past three years, has been proposed for president again and may be a candidate.

The second division tournament has been brought to a close and the cup was won by Grant, who is so far ahead that the player in second position could not take the cup should he win all of the games he has yet to play. The tournament has been a very successful one in every way, and a number of new men have been developed. There is no other tourney in sight at this time.

GOLF PLAY.

ANNUAL CHAMPIONSHIP.

Local golfers are looking forward with much interest to the championship play that will come off at the Los Angeles Country Club on Friday and Saturday of this week. It is the open championship of Southern California and the entry list promises to be a large one for this event is always attractive to local and visiting golfers. The contest will be at 72 holes medal play, the first half on Friday and the second half on Saturday. The entry list will close Thursday night.

LACROSSE.

INTEREST BEING KEPT UP.

Now that lacrosse has proven to be an acceptable sport to the pleasure-loving people of this city, the local club will bend every effort to make it popular. To this end it is lending every encouragement to the organization of the team at Riverside and will give the country players a game in this city in about three weeks. Following this the local team will play a match with Santa Barbara and they may summon up enough courage to tackle some of the clubs around San Francisco.

BALL MAGNATES MEET.

WILL ARRANGE SCHEDULE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Among the persons most interested in the major baseball leagues there promises to be a very busy week. President Ban Johnson of the American League arrived here tonight, and tomorrow he will convene the annual schedule meeting of his organization. The annual schedule meeting of the National League will begin here twenty-four hours later, and from present indications there seems to be little doubt that both organizations will adopt non-conflicting schedules or playing dates for the coming season.

After the conference today it was announced that a new Committee on Schedule, consisting of Frank J. Farrell of this city, C. A. Comiskey of Chicago and C. W. Somers of Cleveland had been appointed. The same men were named to act as a Committee on Rules.

Olinda Buries Covina.

FULLERTON, Feb. 28.—The baseball game at Anaheim today between Covina and Olinda resulted in victory for Olinda. Score: Olinda 22, Covina 1; hits, Olinda 14, Covina 3; errors, Olinda 3, Covina 11; batteries: Olinda, Crandall and Easterly; Covina, Dean, Gray and P. Aguayo; struck out, by Crandall 13, by Dolly Gray 5. Nearly 200 residents of Covina came down on a special car to witness the game, making the attendance over 1000.

UNION'S RESPONSIBILITY.

Indicted by the Chicago Grand Jury for Violent Criminal Acts and Outrages.

[Chicago Post:] The grand jury has returned indictments against these men: C. T. Werner, president, and John M. Shea, treasurer, of Plumbers' Union, No. 4; Fred Mitchell and Charles Smith, members of this union, and Edward Hock and John Mucher, alleged professional sluggers.

Here is the complete chain, not a link missing, between the officials of a union and the slugging of non-union workers, some of the latter being women. It appeared to the grand jurors that the union president and treasurer had been in a conspiracy with the two members and the "professionals" hired to commit violence. And the testimony was strong enough to warrant indictments. It is only a few days since President Schardt of the Chicago Federation of Labor said: "Every trades unionist is opposed to slugging." He also said that wherever a union man was guilty of violence he was "severely dealt with" by his union.

Now, here is a case in which the officers of a labor organization, two of its members and two men who are supposed to make a living by "slugging" appear to have conspired to do violence, and the violent acts were paid for out of the organization treasury. How do these facts square with the statements of union leaders that unionism is opposed to violence and punishes its members who use physical arguments? After this can the union leaders say that their organization are not responsible for the disgraceful picketing of funerals and the demonstration in connection with the livery drivers' strike? Or if they do say this, who will believe them?

We have said repeatedly that organized labor must bear the blame for the violence which accompanies strikes until it takes open and stern measures to stop it. But with such instances as that of the Franklin Union before us it is difficult to believe that any serious effort is making within the body as a whole to eliminate those features of unionism which, if left uncorrected much longer, must bring organized labor into disrepute with all right-thinking persons.

EAST LOS ANGELES.

One of the most largely attended funerals held on the East Side for many months was that of Oster Anthony Le Sage, yesterday afternoon, at the Church of the Sacred Heart. Glass, C.M. D.D.; Revs. Cody, C. M. Lilley, C.M., and Clement Molony, pastor of the Church of St. Agnes. The music was rendered by the juvenile choir, directed by the Dominican Sisters. The Army of Health

STUARTS
DYSPEPSIA TABLETS
Are in Daily Use by more than 500,000 People.

If all the people in the United States, Canada and Great Britain who make daily use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets could be assembled together it would make an army that would outnumber our army of one hundred thousand by at least five to one.

Men and women, who are broken down in health, are only part of the thousands who use this popular preparation, the greater number are people who are in fair health but who know that the way to keep well is to keep the digestion perfect and use Stuart's Tablets as regularly as meal time comes to insure good digestion and proper assimilation of food.

Prevention is always better than cure and disease can find no foothold if the digestion is kept in good working order by the daily use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Mr. Thomas Seale, Mayfield, Cala., says: "Have used and recommend Stuart's Tablets because there is nothing like them to keep the stomach right."

Miss Lelia Dively, 4627 Plummer St., Pittsburg, Pa., writes: "I wish everyone to know how grateful I am for Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I suffered for a long time and did not know what ailed me. I lost flesh right along until one day I noticed an advertisement of these tablets and immediately bought a 50 cent box at the drug store. I am only on the second box and am gaining in flesh and color. I have at last found something that has reached my ailment."

From Mrs. Del. Eldred, Sun Prairie, Wis.: "Was taken dizzy very suddenly during the hot weather of the past summer. After ten days of constant dizziness I went to our local physician, who said my liver was torpid and I had overheated my blood; he doctored me for two weeks without much improvement; I finally thought of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets (which I had used long before for various bad feelings) and the first three tablets helped me. They are easily the best all-around family medicine I ever used."

The army of people who take Stuart's Tablets are mostly people in fairly good health, and who keep well by taking them regularly after meals. They contain no opiates, cocaine or any cathartic or injurious drugs, simply the natural peptones and digestives which every weak stomach lacks. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by druggists everywhere in the United States, Canada and Great Britain.

THINK THEY HAVE MURDERER.

OFFICERS AT SAN BERNARDINO HEAR SLEEP TALK.

Charles Lennox, Arrested for Robbing Postoffice at Bloomington, Wanted in Montana—Prisoner's Slumbers Disturbed, and He Gives Clue.

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 27.—Sheriff Ralphs has received a telegram from Chief of Police J. J. Auenu of Butte, Mont., requesting the former to hold Charles Lennox, whose description answers that of the man by the same name wanted at Butte for the murder of John Williams at Silver Bow, Mont., two years ago. Lennox has been acting strangely ever since he read the account of Henry Martin's execution at Butte the other day, for the Williams murder. Last night he talked in his sleep, referring in a rambling way to Montana, and though nothing definite could be made of his talk, it further strengthened the suspicion that he is the man wanted.

Since the execution of his supposed accomplice in the murder Lennox has exerted himself to secure liberation. He has written to the British consuls at San Diego and San Francisco, setting up a claim that he is a British subject. He was arrested here for the Bloomington postoffice robbery, and will be turned over to the Federal authorities unless positively identified by the Montana officials within the next few days.

THE TIMES IN SAN BERNARDINO.—A. W. Izenour, authorized agent, headquarters near depot and news stand, N.E. corner Third and E. streets. Subscriptions and advertisements taken. The paper is not handled in San Bernardino by W. H. Eadie, nor in the store of L. D. Houghton. For fear of the boycotman (the walking delegate) these persons refuse to keep the paper for sale, thus weakly yielding to the bluff of the boycotters and the friends of the local "Union." Issue, however, stands fast, the same as before, and independent citizens may always be served by him with their favorite journal.

REDLANDS.

TOUCHED JAPS FOR FIFTY.

REDLANDS, Feb. 28.—Last night a woman alleged to be Bessie Turner from the San Bernardino "Little Paree," who has been stopping at a Japanese lodging-house in this city, made a large haul. The Jap who runs the establishment and one of his friends with the woman enjoyed some gin until the woman saw that the Japs were under the influence, when she stole a purse containing $59 and hurried to the street, where a buggy containing two male companions was waiting. The three drove off in a hurry. Officers Rivers and Conklin gave chase and succeeded in landing the woman in jail this morning. She will have her hearing tomorrow.

RECORD-BREAKING SHIPMENT.

Of the five members two will retire by virtue of the expiration of their term and two have tendered their resignation. So far candidates have not been found. The election is held the first Tuesday in April.

RIVERSIDE SUPERVISORS START CAMPAIGN OF EDUCATION.

PROMPT ACTION PREVENTS WRECK.

SALT LAKE TRAIN SAVED FROM CERTAIN DESTRUCTION.

Washout Discovered by Patrolman Who Walked Several Miles to Notify the Train Dispatcher—Railroad Officials Will Reward Him for His Action.

A timely discovery made yesterday morning before daylight by Patrolman W. O. Dales and his promptness in reporting it, prevented a wreck on the Salt Lake Railroad.

Dales patrols the Garvanza district, the assignment of an officer to that section of the city having been made possible by the recent increase in the number of patrolmen.

During the rainstorm Saturday night the precipitation in that portion of the city was heavier than in the business center. There was more than an inch of rain there, and the small waterways were flooded. Between Avenues 60 and 61, the Salt Lake Railroad has been practically reconstructed, and there is a new fill several blocks long, the work on which had not been completed. The soft earth of this fill was not protected, and the water from the arroyos and other small water courses in that vicinity seemed to center their flood against this fill, eating it away until a hole was made under the track more than 100 feet long, and from three to ten feet deep.

The rails and ties held together by the strength of the fish plates and spikes, and from any point along the track above or below the washout, the track looked as if it was resting upon the ground instead of hanging suspended in air.

Dales discovered the dangerous condition of the track, and realized that unless the train dispatcher of the road was notified, a train might be sent over that division to certain destruction. No telephone was available at that hour, and the officer did not know how soon a train would come along. He knew that the first train would come from the direction of the city, and he, therefore, started citywards, intending to flag any train he met.

There is an early morning train on that branch, which runs to Pasadena. Dales walked nearly to the Salt Lake depot before he found means of communicating with the railroad officials, and told them of the condition of the track.

The train dispatcher told him he had undoubtedly saved a train, for that section of track is not patroled, and the early morning train would have been sent out as usual but for his warning. Instead, a construction train was sent to the place, and the washout filled in. The work was completed last evening. The officials of the company were notified of the policeman's action, and last night made inquiry at police headquarters as to where they could find him, saying it is their intention to reward him handsomely.

SANTA MARIA.

WOMEN FIGHT LIQUOR TRAFFIC.

SANTA MARIA, Feb. 28.—The ladies of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union are circulating a petition among the residents which will be presented to the Board of Supervisors at the next meeting praying for the enactment of an ordinance restricting the liquor traffic. The proposed ordinance would require every saloon-keeper to obtain a majority of the voters in his district to sign his application for a liquor license.

Bautista Corda, a well-known Swiss resident, died here Tuesday and was buried Wednesday in Garey.

Miss Grace Thornburg has returned from a year's absence to the northern part of the State.

Prohibition by the People.

There is no reason why prohibitory law should not apply as well to a city as to a town, and it should be equally as stringently enforced in one place as in the other. Some people will assert that it is impossible to enforce this law in the cities. This is not true, for there are several cities in Maine where liquor cannot be purchased. No law can escape violation. Murder, arson and robbery will be committed, but we can enforce the prohibitory law just as well as we can enforce our laws against other crimes. We must not submit to the proposition that this law is right as a law, but should be enforced with discretion. Whenever the majority of the people desire to change a law, they can do so; but we have in Maine no evidence of any strong desire on the part of the people to change this law. On the contrary, there is abundant evidence that they desire it to be strictly enforced in every part of the State. The people of Maine, the majority of them, live quiet, home lives. They believe in the home and everything that pertains to law and order. They believe in having peaceful and happy communities. They believe in the enforcement of the prohibitory law. The people are sovereigns and have the power in their own hands. Every attempt that is made to repeal or nullify this law is in the interest of disorder and crime, and should be and will be suppressed. The Republican party of Maine has always proclaimed itself in favor of this law and in favor of its strict enforcement. It is not believed that, at the instigation of the saloon owner or the frequenter of the saloon, they are intending to disavow their former declarations and come out in favor of license. We assert that we have the right to favor a prohibitory law for ourselves. We have the right to enforce it; and it has stood upon our statute books for over half a century.—[Joseph Manley, in the World Today.

FELLS ASSAILANT WITH A STONE.

PASADENAN IS CHARGED WITH ATTEMPT TO MURDER.

Family Trouble in Which William Jett Is Said to Have Used Revolver and Shotgun on His Brother-in-law.

PASADENA, Office of The Times, No. 36 South Raymond Avenue, Feb. 29. William Jett, a gardner employed by J. T. Moore, at No. 91 South Grand avenue, is in jail and will be charged before Justice Congdon this morning with an assault to murder his brother-in-law, James Reed, of No. 161 South Grand avenue. Until further particulars are dug up by legal process the case is likely to pass under the class of jealousy and drunkenness.

Jett, who is about 40 years of age, lives with his wife in a little house under the hill on Moore's place. They have resided here a number of years. Last fall Jett's sister and her husband and family, moved here. Mr. and Mrs. Reed have a son about twenty years of age, William Reed. It was William Reed, Jett's nephew, whom he accused of having despoiled his domestic felicity. Mrs. Jett and the Reeds say there is nothing in this story. Jett says there's more in it than now appears, and that it will come out in court.

About 1 o'clock yesterday morning Mrs. Jett went over to her sister-in-law's place. Jett came over, and, it is alleged, while in a drunken frenzy pointed a revolver at his wife and pulled the trigger. The shell did not explode, and Jett was disarmed and the gun thrown under the porch.

The gardener then returned to his home and procured a double-barreled gun. This time he seems to have made up his mind to kill young William Reed. The family was out of doors now, fearing to go to bed. Young Reed maintained a respectful distance in the background, but his father strolled defiantly into the teeth of trouble. Jett is alleged to have fired his shotgun pointblank at the elder Reed, who was only twenty or thirty feet away. Reed says he dodged the bullets. Then Jett had a little experience. Reed soaked him with a stone that felled him, and it being a family affair, the rest piled onto him and held him till the police came.

When Officer Kunzman arrived he found women with bloody shirt waists and women half clad and bloody, all too excited to tell anything, while Jett was cowed and moody, his hat and clothes crushed and torn. The revolver was found under the porch, with the snapped cartridge in it, besides several unsnapped ones, and the shotgun was taken into custody also. The right barrel had been fired, and Jett is said to have been drawing a bead with the left barrel when Reed felled him with the rock.

Jett spent the night in jail and yesterday morning was visited by his wife. He hadn't much to say, but offered to divide his property with her "and call it quits. Mrs. Jett replied that she didn't want any of his property and would never live with him again. They have one little girl about 6 years old.

OLD FAREWELL MEETING.

A farewell meeting was held yesterday by the membership of the First Christ Church in the old building, at Oaks avenue and Holly street. This evening the first service will be held in the magnificent $41,000 edifice, Arlington avenue and Union street.

The service last night was in the nature of a farewell to the old building, and instead of the regular service the pastor and a number of the congregation spoke briefly of the early struggle of the church and the prosperity that has attended the congregation that now permits the membership to occupy one of the finest church edifices in the city.

The First Baptist Church was organized November 7, 1883, and the membership consisted of the unlucky thirteen, which has grown to over 500. Rev. C. H. Hobart, the present pastor, is the seventh the church has had to leadership. His pastorate has covered a period of three years. He is a native of Massachusetts, and for eleven years was the pastor of an Oakland church. Under his strong leadership the church has prospered and gained its spiritual strength.

LONG BEACH.

NEW LUMBER COMPANY.

LONG BEACH, Feb. 28.—C. J. Walten, former Mayor of Long Beach, said today that articles of incorporation of the new lumber company will be filed tomorrow. It will be called the Interstate Dock and Lumber Company, and will be capitalized at $1,000,000, with a paid-up capital of about $250,000. The company will do an exclusive wholesale business, and will employ from the start at least one hundred men. A planing mill and resawing plant will be put in and operated by the company, and the new Alamitos pier, for which a franchise was recently secured from the City Council, will be built and owned by the company. Several local capitalists have taken stock in the company and Los Angeles, Pasadena, San Francisco and Seattle capitalists are also interested.

EMPTY TREASURY IN OCEAN PARK.

BUT NEW CITY'S FRIENDS WILL BUY FIRST WARRANTS.

Scramble for Number One Will Make it Sell Much Above Par—Inventory of Assessable Property.—Five New Business Enterprises.

OCEAN PARK, Feb. 28.—At the first regular meeting of the Board of Trustees of the newly-created city of Ocean Park, to be held at the clubhouse tomorrow night, an empty treasury will confront the city solons. But as the assessment for 1904 is just about to be made the condition of the city's exchequer causes neither embarrassment nor alarm. It will be probably six months before taxes will be available on the assessment soon to be made, and in order to maintain a city government the municipality will draw warrants to cover running expenses, and friends of the new city stand ready to take these at their face. In fact, the rivalry for possession of warrant numbered one will run its value much above par. At the meeting tomorrow night the Trustees will estimate the city's expenses for the year and determine the rate of the tax levy. In anticipation of an ordinance declaring the levy, Chairman Burks of the Board of Trustees has today been taking an inventory of the assessable property of the city. Beyond stating that a very low tax levy will suffice to run the city, Mayor Burks offers no forecast of the probable action of the Trustees relative to sewer connection, franchises, public improvements, bonds, or other legislation.

GREAT FLOWER INDUSTRIES.

Ocean Park's carnation field of twenty acres affords employment now to about fifty persons. This city also has a violet bed of five acres, and another five acres devoted to other flowers.

NEW BUSINESS ENTERPRISES.

Last week five new business enterprises were launched here—a delicacy store, a grocery, a renovatory, a printing office, and a barber shop. Twenty-five new houses are in course of construction, and work will be commenced on many more cottages and business houses as soon as work is under way on the bath-house.

COMPTON, Feb. 28.—The engineer has completed the survey for the Los Angeles and Long Beach boulevard through Compton, and reports the air line everything that could be desired. A subscription of between $6000 and $10,000 has been raised to further the enterprise. The committee of twenty having this matter in hand will meet here Tuesday at 10 a.m.

EXPECT SCHOOL BONDS TO CARRY.

PUBLIC FAVORS PROPOSED NEW BONITA UNION SCHOOL.

Directors Issue Statement Which Reassures Many Doubters—Eighteen Thousand Dollars for Building. Laurette Canyon Park Company Incorporated at Lordsburg.

LORDSBURG, Feb. 28.—The directors of the Bonita Union High School have issued a letter to the taxpayers of La Verne, San Dimas and Lordsburg with reference to the proposed $30,000 bond issue for a new High School building. The statement of the directors has affected public opinion to some extent and it is probable that at the election next Thursday the bonds will carry by a large majority.

Some provision must be made for the large increase in the attendance at the High School within the next few years, and it is proposed to erect a building costing about $18,000. The balance of the money will be required in grading the grounds, lighting and furnishing the building, sinking a well and installing a small pumping plant for water supply and fire protection.

According to present valuations, La Verne will pay 43 per cent. of the entire bonded indebtedness, San Dimas will pay 33 per cent. and Lordsburg 25 per cent.

PARK COMPANY ORGANIZED.

The Laurette Cañon Park Company has been incorporated with a capital stock of $25,000, of which $10,000 has been subscribed. This company has acquired the Brooks and Davis properties on the hillside north of San Dimas wash. This is a beautiful tract of land, with fine shade trees and abundance of water. The company will improve the grounds and make the place a resort. The contract has been let for the erection of a large reservoir, and a fine hotel may be built later.

D. J. Gillette of La Verne is president of the company; the other directors are Mrs. E. L. and M. J. Gillette of La Verne and L. A. and J. B. Lorbeer of Pomona.

RAINFALL FIGURES.

The rainfall for this storm varied considerably. The measurements are:

SANTA MONICA.

CONTRABAND JAPS.

SANTA MONICA, Feb. 28.—Three Japs that had escaped from the British steamer Tottenham at Port Los Angeles were taken into custody in Los Angeles today by Deputy Customs Collector Sheldrick.

The men were stowaways on the steamer, which came from Karatsu, Japan, with a cargo of coal. They are said to have criminal charges resting against them in their native country. Whether it is for lack of visible evidences of patriotism in the preparations for war or for some more commonplace sin against the Mikado's realm, is not known here.

When the Tottenham arrived the captain was required to give a bond of $500 for each of the Japs, guaranteeing that the little brown man would not come ashore. The escape of the stowaways put the forfeits in greater jeopardy.

CLAREMONT.

CLAREMONT, Feb. 28.—Pomona College is to have bleachers, for which $200 has been spent. They will be put together without nails, so they can be easily knocked down and set up in different parts of the campus. The capacity will be 1000. The lumber will be laid on the ground tomorrow.

COLLEGE-TOWN NOTES.

Capt. Noble and Manager Wright returned last night from an interview with Occidental College relative to the track meet between the two institutions. The date is as yet undecided, but it will be either March 12 or 14. In regard to the entering of three men from each college in each event, it has been decided that Pomona may enter three men in any event, but can score only two places.

Extensive grading is in progress on East Seventh street, as far as the residence of Dr. E. M. Pease.

Prof. P. E. Spalding is confined to her home by an attack of German measles.

GLENDALE.

BALL AT THE HOTEL.

GLENDALE, Feb. 28—The Glendale Hotel was the scene last evening of the most brilliant and enjoyable society event of the season. The building, a seventy-five-room structure, was recently remodeled. Mrs. Hackman has charge of it. Misses Eulalie Hackman and Fay Goode united in giving a ball, which, notwithstanding the rain, was a great success. The parlors and corridor were profusely decorated with pepper boughs, smilax, carnations, violets and ferns. Dancing and various games furnished the entertainment. M. Robison and Mary G. Edwards won first prize in the game of flinch, while Fred McIntyre and Sue Barnwell received the booby prize. Rev. Mr. Merrill and Mrs. Newcome won first prize in progressive crokinole; Joe Strimple and Miss Eulalie Hackman being awarded the consolation prize. One hundred invitations were issued. The guests were Misses Edith Parker, Nina and Nola Lyman, Elsie Halliday, Fredona, Ruby and Nona Borthlick, Maud Lund, Lena Frackelton, Mabel Myers, Emily Broxhalme, May and Carrie Cornwell, Susie Parker, Helen and Annie McIntyre, Faith Sence, Anita Wells, Flora Kughen, Sue Barnwell, Mary Edwards, Francis Snell, Bertha and Jessie Patterson, Idell and Lucile Pittman, Ruth Byram, Miss Webb; Mmes. The Great Majestic Cooking Exhibition

MAJESTIC

BISCUITS, COFFEE AND CAKES SERVED FREE.

For the Modest Home or Palatial Residence

The purchase price of a cooking range should be considered least of all by a family of small means. To the cost of a cheap range add the cost of wasted fuel and repairs, and in the end it has cost more than the Majestic—the standard everywhere. Because the Majestic is built right—"all the heat properly distributed"—it will pay for itself in fuel saved several times during its long life. With ordinary care the Majestic will last a lifetime, with little or no outlay for repairs.

Not the cheapest, but the least expensive.

ESPEE BOILER MAKERS QUIT.

Seek to Force an Immediate Answer to Demands.

Want Wages Increased Two to Four Cents Per Hour.

Strike is General on Pacific Coast and May Spread.

Because the general officers of the Southern Pacific Company at San Francisco could not give an immediate answer to the demands made by a committee representing the Boilermakers' Union, all the boiler makers and most of the boiler makers' helpers on the Southern Pacific divisions between El Paso and Portland threw down their tools and walked out on strike Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. On the Los Angeles division forty boiler makers and ten apprentices struck, but the boiler makers' helpers are still working, and the big shops across the river will be running this morning as if nothing had happened.

The demands made by the union are for an increase of from 3 to 4 cents an hour in wages—the local raise to be from 38 to 40 cents—and the elimination of the personal record. It is understood that the strike will last but a few days, as matters are to be adjusted by concessions on both sides.

"This is merely another turn of the screw," said an officer, high in the mechanical department of the Southern Pacific Company last evening. "The strike will not be of long duration. It is well known that this company needs high-class boiler makers, and that they are absolutely indispensable to the running of the road. They necessarily swing a power by the strike, but their methods are coercion and their demands unfair. The committee which waited upon the general officers in San Francisco was told that their demands could not be settled short of the owners of the road, and General Manager Kruttschnitt left for the East to confer with Harriman. 'We must have this matter settled now or not at all,' said the committee, and without waiting the result of the Eastern conference the strike was ordered. In face of the fact that the Southern Pacific Company is paying higher wages to boiler makers than any other railroad in the United States, we feel that the company has gone far enough, and that any further concessions will simply be used as a whip handle by boiler makers on other roads to force wages higher. Certain it is, however, that this matter is of such far-reaching importance that the general managers at San Francisco could not settle it. It is the owners of the road who are held up, and it is therefore a matter for them to settle."

GAVE NO WARNING.

The general officers of the Southern Pacific at San Francisco who conferred with the boiler makers' committee were General Manager Kruttschnit, Manager James Angles and General Superintendent of Motive Power H. J. Small. The union was represented by President George McKein of Oakland, Secretary and Treasurer T. J. Schneider of San Francisco, and Vice-president F. E. Hayward of this city. The local union is entirely under the orders of District Union No. 6 of San Francisco, and upon receipt of a telegram from the North the men responded like a herd of sheep, driven by a will other than their own. No warning was given. They just quit, leaving someone else to clean up their mess and put away their tools. Yesterday all was quiet at the shops and there was not a boiler maker in sight.

A reporter for The Times upon entering the roundhouse was asked by a boiler helper: "Are you looking for a job?"

"Do you think Foreman McGuire will give me one?"

"Well, it might not be healthy for you to get a job as a boiler maker just now."

"But I need work. I need the money. Are the boiler helpers going to strike?"

"They will strike if any attempt is made to employ scab boiler makers. You better get out of here if you haven't got a permit from Sheedy."

The man then sought the superintendent and tried to have the "scab" thrown out, but the reporter had a permit from the master mechanic in his pocket.

LIKE A BAD DREAM.

"This strike comes especially hard to me," said J. H. McGuire, foreman of the roundhouse boiler makers. "I have been in the employ of the company for twenty-four years, and I have never belonged to any union and never will. I do not feel that I need to join a union to make an honest living, but I am between the devil and the deep sea here. They have tried to force me to join and have threatened me with my job, and if I should leave here I could not get a job anywhere else in the United States without joining the union. It is too bad, too bad. It is all like a bad dream. I would like to go home and sleep it off. I have nothing against the brotherhood of the boiler makers. It is all right for those who want to do it, but they ought to let the other fellow alone. They carry the matter too far at times.

"The running work here in the powerhouse needs at least twelve boiler makers every day. Almost every engine that comes in from a long run needs repairs, and the situation appears about as serious to me as the war does to some of those Japs or Russians across the water."

There are nineteen engines on the pits in the machine shop which will be held up by this strike, but the most serious crippling is experienced in the roundhouse, where the work is necessary and must be done in a hurry. The boiler makers were working on a ten-hour schedule at 25 cents an hour, with time and a half for overtime and for work on Sunday. The boiler makers' helpers are getting 25 cents an hour, but are not capable of taking the places of the boiler makers, nor would they if they could. If the strike continues for any length of time it may prove one of the most serious ever experienced on this coast, and the strikers threaten to carry it into Eastern divisions of the Southern Pacific if their demands are not granted.

Broadway Theater.

The Broadway Theater will present a new bill for its patrons this afternoon, and Manager Morganstern has endeavored to make an entire change throughout his programme. Included are DeHollis and Velore, comedians; Walter Jones, female impersonator, and the Wheelers in an original marionette act. Montgomery, the baritone, has some new songs.

Change in Pacific Electric.

Frank Van Vranken has been appointed superintendent of the Los Angeles lines of the Pacific Electric Railway Company to succeed J. B. Rowray, who will now devote his entire time to the northern division. Van Vranken is also superintendent of the Long Beach and Whittier branches, and the two positions will be combined. The change will take effect tomorrow.

Struck by a Car.

Mrs. Schaffer, a colored woman, living on East Ninth street, was knocked down and badly shaken up by a car in front of her house last night. In attempting to board she stepped too close and the rear step knocked her feet from under her. She got up, but fainted from fright, and for a time it was thought that she was seriously hurt and the company's physician was sent for.

Hospital Club.

The Kaspare Cohen Hospital Club held its regular meeting yesterday and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Miss Dora Goldring; vice-president, Miss Rose Becker; secretary, Miss Pauste Hamerman; treasurer, Miss Rose Horwitz. The club was formed about three years ago for the purpose of aiding the Kaspare Cohen Benevolent Hospital on Carroll avenue.

Purity Conference.

The Purity Conference will meet at 2 o'clock this afternoon and at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the First Baptist Church. Mrs. Emmma Pasch will speak on "Perils in the Home" and Rev. E. P. Allen will discuss "Perils Outside," at the afternoon meeting. At the evening meeting Mrs. W. W. Murphy, national superintendent of the purity work in the W.C.T.U., will speak. Conductor's Funeral.

The body of J. R. Foster, the Santa Fé conductor, who was murdered by a tramp at Peach Springs, Ariz., Saturday morning while putting hobos off his train, will arrive in this city today. The funeral will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from Bresee Bros.' undertaking establishment and will be conducted by members of the Brotherhood of Railway Conductors. The widow of the murdered man is in Los Angeles. His home was in Needles.

Thought That Kills.

Dr. Alexander J. McIvor-Tyndall spoke before a large audience yesterday afternoon in Blanchard Hall on the subject, "How Thought Can Kill." He treated the topic from a literal standpoint, applying the laws of physics to thought and its manifestations. He based his argument on the statement that thought is a force, and therefore naturally subject to the same laws of attraction and repulsion as other forces. Next Sunday the psychologist will lecture on "Proofs of Immortality."

Feast of Purim.

The Feast of Purim will be celebrated today with special services by the congregation of the Beth Israel in the synagogue at Olive and Temple streets. Purim is celebrated in commemoration of the defeat of Haman's plans to destroy all the Jews in Persia, which were frustrated by God through the agency of Mordecai and Queen Esther. The feast is called Purim—"lots"—because Haman, prime minister to the King of Persia, cast lots in order to find out the day most favorable to his plans. Jewish people of the city are invited to today's services. Rev. Alfred Arndt will officiate.

Bell Benefit.

The benefit to be given at the Mason Opershouse this afternoon for the Bell Actors' Sanitarium promises to be a successful affair. Actors from all the leading theaters of the city have contributed their services, and Madame Helena Modjeska will appear in the sleep walking scene from "Macbeth." The Orpheum furnishes its star comedians, Messrs. Morosco and Nefil send two entire companies, the Ellerford company comes from the Grand Operahouse, and the favorites of the Casino appear in specialties. Forrest Dabney Carr, well-known local basso, will render the prologue to "Pagliacci."

Died in a Closet.

C. E. Smallwood, aged 35, an employé of the hotel at the northwest corner of Alliso and Alameda streets, was found dead in a closet on the second floor yesterday afternoon by Albert Sharp, another employé. He had been dead about an hour. By order of the Coroner the body was taken to Bresee Bros.' morgue where an inquest will be held today. It is believed the man's death was due to apoplexy. Smallwood had no relatives in this city, but on his person was found a letter addressed to a sister, who lives in St. Louis.

More Skin for Shisler.

Modern Woodmen of the World, mainly from Whittier and Long Beach, contributed pieces of skin for the grafting operation on C. M. Shisler at the Emergency Hospital yesterday afternoon. About forty men furnished the cuticle, which amounted to about 1200 pieces. Dr. Keyes has conducted eight operations of this nature on Shisler, and has grafted about 3200 pieces. The case has been one of particular interest, and the attending physicians are hopeful of a complete recovery, though the process is a long and labortous one. Shisler was burned by the explosion of an instantaneous heater.

Young Angeleno Manager.

From Mexico comes the information that E. R. Haggin, formerly of Los Angeles, has been appointed manager of the property of the Compania Exploradora de California y Anexas. He was educated here as a mining engineer, and went to Mexico as an expert to inspect the company's property in Oxaca. Young Haggin, who is but 24 years of age, was a former student in the local High School, which he left to enlist in the Fourth United States Cavalry at the outbreak of the war with Spain. He served some time in the Philippines. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Haggin of Long Beach.

Knocked Off His Wagon.

T. H. Kent, a teamster, who resides at No. 614 Mateo street, narrowly escaped death in a collision between a car of the Pacific Electric Railway Company and the wagon which he was driving yesterday afternoon. The accident happened on Mission road, near Daly street, along which Kent was hauling a load of furniture. The load was so high that he could not see the car approaching him from the rear, and the first he knew of its being near him was when it struck and demolished his wagon and scattered the furniture on the street. Kent was thrown under the heels of his four-horse team and two of the horses kicked him, and then the team ran away. The injured man was taken to the County Hospital near by. His injuries consisted of some terrible bruises about the legs and body and a broken finger.

PUZZLED THE POLICE.

Strange Actions of Woman With Two Children Cause Them to be Detained at City Jail.

A well-dressed woman about 32 years of age with a three-months-old baby in her arms and another child of 3 years, was taken to the Police Station from Arcade depot about midnight. The woman's actions were so mysterious that the suspicions of the depot officials were aroused and the police were asked to make an investigation.

She appeared at the Southern Pacific station with her two children about 11 o'clock and asked for a ticket to Portland, Or. The clerk made out the ticket and presented it, but the woman said she had no money with which to pay her fare. She sat down in the station for a while, but refused to tell anything about herself. At the Police Station she still refused to tell where her home was, but only begged to be allowed to go to a hotel. She made a pitiful picture with one baby in her arms and another clinging to her skirts.

The matron made repeated efforts to find out something about her, but beyond eliciting the information that she came from Pico street nothing was learned. The woman was evidently prepared for a journey, as she had a telescope grip and a large basket neatly packed with wearing apparel for the children.

The police are utterly unable to locate the woman's relatives and are at a loss to account for her strange actions.

LAKE SUPERIOR FROZEN.

BESSEMER (Mich.) Feb. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] For the first time in the memory of the oldest inhabitant, Lake Superior was frozen completely over at this end. Camped at the mouth of Black River is a party of Canadian Indians, who made the trip across the lake on ice, coming from the north shore with dogs and sledges. Nothing of the kind ever before was known since the settlement of Northern Michigan.

JAPS MAKE FURIOUS ATTACK.

Two Hours of Fierce Bombardment of Port Arthur and the Russian Ships Effects Great Damage.

Torpedo Boat Sunk and Cruiser Askold in Sinking Condition—The Novik and Retvizan Again Crippled. Fight to the Death—Yalu Victory.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, March 1.—[By Atlantic Cable.] A dispatch to the Daily Telegraph from Yinkow, dated February 29, says fifteen Japanese warships furiously bombarded Port Arthur from 10 until 12 o'clock this morning. The Russian cruisers Novik, Askold and Bayan, accompanied by four torpedo boats, steamed out to meet the attack. They were, however, forced to retire. The Askold was in a sinking condition. The Novik was badly damaged, and a torpedo boat was sunk. The Russian battleship Retvizan was again damaged. The Japanese withdrew in good order.

ONE JAP BOAT SUNK.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Feb. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch]. The Telegraph's Chemulpo correspondent cables that it is reported the Japs again attacked Port Arthur at 10 o'clock this morning. They damaged the fortifications and sunk two Russian gunboats. One Japanese torpedo boat was sunk.

HAVE THEIR ORDERS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

LIAO YANG (Manchuria) Feb. 29.—Foreigners living at Yinkow say that the Japanese fleet has received orders to attack and capture Port Arthur on March 1, at all costs.

NOTHING LEFT BUT FIGHT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PORT ARTHUR, Sunday, Feb. 28.—Gen. Stoessel, commander of the garrison here, has issued a general order, directing the attention of the troops and inhabitants to the fact that the Japanese intend to land and seize the fortress. The general declares the Japanese consider the seizure of Port Arthur to be a question of national honor, and from their obstinate attacks and bombardment of the fortress and bays, he can only conclude that the enemy will make every effort to capture the fortress, failing which, the Japanese will destroy the railroad and withdraw.

"The enemy, however," proceeds the general, "is mistaken. Our troops know, and the inhabitants are herewith informed by me, that we will not yield. We must fight to the finish, as I, the commandant, will never give an order to surrender. I call on all to become convinced of the necessity of fighting to the death. Those who leave without fighting will not save themselves. There is no way out. On three sides there is the sea and on the fourth will be the enemy. There is no means of escape, except by fighting."

Notwithstanding the heavy gale which is blowing, the lights of Japanese scouting vessels were visible in the offing during the night.

DROVE BACK THE RUSSIANS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHEEFOO, Feb. 29.—The Twenty-ninth Japanese Infantry, occupying Ping Yang, midway between Seoul and the Yalu River, on Sunday met a body of Russian cavalry north of Ping Yang and drove them back. It is estimated that 60,000 Japanese troops have landed at Chemulpo. The transports now are not escorted by war-vessels.

JAPS FORTIFY POSSIET BAY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ROME, Feb. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Minister of Marine was informed today that the Japanese are fortifying Possiet Bay, a Japanese squadron having arrived there. A force of Japanese troops was recently landed from transports, with Kerin as their objective point. Possiet Bay is less than a hundred miles from Vladivostok.

CAMPAIGN IN KOREA

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WEI-HAI-WEI, Feb. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.]—According to advices by steamer today, all indications point to a campaign of seizure and of defense in Korea and of harassing attacks on both the Russian flanks at Liao Tung and Vladivostok. There is nothing in the land situation to indicate the Japanese are aiming to take advantage of the opportunity to throw themselves upon the Russians on the Yalu before the Russians are ready for them. The collisions reported to have taken place in North Korea are affairs of outposts merely. Gen. Misthenko, with 2000 mounted Cossacks, has arrived at Ichio Yang.

RUSSIANS ON SHORT RATIONS

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TIEN-TSIN, Feb. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The most accurate information from Port Arthur states that already the town is on very short rations, and that the prices of foodstuffs are getting higher and higher. Very few civilians are in town, by far the most of them having fled, or having been sent away. But the problem of feeding those who remain is giving great anxiety to the authorities.

RUSSIANS ON THE YALU.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

YINKOW, Feb. 29., via Tien Tsin, 10 p. m. (Eastern time.)—[Exclusive Dispatch] Twenty-five thousand Russians are on the Manchurian bank of Yalu and 4000 mounted infantry troops and artillery hold the mountain passes thirty-five miles south of Wiju. China is circulating a rumor to the effect that the Japanese repulsed the Russians at Youmcheng in Korea, east of Yongampo. A few thousand Russians remain at Niuchwang.

BALTIC FLEET TO GO.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 29. [Exclusive Dispatch.] The Admiralty intends to dispatch the Baltic fleet to the Orient at once. Orders have been issued to prepare eight battleships, five cruisers and complete the unfinished battleships Alexander the Third, Suvaroff and Slava.

REGARD CABLE AS CONTRABAND.

CONTEMPLATED LINE BETWEEN JAPAN AND GUAM A VIOLATION. Chairman Meyer of the Committee on Foreign Affairs Says Russia Regards Proclamation Specific on This Point and Does Not Believe United States Will Authorize This Alleged Breach of Neutrality.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 29.—[Atlantic Cable.] If an attempt is made to lay a cable from the Island of Guam to Japan, during the continuance of hostilities, it will be regarded as contraband of war, under the proclamation promulgated yesterday. As pointed out to the Associated Press correspondent, the proclamation is specific on this point and it is not believed here that the United States will undertake or authorize such a cable now, as it would constitute a breach of neutrality, according to the Russian view.

NO FORMAL APPLICATION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—Thus far the United States government has not received formally an application from the Commercial Cable Company to land a Japanese cable on the island of Guam.

The government, however, has been approached in a tentative way by representatives of the country so as to ascertain how the United States would view such an application if it were made. No decision has been reached, although in the light of present information there is a manifest disposition to regard such a request as entirely reasonable and proper. It is considered that the laying of the cable would be a purely commercial transaction and that the granting of permission for the landing of the cable at Guam would not violate in any sense the position of neutrality which the United States has assumed in respect to the Russo-Japanese conflict. Russia has made no protest to the government against the granting of permission to land the cable at Guam. What action the United States would take in that event cannot be foretold, as it would depend entirely on the circumstances of the case.

REGRETS VICKSBURG INCIDENT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 29.—The statement of the commander of the United States gunboat Vicksburg regarding the Chemulpo affair, was communicated to the Foreign Office by the Associated Press correspondent today and was received as a complete and satisfactory explanation. Regrets were expressed that the incident had created so much feeling here.

PRINCE CHING "POINTS OUT."

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 29.—An official news agency today published the following dispatch:

PORT ARTHUR, Feb. 29.—According to advices from Peking, Prince Ching has pointed out to the Japanese Minister that the attitude of the Japanese living in China, who for more than a week have been spreading mendacious reports, is calculated to cause a rising against the Europeans. The Prince therefore requested the Japanese Minister to take the necessary preventative measures."

It is confirmed that a Japanese torpedo-boat destroyer was blown up and another sunk during the recent fighting. The wreck of the latter was subsequently washed ashore.

SEWING FOR THE SOLDIERS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 29.—The Czarina is untiring in her efforts to provide comfort for the troops going to the Far East and for the Red Cross Society. A well-organized department is now working at the Hermitage, adjoining the Winter Palace, where patterns and material for every kind of warm clothing are issued to ladies to take home and make up. The American, English and other ladies are enthusiastic in this work.

The greatest success was scored by the young Czarina in the opening of the exhibition of historical art objects at one of the museums here, the proceeds of which will go to the Red Cross Society. Tickets were sold by the Princess Belosselsky, who was Miss Whittier of Boston, and other ladies of high rank. The tickets nominally cost $2.50, but many people paid much more. State Secretary Palovtzoff, one of the richest men in St. Petersburg, paid $5000. Their Majesties and diplomats, members of the higher nobility and all the fashionable people were present.

Chicago Telegraph Boys on Strike Enjoined.

Government Says They Must Not Loiter in Crowds.

Boiler-makers' Strike Settled. Union Whisky Only.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The United States government has taken a hand in the strike of the Western Union Telegraph boys. Judge Kohlsaat of the Federal Court today issued an injunction restraining the youthful "unionists" from interfering in any way with the business or employés of the Western Union, American District, and Illinois District Telegraph companies. The order also enjoins the boys from loitering in crowds in the vicinity of the telegraph offices, or threatening any person having business with the companies.

Tomorrow an attempt will be made by Deputy United States marshals to secure service on the 100 or more strikers. The action of the court was based on the Interstate Commerce Law.

STRIKE ON ARGENTINE LINES.

MILITARY GUARDING TRAINS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 29.—Railway employés on the Buenos Ayres and Rosario and Central Argentine lines are still on strike, says a Herald dispatch from Buenos Ayres. They demand an increase of 10 pesos a month in wages of men working on monthly salaries and a proportionate increase for others, and a reduction of working hours to eight hours a day. The strike affects only the roads mentioned, which were recently merged. Traffic is almost suspended. Trains are guarded by the military. The strikers assert that 12,000 men are out.

BOILER-MAKERS' STRIKE OFF.

SETTLEMENT AT CONFERENCE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 29.—The strike of the boiler makers of the Southern Pacific lines west of El Paso and Ogden was ended today. The settlement was effected at a conference held between a committee of the Boilermakers' Union and H. J. Small, superintendent of motive power of the Southern Pacific. Neither side will give out the terms of the agreement, but it is said that they are mutually satisfactory to the parties concerned.

WINDOW GLASS WORKERS QUIT.

NEW SCHEDULE REFUSED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STOCTON, Feb. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] All expert blowers at the Pacific Window Glass Factory refused to work this morning, as the management refused to grant a new schedule. The men discussed the matter with Manager C. J. Hurrie several days, but no agreement was reached. Last week, the glass workers gave notice that they would not go to work today unless guaranteed a proposed schedule, with average breakage. They received no reply.

When the men went to work this season they consented to a small cut in wages, as the factory had considerable trouble last season before running smoothly. The men claim that when running this year the regular schedule was to have gone into effect. Then came a new schedule of wages adopted at Pittsburgh, which called for a reduction of from 15 to 20 per cent. on certain kinds of glass.

Expect Boiler Makers Strike.

TUCSON, Feb. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A strike has begun among the boiler-makers of the Southern Pacific shops here.

FOR GENERAL STAFF.

Second Report of Lord Esher Committee, Just Issued, Gives Details of Proposed War Office Reforms.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

LONDON, Feb. 29.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The second report of the Lord Esher Committee has been issued and gives details of the proposed War Office reform. The most important recommendation is the creation of a general staff, which, in the words of the committee, consists of a department devoting undivided attention to military problems in the widest sense, and a body of officers occupied in time of peace in training all ranks of the army and prepared to direct operations in the field.

Other important recommendations are the organization of the army by brigades instead of army corps and the creation of five "generals commanding in chief," commanding troops in five districts, freed from routine work, which will henceforth be changed to be administrative districts under major-generals, and the abolition of the linked-battalion system.

With a view to ensuring the infusion of new blood, the committee urges four years as the maximum period during which an officer shall serve as military member of the army council. He should then resume active service for at least one year before again serving in the council. The same rule, the committee urges, should be enforced throughout the military staff of the War Office.

In order to emphasize the allegiance of the army to the King, the committee recommends that nobody except the King or his representatives abroad should hold levees, and the committee also recommends that no levees should be held except by royal command.

A feature of the report which meets with general approval is the final disappearance of the Brodrick system involved in the abolition of the army corps, with the exception of the first or expeditionary army corps at Aldershot, which is still retained.

THE MACKAY COMPANIES.

Commercial Cable Company Stockholders Are Invited to Exchange Stock for Shares in New Trust.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 29.—Clarence H. Mackay, president of the Commercial Cable Company, today addressed a circular letter to the stockholders of the company, inviting a deposit of their stock for exchange for shares in a trusteeship created under the laws of Massachusetts under the name of "The Mackay Companies." The capitalization of the Commercial Cable Company, which also owns the Postal Telegraph and Cable Company, is $15,000,000, upon which 8-per-cent. dividends are paid.

The Mackay companies have used for exchange for this stock $30,000,000 par value of its own 4-per-cent cumulative preferred shares and a like amount of common shares, so that each stockholder in the cable company will receive for his holdings 200 per cent. in the preferred and 200 per cent. in the common shares of the new concern.

The Mackay Companies is an investment trust designed by Mackay to perpetuate the name of his father, to provide for the development of the companies which he founded and to safeguard, on an even basis with his own, the interests of those who have invested in the enterprise with which John W. Mackay was most conspicuously identified.

German Column Goes up Against Strongly-entrenched Hereros and Loses Five Officers.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

BERLIN, Feb. 29.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Col. Leutwein, Governor of German Southwest Africa, telegraphed from Swakopmund yesterday that Maj. Estorff's column, February 25, had a severe ten hours' engagement with the Hereros near Otjihinanaka. The Hereros held their position, against which artillery was not available. Toward evening Franke's company broke through the enemy's formation and the natives retired. Their strength and the number of their losses are not known. One German officer was killed and four officers, among them Baron Schoffau Weihr, and four men, were wounded.

NATIVE TROOPS REVOLT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

BERLIN, Feb. 29.—The native troops at the Cross and Nssanarg River region of German Kamerun, Equatorial West Africa, have revolted. Dispatches reached the Colonial Office today, saying that several factories of the Northern Kamerun Company have been looted and that four Germans have been killed. All the German African colonies are in a ferment over the statements spread by Hereros runners that the Germans are being driven into the sea.

FEBRUARY THE COLDEST.

The record of the weather bureau shows February to have been the coldest on record except 1895, and the season as a whole is colder than any save that of 1892-3, which was a record-breaker. Snow has fallen on nineteen days of the month, and three days have produced rain. The severity of this winter is manifested by the increasing number of deaths. The rates for the four February weeks are as follows: February 6, 15.92; 13th, 17.68; 20th, 17.41; 27th, 18.02 per 1000 of population.

HE DIDN'T WEAR TIES.

"Pardon me, sir," exclaimed the house detective at the Auditorium.

"What for?" asked former Governor Frank Stennenberg of Idaho.

"You forgot to put on your necktie.

"I did not."

"But you have none on, sir, begging your pardon."

"Young man," said the former governor, looking out upon the frozen lake, "you will do well to stick to your sphere. I have not forgotten my necktie. Sherlock Holmes is wrong this time. I never wear neckties."

"Well, you'd better wear one in this hotel," said the detective.

"Tut, tut, my little man," said the governor. "Run along. When I look for fashion hints, I will read the Sunday newspapers instead of consulting a four-flush detective with No. 13 shoes. Now run away."

He ran.

UNION PACIFIC STATEMENT.

The Union Pacific made a good January statement, showing an increase of 6.9 per cent. in gross and 20.1 per cent. in net. The operating expenses showed a small decrease, and altogether, the figures were better than expected, when the reports of other roads are considered.

WISCONSIN'S BURNED CAPITAL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MADISON (Wis.) Feb. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It is probable that no special session of the Wisconsin Legislature will be called to consider the rebuilding of the burned capitol. Gov. La Follette held another conference with the State officers today, but nothing was decided. It is said that the special building commission had tentative plans which involved the removal of that portion of the building destroyed by the fire. It is estimated by Architect Porter that the repairs can be made for $300,000. The north wing is unharmed.

ST. PETERSBURG CALM.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORT ARTHUR BOTTLED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, Mar. 1.—[By Atlantic Cable.] A dispatch from Shanghai to the Daily Graphic says the Russians are transferring the guns from the disabled ships at Port Arthur to the forts there.

A dispatch from Chefoo to the Standard, dated Feb. 29, says a Japanese cruiser and torpedo boat entered that harbor without lights, at 1 o'clock on the morning of the 29th, and it is believed that they embarked the Japanese who took refuge there after the attempt to bottle up Port Arthur.

A Tokio correspondent of the Times cables that the steamers sunk by the Japanese on either side of the Russian battleship Retvizan at Port Arthur practically obstruct the entrance to the harbor.

WILL KILL THEM ALL.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 29.—The Bourse Gazette says: "There is no need for alarm over the blockade of Port Arthur. The war will not end until not a single Japanese is left alive in Korea. The successes of the Russian arms will reassert the international laws defied by London and Washington, which have realized Japanese subjugation of neutral Korea."

The Bourse Gazette urges the government to issue patriotic stamps, the proceeds of which shall go to strengthen the navy, all the patriots' letters to carry an extra kopec stamp which will bring in $3,500,000 a year. Tradesmen also are invited to affix a kopec stamp on every purchase. Other independent contributions are expected to yield $15,000.

ADMIRAL INGLIS'S COMMENTS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Feb. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Rear-Admiral John Inglis said tonight with reference to the Yinkow special announcing another engagement at Port Arthur:

"Once more three Russian cruisers, Bayan, Askold and Novik, attended by some torpedo boats, went out to see what was happening, but from the terms of the report there can be no doubt that they retired precipitately. The firing by the Japanese fleet lasted two hours, and then the ships withdrew in perfect order. They never stay long, it will be noticed, as they are afraid of the big guns of the forts getting their range."

Rear-Admiral Inglis, who occupied an important naval post in Japan for years and is pro-Japanese, suggested that the repetition of the names of the three Russian cruisers in all reports for the last ten days or so would suggest that these are the only effective ships at Port Arthur.

It is said that the Pobieda, Peresviet and Sevastopol, all battleships, are still effective, and that they are kept for safety in the inner roadstead and cannot get out quickly.

THREE HOURS OF HAIL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WEI-HAI-WEI, Feb. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Japanese attacked Port Arthur again today, and for three hours poured a hailstorm of lead into the fortifications, doing great damage. Russian cruisers Askold and Novik were crippled beyond repair, and the damaged cruiser Retvizan suffered from the furious onslaught. The Japanese fleet was seen off Shangtung early in the morning.

AWAITED AN OPPORTUNITY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, March 1.—The pause in the war operations in the Far East has been broken by another Japanese attack on Pprt Arthur, of which only brief accounts are yet to hand. Reports, however, show a repetition of the now familiar tactics of Japan, and it is presumed that this attack was made in bad weather, previous telegraphic advices having reported a severe gale raging at Port Arthur. As usual, the Japanese did not remain long enough off the harbor to enable the gunners at the fort to get their range.

DEMORALIZATION OF TROOPS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Mar. 1.—The Tien-tsin correspondent of the Express says that the repeated attacks on Port Arthur have created a condition approaching demoralization among the troops. There is litle hope that the place will be able to make a long defence. Rations there are already exceedingly short, and it is expected that when the town is invested, hunger will soon compel its capitulation.

HOLDING THE PASSES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

TIEN-TSIN, Feb. 29.—Twenty-five hundred Russian troops are reported to have reached the Yalu, and two regiments of mounted infantry with artillery held the mountain passes some thirty-five miles south of Wiju.

PART OF A PLOT.

Shooting of Two Postal Clerks on Train Near Meridian, Miss., Was to be Followed by Robbery.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

BIRMINGHAM (Ala.) Feb. 29.—According to reports received by the officials of the Alabama-Great Southern Railroad, the shooting of two postal clerks on a northbound train today, two miles north of Meridian, Miss., was part of a plot to rob the train.

The shooting was done by Jim Paris, a negro, who boarded the train in the Meridian yards as it was pulling out. Before it was under good headway, Paris entered the postal car and opened fire on Clerks T. J. Stockton and A. J. Hass, wounding Stockton seriously and wounding Hass in the arm. The negro then seized a package of registered letters and jumped off. On leaving the train he fell and had one leg crushed under the wheels, but managed to drag himself three miles.

Bloodhounds were secured at Meridian, the train having backed to that place. Their scent led to the capture of Paris. Several of the registered letters were found in his possession. He was taken to jail at Meridian. The railroad officials say three or four negroes were involved in the plot to rob the train, though only one of them appears to have entered the postal car.

THREATS OF LYNCHING.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

MERIDIAN (Miss.) Feb. 29.—The killing of Postal Clerk Stockton has caused great excitement. After Paris, the alleged murderer, was placed in jail here, a mob gathered about the strongold. Fearing a lynching, the Sheriff notified Gov. Vardaman, who has called out the local militia.

Lives Lost in Quebec Fire Which Consumes House Before Neighbors Notice Flames—Fathers Absent.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ROBERVALE (Quebec) Feb. 29.—Twelve lives were lost in a fire which destroyed the home of Thomas Guay, at St. Felician, today. When the fire was first noticed by neighbors, who live at some distance, the house had been burned to the ground. In it at the time were the small children of Guay, Mrs. Philip Gagner and her three children. All were burned to death. Gagner and Guay, the fathers, were absent at work in the woods.

NEW YORK'S WORST WINTER.

NEW YORK, Feb. 29.—The winter of 1903-4, with its long roll of fires and disasters, closes today with a record in New York of having been the coldest in the annals of the weather bureau, the mean temperature having been 26 1-2 degrees. Blizzards and heavy snow storms were responsible for a snow fall of 28 inches, which cost the street-cleaning department more than $600,000 to remove. There have been nearly two thousand fires since December 1, and with the high cost of meat and provisions and the raising of rents, the sufferings and privations of the poor have kept pace with the record-breaking weather. Statistics of the United States bureau show that the mean temperature was 5 1-2 degrees lower than any winter during the last thirty-three years, and one degree lower than the winter of 1874-75, heretofore the coldest on record. The changeable weather caused an unprecedented amount of illness, especially pneumonia, and kindred diseases.

IRRIGATION JUBILEE PLANS.

Modesto and Turlock Join for Big Celebration.

Will Mark Completion Great Water System.

Capt. Cousins's Story of Queen—Floods Subsiding.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MODESTO, Feb. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A general meeting of the committees on the big Modesto-Turlock irrigation jubilee, April 22 and 23, was held this evening. Excellent progress was reported. This jubilee will celebrate the completion of the Turlock and Modesto irrigation systems, embracing 260,000 acres, under the Wright law.

The committees on transportation, decoration, finance, publicity and entertainment reported favorably. Five thousand dollars was raised. The town will be decorated with bunting, flags, etc. Twelve blocks of electric lights will help out. The railroads will grant half fare from Los Angeles, on the south and Redding, on the north. Special excursion trains from San Francisco and Sacramento, the latter via Stockton, will be run. Gov. Pardee, Judge Waymire, Hon. C. C. Wright and other notables will be present and speak. There will be a big barbecue on the last day. A special free excursion from Modesto, on the railway, will go over the irrigation districts, crossing twenty canals. The Third Cavalry Band from the Presidio, concerts, dances and speaking will be features. A working model of La Grange dam, the source of water supply, will be on exhibition.

The publicity committee is doing good work. Invitations have been sent to all local commercial bodies in the State.

The Merchants' Association of San Francisco is coming on a special train. Railroads have granted the use of their advertising space in the local press, and notices will be sent to every paper on the Coast. A special invitation has been sent to the press. Free conveyances will meet all Santa Fé trains at Clauston, a few miles east of here. A band will meet all trains at Modesto. The jubilee will be a lesson to irrigators. Capable men will be on hand to explain the workings of the system and scores of vehicles will take the visitors around Modesto. There will be ample hotel accommodations for all visitors.

LIGHTING MEN IN CONSOLIDATION.

ONE OF THE LARGEST DEALS IN SAN FRANCISCO THROUGH.

California Gas and Electric Corporation Buys Systems of Standard Electric Company of California and United Gas and Electric Company.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 29.—One of the largest deals that has taken place in this city for some time was consummated today at a meeting of the board of directors of the California Gas and Electric Corporation, when the system of the Standard Electric Company of California and the United Gas and Electric Company were purchased. The California Gas and Electric Corporation will assume control of its new holdings tomorrow.

The deal gives the California Gas and Electric Corporation a monopoly in the supplying of electric power to twenty of the principal counties in the State. The companies absorbed today are extensive concerns, each highly capitalized.

The Standard Electric Company of California bore a capitalization of $5,000,000 authorized stock and $5,000,000 in bonds, all issued and outstanding. The United Gas and Electric Company was capitalized at $3,500,000 in authorized stock, of which $2,286,000 is outstanding, and $2,000,000 in authorized bonds, of which $1,100,000 is outstanding.

The purchase price paid for the two concerns is kept secret by the corporations, but it is known to be a high one. The Standard Electric Company has its main plant in Amador county, and supplies the counties of Sacramento and San Joaquin, joining with the United States and Electric Company in supplying the bay counties around San Francisco Bay, with lines running through San José up the west side of the bay into this city.

The gas and electric concerns belonging to the above corporation, exclusive of the two purchased today, are: Oakland Gas, Light and Heat Company, Sacramento Electric, Gas and Railway Company, California Central Gas and Electric Company, Bay Counties Power Company, Fresno Gas and Electric Light Company, Valley Counties Power Company, Capital Gas Company, Central Electric Railway Company, Butte County Electric Light and Power Company, Chico Gas and Electric Company, Colusa Gas and Electric Company, Marysville Gas and Electric Company, Napa Gas and Electric Company, Nevada County Gas and Electric Company, Petaluma Gas and Electric Company, San Rafael Gas and Electric Company, Santa Rosa Lighting Company and the Woodland Gas and Electric Company.

MUST DIE AT SAN QUENTIN.

SUPREME COURT DECISIONS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 29.—Amos K. Zeigler and Ung Ting Bow must die on the scaffold at San Quentin, according to decisions rendered by the Supreme Court today.

Zeigler killed his wife with a butcher knife in a peculiarly atrocious manner at Doyle's Gulch, Santa Cruz county, August 6, 1900. He was tried, found guilty and sentenced to life imprisonment at San Quentin. He appealed and was granted a new trial by the Supreme Court. At the second trial Zeigler was given the death sentence and appealed again, but to no avail. Ung Ting Bow killed a fellow-countryman in Kings county, in a highbinder war.

SACRAMENTO RIVER FALLING.

FLOOD WATERS STILL HIGH.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 29.—The Sacramento River is steadily falling, registering 25.9 feet at noon today. There never has been a time that the least fear from the flood has been felt; the levees about the city offer absolute protection.

The back water, which has inundated the country south of the city limits is falling steadily; its greatest height has been attained. The water had been held in check by a natural ridge northeast of Freeport, which caused a steady rise between that point and the Y-street levee for a couple of days. This ridge has been topped and the backwater will not go higher.

The water which escaped through the Edwards break reached the vicinity of New Hope yesterday and last night became troublesome. The flood plane of the Mokelumne was already at its highest and the added water caused great alarm. The cross-levee on the Crawford Clark Ranch near Walnut Grove went out at 2 o'clock this morning, due to the pressure of back water from the Edward break.

Grand and Merritt islands, Clarksburg, are all right and the Lisbon district is safe. The river at the location named is falling and the back water from the Yolo basin is at a standstill.

At Rio Vista, at noon, the water was an inch higher than it was during the flood period of 1902, but the levees in that locality were reported to be intact. Rain was falling and great uneasiness was felt lest it should be general throughout the upper valley.

Railroad traffic has been reopened between this city and Oroville.

Snow is ten feet deep at Summit in the mountains.

STOCKTON IS SAFE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

STOCKTON, Feb. 29.—While all danger of flood has passed as far as Stockton is concerned, the country to the east and northwest is not so well off. This forenoon, the water from the Mokelumne at New Hope was pouring over the levees for a distance of a mile and a half and would reach the town itself as soon as the lower places filled up. The overflow from the Sacramento is rushing across the country into the Mokelumne.

About 3000 acres in the New Hope region are inundated and the flooded area is rapidly increasing. All the inundated crops will be ruined. The Tyler Island levees have broken and the water is pouring through gaps, impossible to close. From Ryer Island, water is up to the top of the embankment, with prospects of an overflow at the first high tide. Grand Island is considered safe. It is not believed that the island levees will hold out the day.

ADIN UNDER WATER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

REDDING, Feb. 29.—Word has just been received in Redding that the town of Adin in Modoc County, is under water, the Pit river having overflowed its banks above the town. At the store of Knight & Co., the water is over one foot deep on the floor.

RIVER FALLING STEADILY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 29.—The river at this point is falling steadily, and the volume of water pouring through the levee three and a half miles below this city is slightly diminished. It will be three or four days before the work of filling the gap in the levee will begin, and it will take two weeks to complete the work.

News from Sherman Island received tonight denies that the levees on that island gave way. There was some apprehension Sunday night, but the levees were kept intact. The same news of unimpaired levees came from Staten Island, but the report that Tyler Island is flooded is confirmed.

On the Sacramento side of the river below this city the conditions are still very bad, the country for miles being submerged. Judging by previous experience, the people hope to get some kinds of crops if the water is drained off within three weeks.

LIKE AN INLAND SEA.

FLOOD WATERS AT ANTIOCH.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ANTIOCH, Feb. 29.—Sherman Island is still holding out against the flood. There are, however, two large cracks in the cross levee on the upper division on Mayberry slough, through which the water is pouring. The levee between the breaks has begun to settle and water is coming through under it. A force of men are at work strengthening the levee with bags of sand. About two hundred acres are under water. An attempt is being made to get a dredger to this danger point tonight.

Today the water was higher than it has been for thirty-six years here. The river is full of floating trees, lumber and débris. The levees on Tyler Island and the Sargent track have given way and the fertile land presents the appearance of an inland sea.

BURNING OF THE QUEEN.

CAPT. COUSINS'S ACCOUNT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SEATTLE (WASH.) Feb. 29.—Capt. Cousins of the steamer Queen gave the following account of the disasters to that boat:

"At 4:40 o'clock Saturday morning, when we were thirty miles to the westward of Tillamook Light, on the coast of Oregon, on our way to this port, Second Officer Reese reported to me that the ship was on fire. I hastened from my stateroom and rang the fire alarm. Getting all hands on deck, we started to fight the fire, which was located in the after-saloon. When I came on deck, the flames were shooting thirty feet high out of the saloon skylight. We commenced playing water on the fire, but it continued to gather headway until the whole afterpart of the ship was in flames.

"When it loked impossible to keep the fire under control, I gave orders to clear away the boats, filling those on the starboard side with women and children. At this time, it looked impossible to save the ship. Finally, the starboard boats were lowered into the water. One of them, in charge of Second Steward Savage, got under the guard, and was stove in and later upset, the other boats going to the rescue.

"I do not know just how many people there were in the various boats lowered, though possibly sixty. The boats were out in the open until 8:30 o'clock when, believing we had the fire under control, I blew three whistles, signaling the boats to gather around the ship, and by 9:30 ally save those lost were on board again.

"The men in the 'Glory Hole,' when called at the discovery of the fire, came up through flames and blinding smoke. Three of these lost their way and rushed into the cockpit, where they were suffocated or burned to death.

"At the time the fire was discovered the wind was blowing from the southwest, probably fifteen miles an hour. There was a nasty, choppy sea running.

"I have no idea as to the cause or origin of the fire. It appears to have burst forth very suddenly, and but for the heroic work of the crew and passengers in fighting it, the ship and all aboard would have burned."

INVESTIGATING DAMAGE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) Feb. 29.—Marine surveyors representing the underwriters, today began an investigation of the damage to the steamship Queen resulting from the fire aboard her while at sea, Saturday morning. Though the disastrous work of the flames is plainly visible, a report giving in detail the loss is required. Her cargo, amounting to 1300 tons of general freight was damaged by fire and water, particularly the latter. It is roughly estimated that fully 20 per cent. of the freight stored beneath the saloon deck has been made worthless.

The survey will probably be completed tomorrow. With its conclusion, the agents of the underwriters and the managers of the Pacific Coast Company, which owns the vessel, will confer respecting the adjustment of the loss.

General Manager Ford of the Pacific Coast Company stated today that the Queen would be repaired, but that nothing would be planned until the surveyors had concluded their labors. The steamship Senator may take the Queen's place on the San Francisco run.

The Queen is still at the Ocean dock, which was thronged with people all day. Only those with passes could get aboard, for free access would have retarded the work of the surveyors and those discharging her.

Capt. Cousins was about the Southern Pacific all day. He was congratulated and warmly praised for the work he and his crew had rendered in saving the vessel. Most of the credit, he said, should be bestowed upon the crew and passengers. He requested special mention of the men in the engineer's department—the first, second, third and fourth officers.

STANFORD FOR AFFIRMATIVE.

DEBATE WITH CALIFORNIA.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Feb. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Stanford Debating Club, which has for the past week been considering the question submitted by the debaters of the University of California for the annual intercollegiate debate, have decided that Stanford will support the affirmative. The question is: "Resolved, That in cities of the United States of over 40,000 inhabitants a system of municipal government concentrating the executive and the administrative powers in the Mayor should be adopted."

The selection of the question fell to California and, according to agreement, Stanford has had a week to decide upon its choice of sides. The Stanford debaters were about evenly divided on the matter, the affirmative being chosen after a lengthy and heated discussion.

TRAPPER'S DEATH A MYSTERY.

INDIANS BURIED THE BODY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

VANCOUVER (B. C.) Feb. 29.—Mystery surrounds the death of Matthew Green, prospector and trapper, whose body was found by Indians near Tetejeun Cache. The Indians said his skull had been fractured by a fall while hunting. They buried the body. The provincial police are investigating.

Green had a fruit farm of forty acres near Wenatchee, Yakima county, Wash., valued at $10,000 or $12,000 and had no need to resort to trapping for a livelihood, but was enamored of the open-air life, and, besides, had in view the finding of placer diggings in the district where he spent so much of his life.

SLOPE BRIEFS.

Harbor Commissioners Enjoined.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 29.—In an opinion handed down today, Judge Sloss of the Supreme Court permanently enjoined the State Board of Harbor Commissioners from revoking the permits which Wetmore Brothers and other fruit commission men enjoy to the use of the free wharves of this city. The suit was the direct outgrowth of the harbor commissioners taking away the privilege given Wetmore Brothers and other commission merchants to the use of the wharves last December, the tenure in each case being for one year.

Move to Dismiss Appeal.

SAN JOSE, Feb. 29.—C. Williams, who won his suit in the local Superior Court today against Thomas J. Treanor for the position of county recorder, from which decision Treanor appealed to the Supreme Court, today filed notice that next Monday he will move the Supreme Court to dismiss the appeal, on the ground that the transcript of the record of the case has not been filed within forty days from the date of the settlement of the bill of executions. The motion will be based on the papers and files in the case.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 29.—In the case of the Union Savings Bank of San José against Ann Moore, administratrix of the estate of Isadore C. Moore, deceased, Judge Sewell today overruled the demurrer of the defendant, and held that the plaintiff, by its trustees, had the right to demand that the defendant pay to them $2500, that being the balance due on stock in the bank, that the deceased, Moore, agreed to purchase a few months prior to his death.

Why Mrs. Johnson Killed Herself.

SAN JOSE, Feb. 29.—In handling the estate of the late Mrs. Lavinia M. Johnson of Lawrence, who suicided by asphyxiation in San Francisco several weeks ago, it is found that all her property, valued at about $40,000, was heavily mortgaged and was about to be sold by parties holding a trust deed. There is now no question that despondency due to this prospective loss of everything she owned induced her to take her life.

Wrestler Dies of Injury.

STOCKTON, Feb. 29.—Sam Bass and Earl Smith, stable hands, engaged in a friendly wrestling match Saturday evening and early this morning Bass died, having ruptured an intestine. Students Build Roadway.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Feb. 29.—Hundreds of students donned overalls and jumpers to participate in the arbor day celebration today. The demonstration was practical in its nature, the students' building on the campus, with pick and shovel, a wide roadway a quarter of a mile long and a broad pathway of double that length.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 29.—The United States steamer General Mifflin was launched today from the Risdon Iron Works. The vessel is 122 feet 3 inches long, 27 feet beam, 12 feet, 10 inches depth and has an estimated speed of 13 knots an hour. She is designed for a water carrier for the government ships in this harbor.

BASEBALL GATHERING.

NEW YORK, Feb. 29.—The annual schedule meeting of the League of Professional Baseball Clubs was held here today, those present being President Ban Johnson, Charles Somers of Cleveland, Charles Comiskey of Chicago, T. J. Loftus, Frank J. Farrell of New York and R. L. Hedges of St. Louis.

President Johnson said that he expected the schedule committees of the National and American leagues would meet in joint session tomorrow, to compare schedules as to conflicting dates, and that the schedule of his league would not be given out today.

When asked if he expected any trouble in the schedule dates, between the two leagues, Johnson replied: "Why, no. The leagues had very little trouble last year, and I don't anticipate any trouble this season. Of course, I don't know what the National League Committee will have to say."

After four hours' session, during which only routine business was transacted, the meeting adjourned for the day.

JEFFRIES AND MUNROE.

NEW YORK, Feb. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Articles were signed this afternoon by "Jim" Jeffries, champion heavyweight pugilist of the world, and "Jack" Munroe, who had the better of the fight with "Tom" Sharkey in the six-round bout in Philadelphia Saturday, for a twenty-round fight which is to take place at the Yosemite Athletic Club, in San Francisco, during the last week of May.

Neither of the principals was on hand, and their managers appeared for them, "Billy" Delaney for Jeffries, and "Harry" Pollock for Munroe. There was no discussion over the terms, and the purse was agreed upon as $25,000.

The fight will be under Marquis of Queensberry rules, and "Eddie" Graney was selected as referee. The Yosemite Athletic Club was represented by "Jim" Kennedy, who posted a forfeit of $5000 to insure the match, as did also the two principals. The managers also agreed upon the use of soft bandages.

It is well known that Jeffries has been looking for a fight for some time, and when it was announced that he was prepared to meet the winner of Saturday's contest, the Yosemite Club immediately put in a bid for the fight. Judging from the fight that Munroe put up against Sharkey in Philadelphia, prizefighting experts say that Jeffries will find that he has a hard proposition on his hands, as the Butte miner is able to take punishment, and is fearless.

The purse is to be divided 65 per cent. to the winner and 35 per cent. to the loser. The stakeholder will be Harry Corbett of San Francisco. Each man is to put up a forfeit of $5000, and the club also is to post a forfeit of $5000. James C. Kennedy of the Yosemite Club offered $30,000 first, but when this was declined he raised his offer to $25,000. Eddie Graney of San Francisco was agreed on for referee.

SITE COMMISSION IN SAN DIEGO.

LOCATION FOR NAVAL TRAINING STATION TALKED OF.

Steel Men Going to Lower California to Inspect Iron Mines. Bishop Conaty Visits Old Mission Indian School—Franchise Granted.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The commission appointed to investigate this city as the site for a naval training station, composed of Capt. Moser, commandant of the training station at Goat Island, chairman, Capt. Nicholson of the cruiser Tacoma, and H. H. Rousseau of the engineering department, arrived this evening. They will be in town several days. Tomorrow they will visit the naval reservation and look over the proposed site, make soundings off that point, and conduct other work. No report will be made except the official one. It is considered doubtful if the northern station is moved, although an independent station may be established here. The Navy Department has sufficient land at the coaling station site for a training station.

STEEL MEN'S TRIP.

It is stated that C. W. French, U. S. Grant, Reid Kennedy, Willard Turner and others interested in the establishment of the steel plant will make a trip over Lower California this week to inspect the Gen. Webb iron mines, the ore from which is to be brought here and treated. It is claimed by those who have investigated that the pig iron can be manufactured here for $9 a ton and steel rails for $15. Mr. Fuller arrived from the East this evening. The party will leave on the St. Denis Wednesday evening. S. W. Croxton of Cleveland, Ohio, owner of mines at Canal Dover and a steel plant in Cleveland, as well as other properties, is here and will accompany the party. Mr. Croxton is brother-in-law of David Thomas, also a steel magnate.

BISHOP'S VISIT.

Bishop Conaty visited St. Anthony's Indian school at the Old Mission yesterday. A class of thirteen Indian boys and twenty-one girls was confirmed. The bishop then became the guest of the Young Ladies' Mandolin Club, at an informal concert. They played several selections and when the last had been rendered the bishop gave them a round of applause which made them proud. The bishop spoke of his pleasure in this, his first visit to the oldest of the great missions in the State, and of finding the schools so prosperous. As the children are taught in English most of them were able to understand what was said. The girls of the confirmation class wore gowns of white, with the long veil, while most of the boys were neatly dressed in black suits.

JUICE AND GAS.

The City Council tonight granted Charles E. Sumner of Cleveland, Ohio, an electric light and gas franchise. Sumner is supposed to be backed by H. E. Huntington of Los Angeles. A report is current here tonight that George Gould and party will leave for the North at 8 a.m. tomorrow, but Mr. Gould says he doesn't know when he'll go.

SUDDEN DEATH.

Jeremiah Flanders of Highland, aged 89, was stricken with apoplexy on a train en route here today, and died soon after arrival. He was coming to visit his granddaughter, the wife of General Secretary Campbell of the Y.M.C.A.

INCORPORATION OPPOSED.

Reports which have reached here are that there is determined opposition in the Imperial country against the incorporation of Imperial, and for the division of the county. Many of those who are opposing incorporation are said to want a wide-open town, which would not be so easy under the incorporation laws. As to county division it is reported the Southern Pacific, which has extensive property holdings in the section, will very likely oppose division for the reason that the corporation taxes might be radically advanced under a division.

THE TIMES IN SAN DIEGO.—Sold regularly by Harry Orcutt, authorized agent, at No. 1256 C street, and by J. C. Packard, No. 851 Fifth street; Loring & Co., No. 757 Fifth street; Gray's Book Exchange, No. 1256 F street; McKee, No. 1024 D street, and at the Hotel Robinson.
The following-named dealers refuse to sell The Times because they lack the courage to stand up against the small faction of local labor-agitators and their newspaper allies who have joined forces in boycotting The Times in San Diego, viz., Snyder, No. 634 Fifth street; Avey & Jones, No. 940 Fifth street; Sam Taylor, No. 852 Fifth street, and Percival Wood, No. 1214 E street. The latter, especially, has shown double dealing, hypocrisy and cowardice by his course. Independent citizens who have a contempt for the boycotting know where to find The Times.

ANSWERS THUNDERING SPEECH.

BERLIN, Feb. 29.—Count Von Buelow the Imperial chancellor, began a speech in the Reichstag today by saying he had left his sick room in obedience to a telephone call informing him that Herr Bebel, the Socialist leader in the Reichstag, was going to make a "thundering speech." This statement apparently reflects the importance which the ministry attaches to the Socialist attack on the government arising from the activity of Russian police agents in Prussia against Russian subjects who are suspected of being anarchists. The discussion of this matter was resumed in the Reichstag today before crowded galleries.

to Nagasaki to repair the damage they have sustained.

SENDING GUNS, SAYING PRAYERS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 29.—A further consignment of guns and ammunition was dispatched to the Far East today. All the churches are filled with soldiers offering up their devotions prior to their departure for the Far East.

ST. LOUIS EXHIBIT LOCATED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 29.—An exhibition is being arranged at St. Petersburg of all the Russian art objects which it was intended to exhibit at St. Louis. The proceeds will be devoted to the Red Cross Society.

IRISH FOR RUSSIA.

SCORE HAY'S ALLIANCE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 29.—A meeting at the Academy of Music under the auspices of the Clan-Na-Gael to celebrate the 126th anniversary of the birth of Robert Emmet has adopted resolutions scoring the so-called policy of the United States in the Far East and asking that the burden of favor be turned to Russia, rather than Japan. The resolutions at considerable length inveigh against all entangling alliances with foreign nations, score the action of the State Department in this regard and continue:

"We denounce the proposed arbitration treaty with England as a thinly-disguised alliance, publicly avowed by its English sponsors to be the first step to an open alliance intended to serve British interests alone and thus enable England to wage war on other countries with greater freedom."

Many recent acts of the State Department are singled out and criticized by the resolutions, which attribute Secretary of State Hay's motive almost entirely to friendship for England and hostility toward Russia.

TO GET LIAO TUNG FIRST.

JAPS' KOREAN CAMPAIGN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 29.—It would appear assured that the Japanese will not commit themselves to a definite general plan of campaign entailing marching through Korea without first endeavoring, says a Times dispatch from Chemulpo, to gain possession of Liao Tung peninsula.

The approach of warmer weather indicates the gradual breaking up of the roads. There is a report that troops south of Seoul find marching laborious. This circumstance, together with the fact that Chinampho will be open in fourteen days, doubtless explains the lull in disembarkation. Between Ping Yang and Sun Chon there is a tract of comparatively level country. The hills at the southern border constitute a strategical position of some value and these are now partially occupied by Japanese, whose numbers are daily augmented. Presumably the troops, as they are landed, will close up to this point and intrench it as a protection for the projected base, Chinampho.

Disembarkation, believed to be on a small scale, is taking place on the coast line immediately south of Hai-Ju, whence the troops will advance parallel with the Peking road, joining those in the neighborhood of Hwang-Ju, thus effecting a gain of five days on the march.

FRENCH SOLONS GET EXCITED.

TO AVOID WAR DEBATE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PARIS, Feb. 29.—[Atlantic Cable.] There was an exciting debate in the Chamber of Deputies today on the proposed interpellation of Finman Faure (Nationalist) on the measures the Minister of Marine proposed to adopt to assure the national defense. The government did not consider the moment opportune for such a discussion.

During the debate, M. Jaures, (Socialist,) caused a commotion by shouting to M. Ribot, the former premier: "Do you want to declare war?"

The interpellation finally was adjourned by 328 to 251 votes. This unusual government majority is looked upon as being favorable to the avoidance of a war debate.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PARIS, Feb. 29.—After the debate on the naval situation, the bill for the suppression of religious education was brought up. A motion to postpone discussion of this bill until October was rejected by a large majority. The discussion of the proposal to refer the report of the budget committee, which is opposed by the government, will be continued tomorrow.

MAY INVOLVE NEUTRALITY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PARIS, Feb. 29.—Vice-Admiral Bayle, in command of the French Far Eastern squadron, has cabled to the Minister of Marine that Russia has chartered a ship to go to Saigon, capital of French Indo-China, to take on board refugees. It is presumed that these are the Russian sailors rescued by the French cruiser Pascal at Chemulpo, Korea, and that it may involve the question of the propriety of their being turned over to Russia.

SPORTY RUSSIANS GOOD SIGN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CANNES (France) Feb. 29.—Prince Serge Galitzine, grand master of the horse of the Czar, has arrived here from St. Petersburg, to preside at the meeting of the Jockey Club of which he is president. The number of notable Russians here is taken to indicate that unusual calm is prevailing in the highest quarters.

FIGHTING IN KOREA.

TOKIO LOOKS FOR TROUBLE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

TOKIO, Feb. 28.—[By Asiatic Cable.] The first shots of the war on land were exchanged at Ping Yang. A small detachment of Russian infantry, evidently scouts, appeared this morning to the northward of the town. The Japanese outposts opened fire from a range from 1700 metres, and the Russians retired. The telegram reporting the incident fails to mention any casualties. It is presumed there were none, on account of the small number of men engaged, and the distance separating the opposing forces.

It is anticipated here that there will be a small engagement soon, somewhere in Northern Korea, where the Russians are scouting over an extended area, close to the Japanese positions, but a general engagement is not expected to occur for some time.

The Russian force on the Yalu is inconsiderable, its greatest strength seeming to be in the vicinity of Wiju. North of the Yalu, the Russian army is constantly increasing in numbers and is being mobilized, but the chances of it assuming the offensive are still slight. Japan is constantly strengthening its position and increasing its forces in Korea.

LIKE SEBASTOPOL.

PORT ARTHUR PARALLEL.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 29.—[Atlantic Cable.] The Novoe Vremya publishes a remarkable editorial on the parallel between Port Arthur and Sebastopol, pointing out that the forts are identically situated, Golden Hill corresponding to the Malakoff; Dalny to Eupatoria; Admiral Alexieff to Admiral Nachimoff and the Retvizan to the Tria Sviatitelia. The editorial, however, warns the Russians to abjure fatalistic beliefs.

Although written without the knowledge of Gen. Stoessel's equally remarkable general order, issued at Port Arthur yesterday, the Novoe Vremya's editorial comes as a reinforcement of its purport, that Port Arthur must in no case be surrendered. Both seem to forshadow a seige, and a bombardment, which a dispatch from Liao Yang says it is rumored at Newchwang will occur tomorrow.

Official opinion continues to be that the Japanese will make no attempt to invest Port Arthur immediately, although it is added, they are determined to force matters as rapidly as possible. In 1899, they landed on the northern part of the peninsula and the Chinese made no resistance, still it took twenty-eight days before Port Arthur was really invested. The object of the Japanese may now be to avoid this preliminary delay by disembarking their troops at Pigeon Bay.

"If they do," said a naval expert, "they will meet with opposition which will render their plan impracticable."

CALLS REMARKS INSULTING.

JAPS AFTER M. MURAVIEFF

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

THE HAGUE, Feb. 29.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The protest of the Japanese Minister against the remarks made by M. Muravieff, president of the arbitration tribunal and Russian minister of justice, in the speech which he made February 22, after announcing the tribunal's decision in favor of the blockading powers as against Venezuela, says:

"The government of Japan, convinced that the permanent arbitration court cannot properly be used as a means of attacking the action, motives or good name of a power signatory to The Hague convention of 1899, protests formally and seriously, both in defense of its honor and dignity and to prevent further misuse of this high court against the insulting remarks of M. Muravieff concerning the Japanese government. Japan further requests the insertion of this protest in the minutes of the court and that it be given publicity equal to that given to the remarks which called it out."

BY ORDER OF THE CZAR.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SUEZ, Feb. 29.—The Russian cruiser Aurora, with five torpedo boats, has arrived here. The British coal-laden steamers Ettrickdale, from Barry, February 3, for Sabang; and Frankby, from Barry, February 3, for Hongkong; and the Norwegian steamer Matida, from Penarth, January 3, for Sasebo, also laden with coal; captured by the Russian squadron in the Red Sea, have been released by order of the Czar.

UNITED STATES FLOTILLA.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SUEZ, Feb. 29.—The United States torpedo-boat destroyer flotilla bound for Manila, under convoy of the cruiser Buffalo, sailed to the southward this morning.

PRICE OF HORSES UP.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

IRKUTSK (Russia) Feb. 29.—The price of horses is rising rapidly. Over $40 is now offered, while a week ago $20 to $25 was the price. This is explained by the demand for horses at Baikal and the probable requisition for the army.

RUSSIAN CRUISER LOCATED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

COLOMBO, (Island of Ceylon) Feb. 29.—One of the vessels of the Russian volunteer cruiser fleet is reported to be cruising 370 miles westward of Colombo.

OFFICERS GET PERMIT.

WITNESS WAR OPERATIONS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—The Russian army formally has granted the request of the United States that certain officers of the American army be permitted to accompany the Russian troops and witness their operations in the war with Japan. Ambassador McCormick, in a cablegram informing Secretary Hay of this fact, states that the officers cannot join the Russian army before April 12 of the Russian calendar.

The officers who have been designated for this service are Col. J. B. Kerr of the General Staff; Capt. Carl Reichmann, Seventeenth Infantry; Capt. George Gatley and Capt. William D. Judson of the Engineer Corps. All of the above are in Manila, except Capt. Judson, who is in this city and who will leave at once for St. Petersburg.

CHASE RUSSIAN SCOUTS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—United States Minister Allen cables the State Department from Seoul that, in pursuance of an arrangement he has made with the Japanese Minister, a returning transport will bring Americans from Ping Yang, a point in Northwestern Korea near the border of Manchuria. The Americans in Seoul and vicinity have already been sent to the Philippines. Mr. Allen says that Russian scouts, on arriving at Ping Yang yesterday, were pursued by the Japanese.

AS TO CONTRABANDS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—Commercial Agent Greener at Vladivostok cables the State Department, through Ambassador McCormick, that he is making every effort to relieve the Japanese subjects in that city, according to his instructions from the department. It is probable that his facilities will be enlarged by the department.

The State Department has received a copy through the Russian embassy of the imperial decree fixing contraband of war during the present struggle, precisely as it appeared in the press dispatches this morning. Relative to the declaration that rice and foodstuffs are contraband of war, it is said at the State Department that the destination of such goods must determine their character. If they are intended for either army they are contraband and subject to seizure. If they are intended for the use of the civilians, except in the case of besieged towns, they must not be seized; or, if seized, they must be paid for. That is the doctrine laid down by the United States government in the Transvaal war and it will be upheld during the present war.

CINCINNATI AT CHEMULPO.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—The Navy Department has been informed of the arrival of the protected cruiser Cincinnati at Chemulpo.

JEWS PRAY FOR RUSSIA.

ALSO RAISE SUBSCRIPTIONS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

GRAJEVO (Russia) Feb. 29.—[Atlantic Cable.] The Hebrew community here crowded the synagogue Sunday to pray for a Russian victory. The rabbi compared the Japanese to the Amalekites, "the memory of whom would be wiped out." The congregation raised a popular subscription.

CROSSING BAIKAL MADE EASY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

MYSSOWA (Siberia) Feb. 29.—Crossing over Lake Baikal for those not going by the ice railroad is comfortably organized. At every seven versts are warm barracks with tea and hot food for the soldiers, who easily march over in one day, the baggage and food having been conveyed by horses drawing trucks. In the middle of the lake are stands and refreshment rooms for officers and civilians driving across in sleds. Telephones connect the barracks with the shore stations. The weather is very fine but very cold.

MOHAMMEDANS IN LINE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

TIFLIS (Russian Trans-Caucasus) Feb. 29.—The Caucasian Sheik Ul-Islam has called on the Russian Mohammedans to defend their fatherland. He reminded them how they fought their coreligionists, the Turks, twenty-five years ago.

GERMANS GRABBING TRADE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 29.—A cablegram was received in this city today indicating the attitude of Russia in a commercial sense towards the United States. The message was sent to Chicago by Thomas Smith, American Consul at Moscow, and was directed to a business house in this city. The message was as follows: "Unless vigorous steps are taken to offset continued statements of the British press that the American government is hostile, and the exploitation of every incident that can arouse mutual distrust and hatred, our merchants and manufacturers may as well leave this field to Germans, who know how to profit by this alleged hostility."

NOT AFTER AMERICAN COIN.

NEW YORK, Feb. 29.—Japanese Consul-General Uchida of this city said today, after receiving a cablegram from J. Komura, Minister of Foreign Affairs at Tokio: "I am authorized to state that the Japanese government has no intention whatever of raising any loan in the United States and, the rumor to the effect that representatives of our government are sounding New York bankers as to the possibility of negotiating a loan here are absolutely unfounded."

KOREA AIDS RED CROSS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

TOKIO, Feb. 29.—The Korean court has donated $100,000 to the Red Cross hospital fund. The Ministers of the United States and Great Britain at Seoul are favorably inclined to the Japanese-Korean protocol.

The Tokio government has instructed the local authorities to extend especial protection and facilities to the Russian consul at Fusan, Korea, who is to reach Moji, Japan, tonight and proceed hence for Nagasaki, whence he will sail for home.

CONTRIBUTING AT MOSCOW.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MOSCOW, Feb. 29.—The Nobles Club here has voted $50,000 for the navy fund and $25,000 for the Red Cross Society. A tobacconist has given 2,000,000 cigarettes and a sugar refiner has donated a carload of sugar for the Red Cross Society.

PRAYING TO THE SAINT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NIJNI NOVGOROD, Feb. 29.—Reports from Sarafoff, province of Tamboff, say that pilgrims from various parts of Russia are arriving there to solicit intervention of Saint Seraphim in behalf of their relatives.

WAR BULLETINS FROM MANY POINTS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LIAO YANG, Feb. 29.—Gen. Mishtchenko, with a detachment of mounted Cossacks, has reached Kashanja, Korea, and is expected to arrive at Ichio Yang today. His men and horses are in good condition and he is well supported and supplied with provisions. The Korean officials are fleeing from the places traversed, and are informing the Japanese of the approach of the Russians.

The Cossacks have seized the telegraph line in Northern Korea. A Japanese major and five men, captured by Cossacks at Wiju, have been brought to Liao Yang.

The concentration of Chinese troops westward of Mukden in the district of Gubantsa is not relished by the Russians. War material is being brought up, and the military posts are being strengthened. It is doubted if the attitude of the population can be relied upon. The people at several points are refusing to sell produce to the Russians.

Snowstorms are raging here, and the frost is intense. The railroad is working perfectly and troops are arriving uninterruptedly. Their health and spirits are excellent.

HARBIN IS QUIET.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

HARBIN (Manchuria) Feb. 29.—This town is quiet, and the Chinese are working willingly, providing food for the Russian community and collecting considerable sums for the hospital trains which are being prepared. The women sit up nights working.

JAP-KOREAN TREATY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WEI-HAI-WEI, Feb. 29.—The treaty signed on Tuesday last between Japan and Korea provides for the latter conforming to Japan's ideas of reform, Japan pledging the safety of Korean royalty and territorial independence. Japan is authorized to resist the encroachments of a third party, and to occupy Korean territory, if necessary for strategic purposes. This provision of the treaty justifies Japan's occupation of Chemulpo and Seoul, and probable movements northward. The treaty is considered highly satisfactory by both parties. A Korean envoy who is proceeding to Peking, during an interview today with Gov. Lockhart, expressed his convictions that the treaty will be of the highest benefit to Korea, providing Russian encroachments were frustrated, and that Japan would incur Korea's deepest debt of gratitude.

JAPS SHAVE HEADS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHEFOO, Feb. 29.—The Japanese sailors who manned the merchant vessels which were sunk at Port Arthur on landing here shaved their heads as a mark of the disgrace they felt at the failure of the project. The crew of the Jiusen Maru wrote their names on the foremast flag which remained above water when the vessel went down.

ENLIGHTEN FRENCH PUPILS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PARIS, Feb. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Syndico of the Paris Municipal Council recently invited the education department of the Seine to request the teachers to explain to pupils the alliance between France and Russia and to ask women teachers and girls under their charge to prepare lint for the wounded. The children, said the Syndico, would be enlightened in regard to the Russo-Japanese campaign, would learn how The Hague conference came about, and would be inspired with a horror for war. At the same time they must bear in mind that as long as the Supreme Court of Arbitration was not founded by nations, their security requires constant vigilance, and when the mother country was threatened all must with one heart fly to the flag.

ENGLAND HURRYING SUPPLIES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) Feb. 29.—England is hurrying supplies, ships and guns to Victoria, and plans to make the capital of British Columbia a western Gibraltar. These preparations for defense have been long in progress, but it is only since the war in the Orient began, with the possibility that England may become involved, that the work has been rushed with energy.

CAN'T DEFEND IT LONG.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TIEN-TSIN, Feb. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Although every preparation has been made in Port Arthur to withstand a fierce and persistent siege, there is little hope that the Russians can make a long defense. Soon after the Japanese invest the town by land, the Russians will have to capitulate, even if not one shot is fired. Hunger will do much more to force a surrender than will shot and shell.

JAPANESE HOBSONS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TOKIO, Feb. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Vice-Admiral Togo reports that 2000 officers and men instantly responded when he called for volunteers to man the transports that were sunk in the attempt to block Port Arthur channel. Some of the officers, who are nobles, followed the Samuri custom and wrote in their blood their applications to face the gravest danger. Owing to the position of two of the five sunken steamers, the attempt to block the channel was partially successful.

MOVING INTO NEWCHWANG.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEWCHWANG, Feb. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Still more Russian troops are moving into this town. Engineers are laying mines at the entrance of Liau River. All civilians have been ordered to leave Harbin. Rain is falling and a heavy thaw has set in.

GREAT COMBINED ATTACK.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A report has spread throughout the city that the Japanese have made a great combined attack by sea and land on Port Arthur; that fighting is going on now, and that there have been further naval losses.

RESENTS MURAVIEFF'S TALK.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BRUSSELS, Feb. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Japanese Minister to the Netherlands has handed to the administrative council of The Hague tribunal a communication containing a formal and emphatic protest on the part of Japan against the contemptuous remarks made by M. Muravieff (Russian Minister of Justice and president of the Venezuela arbitration tribunal) in delivering judgment in the Venezuela case.

BRITISH STEAMERS RELEASED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SUEZ, Feb. 29.—The Russian cruiser Aurora, with five torpedo boats, has arrived here. The British coal-laden steamers Ettrickdale, from Barry, February 3, for Sabang; and Frankby, from Barry, February 3, for Hongkong; and the Norwegian steamer Matida, from Penarth, January 3, for Sasebo, also laden with coal; captured by the Russian squadron in the Red Sea, have been released by order of the Czar.

ASSAIL OUR FLAG.

Dominican Insurgents Attack the American Consulate — Jiminez is Angered by Warship's Bombardment--Lives and Property Menaced.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Mar. 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A cablegram to the Herald from Santo Domingo says the indications are that Morales's government will win, now that the siege of the capital has been raised. Morales's forces have, however, met reverses at Guerra and San Pedro de Macoris.

Gen. Zapata of the revolutionists has been caught at Navarrate and has been shot. The insurgents are desperate. They have requested aid and ammunition from Hayti, which were refused. They are now making a forced loan at Azua, levying upon foreign merchants for $200,000 and on sugar estates for $1000.

Americans are requesting that the training ship Hartford be sent there, as the insurgents are destroying lives and property. They have even attacked the American consulate. Business has been paralyzed and telegraphic communication interrupted.

Bombardment of the insurgents' camp has angered the Jiminez adherents, and Americans are threatened. American intervention is rumored, and excitement is intense. The government treasury is empty.

SEEKING CHAIRMAN FOR THE CAMPAIGN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Postmaster-General Payne today let his friends know that he cannot meet the demand coming to him from Republicans in various parts of the country, that he become chairman of the National Republican Committee in the coming campaign. Mr. Payne has not sufficient physical strength to go through an ordeal of that sort.

He likes the activity and whirl of a campaign. Every phase of it is pleasing to him, and he considers that there could be no great honor than to have charge of the campaign for the President. His attachment for the President is deep, his partisan feeling strong and his knowledge of politics is sufficient to give him confidence in his ability to successfully pilot his party to triumph, but stronger than this is the feeling for the preservation of his strength and health.

Eight years ago, and again four years ago, he was compelled to go abroad to recuperate after the close of the Presidential campaigns of those years. He was then Senator Hanna's closest adviser and ablest assistant, and vice-chairman of the party organization. This explains the demand for Mr. Payne's heading the campaign this year, and the desire that he should be placed there. The President, however, knows what the consequences might be, and whatever his desires, he will not insist on Mr. Payne's taking chances. He will be pleased to have him give what time he can to the campaign, but will not permit him to sacrifice his health, especially after the hard work of unearthing the postoffice scandals and preparing for the prosecution of persons accused of swindling and stealing.

The President's choice for chairman of the National Committee must therefore be made from others. Inability of Mr. Payne to take the place leaves two men now prominently considered. These are Senator Penrose, of Pennsylvania and Charles Dick, who will be elected Senator from Ohio this week.

J. J. HILL'S CANDIDATE.

GROVER FOR SECURITY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE T...]

NEW YORK, Feb. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "With Grover Cleveland as the next Democratic nominee for President, the country would certainly know what sort of a man it would have in the White House in case of his election. It would know that with him as President the interests of all would be secure." Thus James J. Hill, the western railroad magnate, tonight expressed his view of the growing movement to make Cleveland the next candidate of the Democrats for President.

UNPROLIFIC SPREAD OF RATE-CUTTING.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Rate cutting in the West has spread to new fields, and railway officials here are unwilling to predict where it will stop. It comes at a time when none of the roads are earning any too much money, and their net returns from traffic are decreasing, owing to heavy operating expenses. To most business men and railway officials, a rate war looks unnecessary. But railway men answer that there is a great principle involved, and the reductions in rates have not so far brought any of the roads involved nearer an adjustment than when the rate-cutting started, a month ago.

A cut of fifteen cents in the rates on sugar from Chicago to Missouri River points was announced by the Great Western four days ago. At the same time, a notice was served that the rates on wire and steel were to be cut from twenty-seven to seventeen cents per hundred. At a meeting of the Western and Southwestern and Southern lines, held Friday, the Memphis lines agreed to raise their rates on steel, as they were lowest, and the Great Western announced that it would withdraw its low rate, but it refused to recede from its intention to reduce rates on sugar from Chicago to Missouri River points.

This aroused the Burlington, and in retaliation it has announced that, March 1, it would reduce rates on sugar from twenty-seven to ten cents, to apply on through shipments from New York. The Alton will meet this cut, and other roads are likely to be involved. It is also intimated that the Great Western will retaliate. A comparison of the normal rate in cents per hundred pounds on sugar between the various points, as made by the two warring roads, is as follows.

Chicago to Missouri River points:
Normal, 27; Great Western 12; Burlington, 10.

Mississippi River to Missouri River:
Normal, 22; Great Western 7, Burlington, 5.

Chicago to St. Paul:
Normal, 24; Great Western, 14; Burlington, 7.

ROBBERS' NEW TACTICS.

Highwaymen First Disarm Suspicions of Their Victim and Then Overpower and Rob Him With Ease.

Pedro Rock, who resides at No. 729 South Hope street, reported yesterday that he had been held up and robbed by two men near First and Wilmington streets Sunday morning before daylight.

Rock was going home when a man whom he had never seen before stepped out from a dark hallway and extending his hand, greeted him effusively, indicating that he knew him and was friendly with him. Rock thought the man might be some acquaintance, and he, therefore, grasped the man's hand and returned the salutation. Instead of releasing his hand, however, the man tightened his grip, and the next moment another man seized Rock from behind, threw his arm about his neck to choke him, and then the two men searched their victim, taking everything out of his pockets and returning to him such things as they did not want. They secured $9 and a cheap silver watch.

OCCIDENTAL COLLEGE NOTES.

The meet with the university which was postponed from last Saturday will be held Thursday afternoon of this week at Fiesta Park. Another engagement between the two colleges will be held between the basket ball teams. Managers Misses Fay Means and Wright of Occidental and U.S.C., respectively, have arranged for a game on the former's grounds for next Saturday afternoon at 2:30 p.m.

The Academic Oratorical Association yesterday filled vacancies in their offices, and among the list of orators for the home contest, which is to be held in April. Those elected were: Vice-President, Earl Haney; secretary-treasurer, Miss Fitzsimmons, and orators, Miss Bertha Boal, Guy A. White and Wallace Dickey.

The Philomathian Society debated yesterday afternoon on the timely topic of "Resolved, that at the present time, it is the tendency among nations to bring about peace through arbitration rather than by war." The affirmative defendants, Sidney McKee and L. V. C. Mytton won over E. H. Crabtree and Edmund Roth.

FALLS THREE STORIES.

Contractor Drops from Fifth Floor to Second and Then Walks to Ambulance.

E. M. Skinner, of the firm of Skinner & McCoy, contractors, who have the contract for plastering the new Lankershim building on South Broadway, had a unique and narrow escape from death yesterday. He fell from the fifth floor to the second, pulled after him a mass of loose boards and other material and was able to rise to his feet, remove the boards which covered him, and walk to an ambulance.

He was working near a light-well on the fifth floor, the hole in the floor being without a railing, and being covered by some boards. These board gave way when he attempted to walk across them and he fell, carrying the boards with him. Bresee's ambulance was called and the injured man was taken to the Emergency and General Hospital. No bones were broken, but the shock was so great that he will be obliged to remain in bed for a week or more.

KLING LEADER IN POOL PLAY.

DEFEATS CARNEY IN OPENING NIGHT'S MATCH.

Contestants Play Marvelous Pool, and Betting is Heavy on Result. Men Put up Their Five Hundred Dollars for a Side Bet.

John Kling, the Chicago cue pool player attained a lead of 139 balls to 113 over Joseph W. Carney in their 900-point continuous pool match which opened before a crowded house at the Lincoln rooms last night. Both gentlemen were in good form, and the usual number of seemingly-impossible combination and bank shots were performed, each eliciting loud applause from the champions of each contestant.

Betting on the match was most brisk, as was to be expected. Before the first ball was played, each man deposited the balance of his $250 side bet with the sporting editor of The Times, and the action called forth a number of smaller wagers, quieting a vague rumor that the match was not for blood. Joe Tinker and others of the Chicago National League ball club, to which Kling belongs, backed their champion most liberally, but Carney money was not lacking.

Both contestants played with the great care and attention to leaving the balls safe which characterizes the match game of pool. The rules made one frame, or fifteen balls, the highest possible run, and it was scored by each during the play.

Kling won the toss, and Carney made the first ball after each had played four shots. Carney made four on the frame; Kling got command and ran off nine. Two scratches in his first frame set Carney back, the local man having a total of half a dozen of these accidents to Kling's one. These, and a difficult shot in which the cue ball, after scoring, jumped the table, doubtless made a difference of thirty balls to Carney.

There was not as much difference shown in the skill of the men as was expected. Carney proved to be an exceptionally brilliant pool player, more nearly Kling's equal than the score showed. Kling was the same phenomenally steady performer as was seen here last winter, and each called the ball and the pocket for all manner of combination shots that would not have shown an opening to an ordinary player.

Carney lost an excellent chance in the seventh frame by transposing the number of the ball and the pocket in calling a rather difficult shot, which he made right enough.

The game was the finest exhibition of pool seen here in many a day. Both contestants were playing to their limit, took plenty of time with their shots and were willing to accept chances when any offered. Applause never failed when one, with all the balls on the table would call a combination for the corner pocket and bring it off, or would make a brilliant bank.

Each used the safety break in opening each frame and at this part of the game Kling showed superiority, leaving them a little more difficult for Carney than the local man did for him. The regularity with which the players scored was marvelous; Kling missed only once, to Carney's three times.

The evening's scores by innings:

Carney—4, 10, 21, 30, 31, 31, 33, 45, 53, 63, 74, 90, 96, 101, 101, 105, 113.

Kling—9, 18, 22, 27, 40, 55, 63, 70, 76, 78, 82, 84, 92, 108, 118, 123, 144, 150.

Scratches—Carney, two in first inning, one in fifth, seventh, ninth and eighteenth. Kling, one in fourth.

Another 150 points will be played tonight.

SOLONS MAY QUIT IN MAY.

Mr. Payne Discovers Little in Congress' Way.

Law-making Body Achieved Much in Four Years.

Dam Cement Unexpectedly Expensive—Canal Title.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "At this stage of proceedings," said Representative Payne, the Republican leader for the House, today, "I see no reason why we should not look forward to an adjournment of Congress early in the month of May. There is no legislation in sight at this time in the houses of Congress which seems to foreshadow a long session. The calendar of the House does not show any bills of great national importance. We may expect, if reports are correct, a bill from the Committee on Territories to provide for a new State, and possibly two new States. Such a bill would not cause a prolonged session in the House, and if intimations are true, that when it is brought in it be by substantial agreement between factions, there is no reason to anticipate unusual delay in the Senate.

"There is some talk of a service pension bill at this session. I do not know what will come out of that; whether the committee will bring in a bill, or not. The Senate probably would discuss it some length a service pension measure, but even then I do not see why consideration should be prolonged into summer. The Ways and Means Committee has no general legislation of a very important character before it. The only bill before the committee now, attracting much attention is the Tobacco Stamp Bill, and that bill is in sub-committee and I do not know what is to be done with it. That committee is not contemplating any legislation which would excite opposition or demand extraordinary consideration.

"As a matter of fact, Congress has done so much in the past four years that there seems very little to do, and the most important legislation is awaiting construction by the United States Supreme Court. Of course, if the Supreme Court should render a decision in the anti-trust cases, which would demand further legislation by Congress, no one can tell how long the present session would last. But, looking generally over the field, I do not see anything which is likely to prove a stopping block to a reasonably early adjournment. The consideration of appropriation bills in the committee of the whole will furnish opportunities for members of both parties to make their political speeches for the coming campaign."

Representative Payne's statement as to what the House will do carries great weight, but his prediction that the Statehood Bill would not have unusual delay in getting through the Senate this session is disputed by the Senators. They say it would have indefinite delay.

CEMENT FOR THE DAM.

DENVERITES' BID LOWEST.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Bids were opened at the Department of the Interior, this afternoon, for furnishing 150,000 to 200,000 barrels of Portland cement, to be used in the construction of the great irrigation dam near Phoenix, Ariz. Owing to the length of the haul to Globe and the fact that after the cement reaches that point it must be hauled over the rough, mountainous road a distance of forty miles to the site of the dam, only a few bids were received, and the figures were much higher than the price at which the cement was offered at Globe. The bidders also took into consideration of the unusually high bond, 50 per cent. of the contract, and the fact that 20 per cent. will be retained on each payment until after the contract has been fulfilled to the satisfaction of the department.

The lowest bid was that of the Portland Cement Company of Denver, which offered to supply cement at the dam site at $4.81 per barrel, under the provisions specified, or for $4.53 per barrel on consideration that the government would pay for the cement delivered, instead of withholding 20 per cent. The Iola Portland Cement Company of Iola, Kan., bid $5.49 per barrel, delivered at the dame site, and the Pacific Portland Cement Company of San Francisco, $5.70 per barrel. The Atlas Portland Cement Company of New York City stated that it was anxious to bid, but was prevented from doing so by the extreme and unusual conditions imposed. It offered to supply cement at Mesa or Globe from its mills at Hamilton, Mo., at $2.35 in wooden barrels, or $2.96 in duck bags. Probably all bids received today will be rejected and the government will construct its own cement factory and make all the cement it needs for all the irrigation dams that it will construct in the next few years.

Today's lowest bid of $4.81 per barrel is $1.81 higher than the government experts estimate that the cement can be manufactured and laid down at the dam site for. It will cost $100,000 to build a factory and put it into operation, and on the Tonto Basin dam alone the government will save more than $250,000 on the reduced price of cement, so that when that work is done, the government will have its factory paid for from the savings and a good balance left besides.

MAY BE REJECTED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—All of the bids may be rejected, on the ground that the figures are too high and so nearly alike as to indicate the possibility of an understanding between the bidders. The Atlas Company's bid was not accompanied by the required check, and therefore cannot be considered unless the government buys the

CEMENT FOR THE DAM.

DENVERITES' BID LOWEST.

The Colorado company's bid was $4.81 per barrel delivered at the dam site and $4.52 on certain conditions.

NEW PHILIPPINE LEGISLATION.

REPRESENTATIVE COOPER'S BILL

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—Representative Cooper of Wisconsin introduced a bill today amending in several ways the act providing a civil form of government for the Philippines. The bill was prepared by Secretary Taft.

Its first provision is that all bonds issued by the government of the Philippines shall be exempt from taxation either by the government of the United States or the government of the Philippines. Five per cent. bonds to the amount of $10,000,000 are authorized for public improvement in the Philippines. These bonds are to be used to provide for port and harbor works, roads, bridges, provincial and municipal schools, courthouses and penal institutions. Five per cent. municipal bonds are also authorized to carry on municipal improvements, such bonded indebtedness of any one municipality not to exceed 10 per cent. of the assessed valuation of property in such municipality.

The bill provides that the immigration laws of the United States, in force in the islands, shall be administered by the officers of the Philippine government. The land measurements, which, in the original act, were in acres, are changed to the metric system, which, prior to that time, prevailed in the islands.

A provision guaranteeing earnings on railroad capital to be invested in the islands, which is regarded as an important step toward advancing the civil conditions in the islands is contained in the bill.

Secretary Taft was impelled to ask Congress for authority to issue bonds by reason of the fact that the current receipts of the island have been falling off lately, the loss last month being $200,000, and either important improvements must cease or some part of their cost be placed upon posterity. Extensive work of international importance has been going on in the islands for the past four years. These have been paid for by the Philippine government out of the cash receipts, and not one cent of indebtedness has been incurred. In fact, the islands have no bonded debt in the actual sense of debt.

This issue, if authorized, will have nothing to do with the proposition to authorize the Philippine government to guarantee 4 per cent. on railroad investments in the islands.

THE CONGRESS.

REGULAR SESSION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—SENATE.—Mr. Gallinger today referred to the White House changes, saying that that work had been in the hands of an architect of great reputation. He said that as a result of his efforts, a part of the Executive Mansion had been spoiled, and that the office of the President was an eyesore and not fit to accommodate a second-class lawyer or doctor.

Mr. Dryden, who contended for liberal allowances to architects, said he agreed that the White House additions are not of seemly appearance.

"But," he added, "it must be borne in mind that architects are often placed at a disadvantage by the dictation of the employers."

Mr. Newlands said that the architect had to decide whether to preserve the original character of the White House, or to alter the character of that building.

Mr. Bailey called attention to the necessity for an office building for the use of Senators, saying that the Senate annex was so unsafe that Senators were not allowed to carry books to their rooms in that building.

Mr. Newlands suggested that an annex to the Senate be constructed like that to the White House.

Without completing consideration of the bill, the Senate went into executive session at 5:34 p.m., and at 5:39 p.m. adjourned.

The Senate, in executive session today, referred to the Committee on Interoceanic Canals the nominations for positions on the Isthmian Canal Commission.

HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—HOUSE.—Mr. Castor, elected to succeed the late Mr. Burke, from the Third Pennsylvania District, was sworn in when the House convened today.

The House then went into committee of the whole to consider the District of Columbia Appropriation Bill.

Mr. Dalzell of Pennsylvania, discussing Canadian reciprocity, said he had been unable to find in an exhaustive research a single argument which would justify the negotiations of a reciprocity treaty between the United States and Canada.

Mr. Lovering of Massachusetts aroused the minority to applause when he declared that "while we are talking about standing pat, the great ship of business is drifting on the rocks, and our boasted prosperity is fast coming to an end."

Mr. Lovering prefaced this by saying that millions of dollars had been lost to manufacturers, and thousands of laborers had been deprived of work because the government had not enlarged the drawback system. The remedy, he said, was easy. The relief demanded, he declared, could be secured by a simple amendment to the drawback feature of the administrative act of the Dingley law, and this could be done, he said, without interfering with a single schedule, or in anywise reviewing the tariff.

He differed, he said, from Mr. Dalzell in the matter of a demand for new markets for goods of American manufactures. The manufacturers wanted an outlet for their surplus products, and the demand for the new markets caused them to realize that production had passed beyond domestic consumption. He urged the South to increase the output of cotton, and said immigration was needed greatly in the South. These things, he said, would aid materially in solving the race question.

The House, at 4:15 p.m., adjourned until tomorrow.

PANAMA CANAL TITLE.

FURTHER INVESTIGATION.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Department of Justice has taken up the question of the validity of title to the Panama Canal held by the Panama Canal Company. Investigations to determine whether there is any cloud on that title are now being made. It is expected that it soon will be decided whether it will be necessary to send a representative of the department to Paris. Attorney-General Knox, who was at the White House this morning, having just returned from Palm Beach, intimated that no decision had been reached as to whether an official would be sent to Paris. About a year and a half ago Assistant Attorney-General Charles W. Russell was sent over there to investigate the title, and it is not impossible that he will again go over on a similar mission.

Pending the action of the Department of Justice, a call on the banks will not be issued. Secretary Shaw, who has returned from New York, is holding the call back until the matter of title is fully disposed of, and it is uncertain when the call will come. If an official of the Department of Justice has to go to Paris and his report has to be awaited, there will be a delay of several weeks, at least.

CANAL COMMISSIONERS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—The President today sent to the Senate the following nominations:

Chairman Isthmian Canal Commission—Rear-Admiral John Walker, U. S.N. (retired,) District of Columbia.

Members of Isthmian Canal Commission—Maj.-Gen. George W. Davis, U.S.A. (retired,) District of Columbia; William H. Burr, New York; Benjamin M. Harrod, Louisiana; Carl Edward Grunsky, California; Frank J. Hecker, Michigan; William Barclay Parsons, New York.

To be commander in the navy—Lieutenant-Commander William G. Cutler.

ENGAGEMENT WITH MOROS.

GEN. WADE REPORTS FIGHT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—Gen. Wade, in a cablegram to the War Department, dated Manila, advises the department of a report of Gen. Wood concerning an engagement at Jolo, February 14, with the remnants of Hassan's Cotta Moros. The American expedition was in charge of Maj. Hugh L. Scott. During the fight, firing twice was stopped to give the Morros a chance to surrender, but they declined. The entire body, with the exception of Hassan, is either dead or captured, and Hassan is located.

Second Lieutenant Eugene R. West, Eighteenth Battery, First Artillery, was seriously wounded in the thigh. In addition the following were also wounded: Hurlburt, Troop I, Fourteenth Cavalry, right side; Hinderer, Troop I, Fourteenth Cavalry, shoulder; White, Eighteenth Battery, Field Artillery, right knee; Gallaway, Troop M, Fourteenth Cavalry, right arm; Cox, Eighteenth Battery, Field Artillery, shoulder; Hanifan, Troop K, Fourteenth Cavalry, thigh, slight.

Friendly dattos assisted the troops in the attack.

RETRIBUTIVE JUSTICE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—It is said at the War Department that this destruction of Hassan's band is a case of retributive justice. Maj. Scott suffered at the hands of the fanatical Moro. The chief enticed him off into the jungle, pretending to be friendly, and in ambush shot him. Since that time, Maj. Scott has been on his trail and now has destroyed his band.

Hassan, who is a priest, is one of the irreconcilables. When the navy was making some surveys a year ago off the coast of Jolo, Hassan construed the setting up of survey marks as an act of hostility and attacked the troops. He came into Gen. Sumner's headquarters under summons but made his escape and ever since has been at war. His band is believed to have numbered about 600, and, if entirely destroyed, as the cablegram reported, the battle must have been of some proportions.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

Theoretical Anarchist Freed.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—In the Supreme Court of the United States today, an order was issued for the release of John Turner on bail, and setting the hearing of his case by the court for April 4 next. Turner is a British subject, who was taken into custody upon his arrival in New York last October, on the charge of being an anarchist, and his deportation ordered. He was detained at Ellis Island, and instituted habeas corpus proceedings in the Circuit Court. His petition for a writ was denied, and he brought the case to the Supreme Court. It is claimed in behalf of Turner that he is only a theoretical anarchist. He came to the United States to engage in lecturing and writing. The application for release on bail was partly for the purpose of permitting Turner to fill lecture engagements in other countries.

WILL BEAUTIFY LOTS.

The Maple-avenue and South Main-street Improvement Association will hold its quarterly meeting Friday at No. 2306 South Main street to elect officers and take action in regard to vacant lots along that thoroughfare. "We intend, if possible, to seed every vacant lot on the street in our territory with barley or potatoes," said President T. L. O'Brien last night. "We have already arranged for the beautifying of forty lots by this means, and if other property owners will give us the use of the ground we will see that it is planted out. We feel that the fresh green of barley or the blossoming potato tops is far more sightly than unkept grounds covered with weeds. The association is also getting ready to harp on the school question again, for we are determined to have a school in the neighborhood of Fortieth street."

The members of the constabulary who revolted at Vigan, P.I., are all in custody. The arms and amunition taken by them have been recovered and the troops have returned to their station.

GO BACK TO WORK TODAY.

STRIKE OF SOUTHERN PACIFIC BOILER MAKERS ENDED.

Men Return to Sledges and Rivets Without Knowing How or on What Terms the Adjustment is Arranged—Big Repair Shops Too Small.

The strike of the boiler makers employed by the Southern Pacific company has been called off as a result of the satisfactory adjustment of matters in dispute and the full force of men will be at work in the shops this morning. Thus ends one of the shortest strikes ever known on the Pacific Coast and one that has passed without serious demonstration. All trains ran on schedule time on Pacific Coast divisions of the company's lines yesterday, and no inconvenience was felt by the walk-out of the sledge slingers.

"The men will resume work tomorrow," said Superintendent of Motive Power P. Sheedy, yesterday afternoon, "without knowing how the adjustment is arranged, they having simply received a telegram from their chief in San Francisco to go to work again. What the adjustment was I do not know any more than the men do. The general officers of this Coast are only able to treat on matters which are within the bounds of reason, and that is why this matter had to go before the owners of the road.

"The officers are always ready to deal with representatives of the employes, but it takes much valuable time and is a burdensome expense to the company. At present a committee of engineers is before the general officers in San Francisco in adjusting some agreements which were drawn up over a year ago. All this takes time, and it would seem that there must be a remedy for it. Personally, I believe that the answer to the question will be worked out through the industrial schools of the country. I am greatly in favor of all forms of manual training and industrial institutions. The country has been developing so rapidly that the supply of skilled labor is far from equal to the demand. The schools in time will relieve this shortage. If the power which labor organizations swing against large corporations continues to develop insolence as it has done in the past few years there can be but one outcome—the organizations will cut off their own head by forcing hard times on the country, and the striker will find himself a beggar. Personally, I can see no difference between desertion on the high seas—which is punishable by law—and desertion by a large army of boiler-makers from shops that operate a great railroad system, and I believe that the law will finally reach these cases and compel compliance with reasonable demands and legitimate arbitration."

BIG SHOPS TOO SMALL.

The big shops of the Southern Pacific, which were opened but a few months ago, are now running to their maximum capacity.

"So great has been the development of the business on this division that we are almost swamped," said Superintendent of Motive Power Sheedy yesterday afternoon. "Shops which we thought adequate to our needs for some time to come are now being taxed to their utmost, and we are rapidly completing plans for additional buildings, which will make enlargements in most of the departments and probably employ 500 more men."

A steel and brick mill, 150 feet square, is to be built, and there are to be several auxiliary shops and tank houses. The shop grounds are to be enclosed by a high fence, and the strictest discipline kept in regard to visitors and loafers. The company has lost much brass and other material of late through peon thieves who hang about the place and steal whatever they can lay their hands on, finding a ready sale for much of the stuff at a few of the brass foundries. The company is taking steps for the return of the stolen brass and findings, but as one of the foundrymen refuses to give up material with the stamp of the Southern Pacific company on it without a cash payment for its value, the case will probably be taken into court.

HOSPITAL CHANGES.

A radical change is to be made in the hospital department of the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railway Company, and it is generally understood that Dr. C. F. Taggart, who has been the head of the department, is to step out and that Dr. Guy Cochran is to take charge, with an assistant. The department has formerly been run on the contract plan, but is now to be changed to a salaried basis.

President W. R. Harper of the University of Chicago was taken to a hospital for the purpose of undergoing an operation for appendicitis.

FLASHES FROM THE WIRES.

Mrs. Horace Allis, formerly a prominent society leader in Little Rock, Ark., committed suicide by hanging. Her husband at one time was president of the National Bank of that city and was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary for wrecking that institution. The disgrace attending his downfall sent Mrs. Allis into seclusion.

Disbursements by industrial incorporations in the way of dividends in March will fall considerably short of those in the same month a year ago, the declarations already made involving about $21,100,000, which compares with $31,283,400 in 19... This is explained by the passing of the United States Steel Corporation's common stock dividend and the reduced payment of the Standard Oil Company, as compared with the same quarter of last year.

The arbitration treaty between Great Britain and Spain, which, it was announced February 20, was on the verge of being concluded, was signed Saturday.

Many outlying districts about Chicago are submerged by the heavy rain and melting snow. From Seventy-fifth street south to Burnside, there is a chain of miniature lakes, which threatens serious damage to property.

At Kiel, Lieutenant-Commander Templin M. Potts, United States naval attaché at Belin, represented the United States embassy at the funeral of little Prince Henry, youngest son of Prince Henry of Prussia, in the chapel of the castle.

A fire which caused $125,000 damage occurred in the plant of the New York Cotton Mills Company.

United States Senator Dolliver of Iowa delivered an hour's address in Plymouth Church, Brooklyn, filling the pulpit usually occupied by the Rev. Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis. The Senator's subject was "The Republic and the Spirit of Patriotism," and he spoke of the poor boy as the most important factor in the making of the republic.

The extensive property of the Maritime Sulphite Fiber Company at Chatham, N. B., has been acquired by the Bank of Montreal, through foreclosure proceedings. The property consists of mills and 262 square miles of timber lands.

Twenty-eight days were consumed by John Krayzenski, a Pole, 24 years old, in making almost the entire distance from New York to Chicago on foot, in an attempt to locate his father and brother, who are living, he says, in South Chicago. When he left home, he said, he had a letter from his father, but on his way across someone stole it.

The body of James Elick, a Northwestern Railway freight conductor, has been found in the drainage canal at Lockport, Ill. There was a deep gash in the forehead and all his money except a little change was gone. Thousands of dollars had been spent by the railroad company in the search for the body, and a reward of $500 had been offered by a lodge of the Association of Railway Conductors for any trace of the missing man.

The Congressional elections, the first ever conducted entirely under Cuban auspices, were quiet and well conducted. The ballots were printed on the American plan. While the Liberal representations in the lower house of Congress appear to have been increased by several seats, the small Republican majority in the Senate will prevent any radical change of policies.

At Norton, Kan., in the case of the State against Chauncey Dewey and his two cowboys, Charles Wilson occupied the witness stand. He testified that when the Dewey party arrived at Berry's the two cowboys went to the house and asked permission to take the tank. Mrs. Berry said take it. Beach and Burch rode up. One of them said: "You fellows will not take anything away from here." Dewey said: "Stop right there." The Berrys fired and the Dewey party immediately returned it.

Amid the ice floes of the Kill Von Kull, N. Y., there was a hand-to-hand fight between six men on an oyster scow, suspected of being coal thieves, and as many policemen in a launch. One of the supposed thieves who tried to escape by swimming, was drowned, and two of his companions were arrested. Men on the police launch discovered the scow by the aid of light from a fire in Elizabethport. The supposed thieves fired. The detectives fired, but no one was hit. The scow was overhauled and the police started to board. The alleged thieves jumped overboard. Two policemen jumped in and captured two prisoners. The rest escaped. A large quantity of coal was found on the captured scow.

DOCTOR'S COFFEE
And His Daughter Matched Him.

Coffee drinking troubled the family of a physician of Grafton, W. Va., who describes the situation briefly:

"Having suffered quite awhile from vertigo, palpitation of the heart and many other derangements of the nervous system and finding no relief from usual methods of treatment, I thought to see how much there was in the Postum argument against coffee.

"So I resorted to Postum, cutting off the coffee, and to my surprise and satisfaction have found entire relief from all my sufferings, proving conclusively the baneful effect of coffee and the way to be rid of it.

"I have found Postum completely takes the place of coffee both in flavor and in taste. It is becoming more popular every day with many of our people and is having great demand here.

"My daughter, Mrs. Long, has been a sufferer for a long time from attacks of acute indigestion. By the dismissal of coffee and using Postum in its place she has obtained complete relief.

"I have also heard from many others who have used your Postum very favorable accounts of its good effects.

"I prescribe Postum in place of coffee in a great many cases and I believe that upon its merits Postum will come into general use." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

JAY W. M'KINLEY MUST BE PACIFIED.

After reading an editorial in last evening's Express one shudders to think what may happen to the country in case "Jedge" McKinley is not mollified and smoothed down and fixed up and pacified. One sees the curious little editor of the Express fairly shaking in his bootlets while penning those deadly, serious lines, insisting with so much earnestness that something must be done for McKinley, or great cracks will open in the foundation-stones of the republic, and the whole social fabric will leak in the roof during the next rain, if it ever comes. The solemnity of this appeal and warning recalls the immortal declaration of the editor of the Skowhegan Clarion, which has gone ringing down the ages: "Hogs must and shall be kept off the town sidewalk!"

"Jedge" McKinley seems to have been feeding on such meat lately that he completely fills the horizon of the Express. True, the little editor apparently is aware that Ex-Senator Bulla is somewhere in the dim distance, overshadowed by the colossal, lubberly and dangerous figure of "Jedge" McKinley. The Express insists that McKinley must be sent as a delegate-at-large to the Republican National Convention. It does not acknowledge that there are any other Republicans in Southern California who may desire the honor, or may be suggested for it, but assumes that everybody is "skeered" so that they will incontinently get out of the way for McKinley; and with something approaching plaintiveness the twilight sheet intimates that the stars may change their courses or something else dreadful may happen if McKinley is not left to pursue his planetary, scintillating, meteoric and sizzling career with a clear field—the sun and moon taking back seats, or disappearing in the brush.

The Express apparently has heard that Ex-Senator Bulla's friends have brought him out as a candidate for delegate-at-large; therefore it has the forethought and kindness to notify him that he would better avoid calamity by switching off the track and contenting himself with a nomination for elector-at-large. Of course it is unnecessary for the Express to consult Ex-Senator Bulla before making this arrangement, as it is generally understood hereabout that the political programme for the coming national campaign has been left entirely to the discretion of the editor of the Express, who has been so successful, yea, so brilliantly successful, in his programming of public matters since his advent in this community. That Ex-Senator Bulla would scorn going into any such deal as the Express proposes is apparently of no consequence, according to its volunteer assumption. The only vital issue before the public is how to placate, soothe, tame and pacificate "Jedge" McKinley, pare his claws and trim his Samsonian locks. If this isn't done, something is going to "bust." . . . Huh!

There are a number of gentlemen of distinction in Southern California, either of whom would admirably represent the Republican party as delegate-at-large to its National Convention, and who may be heard from later—that is, unless the terrible image of the man-eating and sun-stopping McKinley, conjured up by the Express, scares them into the woods or worries them into a fit of sickness. Did McKinley prove himself to be either a power or a terror in the disastrous Gage campaign?

The Mexican sugar trust has just failed for $7,000,000. Another instance of a "soulless corporation sapping the life blood of a republic."

DOWIE IN AUSTRALIA.

The experiences of John Alexander Dowie in the land of our antipodes have been of a rather strenuous nature. It may be, as the late P. T. Barnum was wont to say, that the American people like to be humbugged. Their tolerance of the pretensions of Dowie and other mountebanks certainly tends to confirm that view. But the Australians are evidently not quite so fond of being humbugged as Dowie had supposed when he went there to propagate his "faith." Instead of receiving him with open arms, they have received him with ridicule, which in some cases has been accompanied by open violence, from which the modern "Elijah" has escaped with considerable difficulty.

A dispatch from Melbourne, dated February 28, gives some account of an attempted meeting by Dowie in the Exposition Building, which was broken up by the crowd's shouting and singing comic songs. "He was obliged to abandon the evening meeting," says the dispatch, "and was himself chased around the city by the rough element, the mob yelling challenges to him to justify himself as a prophet." It is further stated that "public antagonism is so strong that Dowie has been refused rooms at a fashionable hotel." On another occasion a mob raided the platform where Dowie was speaking, making it necessary for the "prophet" to flee for his life, and it was with difficulty that he at length found a place of safety, after having been pursued through the streets for a considerable distance by a howling mob bent on doing him bodily violence.

All this does not indicate a very pronounced spirit of tolerance among the Australians; this much is certain. But it is a nice ethical question how far the spirit of tolerance for obvious humbugs should be carried, for the good of the community. Quite possibly, there is such a thing as carrying it too far—and in the opinion of some very good people we have carried this tolerance too far in the United States. The point is debatable. We have proceeded upon the theory that humbugs and fallacies, left alone, would generally expose themselves in due course of time. To some extent this comfortable theory has been borne out by experience, though the process of exposure has usually been rather slow and unsatisfactory.

The theory and practice of our government are such that a great deal of latitude must necessarily be allowed for the promulgation and propagation of all sorts of theories and isms. Some of these are comparatively harmless, and some are quite the reverse. Broadly speaking, the sifting processes of public opinion will generally separate the false from the true, and so minimize the evil results of fallacious teachings. It is nevertheless a well-known fact that almost any sort of "crank" idea can secure a following of some proportions if sanewdly and persistently pressed upon public attention. Inasmuch as it would be manifestly impracticable, under a democratic form of government, to set up a censorship for the arbitrary determination of the higher questions of ethics, there would seem to be no alternative but to fall back upon public opinion as the final arbiter, trusting to common sense and experience to lead public opinion in right directions. Falsehood may flourish for a time; but the truth is mighty, and will in the end prevail.

There is a cool assumption among certain 'prentice politicians that Los Angeles can pick up two of the delegates-at-large to the National Republican Convention, it being taken for granted that two of the four will be selected from south of the mountains. Even so, it might be wiser politics to bear in mind that Southern California embraces much territory and many worthy Republicans.

The national government is to loan $4,609,000 to the Louisiana Purchase Exposition corporation, taking as security a lien on the gate receipts. The government is to receive 40 per cent. of the gate receipts every fifteen days after May (the first month of the exposition,) until the entire loan of $4,-600,000 has been refunded. It is further provided in the agreement that the Secretary of the Treasury may, in his discretion, take over the management and control of the World's Fair finances. Of course the entire country sincerely hopes that the exposition will be a success, financially and otherwise; but the history of similar enterprises shows that they are seldom successful from a financial point of view, and it is not impossible that before the big show is ended Uncle Sam may be running it. The wisdom of government loans of this kind is more than doubtful.

Reports from the Redlands section state that tourists are abusing the welcome extended to them there, driving parties invading orange orchards, and helping themselves to the fruit. It looks like a small thing for half a dozen people to pick two or three oranges apiece in a grove, but if that is done several times a day, and every day during the season, it amounts in the aggregate to a heavy loss. It might be a good idea, at tourist centers, to provide small groves of fine orange trees, where tourists could go and revel in picking the golden fruit—at so much per pick. Southern California orange growers are by no means stingy, but it costs much time and money to bring an orange grove into bearing, and the grower is not always a millionaire. Tourists should think of this.

Hon. Martin J. Wade of Iowa, in a speech delivered recently in the House of Representatives, eloquently declared that "when some mountaineer down in Kentucky undertakes to gather the fragrance of the flowers, and the rays of the sunshine, and the music of the birds, and the glories of the heavens, and blend them all into a little moonshine whisky, there is always somebody there to see that he is brought before the commissioner and prosecuted under the law." If a Kentucky statesman, instead of one from Iowa, had paid this glowing tribute to Kentucky moonshine firewater, we should have had no doubt as to the source of his inspiration. The burning question now arises, what brand is Hon. Martin J. Wade's preference?

By the terms of the treaty recently concluded between Japan and Korea, Japan undertakes to guarantee "the independence and the territorial integrity of Korea," while the latter government agrees to "place full confidence in the imperial government of Japan and adopt the advice of the latter in regard to improvements in administration." The treaty also allows Japan to occupy Korean territory when it deems such a step necessary. The Koreans may be satisfied with this kind of independence and territorial integrity, but it looks very much as though they had had it thrust upon them unsolicited.

As was expected, the talk in some of the infantile newspapers about the Council's rising in rebellion against the veto of Acting Mayor Bowen on the library-bond proposition, was all bosh. The Council accepted the situation yesterday with good grace. Apparently it realized its former mistake. "You can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him drink." It is one thing to issue bonds, and another thing to sell them, especially when the managers of the financial institutions very plainly intimate that they are not thirsting for any such securities at present.

There are women workers in the city who prate more eloquently about the "great cause" than did Police Matron Gray, and who make more stir in places where people do congregate, but we doubt if there is one who will leave a better record of hard and untiring service well done than this unassuming, faithful and laborious woman, who died yesterday, has now placed on file with the "Great Judge." Mrs. Gray never shrank from the most disagreeable duty and never asked for any bouquets.

A correspondent, who was previously Mayor of an Illinois city, writes to highly commend a recent editorial, entitled "Running a City," especially the suggestion that public-spirited citizens should be found to serve their city as Councilmen and Mayor, without charge. He says that during his fourteen years incumbency as Mayor, receiving the unanimous votes of all political parties, he never made a canvass for election, never solicited a vote, and never paid out a cent for election expenses.

The attempt to make a sensation out of such an archaic proposition as the fact that the City Treasurer does not keep the city's cash in the ancient vault in City Hall, which is not qualified for that business, is on a par with the famous feat of eating breakfast at Ventura before trying to interview Patti.

The Riverside Board of Supervisors has started a "campaign of education" for checking the spread of tuberculosis. This is a good idea. If as much attention had been given to checking this disease as has been given to preventing the spread of other communicable diseases, its ravages might have been very much restricted.

Builders and architects say that Los Angeles is apparently on the eve of a bigger boom in building operations than it has heretofore experienced. Let it come. This is one of the many good results of standing fast for the rights of the citizen as opposed to the aggressions of the walking delegate.

The esteemed physicians have just discovered that lemon juice kills the germs of disease. Many old grandmothers discovered, long ago, that a glass of hot lemonade is a good thing to break up a cold. Some of these medical discoveries are really startling, "don' cher know."

Fleeing in trainloads from the land of the groundhog and his shadow to poppy land—that's the news; Los Angeles building homes for them as fast as hammers can drive nails; the walking delegate clean pushed off the thoroughfares; say, how d'ye like this country, anyhow?

Although the application of the law may be necessary to prevent the automobiles from standing in one place longer than twenty minutes, the automobiles themselves will see that no pedestrian is allowed to stand in one place for a longer time than twenty seconds.

Germany does not appear anxious to take a hand in the Russo-Japanese mix-up. And by the way, your Kaiser William's chip-on-the-shoulder does not appear as frequently and as readily as it did before the Spanish-American War.

When the Japanese sailors who attempted to bottle up Port Arthur arrived in port, they at once proceeded to have their heads shaved, probably not so much as a mark of disgrace as to guard against a Hobson finish.

A newspaper heading refers to "openings for California fruit." Bless your heart! Openings for California fruit are numbered by the millions, and at all hours from 6 a.m to midnight. After that hour no fruit is easily digested.

Cuba held her Congressional election yesterday, but as Cuba is only an embryo in the election business, the day passed off very quietly; no one was killed, and the grand jury will not review the returns.

The Russians were fairly slow in carrying out their promise to evacuate Manchuria, but the Japs are running them a close second in the announcement of their intention to take Port Arthur.

The Chicago messenger boys are on a strike. They probably are demanding that they be relieved of the irksome necessity of ever being compelled to get there with the message.

If it be true that Gen. Ma is mobilizing the Chinese troops, the chances are that Pa will have to stay home and keep house.

We are now hearing more about the banks of the Yalu River than we used to hear about those of the Wabash.

THE PLAYHOUSES.

Bell Benefit.

"—But not to prate, as once of old,
That the tears of the actor are false, unreal,
That his sighs and cries, and the pain that is told,
He has no heart to feel:
No! No!—Is not the actor a man with a heart like you?"

Thus sang Forrest Dabney Carr, voicing with his splendid throat the dramatic prologue to "Pagliacci," at the Bell benefit yesterday afternoon.

The Mason Operahouse was well filled with eager auditors, and every theater in the city sent its quota of Thespians to take part in this testimonial to the Bell Sanitarium for Consumptive Actors, located at Colorado Springs. Manager Wyatt volunteered the house, other managers and their actors volunteered the entertainment, the public volunteered its attendance and money, and as a result nearly $700 of gross receipts lies in the safe in the Mason box office. There are yet numerous outside ticket-sellers to hear from, and the total will probably swell the whole amount to a much larger figure.

The programme only had one unfortunate feature—its enormous length. It contained the roster of the best players now in the city, and gave variety indeed to the listeners. Everything was "on," from the throbs of Grand Opera-house melodrama to the intellectual thrills of Helena Modjeska's great characterization of "Lady Macbeth."

That same portrayal of Mme. Modjeska seemed after all to be the piece de résistance that the audience came for. Her acting has been reviewed too many times to permit of criticism now. Suffice it to say that this one little scene, with the guilty woman half hid in the dark and striving with the dreamy accent and gesture of sleep to wash off from her hands the stain of human blood, will live in the memories of those that were fortunate enough to hear and see it long after memories of later recollections have fled.

The programme was as follows:

Act III, scene 1, from "Kidnapped," by the Elleford company, (courtesy Grand Operahouse;) prologue from "Pagliacci," Forrest Dabney Carr, basso, Miss Blanche Rogers, accompanist; comedy sketch, Van and Beaumont (courtesy of Orpheum;) monologue, Stuart Barnes (courtesy of Orpheum;) Act II from "When We Were Twenty-one," by Neill-Morosco Company (courtesy of Burbank Theater;) German sketch, Rice and Cady (courtesy of Casino Theater;) sleep-walking scene from "Macbeth," Mme. Helena Modjeska; monologue and song, Bobby North (courtesy of Casino Theater;) the American jesters, Thorne and Carleton (courtesy of Orpheum Theater;) operatic due, Thomas Persse and Edith Mason, George Towle, accompanist (courtesy of Casino Theater;) Act II from "Nancy & Co.," James Neill and company.

The benefit was given under the auspices of Los Angeles Lodge, No. 99, B.P.O.E., and the Committee on Arrangement, headed by H. C. Wyatt, included the following names: John Brink, George Goldsmith, Jacob Schaeffer, C. W. Fleming, Oliver Morosco and H. S. Duffield. Arnold Krauss and an orchestra volunteered the music.

Besides these, very hard work was done by James and Edwin Neill, L. Behymer, Winfield Hogaboom, Clarence Drown, Jacob Waldeck and others to make the endeavor that which it surely was—a success.

Also "volunteered" was the work of the stage hands and of the Mason Operahouse ushers.

BURBANK. Oliver Morosco was right when he ventured a managerial prediction that the new Neill-Morosco organization would be one of the best repertoire companies which has ever played at the Burbank Theater. Sunday night the production of "When We Were Twenty-one" fulfilled the prophecy, and if this may be taken as a sample, the new aggregation will prove eminently satisfactory to local audiences. The new players are men and women, evidently familiar with the newest and best in stage tradition. We are thankful, for Los Angeles has had enough of the strutting, small-boy leading man and his equally ridiculous partner, the pert and primping leading lady. The best of the players from the old company have been retained.

"When We Were Twenty-one" is well remembered here from the fascinating impersonation of Nat Goodwin. It is a Goodwin-Elliott comedy, but it is just as well suited to the talents and personalities of other people. The story is wound about a young chap whose care and culture has been the tender charge of four bachelor clubmen, his alleged sweetheart to whom he is engaged, and one of the bachelor quartette. The boy's arranged marriage is a marriage of convenience, and his fiancee is secretly loved by his guardian, she in her turn loving him in secret, but with equal fervor. The unraveling of this combination to the expected happy ending is the basis of action upon which the four scenes of the play are laid.

Amelia Gardner, the new leading woman, takes the role of Phyllis, unwilling fiancee to "The Imp." The actress is a woman of fascinating personality—though not ravishingly beautiful—and charms with her well-bred dignity. She will improve with acquaintance, and will doubtless appear to even greater advantage in a maturer part.

Howard Gould, leading man, in the role of Richard Carewe, is welcome because he is a virile fellow whose simple manliness gives sincere strength to his interpretation. When the time comes for telling, stirring delivery and forceful action he is—"there."

Harry Mestayre, juvenile, is a healthy chap with a bubbling vivacity that spills out and runs over sometimes, but which is better—far better—than the tame impersonation of an angel child who looks pale and sips 5 o'clock tea.

George Woodward is another promising one. He has a sly humor that goes well with his shining pate and pudgy form in character comedy. He drew many laughs over the footlights at his first appearance. Theresa Maxwell cannot be judged by this week's play. She is evidently a talented actress, and her brief appearance as "The Firefly" is at least luridly radiant to look upon.

Helene Montrose, cast in a small part, earns her salary by merely looking natural. Some northern writer called her "the most beautiful girl in San Francisco."

Others, known already to local audiences, are Frank MacVicars, H. S. Duffield, Thomas Oberle, Wilfred Roger, Ernest Van Pelt, H. J. Cinn, Lawrence Carr, Robert Morris, Philip King, Harold Rutledge, Phoea McAllister, Ethel Dunn, Christie McLean, and last, though not by any means least, Elsie Esmond.

ORPHEUM. The Vassar Girls at the Orpheum this week are worth the price of admission as a dainty bit of the musico-spectacular. There are eight of them, and in looks and actions they partake not a whit of that fresh young person, the "chorus" girl. Neither are they like the chorus girl's sister, the "show girl." They might be taken for maidens just out of psychology and ethics—and maybe they are. At any rate, they've learned a whole lot of other things as well. Their first entrance is with a wood-wind quartette, flute, oboe, clarinet and bassoon, and they use these instruments melodiously. The next feature is a novelty, being a saxophone sextette, which makes its entrance playing the gorgeously brilliant overture to "Carmen." A double quartette of brass instruments follows, and after this an electric ballet. The spectacular finish has pretty costumes and evidently all the fascinating effects of quick light and shadow that its designer could think up.

But the Vassar Girls are not the only good things on the Orpheum's amusement list. Harry Thompson, who calls himself "Mayor of the Bowery," is doing a finished comedy monologue, presenting clever characterizations of the various denizens of New York's East Side. The Werner-Amoros troupe of pantomimists and jugglers have about as violent a fifteen minutes as can be gotten on a stage. One of them juggles nine billiard balls and claims to be the only man in the world doing that trick. Ziska and King, magician and valet, present a fair piece of theatrical "goods" in the standard act of mystery and wonder.

Holdovers are Rice and Elmer, presenting "A Rube's First Visit to Chinatown;" Snyder and Buckley, in their musical sketch; Billy Van and Rose Beaumont in a new sketch, and last, and perhaps most fetching of all the familiar ones, inimitable John T. Thorne and Grace Carleton.

CASINO. Weber and Fields have come and gone. Perhaps the town is more lighthearted; anyway it is a few dollars poorer. But the local optimist doesn't care so much whether he has Weber and Fields or not. He's got the Casino.

Fred Cady, with his childlike confidences and trusting voice, is about as funny as Felds. He is not by any means an imitation, for though enacting the same roles, with even the same gags, Fields and Cady work on totally different lines.

Also, Edith Mason has more voice than any half dozen of the big show's vocalists. It is a beautiful voice, too. We have been entertained for many weeks with Barney Bernard, and there was no such third comedian with the New York burlesquers.

"Hoity-Toity," pleasing concatecation of fun and music, is continued this week. We are glad to have seen the original, autographed, hand-embossed volume of Weberfields humor, but we are also glad that our own edition is going to stay with us.

GRAND OPERAHOUSE. The dark man with the evil eye has been waiting around the corner for a week, biding his designs and time until the sweet heroine should come his way. Sunday afternoon she came, and he got her. But after awhile, of course, he himself got "it," in the working out of the customary melodramatic vengeance.

"Kidnapped," put on by the Elleford Company, shows about everything that it is possible to show in the few hours of a play presentation. There is a murder, an escape from an insane asylum, a robbery, and what-not.

Also, there is a "great" scene in a leap from Brooklyn Bridge, while the orchestra plays and the lights are bent the proper send-off; but there is a rescue by a tug. The gallery wishes that the jump could be made a little more effective—such as having a great splash in the water, or showing the man flying through the air on his long downward flight. Something like that would help out.

Another strange thing is the amount of funnyisms that the character in the average melodrama seems capable of perpetrating. They can all dance, or sing, or crack jokes, just as if they were a bunch from comic-opera land. Perhaps melodrama is closely allied to comic opera.

BROADWAY. Manager Morganstern's playhouse has an excellent and popular-priced vaudeville bill this week. The feature is one "Klippy," a tramp juggler, who is a sure winner with Broadway audiences. Wallace and Beach second him with a clever act in comedy contortion. Walter Jones, the female impersonator with the highly-cultivated falsetto, is still enacting his "lady" roles. Wilson and Moran have a sketch in which man's derelictions and woman's temper are shown amusingly. The Empire Trio has returned, and motion pictures are exhibited from "Mr. Bluebeard."

Montgomery, the baritone, is having one of his best weeks, singing as an illustrated ballad "Goodnight, Beloved."

MUSIC AND MUSICIANS.

Mary Golden.

Miss Mary Golden of Boston, who will appear in concert at Simpson Auditorium Thursday evening, is said to have a high soprano voice of great compass, power and richness. If she has all the vocal charms which her hearers claim for her she will surely be a welcome addition to local musical circles.

Miss Golden studied under J. J. Turner in Boston, and is at present living at No. 455 South Alvarado street, this city. She is a thorough musician, and brings excellent recommendations for concert work, oratorio and church music. In her concert Thursday evening she will sing in German, French, English and Italian. This is a feat which only Nordicas and Blauvelts usually attempted.

She will be assisted by an excellent array of local talent.

Blauvelt Farewell.

Mme. Lillian Blauvelt gave her farewell concert in Mason Operahouse last evening. Her audience, though comparatively small, was appreciative to a degree, and encored her enthusiastically.

Mme. Blauvelt goes to Salt Lake City from here, singing in the great Mormon Temple Wednesday evening. Her engagements take her slowly eastward until she reaches Washington, where she will sing the "Stabat Mater" with the Washington Choral Society.

Chemulpo, the port for Seoul, the capital of Korea, looks out over a vast and shallow bay, where the tide rises for some thirty feet.

IF NOT BARD, THEN WATT—GOOD ENOUGH.

[Redlands Citrograph.]

However, if Senator Bard does not desire a reelection, or if, desiring a reelection, he will not come clearly out in the open and say so, fitting his acts to his words, and it becomes necessary to find some other man who can fill the position, not rattle around in the place like a pea in a dried bladder, then our voice, our pen and our work goes for the Hon. Russell J. Waters of Los Angeles, who would honor the position by one who has been tried in public life and not found wanting, one whose honesty has never been questioned and whose ability is far above the ordinary. We prefer Bard solely because of his six years' experience. If we can get Russell J. Waters as Senator for the next thirty consecutive years we shall be the most fortunate people in the country.

THE PHYSICAL CULTURE GIRL.

A phys'cal-culture girl is Sister Sue,
Gee! you orter see th' things 'at she kin do!
She kin punch th' bag, b' jing!
An' kin box like ev'rything,
An' in fencin'—well, she knows a thing or two.

She kin swing around upon th' high trapeze,
Flop a han'spring jest as easy as you please.
She'll play tennis by th' hour,
'Theut exhaustin' any power,
An' kin sail a racin' yacht in any breeze.

She kin easy raise a fifty-pound dumb-bell
Forty times before she'll take a restin' spell;
She kin give 'em all th' rub,
Golfin' at th' Country Club,
An' at hand ball stan's without a parallel.

She tramps th' hills a-huntin' an' she fishes,
An' she rides a hoss a-straddle ('gainst pa's wishes;)
But she's "just too awful tired,"
'Bout th time she is required
In th' kitchen helpin' ma to wash th' dishes!

If it costs the Japs $350,000 an hour for a bombardment, it would appear that war is expensive as well as the Sherman definition.

DEMOCRACY'S VAIN SEARCH.

It isn't Grover Cleveland,
It isn't Billy Boy,
Whose name the party leaders
Proclaim with hope and joy.
Dave Hill is long forgotten,
And Gorman's boom has burst;
A fond farewell forever
To Willie Randolph Hearst!
Joe Bailey's name is mentioned,
And then is cast aside;

McClellan, too, the party
Most sneeringly deride.
Dick Croker's been considered,
And so has Tillman, too,
And when they mentioned Morgan,
'Twas said he'd never do.
Where is the mighty Moses
Who'll face the battle's brunt?
Alas! the party leaders
Are still upon the hunt!

Of course, those girls who belong to the Garment Makers' Union will refuse to allow non-union sleeves to encircle their wasp-like waists.

WHAT IS LIFE?

Just a little bit of sighing
Journeying along;
Just a little bit of crying,
Mingled with the song;
Just a little bit of heartache,
Just a few sad tears;
Just a little joy and pleasure,
Rounding out life's years.

Just a little friendship gathered
Up along the way;
Just a little disappointment
For us, day by day;
Just a little of life's battles
Nobly fought and won;
Just a crown of victory for us
When the strife is done.

There is a book on the market entitled "How to Live to Be a Hundred Years Old." A perusal of the volume would probably result in the advice: "Use Grandpa's Predigested Pancake Flour," or "Buy-a-biskit."

Baltimore is having a political row about the guarding of its ruins—a fair example of what the vivisected Democracy is engaged in just now.

And it will also require some time, after the war is over, to straighten the kinks out of the cables to the Far East, occasioned by sending those jaw-breaking names through it.

Japan's "bottling-up" work has been unsuccessful. From a Kentucky point of view the outlook for the Japs is, therefore, a decidedly gloomy one.

The regrets of Grover Cleveland were read at another Democratic banquet in New York the other night. It must be that Grover has a supply of regret blanks on hand which he feels must not be allowed to go to waste.

SUMPHOLE FIREWORKS.

Careless Manager of Asphalt Refinery Makes Trouble for the Fire Department.

Because the manager of the Barber Asphalt Paving Company's refinery on Alhambra avenue, near the river, did not take the trouble to notify the fire department that he wanted to burn out a sumphole on the refinery grounds, several engine and hose companies made a sprint through the mud yesterday to put out a blaze which the asphalt company did not wish to have extinguished.

The sumphole which collects the waste from the refinery is at the east end of the premises behind a high board fence and a corrugated-iron shed. It is occasionally burned out, and yesterday morning was one of these occasions. As soon as the match was touched to the oil a dense cloud of smoke ascended, and, somebody thinking the refinery was burning, sent in an alarm from the box at North Main and San Fernando streets. Instantly the companies in that district responded and laid lines of hose from all available fire plugs, none being very near the place.

To get at the fire the fence and gates of the iron shed had to be battered down, much to the disgust of the manager of the works who had started the fire. Reporters who hurried to the scene of the conflagration were peremptorily ordered from the grounds by the irate manager, who was disgruntled because his little pyrotechnics attracted so much attention. He didn't want the newspapers to make any report of the disturbance.

No damage was done except the little caused by the firemen in breaking into the enclosure. The firemen were disgusted when they saw the inconsequential character of the blaze. The asphalt man was warned to get a permit before starting further impromptu fireworks.

THE PHYSICAL CULTURE GIRL.

A phys'cal-culture girl is Sister Sue,
Gee! you orter see th' things 'at she kin do!
She kin punch th' bag, b' jing!
An' kin box like ev'rything,
An' in fencin'—well, she knows a thing er two.

She kin swing around upon th' high trapeze,
Flop a han'spring jest as easy as you please,
She'll play tennis by th' hour,
'Thout exhaustin' any power,
An' kin sail a racin' yacht in any breeze.

She kin easy raise a fifty-pound dumb-bell
Forty times before she'll take a restin' spell;
She kin give 'em all th' rub,
Golfin' at th' Country Club,
An' at hand ball stan's without a parallel.

She tramps th' hills a-huntin' an' she fishes,
An' she rides a hoss a-straddle ('gainst pa's wishes;)
But she's "just too awful tired,"
'Bout th time she is required
In th' kitchen helpin' ma to wash th' dishes!

Chicago is renovating her theaters. Let the plays also come in for a little purification.

The Roosevelt boom has a melodious echo to it that sings harmonious victory.

Those stories of the last Port Arthur fight are about as conflicting as the reports of the age of the late Ann.

If it costs the Japs $350,000 an hour for a bombardment, it would appear that war is expensive as well as the Sherman definition.

Even Hobson has finally come to the conclusion that he could have done a better bottling-up job than the Japs made of it.

DEMOCRACY'S VAIN SEARCH.

It isn't Grover Cleveland,
It isn't Billy Boy,
Whose name the party leaders
Proclaim with hope and joy.
Dave Hill is long forgotten,
And Gorman's boom has burst;
A fond farewell forever
To Willie Randolph Hearst!
Joe Bailey's name is mentioned,
And then is cast aside;

McClellan, too, the party
Most sneeringly deride.
Dick Croker's been considered,
And so has Tillman, too,
And when they mentioned Morgan,
'Twas said he'd never do.
Where is the mighty Moses
Who'll face the battle's brunt?
Alas! the party leaders
Are still upon the hunt!

Of course, those girls who belong to the Garment Makers' Union will refuse to allow non-union sleeves to encircle their wasp-like waists.

The Balkan war cloud again shows a disposition to darken up in patches.

Gen. Blagoschensky is en route to Manchuria from St. Petersburg. Now will the Japs lay down their arms?

The Far Eastern war is sending the price of camphor higher. If you haven't already bought your summer supply of moth balls you'll have to hurry!

The price of saki, the popular Japanese drink, is rising on account of the war. Now is the time for Milwaukee to spread her fame abroad!

The Korean government has stripped Yi-Yong-Ik, formerly Minister of War, of all his titles except that of general, but he may retain all his hyphens.

Russia calls upon England to declare herself. The Czar seems determined to know, among the other powers, who's whatovitch and why-ski!

WHAT IS LIFE?

Just a little bit of sighing
Journeying along;
Just a little bit of crying,
Mingled with the song;
Just a little bit of heartache,
Just a few sad tears;
Just a little joy and pleasure,
Rounding out life's years.

Just a little friendship gathered
Up along the way;
Just a little disappointment
For us, day by day;
Just a little of life's battles
Nobly fought and won;
Just a crown of vict'ry for us
When the strife is done.

There is a book on the market entitled "How to Live to Be a Hundred Years Old." A perusal of the volume would probably result in the advice: "Use Grandpa's Predigested Pancake Flour," or "Buy-a-biskit."

Baltimore is having a political row about the guarding of its ruins—a fair example of what the vivisected Democracy is engaged in just now.

And it will also require some time, after the war is over, to straighten the kinks out of the cables to the Far East, occasioned by sending those jaw-breaking names through it.

Japan's "bottling-up" work has been unsuccessful. From a Kentucky point of view the outlook for the Japs is, therefore, a decidedly gloomy one.

The regrets of Grover Cleveland were read at another Democratic banquet in New York the other night. It must be that Grover has a supply of regret blanks on hand which he feels must not be allowed to go to waste.

In taking his first trip in a modern steamer Emperor William must understand that he will have to tip the steward just as heavily as he would a porter on a railroad train.

It is the belief in Washington army circles that neither Japan nor Russia can win. Then why not pitch up a penny as to which side shall evacuate, and call the deal square?

Now that there is talk of forbidding the transportation of fireworks on railroad trains, will the small boy sit idly by without a word of protest? We trow not!

SUMPHOLE FIREWORKS.

Careless Manager of Asphalt Refinery Makes Trouble for the Fire Department.

Because the manager of the Barber Asphalt Paving Company's refinery on Alhambra avenue, near the river, did not take the trouble to notify the fire department that he wanted to burn out a sumphole on the refinery grounds, several engine and hose companies made a sprint through the mud yesterday to put out a blaze which the asphalt company did not wish to have extinguished.

The sumphole which collects the waste from the refinery is at the east end of the premises behind a high board fence and a corrugated-iron shed. It is occasionally burned out, and yesterday morning was one of these occasions. As soon as the match was touched to the oil a dense cloud of smoke ascended, and, somebody thinking the refinery was burning, sent in an alarm from the box at North Main and San Fernando streets. Instantly the companies in that district responded and laid lines of hose from all available fire plugs, none being very near the place.

To get at the fire the fence and gates of the iron shed had to be battered down, much to the disgust of the manager of the works who had started the fire. Reporters who hurried to the scene of the conflagration were peremptorily ordered from the grounds by the irate manager, who was disgruntled because his little pyrotechnics attracted so much attention. He didn't want the newspapers to make any report of the disturbance.

No damage was done except the little caused by the firemen in breaking into the enclosure. The firemen were disgusted when they saw the inconsequential character of the blaze. The asphalt man was warned to get a permit before starting further impromptu fireworks.

FOR SALE—

BEEN OVER TO HOLLYWOOD LATELY? GOING OVER TODAY, HEY?

Well, tell the conductor to let you off at Crown avenue, walk up to the head of the avenue, only 5 blocks; stop there and look in the situation. If it looks good, why, remember you are right in the center of Forest Glen. The cottage on the southeast corner is to be removed and replaced by the owner with a $10,000 residence to correspond with the one across the street. Also, Mr. Stoll will build a $10,000 home adjoining on the south. These and many others will be started just as soon as the rainy season is over.

We have left just a few desirable residence lots. Now we are not trying to see how many we can cut to the acre, or how cheap we can sell them; for $30 down and $10 a month. They are one-half acre to one-acre lots, and prices are not high for such desirable property.

Do not fail to take this trip. Cars run every fifteen minutes any day, or on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at 2 p.m. parlor cars Mermaid and Four Hundred make the trip to Hollywood, stops at Crown avenue, where tallyhos take you up the avenue and through the Laughlin grounds, directly across the street from Forest Glen, or call at our office and we will drive you over; you look at this property and then, if it suits you, talk with the owners for further particulars.

MADE MARKS ON SULLIVAN.

"Young Corbett" Gives Him a Terrible Beating.

Referee Stops the Fight in Eleventh Round.

Jeff is to Fight Munroe. Baseball Gathering.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PAVILION, SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 29.—Champion "Young Corbett" had no difficulty in retaining his laurels tonight, defeating Dave Sullivan of New York in the elevnth round of a scheduled 20-round contest. Corbett left the ring without a mark, while, on the other hand, Sullvan received a terrific beating, only the merciful action of Referee Graney in stopping the contest saving the New Yorker from having his face beaten into a pulp. Sullivan put up a game fight, and though outboxed, outfought and outgeneraled, he gave the chadnpion cause for worry in one round.

Taking another feature out of the contest, which was Sullivan's excessive gameness, the fight was never in doubt. Corbett held his man safe during all stages of the contest, and it was but a question of time when Sullivan would have to quit. The fourth round nearly saw the end of the contest, and only by taking the full count on four different occasions did Sullivan manage to pull through. The main feature of the fight was the great amount of infighting. They hung together for a minute at a time, using either hand that they could get free. Corbett proved himself very much superior in that style of fighting, as he seemed to punch harder from a short distance.

After the disastrous eighth round, Sullivan's ability to come up in the succeeding rounds was a surprise. He seemed to have taken a new lease of life, but it was only a flash, and did not prove any benefit to him, as he received more punishment without any chance of ultimate success. The contest, on the whole, was one-sided.

Jimmy Britt was an interested spectator at the ringside, and seemed to be figuring on his chances to beat the champion featherweight. The general opinion of the sporting element, which has seen both men in action, is that Corbett will be the favorite in the betting, and that Britt, while giving him a great fight, will not prove to be the winner.

The fight for the championship did not prove the attraction expected by the Yosemite Athletic Club. The general belief among the sporting element that Sullivan would prove an easy victim for the champion had its effect on the attendance, which was below the average. Corbett ruled favorite, with odds of 3 to 1 in his favor. Sullivan is reported to have wagered $500 against $1500 that he would be returned the victor. Both the principals weighed in this afternoon and had no trouble in making the specified weight, 130 pounds. Both had trained faithfully for tonight's contest, and were in the best of condition. Eddie Graney acted as referee.

The preliminary events were better than the average contsts of this kind. The first was between George Sanfranson of Nome, Alaska, and Caesar Attel of San Francisco. It was declared a draw after eight rounds of fierce fighting. The referee in the first round awarded the decision to Attel, Sanfranson having twice deliberately fouled his man as the latter rested on his knees from the effects of a knockdown. He subsequently rescinded his decision, however, Attel expressing his willingness to continue the contest, which went the limit to a draw.

Frank Rafael and Charles Seiger of Chicago were the next to enter the ring. The contest was declared a draw at the end of the tenth round. Rafael put up a good fight for a shorter, and the crowd became very demonstrative at the decision, evidently thinking that Rafael should have received the verdict. Rafael throughout landed the most telling blows, but Seiger, on the other hand, did most of the leading. The latter was considerably overweight. Seiger recently lost a decision to Jimmy Britt in this city.

"Young Corbett" was the first of the principals in the main fight to emerge from his dressing-room. Sullivan entered the ring a minute or two later. Sullivan had for his seconds "Spider" Kelly, Frank McDonald and Jimmy Barry. Corbett had Tim McGrath, George Weeden, Billy Otis and Billy Roche. Corbett was intorduced as the "pride of of Denver and the feather-weight champion of the world." He received a popular demonstration. Sullivan was warmly received. A challenge from Johnny Burns of New York was received and read, as was also one from "Spider" Welch, a local pugilist. "Kid" Herman of Chicago was also there with a challenge. As Corbett disrobed, it was seen that his condition was superb, while Sullivan also looked to be in perfect trim. The crowd yelled for Jimmy Britt, who entered the ring and shook hands with the principals, after which time was called.

FIGHT BY ROUNDS.

First round—After some sparring, Sullivan led twice with left, falling short. Corbett then swung ineffectively with right for the jaw, and tried the left cross, which failed to connect. Corbett missed a left and right swing for the face, and Sullivan neatly blocked a similar attempt. Sullivan landed lightly with left on the ear, and they closed in. Both men displayed great cleverness, and Sullivan again blocked left and right swings for the head. Finally Corbett got his right to the body lightly and a left jab to the face. Sullivan tried a left swing, missed and slipped to the floor. Upon rising, Corbett chopped a right to the face, and as the bell sounded sent in a straight left to the face. There was no damage done, and but very little fighting of consequence. Sullivan made a favorable impression by his cleverness and was cheered.

Second round—They went to a clinch. Sullivan missed a left for the face, and the champion countered with left and right swings to the face. Corbett began his usual game of talking and "jollying" his antagonist, and then, quick as a flash, drove his right to the body, following it with a light left to the face. Corbett had Sullivan laughing at his witty badinage. The champion missed right and left swings for the body, and Sullivan just missed a vicious left swing that grazed Corbett's face. Sullivan planted a right swing over the kidneys and received a straight left to the face. After landing a straight left on Corbett's nose, Sullivan went to the floor for a count of seven from a well-directed right flush on the jaw. He was up quickly, however, and previous to the sound of the bell mixed it viciously with the champion, but received much the worse of the rally. It was Corbett's round.

Third round—Corbett swung with right for the ear, but it went wild. He then missed a left for the body, and the referee cautioned both men about holding on. They mixed it, Corbett missing some lefts for the body. A vicious left swing by the champion grazed the top of Sullivan's caput. Then followed a mix, Corbett missing several lefts and rights for the face. Sullivan made the champion stop talking by planting a left and right hard on the face while in a mix. Corbett sent Sullivan's head back with a straight left to the jaw. The latter clinched, and in a minute Corbett got in two short-arm rights to the body. Corbett rocked Sullivan's head with a raking right on the face, and the bell found Sullivan slugging ineffectually at the champion's body. It was Corbett's round.

Fourth round—Sullivan jabbed the champion on the face with straight left and some fast infighting followed, Corbett planting his left to the jaw, following it with left to the body. Corbett shot his right viciously to the jaw, and Sullivan resorted to infighting, in which he was worsted. Sullivan planted two hard rights on the champion's ear, and the men refused to break. They battled breast to breast, both giving and taking hard face blows. Finally, Corbett broke it up and chopped a vicious right to the jaw, sending Sullivan to the floor for the count of nine. Sullivan came up groggy, and a left uppercut to the jaw once more sent him to the floor for the count of nine. It looked easy for Corbett. Sullivan came up, clinched, and the bell practically saved him from a knockout. Corbett's blows were clean cut, and it looked as if Sullivan will not last another round.

Fifth round—Corbett drove fearful rights and lefts on his antagonist's jaw, and Sullivan went to the floor twice for the count of seven. Corbett met Sullivan with a fearful jolt to the stomach, and the latter clung desperately to the champion. A wild swing by Sullivan caught Corbett on the stomach, but he waded right in, after Sullivan, sending him to the ropes with left and right hooks to the jaw. They mixed it, Corbett delivering terrific punishment on the body and face. Sullivan bled from the nose. Corbett drove his left straight to the face, but Sullivan surprised the champion by sending in two terrific lefts, one to the body and one to the face. Both fought desperately Sullivan making a rally that sent the pavilion into an uproar. It looked very much like a dying man's effort, however, but nevertheless Sullivan inflicted severe punishment on the champion as the round ended. It was Corbett's round.

Sixth round—They rushed together without result. Sullivan appeared to have recuperated somewhat. Corbett swung a left to the jaw lightly, and was countered with a left hook to the stomach. Corbett missed a terrific left swing for the jaw and a right swing also went wild, as did a straight left by Sullivan. Corbett missed two left hooks for the body and failed in an attempt to land a right swing. Sullivan put in a straight left to the face, and followed it with a right swing to the head, and they clinched. Corbett sent Sullivan back with straight left to the face, and in a mix-up they exchanged lefts to the body. Just as the bell rang, Corbett sent in straight right to the face. Sullivan showed great improvement in this round, and Corbett acted more cautiously.

Seventh round—Sullivan was short with left, and they clinched. Breaking away, both swung ineffectually with rights, and Corbett put two rights over the kidneys and then a wicked right swing to the body. Sullivan planted a vicious left hook to the body that made Corbett wince. They clinched, and Corbett, after the breakway, missed a fearful left swing for the jaw. He offset this by a hard right swing to the head, and escaped a counter. Corbett swung his right to the ear, and missed a swing with his right for the jaw. Sullivan forced the champion to the ropes, landing a left flush to the face and a right to the head. They went to close quarters, mixing it without damage. The bell clanged at this stage. Sullivan continued to show improvement, and is far now from being a defeated man.

Eighth round—Corbett missed a right swing for the ear, and they went together. Emerging from the clinch, Corbett jolted Sullivan with right to the jaw, and, quick as a flash, planted his left hard to the nose, and a moment later got in a left to the head and a right to the jaw. They stood close together, and finally, as Sullivan backed away, two rights caught him on the jaw, and he quickly sought refuge in a mix-up, in which he received two fearful rights to the body. Corbett missed a right swing, and after receiving a straight left to the face, drove in a straight right on Sullivan's face, forcing him to a clinch. Vicious infighting followed, with Corbett having considerably the better of it. It was easily Corbett's round, the champion's blows having great force behind them. Sullivan looked a bit worried as he went to his corner.

Ninth round—They at once mixed it, the champion landing several rights on the body and lefts to the face. Sullivan was outmatched in this kind of fighting, and Corbett had not much difficulty in landing. Sullivan backed Corbett against the ropes, nearly forcing him through, and landed several good rights and lefts to the body. They worked their way to the center of the ring, Corbett finally landing two rights and a left swing on the jaw. Sullivan fought back gallantly, but his blows failed to find a resting place. They again fought breast to breast, Corbett doing the most execution. However, Sullivan drove his right twice to the body and a left to the same place. He forced Corbett against the ropes in his (Sullivan's) corner, and gave the champion as much as he took. It was a gruelling finish to the round, with honors even. Corbett had the better of the early part of the round.

Tenth round—They mixed it again fiercely, exchanging rights and lefts to the body. Corbett, however, outfought his antagonist and gave three blows to Dave's one. Sullivan jolted the champion with a right uppercut, and was ordered to discontinue holding, by Referee Graney. Corbett caught Sullivan with a hard right swing to the jaw and a left to the same place. Corbett received a straight left to the jaw as he broke away, and they mixed it again viciously. Corbett planting right and left to the jaw. Corbett sent Sullivan to the floor with a blow very low, and the crowd yelled foul. He followed it with right and left to the jaw, and the bell rang. The foul, while unquestionably delivered, was plainly accidental. The crowd kept on yelling foul at the end of the round, but Referee Graney paid no attention to the claim of Sullivan's seconds.

Eleventh round—In the mix, Corbett planted two rights over the kidneys. He swung three hard lefts to Dave's face and forced the latter to a clinch. Corbett jarred Sullivan with an avalanche of rights and lefts to the jaw, and Sullivan spit blood all over the ring. He saved himself only by hanging on. Corbett sent Sullivan to the floor with a fearful right and left swing, and as Sullivan came to his feet Corbett beat his face into a jelly. Sullivan clung desperately to the champion, and the crowd yelled for Graney to stop the contest, the game Irishman being practically helpless. Graney finally stopped the contest and awarded the decision to Corbett. Sullivan, while not knocked out, was hopelessly defeated when the decision was given against him.

HAS CAESAR SKIPPED?

STRANDED ACTRESS MAY KNOW.

The New York Club, one of the books operating in the betting ring at Ascot Park, will be doing business today as usual, but it will not be under the direction of Caesar Young as heretofore, with J. D. Millen as manager.

Millen is scheduled to leave this morning for San Francisco in answer to a telegram from Mrs. Caesar Young, which she sent last night. It instructed him to return at once to San Francisco and bring the "bank roll" with him.

There was a rumor around town last night that Caesar Young had left San Francisco and his wife, in company with an actress named Nan Randolph, who claimed to be one of the "original" Florodora sextette, but it could not be verified by any of Young's friends here, although the telegram to Millen lends color to it. A number of bookmakers here at present, stated that the statement did not surprise them, for Young has been killing whisky at a great rate for the past year. The Randolph woman will be well remembered here by some of the high rollers, for she was a daily visitor at Agricultural Park when the horse races were on there a year or so ago.

HOT OAKLAND RACES ON A HEAVY TRACK.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 29.—Fine weather favored the racing at Oakland today, but the track was heavy. In the first race, at five and a half furlongs, Little Sister, after running about a quarter of a mile, staggered and fell, dying almost instantly. She had ruptured a blood vessel. Knapp, who rode, escaped injury. Cassie W. won the race from Amoruna, a 30-to-1 shot, while Rustic Girl, the favorite, was third. Burns & Waterhouse announced today that their horses in training will be sold at auction March 15. Summary:

Five and a half furlongs, selling: Cassie W., 106 (Bonner,) 6 to 1, won; Amoruna, 92 (Crosswaite,) 30 to 1, second; Rustic Girl, 106 (Roach,) 8 to 5, third; time 1:11¼. Argot, Penance, Egyptian Princess, Pearl Diver and Priestlike, finished as named. Little Sister dropped dead.

Six furlongs, selling: Lansdowne, 99 (Roach,) 13 to 5, won; Muresca, 102 (Knapp,) 11 to 20, second; Lady Kent, 102 (Holbrok,) 10 to 1, third; time 1:16¼; Sol Lichtenstein, Flaneur, Sir Preston, Pickaway and Contestant finished as named.

Five and a half furlongs, selling: Hoceo, 104 (J. Martin,) 6 to 5, won; Box Elder, 99 (W. Daly,) 16 to 5, second; Targette, 97 (Vanderbout,) 5 to 1, third; time 1:12¼. The Jew, Mendota, Red Bird, Hannah Van and County Downs finished as named.

One mile, selling: Mr. Dingle, 105 (Buxton,) 6 to 5, won; Outburst, 112 (Sea,) 12 to 1, second; Mr. Farnum, 107 (Bonner,) 13 to 1, third; time 1:46¾. Searcher, Isabellita, Billy Moore, Sue Johnson and El Fons finished as named.

Futurity course, purse; Lord Wadsworth, 102 (Travers,) 16 to 1, won; Red Cross Nurse, 102 (Holbrook,) 6 to 1, second; Celebrant, 109 (J. Daly,) 3 to 5, third; time 1:13¾. Young Pepper also ran. Solanus and Soufrierie pulled up.

Mile and a sixteenth, purse: Velerano, 104 (J. Martin,) 9 to 2, won; Daisy Green, 95 (W. Daly,) 10 to 1, second; Chickadee, 108 (Bonner,) 12 to 1, third; time 1:53. O'Hagen, Esherin and The Way finished as named.

AL ENRIGHT TURNS FLYER.

Wins Race at a Shockingly Long Price.

"Lucky's" Americano Takes a Little Exercise.

Farmer Jim Has Another Case of Nosebleed.

Albert Enright sizzled down the line yesterday afternoon at the juicy odds of 40 and 50 to 1 burning holes in the pockets of the sports, upsetting all kinds of form charts and giving a vivid flash of color to the old biblical adage that the last shall be first without any particular reason why it should be so.

A man would as soon expect to draw the capital prize in a lottery with two bits as to play this beast to win, and the fact that he knocked almost all the sports off the farthest end of the longest limb is spectacular evidence that "hos racin'" is sometimes a strange and startling pastime.

If the books had put Enright up at 1 to 2 it is not likely that they would have sold two pounds of him for dog meat. He looked about as enticing as a man wearing a plug hat to breakfast, and if he had any real license to win after what he didn't do the last time out, it must have expired by limitation some weeks ago. On January 8 he ran last in a field of ten, beaten fifteen lengths by Platonius in 1:43½, his closing price at that time being 20 to 1. Now after a seven week's rest he goes out and skins a good field at 40 to 1 and you might have killed every sport at the track with a feather pillow.

This was the jolting event of a day that was an ideal one for racing and an inviting one for the crowd. The races were interesting and the sports found them very much to their liking, for they dealt the books some stiff jolts on various occasions.

STRAGGLER SURPRISEM 'EM.

The second best surprise of the card was in the fourth race, when the light-weighted Mezzo had all she could do to beat the 12-to-1-shot Straggler in a driving stretch run. Straggler was giving the winner eleven pounds and would doubtless have won easily but Booker made too free with him in the first part of the race and let him run himself into the ground. Even then Hildebrand had to crowd Straggler a little to win after the Sir Modred gelding had rushed into the stretch almost two lengths ahead of Mezzo. The strongly-played good thing Platonius was well up at the half, but faded away from the leaders in the run home.

Peggy Mine finally managed to beat a lot of two-year-olds, winning easily at 4 to 1 from the favorite Hilona. The hot-tip Melar ran a bad race and Brown Study was not much better.

Dargin was left at the post in the second race and Col. Bogey had very little trouble in beating the others who were not. Murphy held him right behind the pacemaker, Metlakatla, into the stretch, and then went on and won.

AMERICANO EXERCISES.

The third race gave Baldwin's Americano a chance for an exercise run, and he made his field look about as small as a man feels when he tells a good joke that falls on his audience like a piece of sad news. Americano and Cruzados were coupled in the betting at 1 to 2, and the next best horse, Nervator, was 3 to 10 to show. From this it is evident that the pikers didn't make much money off the race and the majority of them wisely stayed off. Americano got away in fifth place, but when he commenced to run there was nothing else in the race, and he really leaped away from the others in the stretch. Cruzados had a driving finish with Nervator for the place.

Nanon annexed the fifth very easily after being bumped almost into last place just after the start. The favorite, Farmer Jim, not only got a poor start, but had an attack of the nosebleed and stopped to look for a handkerchief. There were three or four good things in this, but none of them could get into the money. The tip, Criss Cross, just managed to run fast enough to keep from catching a cold, but she couldn't catch anything in front of her.

LIVELY BASEBALL.

SANTA BARBARA-THACHER.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] This afternoon the baseball teams of the local High School defeated the ball tossers from the Thacher school in the Ojai by a score of 6 to 5. The game was one of the snappiest and best played on the local grounds for some time and the result was in doubt until the last inning, the winning run being scored in the ninth. Superior batting won the game, the locals proving to be better with the stick than the visitors.

Batteries—Westwick and Wells; Spaulding and Gally.

Struck out—by Westwick 7; by Spaulding, 6.

To Clean Carpets.

If you have a carpet that looks dingy and you wish to restore it to its original freshness, make a stiff lather of Ivory Soap and warm water and scrub it, width by width, with the lather. Wipe with a clean damp sponge. Do not apply more water than necessary.

The vegetable oils of which Ivory Soap is made, and its purity, fit it for many special uses for which other soaps are unsafe and unsatisfactory.

MORLEY ASKS FIVE POSERS.

Wants Northern Magnates to Give Some "Whys."

Local Manager is Not at All Satisfied.

Spring Practice Begins at Chutes Park Grounds.

"I think this Dillon matter is about settled, but there are still two or three points about it that I would like to clear up," remarked Manager Morley yesterday afternoon. "Mr. Johnson has been misquoted quite generally, one word having been changed so as to make his recent message to me, instead of a most important document one of no relevance whatever."

"Johnson telegraphed: 'The National Association has no jurisdiction over Dillon.' He did not say 'the National League' as was generally printed. This put an entirely different face upon the affair and puts Johnson right in showing that he was talking to the point instead of beating around the bush—a thing Mr. Johnson, in my experience, does not do.

"I am convinced that the names of Dillon, Dammann and Castro were not in the National Association's doings at the recent meeting, and believe their introduction into the case was a bit of Hanlon's personal work, not done as a member of the committee appointed to settle the matter by accepting the Coast League's terms, as that committee, according to dispatches, was instructed to do. Furthermore, I feel satisfied the National Association will repudiate the Dillon job when it comes before their notice.

"When Mr. Bert wired back to Hanlon these significant words, 'What is the hitch? Thought everything was understood by you,' I formed my opinion that some verbal deal had been fixed up by Hanlon up North and I haven't changed it. Hanlon then wired back: 'Everything satisfactory if you waive Dillon, Castro and Dammann,' and signed his name, not as a member of the committee—simply Hanlon. I am convinced it was simply Hanlon all the way through. Now I want to ask the northern managers some questions which I suppose they will not answer. I presume they will hide behind 'the incident is closed.'

"I want to ask Harris why he wrote all the managers in this league as a member of the Peace Committee, advising them to sign all the players they could as we would insist on retaining whatever players we had, and then makes Hanlon a Christmas present of the best men in the league?

"I would like to have Messrs. Bert and Harris tell me why, after telling Hanlon repeatedly at the meeting that the Dillon matter would have to be settled by him and myself, they went ahead and tried to sett

Long Beach and Pasadena will send delegations. C. H. Chandler, western traveling secretary of the brotherhood, will deliver an address.

Acrobatic Japs.

Norris & Rowe have secured for their new big circus that will exhibit here five days, starting Tuesday, March 8, a troupe of royal Japanese acrobats. Those who have witnessed their performance declare it to be marvelous. They perform intricate feats with a brilliancy, dash and daring that is pleasing to the eye. This is but one of the many dazzling features that Norris & Rowe have provided for their new circus carnival.

Prof. Clark's Lecture.

Prof. S. H. Clark of Chicago University delivered his lecture on the "Spiritual Meaning of Tragedy," before an interested audience at Cumnock Hall last evening. The speaker made a strong plea for better literature and for reading of the best and highest class of thought. The comparative values of literature were shown by references to the works of Shakespeare, Goethe, Victor Hugo and others. This was the first of a series of six lectures to be given by Prof. Clark during the week. Two changes have been made in the programme and the corrected schedule is as follows: Tuesday afternoon, "Hamlet;" Wednesday night, "Antigone;" Thursday afternoon "Spanish Gypsy;" Friday night, "Ulysses;" Saturday afternoon, "The Tempest."

Too Much Medicine.

The Coroner's inquest yesterday over the body of C. E. Smallwood, who was found dead in a closet of a lodging-house at the corner of Alameda and Aliso streets, Sunday, disclosed the fact that the man died from shock and gastritis caused by taking an overdose of medicine. In the man's pocket was found a vial containing some capsules of essential oils used in the cure of a certain venereal disease. The directions on the bottle were printed in French, and read that ten to twelve capsules might be taken "par jour," meaning per day, which the victim had probably interpreted as "per hour." Dr. G. W. Campbell, the autopsy surgeon, found that the man had all the symptoms of having his system steeped with the medicine, which is poisonous when taken in excess.

GREATEST PIANO SALE

In History of Los Angeles

COMMENCES SHORTLY WATCH AND WAIT

Those who have bought second-hand and used pianos in the belief that they were getting bargains should have waited for our immense sale of brand new, high grade pianos which will shortly take place.

If you have any idea of buying a piano in the future or at present this sale is the opportunity you have been watching for.

While we carry only standard makes of pianos which are thoroughly reliable and fully guaranteed yet our prices are way below what piano houses ask for their cheap instruments.

Our piano business has grown at such a vast rate that we shall shortly install a wholesale piano department, supplying dealers in the near-by towns with pianos at less price than they could secure them in the East. This is possible by the enormous amount of pianos we have been handling and from the fact that we pay spot cash for all pianos.

We sell pianos on payments as low as $1.00 per week.

MRS. RIST RECOVERS ABDUCTED BABIES.

Deserted Wife Follows Husband Across Continent to Rescue Her Little Boys—Lads of Tender Years in Messenger Service.

TWO weeks ago today there arrived in Los Angeles a pretty little woman whose mother love prompted her to cross the continent in quest of her three little sons who were kidnaped from her by a faithless husband a little more than a year ago.

Events have been moving rapidly since her arrival and today she is happy over the recovery of two of her precious boys, while she has hopes of redeeming the third, the eldest of the trio, a bright little lad of 12 years, who has been estranged from his mother through the machinations of his father, and who is employed as a messenger boy in this city.

Incidently, the mother has been made the defendant in a divorce suit since her arrival in Los Angeles, but that does not worry her, as she will gladly be divorced from the man who has caused her so much suffering, if the court will only give her the custody of her children, which she has no doubt the court will decree when once she has the opportunity to tell her sad story to the presiding judge.

The woman who has endured untold sufferings for the sake of her boys, and who has been subjected to most outrageous treatment by her husband, according to statements of herself and friends, which leave little room for doubt, is Mrs. John Rist, daughter of Robert Logan, one of the most prominent citizens of Braddock, Pa.

A BRIDE AT SIXTEEN.

Mrs. Rist became a bride at 16. She is now 29, though she doesn't look it by several years. She is a refined, winsome little lady, but her married life has been anything but pleasant. She married against her parents' wishes and has lived to repent it, although she has made a heroic effort to make the best of a bad bargain.

John Rist was only 18 when he married Miss Logan. One of his old employers stated yesterday that he was a good boy and gave promise of honorable manhood, but after his marriage his head was turned by mixing with spiritual cranks and he became a worthless fellow.

Mrs. Rist's father is a traveling agent of the Standard Oil Company and one of the most popular men in Western Pennsylvania. He is well to do, but his daughter, having married against his will when she was so young, was too proud to appeal to him for help when starvation stared her and her children in the face.

Rist is a machinist by trade and was employed in the Edgar Thompson Steel Works at Braddock, Pa., at the time of his marriage. He was able to make a living for his wife and babies as long as he worked, but after he got daffy on spiritualism he shunned honest toil to a large extent and ceased to be a good provider.

A few years ago Rist left Pennsylvania and located at Harvey, Ill., where he found work at his trade, but he did not work long before he claimed to have been injured by a plank falling on his head and caving in his skull. Mrs. Rist says she never saw any wound, but Rist quit work and brought suit against the company for damages. After that he never did any work, although appearing to be strong and able-bodied. He got credit and borrowed where he could on promise of liquidating after he got a settlement from the company on account of his alleged injury.

WIFE BECOMES BREAD WINNER.

Up to this time Mrs. Rist still had faith in her husband and was willing to make almost any sacrifice for him and her children. Before her marriage she had scarcely known what work was, but when the rent became due and the family larder was empty and there was no money to provide food or shelter, she began doing plain sewing, such as hemming napkins, aprons, etc., for a department store, but the rate of compensation was so small that it was impossible for her to support the family at that kind of labor.

Hearing that many women found employment in the cereal food factories at Battle Creek, Mich., she went there to hunt for work and found it, although the wages she got to begin with was only 75 cents a day. As she proved to be a good worker, she soon got a raise to $1 a day. Often she got a chance to work overtime and do piece work, in which manner she increased her daily stipend. To make over $2 a day she had to work sometimes as late as midnight.

As soon as Mrs. Rist got a job at Battle Creek, Rist followed her with the children. For many months he did nothing while she worked herself to a mere frazzle in order to earn food for him and the children and herself. With all her hard work she would not have been able to provide for the whole family, but for the fact that her brother came to the rescue by obtaining employment in a machine shop in Battle Creek and paying Rist $40 a month for the privilege of having his home with his sister. Mrs. Rist says she always gave all of her earnings to her husband and the only thanks she got was growls because she didn't earn more.

CHILDREN ABDUCTED.

One stormy winter day, February 11, 1903, she came home from the factory for lunch and found the rooms in which they had lived, cold and deserted. The clock, the mirror and other things were missing. On inquiry of the neighbors, she found that her husband had gone away early in the day with the children, after giving away some of the household effects to the neighbors. They did not know where he went. Returning to the deserted home nest, the forsaken little woman found a note from her husband, saying he had left her for all eternity and that she should never see her little boys again.

It developed that Rist had secured a settlement of his damage suit for $350 and with this money and what he had gotten from his wife's brother, he bundled the three little boys abroad a train and started for Los Angeles.

Mrs. Rist was distracted with grief when she found herself deserted and robbed of her children. After trying in vain to learn where he had gone, she swooned away and had a long spell of nervous prostration from which it was feared she would not recover. The faithful brother took her back to the home of her parents at Braddock, Pa., where she was eventually nursed back to health, but with the yearning mother love ever gnawing at her heart.

BABES PUT TO WORK.

Through some chance Mrs. Rist learned some months ago that her husband and children were in Los Angeles. After arriving here he put the eldest boy, Clyde, aged 11, and Leroy, aged 9, to work as district messenger boys, the youngsters between them earning about $40 a month—easy money for the father. The youngest boy, a fine handsome little chap, aged 7, at the present time, was placed in charge of a widow with two children of her own, living in East Los Angeles. Rist with the two older boys boarded at a house on North Fremont avenue. The earnings of the little messenger boys not being sufficient to pay the expenses of the whole family, Rist, himself, returned to honest toil and has lately been empoyed in the Baker Iron Works.

After discovering the whereabouts of her husband and children Mrs. Rist began to lay her plans to recover her abducted darlings. Through a le-

Another Relic of the Early-day System of Water Distribution Here is Ordered Abandoned.

The Board of Water Commissioners yesterday announced the abandonment of the old zanja on McKinley avenue, south of Vernon avenue, in response to a communication from property owners. The ditch is out of use and the board authorized the secretary to inform the petitioners that they can do what they like with it.

Toberman Deaconess Home of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, recently opened, was granted water at the rate of 15 per cent. of the regular meter rate, the same as other charitable institutions, but rebate on amounts already paid was refused.

A petition was read asking for four fire hydrants at points on Sunset boulevard, which met with the response that they will be placed at the earliest possible moment. One previously asked for at Sixteenth and De Long street will be placed at once.

ROBBING GAME RAIDED AGAIN.

"SURE-THING" O'BRIEN TAKEN WITH SEVEN OTHERS.

Ed. Rice, Out on "Floater" of Hundred and Eighty Days, Among the "Cappers"—Gang Said to be Implicated in Burglaries.

J. H. O'Brien, who was arrested and fined $100 for conducting a "sure-thing" gambling game on South Spring street about two weeks ago, was caught at it again last night and his game was raided. O'Brien is in the City Jail in default of $200 cash bail. Such is the evidence against him that it is practically certain that he will have to pay another fine in the Police Court when his case is tried.

The raid was made by Capt. Auble with several patrolmen and detectives. In addition to O'Brien, seven men were taken to the Police Station, accused of being "cappers." It is likely they, too, will be prosecuted for having participated in O'Brien's plan to rob those who were foolish enough to play.

The gambling outfit was in a booth near the postoffice and was in operation nearly all day yesterday. It consisted of a "wheel-of-fortune," a simple contrivance. Within the table was a mechanical device which made it possible for O'Brien to control the wheel and prevent it's stopping on numbers for large prizes. A player had no possible chance of winning unless O'Brien desired him to win. Complaint was made to the police yesterday by a man who said he had lost $50 before discovering that he was being fleeced.

Among the "cappers" was Ed Rice, who is out of jail on a suspended sentence of 180 days. The officers did not know he was in the city and when he was recognized at the Police Station he was promptly locked up to serve his sentence.

The officers are convinced that the gang which is backing O'Brien in his game and assisting him when he gets into trouble is responsible for many of the thefts in this city within the past month. They decline to give out what evidence they have, but it is asserted that pickpockets who have been operating here are members of this gang.

Ed Rice, the man against whom there was a "floater" of 180 days, was arrested here about a year ago, when there was a round-up of a score or more of suspected bunco men, and after sentence had been suspended he left. He returned only a short time ago. The Bell brothers, notorious in police circles, and both arrested several times, were among those caught in the raid last night.

WOMAN WHO FEARED NOT.

Sudden Death of Mrs. Gray, Local Police Matron.

She Cowed Dangerous Women by Her Will Power.

When a Girl She Drove Off Murderous Indians.

The plucky little woman with the jail keys, Mrs. Lucy Uthera Gray, died yesterday.

She stuck to her post in the City Jail, where she had ruled the women's ward for sixteen years, until the last, only giving up to an attack of pneumonia last Friday. Then she went home sick and died yesterday afternoon at her residence at the corner of Pasadena avenue and Avenue 24.

Mrs. Gray was known far and wide in police circles, a mite of a wiry, gray-haired woman who seemed not to know what fear was like.

Her courage had been sorely tried. She was one of the pioneer women, now nearly all gone, who made the fearful journey "the plains across" in the days of gold. She was one of the splendid pioneer mothers.

She had endured every privation. It had been her lot to go through the sickening peril of hostile Indians by day and by night for weary months, to raise a great family of children and fight the wolf from the door. Then of these later years, she, single-handed, had the care of a jail full of dangerous, ugly-tempered, abandoned, malicious women criminals. All these things had fallen to the lot of this little old woman, who was not afraid.

Her children wanted her to resign her star and rest for the balance of her life; but she was one of the characters who must go on fighting to the end.

Sometimes she used to tell of her terrible experiences coming across the plains.

She was a little girl then, of 10 years. She had been born in Park county, Ind., on a farm, but her people had drifted into Iowa. The gold stories came to them there. Her father sold out and packed his family into an ox wagon. They joined a party of pioneers.

In the caravan was the family named Ottman who came to such a terrible end. The party split in Tucson. The Ottmans went on, but Mrs. Gray's father and some of the others stayed behind. The Ottmans were surrounded by Apaches and slaughtered.

The little girl had a narrow escape from a similar fate. Her indomitable courage saved her, her mother and her sister from a cruel death.

One day they had been left alone, the mother and two little daughters in a tent, while the men were away on some duty.

Four dirty Apaches in war regalia swooped down on them—defenseless and alone.

Without ceremony the Indians came into the tent and began to rummage around for tobacco. Having got all there was, their peering eyes fixed covetously on the blankets spread over the camp beds. They began dragging them off. The mother crouched away from them, doubtless half dead with terror.

IT BEGAN EARLY.

This little Miss Lucy Uthera, aged 10, of the dominant race, had surveyed with manifest disapproval the taking of the tobacco. To her mind taking the blankets also was decidedly overdoing it. She planted her small self on the blankets and told the Indians they couldn't have them.

The savages were aghast. One of them drew his bow, fitted to it an arrow and drew it to a head. The child was old enough to know how awful was her peril; but she looked at him and his bent bow with calm interest; then reached over and patted him sociably on his painted shoulder. The fearless audacity of it pleased the Indians, and they left with signs of friendliness. This from a people who had the pleasing custom of cutting childrens' eyelids off and staking their mutilated faces over ant hills.

At last, after untold perils lasting eighteen months, during which they faced starvation many times and were put to it to manufacture clothes from the hides of animals, they landed in the golden California, in '51. El Monte was then a flourishing frontier settlement. They settled there. Mrs. Gray's father built the first frame house ever put up in El Monte, the Willow Grove Hotel.

When she was 15 she married Warren W. Maxey, a rancher living near El Monte. She had seven children, one of whom died. Maxey died, leaving her the six to provide for.

This was one of the hardest times of her life. She and her oldest boy, who was only 14, ran the farm; she had to do a man's work.

After that she was married to T. K. Gray, a rancher living four miles outside of Los Angeles.

In 1888, being then 48, she was appointed police matron, to have charge of the women's ward of the City Jail. It was a small job then, but grew to be a big one.

They had a signal down in the main jail whereby Mrs. Gray could summon help; but nobody ever heard the signal go. She couldn't have weighed much over 100 pounds, yet she handled the most desperate women prisoners. It was mostly by sheer force of will that she did it.

She quelled incipient rebellions; she enforced ironbound discipline; she got hard manual labor from women prisoners who had gone into another sort of life on purpose to escape work; and nobody heard of ructions in the women's ward.

Like most persons of high and unwavering courage, she had the heart of tenderness—like a child's.

Many and many a woman came out of the jail better than she went in. Sometimes Mrs. Gray would take them out of the cells—some of the meanest of them—and lead them into her own apartments, have them sew with her and help with her own little housework until they invariably melted.

A CHARACTERISTIC WARD.

Yet the philosophy of her life was evidently not a hopeful one. It is often so with those whose life story is duty. To see her around, she was such a cheery little body, you wouldn't have known.

But one day a reporter sat with her at a strange vigil.

A woman who wanted to die had thrown herself in front of a street car, which had sat for a while upon her, not to her improvement.

The surgeons had done everything they could for her. She was lying on the operating table making an agonizing fight. She needed a woman, and, as usual, it was Mrs. Gray who was called.

She and the reporter talked in low tones of various matters as the agonies swept in waves over the woman. She was fighting so hard not to die. In one of the most awful paroxysms, Mrs. Gray said softly in a half-pitying smile, "I wouldn't try if I were in her place. There's nothing in it—living."

Her surviving children by her first marriage are E. P. Maxey, City Marshal of Redondo; Mrs. C. H. Cowan of Point Richmond; Will W. Maxey; Mrs. Uthera Gilbert, assistant matron of the jail; Wallace Maxey, Katie Kinch. The children of the second marriage are Mrs. Laura Blyoles, Ralph T. Gray. Her sister, Mrs. Susan Parrish, still lives in El Monte in the old house.

NO HOPE FOR "CUMULATIVE."

JUDGE'S INTIMATIONS POOR COMFORT FOR ORLANDO.

Remarks Are Made from the Bench Indicating that the Company is Considered a Lottery Concern and Against Public Policy—Mail Still Held.

The Cumulative Credit Company got cold comfort in court yesterday. There was a hearing before United States District Judge Wellborn on a motion of the company's attorney for a temporary order restraining the postmaster from holding the get-rich-quick concern's mails.

Judge Wellborn dropped remarks intimating that as the company's business was a lottery and against public policy, he did not think a court of equity would have jurisdiction to interfere with the action of the Postoffice Department. He further indicated that he thought his court could not interpose its power of injunction to protect a business which under the laws of the United States had been declared a fraud and against public policy.

Attorney Bacon, representing the company, asked for further time to look for authorities, and the case was continued till next Monday.

Mail for the "Cumulative" is still held in the postoffice. No restraining order having been issued against the postmaster, the fraud order of the Postmaster-General is still in force and Orlando's itching hand continues powerless to grasp the bushel of letters addressed to his money-making plant on South Broadway.

INVOLUNTARY INITIATION.

Dr. Chapman Tells How Mayor Snyder Became a Member of the Anti-Saloon League.

At the Methodist preachers' meeting yesterday, Dr. E. S. Chapman, Southern California superintendent of the Anti-saloon League, declared that Mayor Snyder is not the Mayor of the people of Los Angeles, and was elected only because the Republicans of this city had nominated a man who could not carry the party vote.

"The Mayor is a member of the Anti-saloon League," said the fervent superintendent, as he chuckled and rubbed his hands together, as if getting ready for a knock-out blow.

"I said to him: 'Mayor Snyder, are you in favor of submitting the saloon question to a vote of the people?' He said, 'yes.' 'Then,' said I, 'you are a member of the Anti-saloon League, for that is precisely what we stand for.'"

In outlining the proposed campaign of the league against the saloons, Dr. Chapman roasted Supervisor Wilson and praised Supervisor Alexander.

Rev. Isaac Jewel of North Pasadena took exception to some of the doctor's remarks, and it required skill on the part of the chairman to prevent a hot discussion.

Dr. Chapman announced in direct language three things the league proposes to do in this campaign. "Re-elect Supervisor George Alexander, defeat Peter J. Wilson, if nominated, and wash clean from the curse of rum the beautiful City of the Angels."

INDIAN MISSIONARIES.

Three Mojaves Graduate from Bible-training School and Return to Their People to Teach.

Three Mojave Indians who have been inmates of the Los Angeles Bible Training School on Boyle Heights for some time, departed yesterday for Needles to take up missionary work among their own people. Their names are George and Bessie Mutcumalya, man and wife, and Patrick Jethawana. A farewell was held for them on Sunday evening in the Friends Church, at the corner of Third street and Fremont avenue. They have made remarkable progress in their study of the English language, and surprised their hearers by their fluency of expression. They were accompanied on their return to Needles by William V. Dixon, a missionary, who came here with them.

Although but three Indians came to the training school, four went out of it, Paul, the infant meber of the party having been born in the Mutcumalya family several months ago.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE—OFFICIAL DOINGS.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Council voted yesterday to sell a franchise granting the right to place rubbish cans on the sidewalks and cover them with advertising.

There was spirited bidding for a lease of city land before the Land Committee yesterday between a sewer-pipe company and a box-manufacturing concern.

A notice was served on the City Treasurer yesterday informing him that he would be compelled to place all the city money in the municipal treasury within a reasonable time.

Secretary Fleming of the Automobile Club of Southern California appeared before the Council yesterday to ask that permission be given to stand "autos" on the street for one hour instead of twenty minutes.

The Council sustained Acting Mayor Bowen's veto of the library and jail bond issues yesterday.

A peculiarly heinous case is now in the courts wherein Harry Emerson sought to get possession of a girl in the Florence Home, by means of marrying her to Harry Ammerman, supposed to be his nephew and ward. Failing in that, and refusing to be balked, he ran away with this sixteen-year-old girl and perjured himself to get a license. He is now under arrest.

The Board of Supervisors are once again donning their thinking caps over the hobo problem, and for the present are adopting the rock pile as a temporary expedient.

Joseph Cosgrove was sentenced yesterday, and for the fifth time he goes to State's Prison.

AT THE CITY HALL.

RUBBISH CANS CAUSE PROTEST.

MERCHANTS BELIEVE THEY WOULD PROVE A NUISANCE.

Nevertheless the Council Votes to Sell a Franchise Granting the Right to Place Advertising on the Sides of the Trash Receptacles.

Despite a speech fortissimo and gestures maximo by Councilman Davenport yesterday, the City Fathers decided by a vote of 5 to 2 to advertise for sale a franchise granting the right to put metal cans for waste along the sidewalks and cover them with advertising.

But there will be a strong effort made on the part of the merchants and members of the Municipal League to prevent the sale of the franchise.

It developed yesterday that, while many eastern cities have cans for waste and litter placed along the sidewalks, Chicago alone allows advertising to be placed on them.

"And Chicago will stand for anything," remarked a member of the Municipal League in discussing the plan.

Richard Busteed, the applicant for the franchise, did not appear to argue the merits of his proposition yesterday, but Chairman Nofziger of the Board of Public Works made ample amends. The Ninth Ward Councilman said that the Street Superintendent had made the rounds of the eastern cities in search of new ideas, and that the use of cans to prevent paper and litter from filling the gutters was one of the suggestions that the official had brought back. He said that Busteed would pay $500 a year for the privilege of placing 500 cans along the business streets; that the city could not well buy the cans outright, and the only way to secure them was by granting the advertising privilege.

Skilling thought that the advertisements should be approved by some committee of the Council or by the Municipal Art Commission. Skilling said that one merchant might put an advertisement on a can, and have the can placed in front of a rival store, where it would be very objectionable. He was inclined to think that the infant morning daily might cause trouble in this manner.

Davenport, who was presiding, called Skilling to the chair, and declared in a ringing voice that there was entirely too much "disinterestedness" on the part of the applicants for the franchise in pretending that they were doing something for the city. He said the proposition was purely a selfish one, and that there was no philanthropy about it.

"They say that these cans are for waste paper and banana peeling and such like," said Davenport. "In the first place few people will throw such things in the cans. I should just like a picture of the people of this city walking down the street eating peanuts and bananas. They haven't got the time. They are too hot on the trail of prosperity. And if they had the time I don't believe they would do it. And, furthermore, what stuff gets in those cans will probably stay there for several days, and we will have just a lot of old, dirty garbage cans sitting along the curbstones of our principle streets. Think of it, gentlemen! Why, it's absurd."

Then the clerk read a communication from the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association objecting to the advertisement of the franchise. This communication was signed by Niles Pease, president, and F. J. Zeehandelaar, secretary. It said, in part:

"This association believes that if such cans are necessary for the preservation of clean streets, the receptacles should be provided by the city, but the proposition made by the applicant is simply an advertising scheme under the guise of public benefit."

After commenting on the fact that the cans might become very unsightly in case the venture was not a financial success, and that the city would be powerless to have them removed, the communication concludes:

"We respectfully submit that the granting of such a franchise would not be to the public interest, but entirely one in favor of the grantee."

"Wouldn't it be nice," said a merchant last night, "if these cans should be placed along Broadway after $10,000 or more has been expended in making it a brilliantly-lighted thoroughfare. 'Pink pills for pale people,' 'Drink Pale Ale,' 'Smoke the Scrapsomeovitch cigar,' and similar advertisements would stare you out of countenance at every corner. This thing will not be permitted without a fight."

Nevertheless Davenport and Farish were the only two Councilmen to vote against the advertisement of the franchise yesterday.

Nofziger said, in reply to the merchants' communication, that if they would keep the streets clean in front of their stores and not sweep rubbish into the gutters, half the cause for the cans would be removed.

LEASE CITY LAND.

HOT COMPETITIVE BIDDING.

Spirited bidding for a fifteen-year lease of six acres of city land situated on the south side of Downey avenue just east of the tracks of the Salt Lake Railway was the most interesting feature of the Council proceedings yesterday.

Competition was so keen that quite a crowd was attracted to the committee-room where the Land Committee was in session.

The Union Hive and Box Company, whose factory is on Avenue 18, was recently destroyed by fire desired to secure the lease and to immediately erect a new plant on the property. The lumber for the building is now at the San Pedro dock. J. P. Stocksdale of the Erkenbrecher Syndicate, Ltd., represented the company and argued that it was entitled to special consideration because it was one of the infant industries of the city.

Attorney Ross T. Hickcox, bidding for a client who wished to erect a sewer pipe plant on the property, was the chief competitor of the hive and box company, although Adolph Ramish of the contracting firm of Ramish & Marsh added a bid now and then just to make things interesting.

In the end the hive and box company secured the lease for $13,500, which was just $6850 more than they were confident of getting it for last week.

At a previous meeting of the Land Committee, which consists of Kern, McAleer and Farish, Mr. Stocksdale named $6750 as the maximum price that his company would pay for the lease. Inasmuch as the city offered to sell the land six months ago for $4000, the Land Committee was on the point of making the lease when Attorney Hickcox apeared with a higher bid.

When he offered the committee $7500 for the lease yesterday noon, Mr. Stocksdale interposed all sorts of objections. He argued that his company proposed to erect a plant that would furnish employment to many men and that the committee was not informed as to the purposes to which the other bidder intended to put the property.

Councilman McAleer took up Mr. Stocksdale's cause and stated that he thought the Council should discriminate in favor of the established business as against warehouses and similar suggested improvements.

The other two members of the committee, Kern and Farish, were of the opinion that, as long as the improvements put on the land were not objectionable to the surrounding property owners, the lease should be given to the highest bidder. Attorney Hickcox said he was willing that a clause should be put in the lease providing that no objectionable improvement should be placed there.

Stocksdale then raised the bid to $8400, Ramish offered $9150. Hickcox made the figure $9500.

Then came a season of more argument, which ended in Stocksdale raising the bid to $10,000. Ramish made it $10,500 and Hickcox offered $11,100.

Another objection to the Hickcox bid was made by Stocksdale and the attorney pulled out a big roll of bills and said he was prepared to put the money up then and there if Stocksdale wished to do the same. This argument prevailed with the committee and the bidding was resumed. The price advanced $100 at a time until Hickcox offered $11,500.

"This is better than selling three or four street railway franchises," declared McAleer, as he began to figure out the interest on $4000 at 6 per cent. "These people had better buy the land outright."

"Apparently we did not appreciate the value of our estate," suggested Farish.

Stocksdale made a last harrowing appeal to the committee to come to the rescue of his company, which he pictured as a struggling concern, staggering under the blow inflicted by the recent fire. He said the fire cost the company $16,000.

"We have a lease on our present site for seven years," he concluded, "and all around us is cottage property. When the factory was burned down several cottages were burned up also. Think, gentlemen, that if you force us to remain where we are the homes of many people will be endangered. We appeal to you to help us in this matter."

Continuing, the real estate man demanded to know for what purpose his competitor desired to use the land.

"I don't have to tell you," said Hickcox. "I will agree to terms in the lease that will protect the city."

"Do you want it as a site for the public library?" asked Stocksdale, and everybody laughed, as Hickcox is a member of the Board of Library Directors.

After more argument Stocksdale found he could not prevail with the majority of the committee, and he raised the bid to $13,500, or $75 a month for the full term."

"It's all yours," said Attorney Hickcox.

"I consider the Land Committee has done well to make $6000 in half an hour," said Kern.

After the bidding was over, Attorney Hickcox said that he desired to secure the property as a site for a sewer-pipe plant.

ABOUT CITY MONEY.

STATE LAW REQUIREMENTS.

Once more that time-honored question about the safe keeping of the city's money is to be thrashed over.

Even the oldest inhabitant cannot remember when this problem was not discussed, debated and exploited.

Now some jealous financier has probed the thing again, and the whole oft-repeated story must be retold.

Yesterday afternoon the legal firm of Flint & Barker served notice on City Treasurer Workman that he would be compelled to gather all the city's shekels together in the city's vault within a reasonable time. The attorneys would not state for whom they were acting.

City Treasurer Workman will not return the money to the city vault, it may with safety be stated. "Uncle Billy" has passed the time of life when he can afford to sit up all night with a six-shooter in his hand guarding the city's lucre. And that is about the only way it could be kept safe in the city treasury.

The vaults are not safe and the City Attorney advised City Treasurer Workman that he would be justified in doing what a long and illustrious line of treasurers did before him, and place the money in the custody of local banks. It is the belief of the City Attorney that the dictates of common sense when applied to the interpretation of law would indicate that no city official would be required to keep over $2,000,000 in a plaster Paris cast of a vault with a tin lining.

"If I am required to put the city money in that vault at the City Hall, I'll resign," indignantly declared the City Treasurer last night.

And most of the city officials, conversant with the situation, think the City Treasurer would be justified in so doing.

It is very doubtful whether a candidate for City Treasurer could be found if it was necessary to keep all the city's cash in the municipal vaults.

There is just a suspicion that some disgruntled banker is backing this latest move in order to take from the banks that bought the sewer bonds the deposits of money now in their hands.

If the point could be forced the chief result would be to compel the construction of new and more secure vaults either in the present office or in an addition to the City Hall. Bonds would have to be voted for the purpose.

Fast Time on Pay Rolls.

Under City Auditor Schwaebe, the work of that department of the city government has been reduced to an exact science. Yesterday the Council passed the fire, police, park, City Hall and water department pay rolls. This morning at 8 o'clock the demands will be ready at the Auditor's office. Formerly it required from five days to a week and sometimes more to check all the demands and have them ready for payment. And that was before the elaborate civil-service system made it necessary to exercise great care in the handling of demands and nearly doubled the work of the Auditor's office. By the rapid-check system devised by Deputy Auditor Bostwick, the demands are compared and entered up on the books in remarkably short time.

OBJECT TO ARREST.

PETITION OF AUTOMOBILISTS.

The recent arrest of forty or more members of the Automobile Club of Southern California brought from that organization yesterday an emphatic request that the present ordinance regarding the standing of horses and vehicles on the streets be changed so as to make the time limit one hour instead of twenty minutes.

A. P. Fleming, secretary of the club, put the matter before the Council yesterday very nicely. He said the board of governors of the club were satisfied that the ordinance was eminently just and proper, except in one respect. He expressed confidence in the entire fairness of the police and declared that none of the members of the club blamed the officers in the least.

The board of governors, he said, were anxious to help the authorities in every way to enforce the ordinances.

The driving of vehicles on the wrong side of the street and the rounding of corners in close proximity to the curb is much to be deplored, according to the communication from the club, and active steps should be taken by the authorities to enforce the ordinance against such practices.

Tacks, broken crockery and glass on the thoroughfares is another thorn in the side of the Automobile Club, and the Council is requested to see to the enforcement of the regulations, or to pass some measure that will not be a dead letter.

The petition was signed by Dr. Milbank Johnson, president of the club, and by Mr. Fleming, as secretary.

It was referred by the Council to the Committee on Legislation, before which the automobilists will be given a further hearing next Friday morning.

Secretary Fleming also called the attention of the Council to the ordinance requiring dirt to be tamped firmly when excavations were refilled. He quoted at length from the ordinance to show that if its provisions were observed the streets would be in much better condition.

"I believe I am justified in saying that this ordinance is violated in almost every case where a water, gas or sewer connection is made in the street, and either a hump is left in the street or a hole in which somebody may break his machine or his neck," said Mr. Fleming.

The Board of Public Works will wrestle with the "hump and hole" problem at the next session.

LIBRARY VETO.

OTHER MUNICIPAL ITEMS.

Acting Mayor Bowen's veto of the library and jail bond issues was courteously received by the Council yesterday. Farish moved that the vote by which the ordinances were passed be reconsidered and the veto sustained. This motion carried unanimously. As a matter of fact, the Council had no choice, as the vote was final as far as the original proceeding s were concerned. The City Attorney has advised that new proceedings for the issuance of bonds will not be prejudiced, legally, by the Acting Mayor's veto. The profound element in the Council is waiting for the return of Mayor Snyder before taking any further steps. It is now doubtful if the necessary number of votes can be mustered in the Council to pass more bond ordinances. Until the question is finally settled, however, the ordinance fixing the date of the election will not be passed.

Councilman McAleer insisted yesterday that some action be taken by the authorities at once to compel the Pacific Electric Railway Company to place their tracks on grade at East Main and Daly streets at once. Without any authority the company raised their tracks about eighteen inches above the established grade and left the sidewalks and curbs in a hole. McAleer demanded that either the company lower the tracks or raise the sidewalks and curbs at their own expense. The question was referred to the Board of Public Works.

Residents of Lamar street in the First Ward filed a petition with the Council yesterday asking that an electric street railway franchise be advertised for sale over the following route: Beginning at the intersection of Main and Lamar streets; thence southerly along Lamar street to Alhambra avenue; also commencing at the intersection of Main street and Avenue 20; thence northerly on Avenue 20 to Pasadena avenue. When the application was read McAleer moved that it be laid on the table until the cases in court involving the transfer question were settled. He was overruled, and the petition went to the Board of Public Works.

Bids for meat, stationery, oil, bread and groceries were received by the Council yesterday and referred to the Supply Committee.

The Building Committee was instructed to employ an architect to prepare plans for an engine house at Seventh street and Santa Fé avenue.

The Council granted the request of the City Treasurer and created the place of chief deputy in the department.

A protest against the opening of Trinity street from Washington to Twenty-second street was denied.

The request of H. W. Hellman for permission to place a stairway in the spring-street sidewalk in front of his new building at Fourth street, was denied by the Council, on the ground that it would set a bad precedent.

A long petition from residents and property owners on West Seventh street between Broadway and Grand avenue was presented yesterday stating that the sweeping of the street is now improperly done, and asking that some change be made. On motion of Farish the Street Superintendent was requested to do what he could to improve the sweeping on the street.

The Maier & Zobelein Brewery petitioned the Council yesterday for permission to construct an underground passageway beneath and across Aliso street to be four feet wide and six feet high, for the purpose of running pipe lines from the brewery to a bottling house on the north side of the street.

The Fairchild-Gilmore-Wilton Company presented the lower bid for paving Fourth street from Main to San Pedro street yesterday, as follows: Culverts, $3.90 per foot; curbs, 32 cents per foot; gutters, 30 cents per square foot; sidewalks, 10 cents per square foot; asphalt paving per square foot, 16 4-10 cents. The bid of the Barber Asphalt Company was as follows: Culverts, $2.50 each; curbs, 32 cents; gutters, 27 cents; sidewalks, 11 cents; paving, per square foot, 11 cents.

C. Anderson & Sons were the lowest of seven bidders for the construction of a warehouse for cement at Inglewood, their proposal being $2537.

A committee of citizens, including E. R. Allen, W. C. Bowman, Isaac S. Smith, W. D. Shearer, O. Sassaman was appointed by the Council yesterday to confer with the City Engineer regarding a proposed new house-numbering system in that portion of the Sixth Ward south of Jefferson and east of Main street.

WHAT IS WOMAN'S WINE CAPACITY?

GALLON A DAY IMPOSSIBLE, JUDGE YORK SAYS.

Judicial Notice Taken of Interesting Question in the Hillmans' Fight Over Their Child—Custody Awarded to the Mother.

The Hillmans were before Judge York again yesterday. It is hard work for them to keep out of court. "Habeas-corpus" Ladd represents the wife, and he had Henry T. Hillman up on an order to show cause why he shouldn't make certain payments to his wife, and by invoking his specialty he compelled him to bring his little boy into court.

The scrap was really over possession of the boy. The husband maintains that his wife is not a proper person to have the custody of the child. In the divorce proceedings the husband has raised questions calculated to cause a good deal of bitterness, and among others accuses his wife of imbibing too freely. A number of witnesses were examined yesterday, and those for the husband all testified against Mrs. Hillman, while the wife sat there crying, but unable to do anything else. As it happened, however, in the attempt to blacken Mrs. Hillman's character it was stated with a great amount of certainty that she had drunk a gallon of port wine in one day, and had attended to certain of her duties and then run around to look after a house.

Judge York said the court took judicial notice of what had been said, but in a polite and round-about way said that he didn't believe that such a consumption of port wine by a woman such as Mrs. Hillman was a possibility. The end of the matter was that the court ordered that the husband turn over the custody of the child to the mother, the father to see it whenever he chose to call and have liberty to take it with him each Sunday afternoon. It was also ordered that he pay to his wife $15 a month pending the divorce proceeding.

BANKS COMING SOUTH.

MOVEMENT FROM THE NORTH.

Some of the banks in the northern cities of the State are changing their principal place of business to Los Angeles, and yesterday amended incorporation papers were filed by several such institutions.

The Union Bank of San Francisco, the American Home Savings Bank of the same place, and the Manhattan Savings Bank are among the number. Then the Sutter Savings Bank, with headquarters at Sacramento, has incorporated with a capital stock of $25,000 and $500 subscribed, and the following directors, mostly from this part of the State: H. H. Massey, F. E. Beach, Pasadena; R. Q. Wickham, Los Angeles; J. T. Stafford and C. W. Haub, Sacramento.

The Banker's Savings Bank has also filed incorporation papers, with the following directors named: Ben W. Hahn, L. P. Fritchard, R. H. Pinney, G. H. Bauer, E. E. Webster, Henry Newby and W. B. Fay. The capital stock is fixed at $50,000, all of which is actually subscribed.

THE HOBO PROBLEM.

ONLY TEMPORARY ALLEVIATION.

Completion of the work on the roads upon which the county chain gang has been engaged has again brought the matter of employing the hobos up for consideration by the Board of Supervisors. Yesterday the matter was discussed at some length, and experiment along a new line is to be undertaken. The mere fact that the county has gained nothing financially by working the hobos, on account of extra guards and other additional expenses, and that working the chain gang on the roads was enjoyed by the hobos and was not at all received as a punishment, has turned the thoughts of the Supervisors again to the rock pile.

The drawback to the rock pile has been the fact that hertofore there has been no use to which broken rock could be put to. Now the board is preparing to embark upon an experiment of macadamizing a stretch of county road, and if it is found to be successful then the difficulties surrounding the rock pile will to some extent, at least, have disappeared.

Chairman Longdon was appointed a committee yesterday to receive bids for supplying the county with rock, to be delivered at the county stone-yard in the rear of the County Jail on New High street. It was also determined that one mile of the Mission road, running from the city limits northeast, shall be underlaid with a layer of broken rock. These macademized roads answer well elsewhere, and there has appeared no reason why they should not be equally serviceable here. If that actually proves to be the case then an outlet for all the rock broken by the county hobos will be advantageously utilized.

The stone yard on New High street has recently been graded and a high stone fence is to be built so as to seclude the inmates from the outside world. It will then be a proper adjunct to the County Jail, and the rock needed for this wall will be broken and prepared by the hobos.

But the Supervisors realize that however successful this work may prove, it can only be of a temporary character. To be able to keep the hobos steadily at work means an ability on the part of the county to take them out of the city, and put them to work on the roads more or less distant. Some kind of a portable jail is required, but so far neither Supervisor Longdon nor Alexander, both of whom looked into the matter last year, have met with anything that would fully meet the needs of this county. Necessarily it will have to be some kind of a jail on wheels, and yet to accommodate, say fifty able-bodied hobos, would require a series of wheeled tanks that would run into big money not to mention guards, and the additional commissariat arrangements.

"CUPID'S" JUDGMENT.

BRIDE WAS A NICE GIRL.

"Cupid" Kutz was placed in an embarrassing position yesterday, but he escaped without his reputation suffering in any way.

A young man named J. Thornley Neff applied for a license to marry Miss Mollie Tyerman, but couldn't qualify, as he gave his age at only 20 years. His fiancée is of the same age as himself, but in matters matrimonial the law favors the sex, and no demur was made as to the young lady being able to choose for herself.

When Neff realized what he was up against he made a bold break for the telegraph office and wired his parents at Morenci, Ariz., to telegraph their consent to his marriage to the County Clerk here.

The following answer was received by Mr. Kutz yesterday: "Yes, if she is a nice young lady; if not, no."

That was all there was over the signature of W. T. Neff, and "Cupid" just for a moment was non-plussed. It was up to him to decide on the niceness of the bride-elect. When young Neff had applied for the license he had been accompanied by his fiancée, and so Mr. Kutz had at least an opportunity to form some opinion regarding her. He didn't waste any more time, but filled out the license and handed it over. It was not only a license to marry, but a certification as to the "niceness" of the bride from an unbiased and independent party.

HE PLEADED GUILTY.

THE COURT WAS CONSIDERATE.

"I wants to plead guilty to burglary in the second degree," said Joe Cosgrove yesterday when he loomed up before Judge Smith.

Joe is a big, hulking fellow with a mop of disheveled hair, and a voice that has whisky frills on it. But he knew just what degree of crime he was up against, and just that much he would concede and no more.

On February 19, he stole a watch from the shop of C. M. Fryer, and after the information had been read to him he was not feazed.

"I'm not guilty," he said, "but I'll plead guilty. It was day time all right."

"What's that?" queried Judge Smith bending forward.

"It's second degree, Y're Honor," answered Cosgrove as he twiddled his hat and tried to look wise.

The court smiled a chilly smile. "All right, Mr. Cosgrove, it's second degree. You're pretty well posted aren't you?"

Having been so lucky thus far the defendant thought he would make another play for the benefit of the court. When Judge Smith asked what he had taken, he replied that he had appropriated a "six-bit watch."

"It was in the man's coat," he said, "hanging outside the shop in the yard. It's really petty larceny, but I plead guilty all the same."

Cosprove was making the running too good, so one of the officers choked him off by saying that he had been in State's Prison on four previous occasions.

The defendant would only own up to once. But the court was considerate.

"I should think this man was guilty of petty larceny only," said Judge Smith, "and not of burglary—you wouldn't do that would you?" looking pointedly at Cosgrove.

"No, Y're Honor," answered Joe as he twisted his face about and tried to look pious, "I wouldn't do it—I wouldn't have the nerve."

"And selling yourself so cheaply, Mr. Cosgrove." The court looked pityingly at the man that had taken chances on State's Prison for 75 cents.

"I drink a good deal," Joe answered by way of extenuation.

"The idea; to go up for about 50 cents," and again the court looked at him with commiseration.

"That's so, Y're Honor," said Joe, "I make out better nor that at working."

Then he took his two years' sentence with equanimity and thanked the court for not piling it higher considering his record.

COURT NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

INGLEWOOD RATES. The petition filed with the Board of Supervisors, asking that the board fix the water rate of the Inglewood Water Company was dismissed yesterday. Quite a number of the petitioners had asked that their names be withdrawn from the petition, and, as in some respects the law had not been complied with, the matter was thrown out.

VOTED FOR LINCOLN. D. Asher, an old soldier from the Home, was ordered committed by Judge Wilbur to the State Asylum at Highland yesterday. The old man was found wandering about Florence in a demented condition. He stated that he had belonged to a Texas regiment in the old days, that he voted for Abe Lincoln and "had to make a run for it." During the best part of the war he served with an Illinois regiment.

SCHOOL BONDS SOLD. The bid put in yesterday with the Board of Supervisors by W. S. Melick, in behalf of the State Board of Examiners, for the $75,000 issue of Whittier Union High School bonds was accepted. The bid was for par and $622 premium, the bonds to be delivered in Sacramento.

HELD TO ANSWER. Daniel Church, the youth charged with having stolen clothing belonging to several persons living in the Simpson McClure Building on Mesquite street, was examined before Justice Pierce yesterday. The defendant was held to answer in the Superior Court, but as there is reason to suppose that he under 18 years of age it is not likely that he will get a penitentiary sentence.

WEISS DIVORCE. Charles F. Weiss is trying to get a divorce from Anita Weiss in Judge Trask's court, and the further hearing will be continued this morning. The husband is chef at the Westminster Hotel, and the wife is a Mexican girl whom he married in 1896. Cruelty is alleged as the ground of divorce, but gross misconduct is charged as specific acts of cruelty.

UNHORSING LIVERYMAN.

PERMITS HARD TO OBTAIN.

W. T. Wilson, a liveryman, is having a strenuous time of it in his efforts to establish himself in a livery stable. Wherever he goes people object to giving him a permit.

He first tried it on Figueroa street near Ninth, and they made it so uncomfortable for him that he sought another location. Yesterday he was arrested and arraigned before Justic Austin on a misdemeanor charge for conducting a livery stable without a permit.

Wilson found a vacant stable on West Twenty-fifth street, between Figueroa street and Wesley avenue, and before the residents of the neighborhood knew it he had established himself there with sixteen horses.

Within eighteen months fifteen residences have been built on that block by persons who sought a quiet section, and when the livery came to light on their narrow street, there was something doing. They say the owner of the stable had promised to remove it, and as it had been unused for a long time, they rested easy in the expectation that it was to be taken away. One man said yesterday that he would not have built there if he had not been assured of the removal of the stable, and they will all fight the issuance of a permit to a finish.

The case will come up for hearing Wednesday at 10 o'clock, when it is thought Wilson will be mulcted in the minimum fine and be ordered to remove his stock.

Charged With Felony.

A man named W. W. Beach was arrested yesterday and charged with a felony for having attempted an assault upon the person of a little girl. He was arraigned before Justice Chambers and his examination set for Wednesday. The officers say they have strong evidence. Beach is a merry-go-round manipulator.

Army of Drunks.

The bulk of the business before Justice Austin's court yesterday consisted in disposing of forty-nine drunks. They were a job-lot, including all colors and conditions, a well-dressed woman and an old soldier who looked like one of the patriarchs of old, being among the number.

GRIFFITH MAY GET BIG FINE.

One of Four Verdicts Open to the Jury's Discretion.

Disagreement Not Expected by Those Watching Case.

Arguments by Fredericks and McKinley—Gage's Gum.

Griffith suffered tortures while the lawyers—fearfully frank—"orated" on his case yesterday.

Prison bars with a bread-and-water diet for him were the gloomy pictures drawn in the arguments.

As a matter of fact, Griffith may be found guilty, yet escape with no more punishment than a heavy fine.

The jury may lawfully bring in any one of four verdicts:

(1.) Not guilty.

(2.) Guilty of assault to murder. Penalty, one to fourteen years in State's prison.

(3.) Guilty of assault with a deadly weapon. Penalty, imprisonment either in the County Jail or State's prison for not more than two years or a fine not to exceed $5000, or both fine and imprisonment.

(4.) Guilty of simple assault. Penalty, imprisonment not to exceed ninety days in the County Jail, or a fine not to exceed $300, or both the fine and the imprisonment.

The prosecution insists that, as a pistol is surely a deadly weapon, the verdict cannot logically be simple assault.

Logic, unfortunately, does not worry juries. They might find him guilty of spitting on the sidewalk if it were legally possible, for all that logic troubles them.

The diversity of the verdicts possible to be brought in, is regarded by lawyers as making a disagreement of the jury not probable.

Dist.-Atty. Fredericks began the opening argument for the State yesterday morning.

The moral lesson of Griffith's fall, sad to say, seemed to have made no impression on Capt. Fredericks. Repeatedly during his argument he was observed to "rush the can." Happily, however, it was only a tiny can of patent paste-salve for his throat, scraped raw trying to get Griffith behind the bars.

The biggest crowd of the trial came to hear him.

The pack was so tight that Judge Smith finally ordered the gallery, when the jury sleeps, thrown open. Ladies only. They sat on the cot beds—a millinery show.

They were funny to see. Some of them under the stares of the crowd—more properly over the stares of the crowd—sat in stiff dignity. And dignity sits tottering uncertainly on a woman who is perched on the edge of a shaky cot bed, dangling her feet.

Other women didn't care—took off their hats, lounged over the rail like boys in "nigger heaven" sticking their feet through the grating. Well, to be candid, it takes a lovely woman to be picturesque and impressive with her booted feet poking through an iron grating—broadside to the admiring crowd. The expanse of the daintiest pair seems most woefully generous.

GRIFFITH'S SOLITUDE.

The only person who cannot fairly be said to have been enjoying himself was a portly man with slick black hair, who sat with his face propped in his hand, his eyes closed—a picture of gloom and despair. Griffith was his name.

He did not catch it the way many defendants do, however. Fredericks fired no tirades and pointed no scornful fingers to make him scower.

The District Attorney has a most engaging way of talking to a jury—"talking" being advisedly the word.

No oratory. No soaring. Horse sense in an even conversational tone, made the jury feel positively grateful to him thus giving him his valuable advice. They were talking it over calmly together and considering the best thing to be done. That was the way he handed it to them.

They paid close attention. One old man on the front row of the jury box got to thinking so hard on the problem suggested that he sat bent over elbows on his knees and his fingers gripped into his hair.

Griffith's lawyers claim that Fredericks made an error upon which an appeal to the Supreme Court may be based. Been discovering 'em—maybe—in Gage, and Fredericks at the rate of about six per minute since the trial started.

Toward the close of the "talk," Capt. Fredericks commented on the fact that the defense did not call Griffith's brother to say whether or not he is a crazy man.

"His brother," he said, "why didn't they call him? He would surely have made a fine witness as to Griffith's sanity. Who would have known better than he?"

A FRUITLESS JUMP.

Maj. Jones of the Griffith forces jumped up. "We except to the conduct of the District Attorney in commenting on our failure to call any one as a witness."

"Why not?" demanded Fredericks. "Why not?"

"We have our exception," said Maj. Jones, coldly declining to be drawn into an explanation.

Judge Smith said that it would be misconduct for the District Attorney to call attention to the failure of the defendant to go on the stand. He thought it was all right to comment on the absence of other witnesses.

"Very well; we leave our exception of the record," said Maj. Jones meangly.

Only two lawyers for the defense stayed to hear: Rogers and Luther Brown were missing.

Rogers was doing his heavy part down in the engine-room. Soon after court convened in the afternoon Rogers came in, tired and pale, with a bunch of typewritten instructions for the court—my law of the case finally to be points for the jury.

Fredericks bore down heavily in his talk" on the fact that the old friends—friends of years—of the Griffith family, all agreed that Griffith was sane. He called attention to the fact that the physicians for the defense nearly all testified from slight acquaintance or none at all.

Dr. Moore, the family physician, who had treated Griffith and occupied the peculiarly intimate position that the family doctor has, said that Griffith was sane. Dr. Bryant, another of Griffith's doctors, also said "sane."

Fredericks called attention to the fact that the laymen who testified to Griffith's insanity were casual acquaintances who "joshed" Griffith at the Athan Club, "which," said Fredericks, "seems to be a regular josh house." Laymen who believed him sane and responsible for his acts were friends of fifteen to twenty years or even more. Another fact Fredericks made much of was that all the people who saw Griffith immediately before or immedi-

Laymen who believed him sane and responsible for his acts were friends of fifteen to twenty years or even more.

Another fact Fredericks made much was that all the people who saw Griffith immediately before or immediately after the shooting, testified for the prosecution—to the man's entire sanity.

He argued that the rebuttal knocked out all contentions of the defense—Griffith's alleged fear of poisoning, his alleged sudden cessation of drinking after prolonged boozing of years, it being shown that Griffith drank constantly up to a few minutes before the shooting.

Griffith's suspicion of his wife, he characterized as a drunken idea that came to him when ugly from drink. He claimed that Griffith's prodigious conceit was a sane conceit, brought on by the flattery that comes to a rich man.

One of the strong points made was that Griffith, at the time of his alleged insanity, was negotiating big loans with banks and disposing of property worth $170,000, in all the deals showing shrewdness.

Griffith's remarks to J. W. A. Off of the State Bank and Trust Company was commented on. "You don't know enough about insanity to testify about my mental condition," said Griffith when he heard that Off had been subpoenaed.

In the opinion of the District Attorney experts for the prosecution were one and all men of eagle eye and mighty brain; the experts of the defense were—the less said the better.

As the prosecution is limited by the court to six and one-half hours' talking, Capt. Fredericks began at 10:20 o'clock and closed at 4—three hours and forty minutes.

THAT MYSTERIOUS INFLUENCE.

Following him came Attorney J. W. McKinley of the defense.

He insinuated very strongly that Mrs. Griffith's family were a mysterious "influence," egging her on to prosecute her husband, she believing in her heart, he said, that Griffith was not a sane man when he shot her.

He held up the prosecution's theory—that Griffith shot her to prevent her calling for a settlement of her property which he managed—held this up as a weak and improbable contention—an overreaching of eagerness.

He pointed out that a man whose thirst for public admiration impelled him to give away Griffith Park's 3000 acres would hardly forfeit all this public admiration for the paltry $17,000 of his wife's legacy, over which they disputed.

He contended that the straight course of the bullet contradicted the statement of Mrs. Griffith that she was shot on her knees, but indicated that they were struggling for the pistol, which was accidentally discharged in the fracas. Not that she meant to lie about it. Forgot and had no clear impression of what really took place in the tragedy.

McKinley stopped at 4:30 o'clock. Court convenes at 9 o'clock this morning. He then continues.

Mr. Gage is to close the case. He sat in a state of suppressed excitement yesterday, chewing gum at the rate of eighty revolutions to the minute.

The programme has been arranged as follows: McKinley to occupy this forenoon; Maj. Jones to speak during part of the afternoon; Earl Rogers to have the rest of the afternoon and all of tomorrow forenoon; Gage to have tomorrow afternoon for his closing.

EVENTS IN LOCAL SOCIETY.

ON FRIDAY afternoon there will be a gathering of the leading literary lights, in an informal way, at the home of Mrs. Sydney J. Parsons, No. 625 North Belmont avenue, to meet Mrs. Ida Meacham Strowbridge.

There will be about forty guests entertained during the afternoon, and Mrs. Strowbridge is to read some of her stories, which she can give with much intensity of feeling, having lived most of them herself, especially her desert stories, which smack so truly of that life that no one is able to depict without knowing whereof they speak.

Once some months ago seated in her den with a couple of interested girl friends curled on either side of her on the deer-skin rug, in front of which burned a cheery blaze, the only light in the quaint room whose walls are covered with pictures of the literary geniuses, who knowing Mrs. Strowbridge have loved her, she read into these delighted girls' ears some of the stirring tales of which her life has been full, and which she rendered with such deep understanding that the day afternoons and evenings to her many friends in this city.

—o—

Monday Musicale.

Mrs. W. F. Botsford of No. 1213 Orange street, was at home to the members of the Monday Musical Club yesterday afternoon. A delightful programme was rendered and later refreshments were served.

The house was brightened with cut flowers and ferns, and softly shaded lights made a dainty setting for the handsomely gowned women.

—o—

Masquerade Ball.

The members of the congregation of Beth Israel gave a largely attended ball en masque at Turnverein Hall last evening.

—o—

Entertained Informally.

Last Friday evening Miss Ethel M. Worthington of Westlake avenue entertained a few of her friends in a most informal manner. She was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Frank M. Worthington, and Miss Ruth Bosbyshell.

girls' faces flushed with excitement, and their dreams that night were of the sort which remain impressed on the mind indelibly. They even cried for "more," as children for fairy tales.

—o—

Rowe-Sprecher.

Yesterday at noon a canopy of smilax and marguerites and a wedding bell of marguerites hung just over the heads of a handsome couple who at 12 o'clock were united in marriage by the Rev. Alvah G. Fessenden of the Grand View Presbyterian Church.

The contracting parties were Miss Ada Mae Rowe of Iowa and James Gordon Sprecher of this city.

The marriage took place at the home of the groom's parents, No. 2637 Romeo Place, and was only witnessed by the members of the families.

The room in which the ceremony was performed was a bower of greenery, palms and potted plants being used, together with great bunches of calla lilies. Crepe paper in different shades of green was interwoven, and enmeshed in the strands were delicate white marguerites. Lights shaded with green added to the attractive scene. The hall and library were also decorated.

The dining-room, where a wedding breakfast was served, was a brilliant bit of glowing color in the midst of all this greenery. A large basket containing the golden blossoms of the poppy, ornamented the center of the table, and French bows of yellow ribbon added to the beauty of the whole. Yellow tulle shaded the lights and butterfly bows perched lightly on the curtains like so many bright hued, winged creatures.

As the couple approached the altar Mrs. Frank Carpenter rendered "The Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin," and after the ceremony "O Promise Me," in soft strains.

The bride's gown was a most beautiful and elaborate creation of the dressmaker's art, being of cream crepe de chine over taffeta with garnitures of real lace and satin ribbons. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses.

Miss Blanche G. Sprecher, a pretty sister of the groom, acted as maid of honor, and was exquisitely dainty in a frock of white silk batiste over blue silk and carried a large cluster of Parma voilets. George Fruhling stood with the groom. Mae Sprecher, a niece of the groom, made a dear little flower girl, with her long brown curls and sparkling eyes, carrying on her arm a basket of pink rose leaves, which she scattered in the path of the bridal party. Among the rose leaves was the ring also.

Mrs. Sprecher is a girl of unusual beauty, and her husband is a bright young business man, associated with his father in the Sprecher Publishing House.

The young folks left yesterday afternoon for an extended wedding tour, taking in points as far east as Chicago. It is possible they may make their home in Chicago, though they are as yet undecided.

—o—

Sunday Tally-ho.

On Sunday a party of young ladies from Des Moines, Iowa, enjoyed an all-day outing. Some of the girls are residents of this city, but former residents of Des Moines and others are simply here on a visit. During their trip they took in Pasadena, then came through the beautiful San Gabriel Valley, they stopped at San Gabriel and ate their luncheon under the giant grape vine. After luncheon the girls wandered through the gray corridors of the old San Gabriel Mission and the day's pleasure ended with the drive home by way of Alhambra.

The members of this merry party included the Misses Pearl Coles, Elizabeth and Fanny Lymans, Beryl Coles, Daisy Courtney, Elizabeta Smith, Lynn Coles, Roberta Coles, Ada Becks, Mels Lucile Jaymes, Margaret Forefield, and Nellie Sheldon.

—o—

Soldiers Will Dance.

The Seventh California Volunteer Association will give its annual ball at the Armory Hall on Wednesday evening, March 2.

The association membership is mostly composed of prominent National Guardsmen of this city, and all the members have seen active service. The best music has been procured for the occasion, and the dance hall is to be festooned with the national colors.

Mrs. Ainsworth In Town.

Mrs. Frank Ainsworth of Arizona is in town visiting her mother, Mrs. O. R. Dunkelberger, of No. 1200 West Ninth street. Mrs. Ainsworth will be remembered as Miss Gussie Dunkelberger, one of Los Angeles' prettiest girls. She is now a charming matron. She will be at home with her mother on Tuesday afternoons and evenings during March.

were effectively adorned with red and green. The library and dining-room were trimmed with purple and white tulle in artistic festoons, and cut flowers added to the effect. The spacious front veranda was inclosed and made enticing with hammocks, easy chairs and Chinese lanterns, and the young folk found this a much sought after spot between dances.

Flinch, that new and ever popular game, was played, and later dancing was enjoyed.

Dainty refreshments were served to the guests, who were Misses Barstow, Mitchell Edwards, Ruth Bosbyshell, M. Thresher and Florence Thresher; Messrs. C. Armstrong, M. Armstrong, King, Lee, Hanly, Fredericks and Anderson.

—o—

Gift of Father.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Leslie Harris are now settled in their new home, the gift of Abner L. Ross to his daughter Gertrude, on her wedding day. The house is No. 1127 South Hoover street. Mrs. Harris will be at home to her friends on the first and second Friday afternoons in March.

—o—

Fruit Luncheon.

A fruit luncheon was given by Mrs. Lucy Blanchard of No. 919 West Second street at 12 o'clock yesterday in honor of Mrs. Helen Bullock, national organizer of the W.C.T.U. She was assisted in entertaining her guests by Mrs. J. M. G. Tallerday. Other guests included Mrs. Emma Cash, State president; Mrs. Hester T. Griffith, president of the Los Angeles Federation of the W.C.T.U.; Mrs. M. J. Hall, Mrs. S. B. Warner and Mrs. L. E. Fassett. Dainty cards with etchings and the words, "Blest be the tie that binds," ornamenting their surfaces, marked the places, and on the other side quotations from Frances Willard were found. The centerpiece on the table was a graceful cluster of pink roses and pink geraniums, and white satin ribbons were on the snowy cloth. The chandeliers were decorated with hearts and cut flowers were arranged in tall vases about the room.

Mrs. Blanchard was also at home to her friends last night in honor of Miss Anne Whitney of Honolulu and Miss Maggie McGreggor of Galt, Can. Tea was poured during the evening, and a programme of music was given.

—o—

Birthday Anniversary.

On Thursday afternoon Master Eddie Lovejoy was the host for a little birthday celebration in honor of his tenth anniversary. The affair took place at his home, No. 1818 Magnolia avenue. Among the invited guests were Misses Esther and Bessie Bryant, Mary and Louise Bellows, Alice Wittenburg, and Flora Simpson; Masters Donald Bryant, William Mogle, Niles Furray and Eddie Lovejoy.

—o—

Miss Edwards Celebrates.

Last evening Miss Jennie Carlotta Edwards at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. David Edwards, celebrated her third birthday, though she has the appearance of being a young lady of 16. A jolly time was enjoyed by this pretty miss and her young friends, in celebration of this happy and long-looked-for event.

Notes and Personals.

Mrs. Henry Clay Gooding and Miss Gooding of No. 1926 South Grand avenue will be at home to their friends on the first and third Wednesdays in March.

Mrs. E. W. Gilmore of No. 2007 Ocean View avenue will entertain the California Badger Club next Thursday afternoon. There will be music and an address by Mrs. J. E. Cowles.

Miss Louise Cooper of the Portland "Delta Iota Chi" is the guest of Miss Frances Hessel of No. 1404 Reed street.

Somewhere in the world life is at stake every minute of the day. Right at our own doors, perhaps, is going on a struggle as grim and fierce as any fight or flight on record. You hear the hollow tearing cough; see the ooze of blood which tells of the wounded lungs; mark the emaciated body and hectic cheek, and know a life is at stake.

The use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has saved many a life in just such a crisis. It cures obstinate, deep-seated coughs, stops the hemorrhage, strengthens "weak" lungs, and restores the emaciated body to its normal weight and strength.

There is no alcohol in the "Discovery," and it is absolutely free from opium, cocaine, and all other narcotics.

"I desire to send you this brief, unsolicited testimonial," writes Rev. Joseph H. Fesperman, Barium Springs, Iredell Co., N. C. "In 1895 one of my daughters was suffering on account of a severe cough, hectic fever, wasting of flesh and other symptoms of diseased lungs. I promptly gave her Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery with gratifying success, and she now enjoys excellent health. This experience caused me to recommend Dr. Pierce's medicines to my neighbors, who, without exception, used them with favorable results."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only, or if cloth bound volume is desired send 31 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

WEATHER IN MARCH.

Data Obtained by Forecaster Franklin from Local Results During Twenty-six Years.

Local Forecaster George E. Franklin has been delving into the weather records as kept in Los Angeles for the past twenty-six years, and has unearthed some very interesting data regarding the weather in the month of March during that period. Mr. Franklin says that he has been unable, after examining all these data, to venture upon any prediction regarding the weather during March, 1904, in fact that is a little out of his line; if he succeeds in forecasting the course of winds and the movements of the clouds for twenty-four hours he will have done his whole duty. The warmest March was in 1885, when the temperature averaged 62 deg., while the coldest was in 1880, the average being 52. The highest temperature recorded was March 29, 1879, when the thermometer registered 99 deg., and the lowest was on March 9, 1893, when the mercury fell to 31 deg. The records regarding rainfall are of especial interest. The average for the month during these years was 2.96 inches; the greatest monthly precipitation was 12.26 inches in 1884, and the lowest, in 1885, when the fall was but .01 of an inch. In twenty-four hours, March 3-4, 1884, 3.18 inches of rain fell. The average date on which the last "killing" frost has occurred in the spring was March 19, and the latest was April 8.

LOS ANGELES PROOF

E. S. Escober, retired, of 1118 S. 18th street, says; "I had attacks of kidney complaint for several years, and every time I caught a cold it settled in these organs and I suffered severely. When the spells were at their worst I could hardly stoop, or bend, or get up and down from a chair. On such occasions trouble with the kidney secretions existed and when last annoyed I noticed Doan's Kidney Pills advertised at Doan's Drug Store at Second and Spring streets and got a box. I found that the remedy did all that was claimed for it. In a very short time I was completely cured of the attack. I have taken a barrel of medicine during my life, but I never found anything which suited my case as Doan's Kidney Pills have."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale at All Drug Stores.

We are Specialists for Varicocele Hydrocele Stricture, Piles, Fistula Blood Diseases Contracted Diseases Loss of Vital Power Kidney and Bladder Troubles

Our Medical Journal . . . Free

Downstairs at our entrance, 337½ South Broadway, you can help yourself to our medical journal, an extensive description of our special work is given. It contains full information, which we cannot publish in our advertisement. If you live out of the city, write for one.

Varicocele

Have you treated for varicocele with people who claim to cure without your quitting your work? If so, you still have your varicocele. No varicocele was ever cured while you work. Any reliable specialist can and will show you plenty of successfully cured cases before you invest. We have been curing varicocele in Los Angeles 10 years, and are ready to prove our success by introducing you to hundreds of first-class men who will give you the facts. One week under our treatment makes a permanent cure. You should see some of our cases here, who were treated 8 and 10 years ago. We use no knife, you have no pain, your cure is permanent. OUR EXAMINATION IS FREE. Are you going to hand your money over to any man before you see the absolute proof of his success?

Contracted Disorders

Of all the diseases peculiar to man, contracted disorders are the most abused by cut-and-try, hit-and-miss treatments, administered by good friends, druggists, doctors in general practice, and most of the would-be specialists. It is certainly interesting to hear the story of the average patient telling his experience with the different kinds of so-called treatment he has been "up against." A large majority of our patients come to us with all the original disease and part or all of the combinations resulting from delay and mistreatment. We generally have to cure them after some or all of the following conditions have developed: Chronic discharge, stricture, or all of the chronic bladder troubles, diseased prostate, sores, swellings, etc., besides a patient whose confidence and mind are diseased, through failure and disappointment. Don't trifle with these disorders, go to a doctor who knows how to cure you; it is the cheapest, surest and shortest way out. We have been 21 years in the business.

Vital Decline Can Be Cured

Vital decline, commonly called weakness, is the result of a diseased condition which weakens the vital nerve center. This disturbing cause is nearly always found in the prostate gland, where the nerve center is located. The prostate becomes affected by one or more of several things, such as badly-treated local diseases, indiscretions, excesses, varicocele, etc. We published years ago the first information ever given out on prostatic trouble as the cause of vital weakness; since that time our theories have been accepted by all the best eastern specialists, and at the same time every pretender specialist copies our advertisements, knowing absolutely nothing of our successful means of relieving men of this trouble. No one but a thorough specialist can succeed in curing these conditions. Anybody can advertise but the genuine specialist only can satisfy the patient and give him value received.

Stricture

I can do more for stricture in three days with my improved, modern, up-to-date method than could be done in three months with the old, painful sound treatment. I can cure nearly every case in ten days, and by a cure I mean the stricture will never give any further trouble. Remember, my method is absolutely free from pain—and is certain in every case.

SALES OF ORANGES AT THE METROPOLIS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Forty-five cars of California oranges were sold at auction today.

AGENCY SALES.

The Agency had thirty cars. Fancy Washington navels, 2.05@1.45, average, 1.75; extra fancy Washington navels, 2.55@1.60, average, 1.91½; choice Washington navels, 1.75@1.45, average, 1.56; extra choice Washington navels, 1.95@1.55, average, 1.73¼; orchard run Washington navels, 3.15@1.40, average, gross, 2.09; seedlings, 1.35@1.20, average, 1.28; seedlings, grapefruit, 2.20@1.85, average, 1.96; tangerines, quarter boxes, .75@.60, average, .65.

INDEPENDENT SALES.

The Independents have fifteen cars. Extra fancy Washington navels, 2.85@1.80, average, gross, 2.11; fancy Washington navels, 2.40@1.30, average, gross, 1.74; Thompson's improved navels, 2.90@1.50, average, 1.67; fancy Thompson's improved navels, 2.90@1.90, average, 2.29; orchard run Washington navels, 2.00@1.50, average, 1.66; grapefruit, 3.00@2.12½, average, 2.54.

About seven hundred boxes of Porto Ricos were offered at 1.65@1.10, average, 1.36; barrels, 2.67½; Jamaica grapefruit, 4.50@4.20, average, 2.92, for wrapped and 4.25@2.25, average, 3.65 for unwrapped. The weather was warmer and the market from store much more active. Washington navels were held firm for large sizes, but small sizes were weak. At the auctions all sizes were lower, some of the poorest going for less than expenses. Floridas are cleaning up rapidly under increased demand, which runs principally to large sizes. Porto Ricos are coming better, and store prices advanced 25 cents. At the auctions prices were much higher than they were at the last sale. Not many are coming now, and the quality is better. Lemons were active from stores. Prices continued firm. The next auction is tomorrow, 29,400 boxes. D. B. Campbell, general eastern agent of the Agency, is here. He tried to compromise with the independents by offering an opportunity to sell first one-fourth of the time, to correspond with the proportion of fruit received by them, but the offer was rejected.

ENGLISH STOCK COMPANIES. There has been a disposition to regard the United States as the home of the "wild-cat" stock company, but a recent article in the Manchester Chronicle assures us that company promotion has been carried on in England to the great detriment of the saving classes, who have invested their earnings in the stocks.

In the last ten years it is estimated that the investing public has lost $267,-899,50 in addition to $371,103,500 lost on venders shares. Continuing the article says:

"The limited liability system has undoubtedly promoted enterprise. By its means expansion of the trade has been facilitated and the capital that expansion has secured. The terrible proportion of insolvency under the system does not affect the genuine industrial concern which offers itself as an investment to the public. But under the system the most flagrant abuses are possible, and they are unfortunately practiced with virtual impunity. Bankruptcy has no terrors for the unscrupulous person, and the promotion of companies is so recklessly carried on that we have every year such an appalling ratio of insolvency as that indicated in this report. The amending acts of recent years have failed to check the evil. The law is so framed that it may be deliberately evaded. The inspector calls attention to the increasing number of companies floated without issuing a prospectus or inviting the public to subscribe. The committee of the stock exchange declares that in these cases the promoters dispose of the shares to intermediaries, who sell them privately or on the stock exchange, so that the shares come into the hands of the public, often at a premium, without the protection of the companies' act of 1900. In the last six months of 1900 the proportion of companies coming before the public with a prospectus was 61 per cent., and those without a prospectus 39 per cent.; now the proportion is reversed and 61 per cent. of the companies floated issue no prospectus. It does not meet the case to say that we cannot legislate for fools; we must so legislate as to protect the nation from unscrupulousness, dishonesty, and fraud. The board of trade has been urged by the stock exchange to deal with this abuse, and a serious effort must be made to safeguard our commercial interests by making the law very stringent in dealing with abuses of flotation under the limited liability system."

COMMERCIAL.

CLOTHING TRADE. The New York Commercial says:

"It appears that the clothing business at the present time is not behind that of last spring. Not all of the firms report decided gains, but some of them do, notably the leaders in the industry, who never for a moment relax their efforts to push trade through every available channel. Some firms assert that they are keeping even with last year or, putting the matter a little differently, that business is up to the mark set at the corresponding period last year; other houses say that they are ahead, one representative of a leading firm stating that trade would average from 10 to 15 per cent. better than last season.

"A safe conservative view of the situation seems to be that there has been the usual volume of business. Some sections are nervous, notably the large cities, where there have been labor difficulties, and where rumors of industrial depression, or the actual closing of mills, have depressed the situation. In the agricultural communities, however, business has been good and better goods are constantly in able demand. Summer goods are in considerable demand even now. Not only the regular clothing houses feel this demand, but the specialty men as well, which, they say, is for homespuns and light worsteds. A prominent specialty manufacturer says there has been no demand for flannels yet, the call for summer stuff having been for the fabrics mentioned."

ORANGE SHIPMENTS. Shipments of oranges on Friday were 181 cars, on Saturday and Sunday, 268 cars. Of lemons 11 cars went forward on Friday and 24 cars on Saturday and Sunday, making the total shipments to date, 9010 cars.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

The egg market showed no change at the morning session of the Produce Exchange. In the afternoon the market showed decided weakness and prices ruled a cent below posted figures; 19 cents was generally quoted as the top for candled ranch.

Potatoes are very firm and while no changes occurred in primary markets, with the possible exception of Oregon, dealers have ceased the practice of selling at less than the stocks could be duplicated for. A large business will be done on government contracts by a California firm that is now preparing to deliver potatoes in Manila in immense quantities, both for Uncle Sam and for vessels of other nations that will be sure to call at that port on account of the war. River potatoes will be shipped on these contracts, as they stand up better than most varieties. Oregon Burbanks cannot be laid down here for less than 1.52½ today and should be sold for at least 1.75 if the dealer wants a profit. It is estimated by a prominent broker that 30,000 centals of potatoes will be used each month south of Tehachepi from now until the new crop comes in.

Beans are slated for another advance.

Small fish are scarce, large in moderate supply.

Poultry is unchanged, being in fair demand at quotations.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

SHARES AND MONEY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 29.—The feeble wavering of prices in today's stock market represented nothing more than the fatuous attempts of a few small room traders to find a moveable spot in the market for either an upward or a downward course. The range of the day's movement was at an average of considerably less than a point. The aggregate sales for the day were 171,900 shares. There was a day's record of less than 100,000 shares in August of last year. The lowest for the current year until today was touched February 15, when 173,000 shares were sold. The market proves equally rigid against attempts to move it in either direction. Railroad reports for the day were generally unfavorable, with the notable exception of Union Pacific, which showed a reduction in expenses, in addition to increased gross earnings. The stock market, no benefit from it until the pressure upon Erie and the general list was relaxed. The break in the London copper market hurt Amalgamated Copper in the initial dealings, but it recovered. The result of the Supreme court decision was plainly an influence in the market, but the postponement, with further period of suspense for the market, provoked renewed animation and hardened appreciably in the afternoon. The belief is thus engendered that stocks are in strong hands, but it is equally certain of faith that those hands are full, or at least that their owners are unwilling to take more at present. The closing was very firm, but intensely dull. Total sales, (par value) $1,315,000. United States old 4s declined. The call loan rate was 2 per cent.

VENTURA RANCHER HAS NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH.

Entangled in Harness and Unable to Extricate Himself While the Bronchos Dash Along on Their Wild Career.

VENTURA, Feb. 29.—John MacFarlane, aged 36 years, married and residing on the Gosnell ranch on Ventura avenue, had a narrow escape from death Sunday morning. He was battered, bruised and bleeding after the terrible ordeal he went through and will be confined to his bed for a long time.

MacFarlane, with Ira Gosnell and a ranch hand, were moving a small shed to the Gosnell ranch, to be used as a blacksmith shop. The shed had been located near the old Ventura mills. They had lifted the building onto a sled, to which was hitched four fractious broncho horses. Mr. MacFarlane was standing at the head of the leaders and holding to their bridle bits. Suddenly the team became frightened and unmanageable and began to plunge about. Their action tumbled the shed from the sled. Relieved of their load, the horses dashed forward, dragging MacFarlane, who had become entangled in the harness, with them.

The animals were thoroughly frightened at the crash the building made in its tumble, and away they went down the avenue, with MacFarlane dangling between the leaders and occasionally striking the rough road as they dashed along. This wild race continued for half a mile and strange to say, the man kept his dangerous position.

The team was finally stopped and MacFarlane rescued. No bones were broken, but he was terribly bruised and thinks his escape from death miraculous.

Radium Fakers.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 27.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I noticed in an editorial in a recent issue of The Times that a correspondent from San Diego appeared to be very much grieved over a statement to the effect that an exposure was made by me in The Times of a fake radium concern operating in Mariposa county.

On the 6th inst., The Times published the first exposure of the methods of the Radium Gold Mining Company, who were attempting to bunco the people of Southern California into buying their stock. The article was published verbatim, and I was not misquoted, neither have I any reason for retracting any portion of the article. The statement was made that there was no radium in the Mariposa ore which was referred to. No mention was made in the original article that radium did not occur in California.

On February 20, I also exposed this company in the San Francisco Call, and stated they were "fakers," but in the article I was misquoted by the Call as stating "no radium had been found in this State." As soon as the article was brought to my attention I called the matter to the attention of the editor of that paper, and on the 21st inst. he corrected the error, and at the same time stated that after the article exposing the company appeared, a representative of the Radium Gold Mining Company had called at the office of the paper and said that the statements which I had made were true, and that the company had discovered that their ore did not contain radium, and, furthermore, that they had been misled by their chemist. They intended to reorganize their company and work the mine for gold and persons who had purchased stock would have their money refunded.

Now, I do not know what effect the exposure by The Times and Call had on the radium company, but I do know that they have gone out of business so far as radium is concerned. I think that notwithstanding the misquotation by the Call, the radium business in San Diego county has not been injured by the article more than a few million dollars, and as The Times has aptly stated, everybody knows that California is filled to the bursting point with pitchblende, hornblende, horn toads, etc., and that San Diego county has more than its rightful share. The Call's misquoted remarks of the State Mineralogist will not have the effect of diverting many millions from investment in radium which might be found in that county.

In connection with "fake" companies, I consider that any journal is a public benefactor that exposes the methods of these concerns, and if the papers of the State would devote their columns to such exposure whenever the "fakes" appeared, they would do more to assist legitimate mining than all the courts and other influences combined. California has suffered for years from the operations of these "fakers," and the consequences of their actions are apparent when it is noted, for instance, that millions in capital are being diverted from California to Mexico, and until confidence has been restored in our mines, and the investing public is made aware of the fact that they will be protected, this diversion of capital will continue. All honor to The Times for the stand it has taken, and if we had a few more journals which adopted the same course, our State would soon be freed from these parasites who cling to the mining industry. Very truly,

LEWIS E. AUBURY,
State Mineralogist.

WILL ISSUE A NEWSPAPER.

METHODIST CONFERENCE TO PRINT PROCEEDINGS.

Journals Have Been Published Daily at All Quadrennial Gatherings for Sixty-four Years—To be Produced by Mechanical Department of The Times.

A sixteen-page daily newspaper will be published by the General Methodist Conference during its session in this city in May. W. E. Grose, field agent of the Methodist Book Concern, has arranged for the issuance of the Daily Christian Advocate from the presses of The Times while the big gathering is here.

It will be a "preachers' newspaper from start to finish. Every editor, every reporter, every stenographer, and even the business manager working on the publication will be a preacher. The magazine form is the one in which the "religious daily" is to make its appearance. The size adopted is that of the Sunday Magazine issued by The Times.

Complete stenographic reports of the proceedings of the conference are to be printed in the Daily Christian Advocate, but it is arranged to also publish editorials and other matter, including an epitome of each day's news of the world. If Jim Jeffries fights a twenty-four-round draw with Sharkey the fact will doubtless not be "available for publication" in the Advocate. If, however, Jeffries gets a fatal blow and dies in the ring the Advocate will probably employ the event to point a moral on the evils of the roped arena.

The making of the newspaper as projected for the general conference period will cost between $40,000 and $50,000. A circulation of between 25,000 and 30,000 copies daily is expected. Rev. Daniel Rader, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Tacoma, Wash., will be editor-in-chief. Rev. A. H. Lucas of Buffalo, N. Y., has been selected for assistant editor. The publication will be by Eaton & Mains of New York, eastern agents of the Methodist Book Concern.

No Sunday edition will be printed, but on each Monday the Advocate will contain a report of Saturday's and Sunday's proceedings. In order to be up to date in the matter of captions the style of headlines in The Times will be followed.

The Daily Christian Advocate has been a feature at every meeting of the general conference since 1836. For a good many years the editor of the Daily Advocate at each session of the general conference has been afterward elected by that body to some prominent position.

"Nothing," says the Berlin Chamber of Commerce, in its last annual report, "can take the place of American bacon as a cheap and nutritious article of food for the masses of our population. Therefore, it would be a matter of deep regret if the high import duties of the new tariff law were not reduced to a reasonable degree.

KIDNAPED.

gal friend she opened a correspondence with the recreant husband, and the lawyer prevailed upon him to send her a ticket to come here to visit the boys. She arrived here February 16, and went to the home of John Hutzen, an old friend of her father's. Next day she sought an interview with her husband and asked to see the children, but he would not let her see them, unless she would make a confession of wrong doing and agree to live with him again. She would not consent to this, after the treatment she had received at his hands; besides she had nothing to confess or to ask forgiveness for, as he was the sole transgressor, from her point of view.

After her long journey, Mrs. Rist was not going to be denied the boon of even seeing her children. In this extremity she appealed to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children to aid her. Humane Officer Webb investigated the case and learned that Rist had taught the boys to believe that their mother was a bad woman. The eldest boy who is still in the messenger service seemed to have no desire to see his mother.

MAMMA'S LITTLE HERO.

The second son, Leroy, had rebelled against carrying messages and insisted on going to school, which his father, after much pleading, permitted him to do. This sturdy lad had not forgotten his mother, and last Wednesday when the Humane Officer and Mrs. Rist called at the house where he was staying in the absence of his father, he eagerly flew to his mother's arms and said he would stand by her, as he did not believe the ugly things his father had said about her.

Leroy gathered up his meager belongings and accompanied his mother and the Humane Officer and helped them to kidnap his younger brother, Earl, from the house where he was kept in East Los Angeles. Leroy did this by coaxing Earl about a block away from the house to play marbles.

When Mrs. Rist saw her baby boy she tried to gather him up in her arms, but the little fellow screamed with terror and picked up a stone to defend himself against the advances of this strange woman. He did not remember her as his mamma, and struggled to free himself from her caresses. His infantile mind had been poisoned against her, and he wailed that she would shut him up in a dark hole.

It required force to capture the little rebel, but he has become reconciled to his new found mamma since then, and can scarcely snuggle up close enough to her now.

The two recovered boys are carefully concealed with friends of Mrs. Rist who are guarding against any possible attempt of Rist to get possession of them again. Mrs. Rist will not be satisfied until she also gets her other boy, and she will have the assistance of the Humane Society in this, as it is unlawful to employ boys of such tender years in the messenger service.

DIVORCE PROCEEDINGS.

Last week Mrs. Rist was served with notice of an action for divorce commenced by her husband on the ground of desertion on account of her refusal to live with him again. She has employed Deputy District-Attorney James to defend her and will make a hard fight for the permanent custody of her children.

The plucky little woman intends to remain here until she has secured the guardianship of her three sons, and has already gone to work to earn money to support herself and them, by obtaining employment in a Broadway millinery establishment, where she has won the sympathy of employers and fellow-employés.

Pennsylvania people residing in Los Angeles who have known Mrs. Rist all her life, say she is a woman of unblemished character who has been badly mistreated by her husband

UNIONS EMPLOY ROUNDERS.

WILL ASSIST IN "BOYCOTT" ON RIVAL RESTAURANT.

Hired Thugs Shadow Women Proprietors and Attempt to Intimidate Employees—Threats to Police by Pickets—Citizens Alliance Fight Effective.

"We have a scheme now to fix those women good and plenty—a scheme that will beat out youse fellers, too."

This intelligent and characteristic threat was made yesterday by a union-labor ruffian to a patrolman detailed to safeguard the interests of the Rival restaurant, No. 115 West Second street.

Incensed by the failure of the boycott instituted against Mrs. Clarke and Mrs. Blades, the hired thugs besieging the restaurant have been stung to desperation. The threat made yesterday is due to the conferences of Sunday, and a part of the threatened scheme is the importation from San Francisco of professional boycotters familiar with the cowardly tricks of the up-country combination.

A part of the scheme to defeat two independent women, refusing to turn over their business affairs to a band of irresponsible agitators, is the adoption of the recent personal picketing plan. The girls employed at the Rival have for the past few days been hounded and hissed by thugs on leaving and returning to their homes, and, not satisfied with this, women have been employed to keep tab on their movements, subjecting the waitresses to the deepest humiliation. On two occasions a band of wanton women have invaded the restaurant and personally assaulted the girls there employed and made use of language not permissable in polite society.

But the persecutions practiced by the union do not end there. Mrs. Clarke and Mrs. Blades have been terrorized by these unionists, who characterize themselves and their cause as "fair." The conditions have become so strained it is with fear these women venture upon the streets. Their steps are dogged, and their residence picketed. Yet, with brazen-faced effrontery the union laborites deny that they are warring against women. In their organ they claim that the kitchen boss is responsible for all the trouble, and that the contention is for six days' work and fair pay. In view of existing facts, this contention is amusing. A six-day week has always been the rule at the Rival, and employés have and are receiving in excess of the union schedule. . . .

Sunday pickets began keeping tab on the patronage of the restaurant. It proved to be the best Sunday in the history of the eating house. For several hours a religious count was in progress with the hope that a report of a ruined business might be given at headquarters. At 4 p.m. the pickets slunk away convinced that a boycott was a pretty effective way of booming an enterprise in Los Angeles.

"That union card is down and will stay down," said Mrs. Blades yesterday. "Furthermore, I also am responsible for the removal of the card. No man has an interest in the restaurant. To free themselves of the odium of warring against women, the attempt is being made by the laborites to ring in our kitchen boss as proprietor, and as responsible for all the trouble. We are not hiding behind a man, nor is a man hiding behind our skirts. I am through with unions. I had a sufficiency before the boycott. I am not inclined to change front under coercion. I am sewing wood, and serving patrons. That keeps me busy. Sooner or later the unions will tire of supporting a crowd of loafers to keep watch over me. I shall ride my time, confident of the outcome."

HAWAII WANTS OUR TOURISTS.

PROPOSES A SORT OF CLEARING HOUSE FOR TRAVELERS.

Paradise of the Pacific Eager for Closer Commercial Relations With the Eden of Southern California. A Few Suggestions About Shipping Fruits.

The tourist army which annually invades Southern California is looked on with longing by the Hawaiians. A sort of clearinghouse designed to draw tourists from here to Honolulu and from the islands this way is proposed.

The February number of the Paradise of the Pacific, an illustrated monthly journal devoted to Hawaiian interests, contains an article by Elinor A. Langton on "A Field for Tourist Work," in which the writer pays some pretty compliments to Los Angeles and suggests that such steps be taken. The writer of that article thinks the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce should maintain a permanent information bureau in Los Angeles, and also suggests that Los Angeles might find it advantageous to maintain a similar bureau in Honolulu.

The editor of the Paradise of the Pacific, William M. Langton, a former Angeleno, spent a part of February in this city agitating for closer commercial relations between Honolulu and Los Angeles. He advocates a direct steamer line between San Pedro and Honolulu, and believes that with proper transportation facilities a large part of the Hawaiian trade now enjoyed by San Francisco and Northern Pacific ports could be diverted to Los Angeles.

Following are extracts from Mr. Langton's article:

"How can the promoters of this local tourist business reach the 80,000 pleasure seekers who go to Southern California every winter and spring? It is not to be implied that a solution of this problem means an invasion of the California hotel keepers' rights. . . . Those who travel for pleasure or rest make short stays there, only the health seeker remaining through the winter and spring. It is the habit of many to make a tour of Mexico when they have tired of Los Angeles, and it is to these particularly that the attractions of Hawaii might be presented with some prospect of doing good. . . . At present writing the great hotels of Los Angeles, Pasadena, Redlands, Santa Barbara and San Diego are filled with some of the elect of America's touring class, the people who are out for every enjoyment that the land can provide, let the cost be what it may.

"Would the organization of a Tourist Exchange be practical? That is, directing tourists from here to Los Angeles and vice versa. The plan is operated in European cities very successfully. Suppose the Chamber of Commerce and Merchants' Association send a Honolulu man to Los Angeles with full knowledge of what he is going to talk about to work up a tourist travel toward the islands, and then suppose the Los Angeles Board of Trade employ a Los Angeles man here to expound the attractions of his city.

"Somewhat apropos of a tourist exchange is a fruit exchange, which may or may not be an odd fancy. There are many Southern Californians in the islands who are longing for the fruits of their old home, such as oranges, lemons, olives, muscat grapes, apricots, plums and a dozen other products they are unable to obtain here as fresh and as palatable as they would like them. As it is, the fruits received here pass through several middle men, and San Francisco shippers are prone to send down to Honolulu the boxes that are unsalable in the city. Others besides Southern Californians residing in Hawaii would soon become large consumers of these fruits if they could get them in good condition."

WOMEN'S CLUBS.

Judge Ben B. Lindsey of the Colorado Juvenile Court spoke yesterday afternoon at the Ebell Club upon the subject into which he has thrown all his best energies, that of making good citizens out of the rising generation of the country, mainly through the proper operation of the Juvenile Court law. Many telling points were made by Judge Lindsey, and one of the incidents employed, that of a small boy changed from a terror of the slums to an efficient officer of the Juvenile Court, illustrates his own peculiar manner of handling such cases, and for which he is well known the country over. Judge Lindsey said that he hoped to see the juvenile law in this State add the clause which holds parents responsible for the actions of the children.

After an exquisite vocal duet, Nevin's "When We Two Were Maying," by Miss Christine and Miss Cullom, accompanied by Mrs. Jamieson, the main subject of the afternoon was taken up, "Clothes and Their Relation to Character," by Mrs. Lou V. Chapin.

The serious aspect of things was for the nonce discarded, and the club was happily entertained with the foibles of both men and women in regard to this subject, from the time of trouble over the proper adjustment of the fig leaf to the present abject subservience to fashion and conventionality. Trousers, be it known, have some occult relation to progress, and besides other notable instances the case of the little brown Jap is cited as the most recent proof of this fact.

Women do not dress to please the men, according to Mrs. Chapin, but for the purpose of inciting the admiration and mayhap for the aggravation of other women. Women also have another pleasing trait, that of robbing men of every possible fashion which appeals to them in the least, so when reproached for this devotion to dress women may reply to men that they themselves are responsible.

Men, according to Mrs. Chapin, are the conservatives in dress and faithfully cling to everything that women leave to them, such as the two lonely buttons on the back of a coat, which have been cherished since the knightly day, when they were necessary to hold up the sword belt.

Mrs. Hunt announced a series of lectures by Mrs. Benjamin Fay Mills on "The Gospel According to Emerson," to be delivered at the Women's Club House.

IN SOCIETY.

The afternoon tea yesterday given at the home of Mrs. F. W. Machin, South Marengo avenue, was one of the most largely-attended affairs of the Lenten season, and this was probably due to the fact that it did not come entirely under the head of a social function having the ulterior object of adding something to the building fund of the First Congregational Church. There was a tax on the tea served to the end; otherwise the affair was in all its appointments like unto a fashionable high tea. The floral decorations were charming. The color scheme in the drawing-room was red and green. A frieze of smilax dotted with red geraniums, and ropes of the same were festooned gracefully over door arches and window cornices and corners were blocked with tall forests of papyrus. In the dining-room deep-red geraniums with skeleton foliage were used in profusion and red satin ribbons and shaded candelabra carried out the bright effect.

BACKS OFF CAR, LANDS ON HEAD.

PASADENA PAINTER DRINKS AND SPILLS BLOOD.

Internal Hemorrhage of Head May Prove Serious—Play at Throop Leads to Alleged Stabbing—Small Profit on Oranges Feared.

PASADENA, Office of The Times, No. 24 South Raymond Avenue, March 1.—John W. Graver, a painter and decorator living at No. 72 Waverly Drive, was seriously injured at 7 o'clock last night by falling from a car of the Pacific Electric Railway at Colorado street and Raymond avenue.

The car was a "Short Line" from Los Angeles to Pasadena, and had stopped at Colorado street to discharge passengers. Conductor W. T. Coad, who claims to have witnessed the accident, says the car had discharged all of its passengers for this point, and had proceeded about ten feet when Graver deliberately walked from the rear gangway and stepped off the car backward. He alighted on the back of his head, and the blood gushed from his ears in a stream.

Dr. F. F. Rowland, the company physician, had the injured man removed to the police station, where medical aid was administered, and he was afterward taken to his home.

Dr. Rowland stated last night it was impossible to determine whether the injury sustained was merely a bursting of a blood vessel of the external ear, or if an internal hemorrhage existed.

Graver regained consciousness at the station, and admitted that he had been drinking. When asked if he was a regular drinker, he replied that he was not, but had taken a few glasses in Los Angeles.

Little is known here of Graver, except that he was employed for a time on the Hotel Green. He is 44 years old, and had a wife.

TROUBLE AT THROOP.

The twelve-year-old son of Frederick L. Brown of this city is accused by Lee Boyle of Los Angeles, both students at Throop, of stabbing him with a pocket-knife. The lads are about the same age, and together with a number of students at the institute were engaged in a game of grabbing hats at the morning recess. The attack turned to play upon the Brown boy, who became frightened, and, it is alleged, drew a pocket-knife and stabbed the Boyle youth near the heart, inflicting a flesh wound that bled profusely. Young Brown says he drew the knife in a moment of alarm, and had no intention of inflicting injury. Boyle went to Los Angeles, unattended, it is said, and friends of Brown say the injury inflicted is slight.

POOR ORANGE YEAR.

There is a difference of opinion among authorities on oranges in this neighborhood as to conditions of marketing and orchard just at present. But all agree that the outlook is not very bright for the outcome of the season's crop.

President Frank P. Boynton of the Board of Trade says he would not be surprised if the growers realized nothing for their crop this year. "The fruit on my trees is ripening rapidly," said Mr. Boynton, "and it is inclined to be puffy. Unless there is a warm spell in the East very soon, the fruit must be lost or sold at a very low price, because it's so cold back there now that the fruit already there cannot be exposed to the weather. The fruit coming on has to wait till that is sold and the result is to overstock the market."

President Volney H. Craig of the Lamanda Park Growers' Association predicts a famine in freight cars in the near future. The cars are being run into shelter in the East, he declares, and cannot be gotten back to California in time to handle the crop waiting to be picked and packed.

Ex-Mayor M. H. Weight, who was for several years manager of the local association of growers and shippers, takes a more rosy view of the situation. "The railroads are not able to handle all the business put to them," said he yesterday, "but I've seen the situation just as serious looking before and the outcome was not so very bad."

The afternoon tea yesterday given at the home of Mrs. F. W. The guest of honor was Mrs. Lucy Lincoln Tower, who will celebrate her ninetieth birthday Friday and who is the oldest member of the Congregational Church.

The ladies receiving were: Mmes. Machin, Nash, Henderson, Smith, Kold, Beck and Crumb. Mrs. C. L. Severy and Mrs. John Russell presided at the tea table, relieved by Mmes. P. T. Huggins and C. W. Brooks. The young women assisting were Misses Knight, Chaffee, Henderson, Machin, Florida, Myer, Evans, Chamberlain and Mrs. Elmer Moody. Misses Gertrude Machin, Armitage and Williams presided at the punch table.

MRS. EARLE'S DEATH.

Mrs. Sarah Brown Earle, formerly of Worcester, Mass., who died at her home, No. 250 North Los Robles avenue, Sunday night, had been widely known for her interest in philanthropic, educational and literary affairs. She was one of the first women to be chosen on the Municipal Educational Board of New England, and she served for a number of years on the Massachusetts State Board of Lunacy and Charity. Mrs. Earle was also a writer of poetry.

Mrs. Earle was a widow and had lived here since 1897. She leaves two sons and a daughter, Oliver K. Earle of Minneapolis, Morris Earle of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Emma Wood of New Bedford, Mass. Morris Earle is here. The funeral service will be held at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at All Saints' Church.

William Jett, accused of attempting the life of his brother-in-law, James Reed, appeared before Judge Congdon for arraignment yesterday, and had his hearing set for next Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Bail was fixed at $2500, which Jett says he will secure.

At the meeting of the City Commissioners yesterday afternoon a number of special officers were dropped from the list. All they did, in the eyes of the authorities, was to wear stars and ride free on street cars.

Building Inspector Buchanan reports having issued building permits to the amount of $70,695 during the month of February.

Mrs. Laura M. Stevens, aged 94, died on Sunday at her daughter's home. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Callender, who died in Los Angeles yesterday afternoon, will be held from the parlors of Reynolds & Van Nuys tomorrow at 10 o'clock a.m. Mrs. Callender was a native of Vermont, and had resided in Los Angeles twenty years. She was the mother of Mrs. E. T. Hull of this city. The body will be cremated.

Seventy-one guests registered at Hotel Green last night, and but a few more can be accommodated. The Raymond has been turning people away for several days, and many of the smaller houses about the city are taxed to provide accommodations for the largest number of tourists ever known in Pasadena.

BURBANK.

LAST JOURNEY'S END.

BURBANK, Feb. 29.—The last rites over the remains of Mrs. Maria Whittaker Ogden, wife of Hiram Ogden, were performed at the Methodist Church. The members of the Women's Missionary Society of the church, of which Mrs. Ogden was a devoted member, had decorated the chancel and pulpit in smilax and violets. A beautiful piece in purple and white violets with "Rest" traced therein, rested above the bier. The pallbearers were Rev. Fletcher Pomeroy, G. R. Duffer, L. Kahl, T. Grover and J. R. Luttge. The music was rendered by the choir of the church, assisted by Miss Bertha M. Brooks of Los Angeles. Rev. Silas Spowis, former pastor, conducted the services, assisted by Rev. Drummond McCunn of the Presbyterian Church, J. W. Graff of the Methodist Church, Dr. Chapin, pastor of the Christian Church, and Rev. Fletcher Pomeroy. The bier was covered with many beautiful floral offerings. The interment was in Evergreen Cemetery. Mrs. Ogden was a native of Illinois and crossed the plains to Oregon when a child of only eight years, fifty-six years ago. Many were the interesting and thrilling experiences Mrs. Ogden related regarding her overland trip to the West, and of her subsequent residence in the land surrounded by a hostile people.

Mrs. Ogden leaves a widower, Hiram Ogden, and two daughters, Mrs. Mary Ogden Ryan, principal of the West Glendale school, and Mrs. Grace Tilden, wife of Frank Tilden of Los Angeles. Mrs. Ogden had been a devout Christian from early womanhood.

HOLLYWOOD.

HE FOUND HIS MOTHER.

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 29.—Frank Bell, the four-year-old son of Clarence Bell of Toluca, ran away from his home on Saturday and came to Hollywood, a distance of seven miles, in search of his mother, who is here taking treatment. The little fellow was worn out and half famished when he arrived, but his joy at finding his parent overcame any evil effects of his trip.

BRIEFLETS.

I. J. Duel of DeKalb, Ill., is a guest of Prof. Hubert Clark.

Holman Coffin and Harrold Ferguson gave a sheet and pillow-case party last night in the Coffin bungalow, on the corner of Highland and Franklin. Paul De Longpré, who has been quite ill, is reported greatly improved and will soon be at work again.

ALHAMBRA.

PASSING OF A PIONEER.

ALHAMBRA, Feb. 29.—Samuel B. Kingsley, one of the pioneers of California, passed away at his home in Alhambra at 6:45 o'clock last evening. He was born at North Adams, Mass., March 9, 1824, and came to California in 1849. His first days were spent in Tuolumne county, at Jacksonville, in the mines. From there he went to Stockton, purchasing a farm about four miles southeast of that city, and engaged in the farming business quite extensively. He came to Alhambra, where he purchased a large orange orchard, and has made his home here for twenty-five years. Early in the year of 1880 he purchased a tract of land at Pomona, subdividing it into small tracts for making comfortable homes. He was one of the first to develop artesian water in the Pomona Valley. He also has large interests in Kern county, consisting of a dairy and stock farm, owning and operating the Rosedale Creamery. He has been a very enterprising citizen in all the different places where he had located, winning the esteem of all by his honesty and integrity. His health had been failing for the past five years, but he lived to a good old age, lacking only eighteen days of being 80 years old. He leaves a widow, who sadly mourns a kind and loving husband. The funeral will be held from the late residence of deceased, Wednesday at 10 a.m., March 2.

No Competition.

The uniform success of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in the relief and cure of bowel complaints both in children and adults has brought it into almost universal use, so that it is practically without a rival, and as everyone who has used it knows, is without an equal.

YELLOWTAIL OF FIFTY POUNDS.

AKRON MAN MAKES A RECORD CATCH AT CATALINA.

Largest Fish of Kind Previously Taken Weighed Forty-eight Pounds—Another Exhibit for the World's Fair at St. Louis Forwarded.

AVALON, Feb. 29.—S. C. Smith of Akron, O., who is spending the winter in California, now holds the record for taking the largest yellowtail ever caught with rod and reel. His fish weighed fifty-one pounds and is being mounted to ornament the dining-room of the Windsor Hotel. The record heretofore was forty-eight pounds, although larger fish of this variety have been taken with hand lines, "Yellowtail Johnnie" having a record of fifty-seven pounds.

R. W. Massey of Cadillac, Mich., a friend of F. S. Gerrish, with whom he is visiting, has been here two days and already has a credit of nine yellowtail. Mr. Massey is a devoted angler and has established quite a reputation for expertness with the bamboo at his northern home.

Joseph Keene and Roy Smith of Chicago were out with the Rival this morning after albicore and proved lucky in their quest, taking seven fine big fish, averaging above thirty pounds. One hour of actual fishing did the work.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Buck of Philadelphia were out with the Augusta this morning for a couple of hours and corralled two yellowtail, one weighing 22½ and the other 29 pounds. C. P. Praleigh and Mr. Bender were also in luck this morning, taking four yellowtail.

TO THE ISTHMUS.

Two stages and a boat were inadequate this morning to carry those wishing to take the trip to the Isthmus. Among those going by stage were: Mrs. J. W. Longyear, Miss Longyear, Miss Munro, Lansing, Mich.; H. N. Peck, Minneapolis; Mrs. J. C. Burrows, Mrs. H. B. Peck, Kalamazoo, Mich.; Mrs. Madella Cade Frazer, Syracuse, N. Y.; Miss E. L. Cochrane, La Porte, Ind.; Mrs. J. F. Wilcox, Joliet, Ill.; W. H. Browning, Muscatine, Iowa; Charles S. Waldo, George A. O. Ernest, Boston.

Messrs. Dillon, Church and Galt of Sterling, Ill., who are having the time of their lives with the fishes, returned yesterday from a few days at the Isthmus, where, as here, they got fish galore.

ANOTHER EXHIBIT.

C. B. Parker, the island taxidermist, made another shipment of Catalina Island fish to be exhibited at the St. Louis Fair, today. This shipment is for a private exhibition to be made by the Banning Company, and besides fish, will embrace everything pertaining to the island. There were eighteen specimens in the consignment.

He reports marked progress in the eight Filipinos who are studying in the college, and was greatly pleased at the improvement since Christmas, especially. He finds the boys in the various high schools gaining more in English and speaking and writing than those here, by reason of the different surroundings and closer contact of the public school.

ANAHEIM.

TOO MUCH "JOKE."

ANAHEIM, Feb. 29.—Yesterday evening Miss Zeus and her guest, Miss Everharty of Los Angeles went for a walk a few blocks away, and during their absence a little sister, Lillie Zeus, and little Miss Edna Lyons, who was a guest at the home, decided to play a practical joke on the family. They went through the drawers in the lockers of one room, removed the contents, and scattered them about the room, and stored the jewelry in a secure place. After opening the back doors, the little girls left immediately for the Lyons's home, knowing that Miss Zeus and her friend would return soon and at once conclude the residence had been burglarized. Upon returning Miss Zeus and friend passed through the room where the things had been scattered, and Miss Zeus stated to her friend she knew that thieves had entered and stolen all the valuables, as the jewelry and silverware could not be found. Marshal Steadman was called, and while he and two deputies were ascertaining what was missing, Zeus started in the direction of the Sandwash to look for the burglars. About this time the little girls arrived home and told of the joke. They had forgotten, and stayed away longer than they had intended. Zeus was not found until after he had made a thorough search of the riverbed between here and Fullerton.

Special revival services are held every night at the Methodist church by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Johnson, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Patterson of Long Beach, singers.

BELL, Feb. 29.—The new schoolhouse is completed and upon the opening day was attended by fifty-one scholars. The building, which was erected by J. W. The new building, which is colonial in style, has seating room for sixty children, and cost $1600.

OCEAN PARK, Feb. 29.—The new Board of City Trustees of the new city of Ocean Park proposes to do business without committees. By a resolution adopted tonight there are to be no such organizations of groups of members, and all matters presented to the board are to come before the whole body.

The board accepted a deed to the 4000 feet of ocean frontage presented to the infant town by the Ocean Park Improvement Company.

A voluminous ordinance dealing with the assessment and taxation question was introduced. The City Marshal is made the Tax and License Collector, and the City Clerk is made Assessor.

LONG BEACH.

KENDALL GOES TO HOSPITAL.

LONG BEACH, Feb. 29.—Rev. S. C. Kendall, the leader in the purity crusade, who recently undertook a national movement of the same character, leaves tonight for the Pacific Hospital, Los Angeles, where he will undergo an operation. This will probably confine him in the hospital for at least a month.

Four thousand pieces, including circular letters and information concerning the modus-operandi of conducting a campaign against vice, as carried on in Los Angeles recently, have been sent out, or are on the hands of the clerical force, ready for posting in a day or two. Mr. Kendall today received a letter from Rev. Frank Tyrrell of St. Louis, who assured him that there would be an organization effected in that city for service during the World's Fair, the object of which would be to accomplish what was undertaken in St. Louis recently, and that the plan of operation would doubtless be the same as outlined by the Los Angeles crusaders.

WHARF TOOLS COMING.

The initial cargo of bolts, tools, and other articles with which construction will be begun on the new $100,000 pier, left San Francisco on the steamship Lakme Saturday, and is expected to arrive here within a day or two. It is said the material will be brought direct to Long Beach and discharged on the old wharf. The shipment was made by the Atlantic Gulf and Pacific Company, the contractors. It is the intention of the company to commence work at both ends of the new pier simultaneously.

CAR CREWS' HOMES.

The Pacific Electric Railway Company will house all crews and all cars of the Los Angeles-Long Beach line at Long Beach hereafter except three. This is done, it is said, to overcome the congested state of the Los Angeles car barns. Heretofore the Long Beach car barn has been practically empty three-fourths of the time. It is believed this will fill it. This change will bring seven more crews to Long Beach.

SEASIDE BRIEFS.

A new gun club will be formed in Long Beach tomorrow night. A meeting for that purpose has been called at No. 117 West First street.

It has been proposed by some public-spirited citizens to start a fund with which to erect a monument to the memory of the man, Wilmore, who founded Long Beach, first known as Wilmore city.

F. M. Darling has arrived from Pocatello, Idaho, and is visiting his mother on West Fourth street.

Mrs. Will Rose, who came to Long Beach a month ago from Toronto, Canada, gave a birthday party to her nine-year-old twins, Barbara and Donald, at No. 809 West Third street, last night. The decorations were very tasty and the center table adornment was a pair of cakes, which were illuminated with vari-colored tapers.

LABORER KILLED.

Salt Lake Locomotive Strikes R. W. Sofley and Grinds His Body Into Small Fragments.

R. W. Sofley, a laborer, whose home was at No. 1822 San Fernando street, was struck by a work train on the Salt Lake Railroad yesterday afternoon, run over and instantly killed. The accident occurred about 4 o'clock between Downey avenue and Buena Vista street bridge, and, according to the statements of the railroad employes who witnessed it, was due to the carelessness of the victim.

Sofley was walking south along the railroad right of way, when the work train approached. The engineer saw him on the track when the train was about three hundred feet from him, and began sounding his whistle. The man saw the train, but instead of getting off the track he tried to run ahead until he cleared a bulkhead on the other side of which was a ravine. Seeing that he could not make the distance in time, he tried to cling to the bulkhead, but the space between him and the train was too narrow. The corner of the locomotive pilot struck him, throwing him upon the track, and the wheels passed over his body, grinding it into small fragments.

For a time it was impossible to identify the remains, but Coroner Trout found a Bible near the track, in which was written the name of the deceased. It had been knocked out of his pocket. The body was taken to Breese Bros.' place, where an inquest will be held. Nothing is known about the dead man's relatives.

Cleaning Power
No matter what article you employ in cleaning, be it soap or soap powder, its real cleaning power is the LYE. For instance: what is soap? It is tallow (grease), water and lye. Will tallow (grease) clean? Would you use it to wash clothes alone? Would you use water alone? No. Then what is the real cleaning power in soap—it is LYE. That's just the reason why one can of Winding the Clock.

At Wall street and Broadway, New York city, the repair wagon of the subway company stopped the other morning. One workman lifted a small iron lid from the pavement. Another took from the wagon a big tool, the end of which fitted over a nut showing in the hole that the lid had covered. A half-dozen husky fellows manned the bars that branched out from the head of the tool and began to go round and round, like sailors at a capstan. Henry Clews joined the group that momentarily stopped to watch the workmen. "What are they doing?" asked one man of Mr. Clews.

"Winding up that," replied Mr. Clews, pointing up at the big clock in Trinity's steeple.—[Philadelphia Ledger.

CHILD BRIDE'S SOON SORRY.

And Boy Husband is Jailed for Perjury.

Bench Warrant Issued for Lillian Cobb.

Santa Ana Jail Finish of Brief Honeymoon.

Because he swore to deliberate falsehoods to obtain a license to marry 15-year-old Lillian Cobb of this city, Horace Ammerman is in the County Jail at Santa Ana awaiting trial for perjury, and a bench warrant is out for the girl.

Ammerman applied Saturday morning at the Orange County Clerk's office for a marriage license, representing that he was a resident of Oakland, aged 25 years, and that the girl was named Lillian Maude May, a resident of this city, and 18 years of age. They were married there soon afterward and nothing further was heard of the case until Sunday, when the bride of the day applied to City Marshal Maxwell for protection. According to the story she told, which has since been verified in nearly every detail by the officers, she is the daughter of Alden Cobb of Los Angeles, a conductor on the street railway, living at Georgia and Tenth streets.

Her true name is Lillian Maude May Cobb and her age 15 years instead of 18, as represented by Ammerman. For some time she has been at the Florence Home, which she left Friday morning with Ammerman, going to Santa Ana by way of Whittier. They stayed at a Santa Ana lodging-house Friday night and Saturday Ammerman obtained the license and they were married. The same day he returned to Los Angeles with the understanding that she was to meet him Sunday morning at the Santa Fe depot, and there take the train for San Diego. After going to the station in Santa Ana, however, the girl weakened in her purpose to go with Ammerman and made off to the north part of town, where she was later followed by Ammerman and escaped by hiding in a barn, where she was found by the owner and, at her own request, turned over to the protection of the City Marshal of Santa Ana, whose wife has since cared for her. Ammerman was arrested at a restaurant in the afternoon, and yesterday was arraigned in the justice court on a charge of perjury. The preliminary trial was set for this morning at 10 o'clock in Santa Ana.

Ammerman is a confirmed dope fiend, according to the testimony of Los Angeles officers, who offer to furnish proof that he knew the true name and age of the girl he attempted to seduce. The girl represents that she ran away from Ammerman because she learned that he intended to take her with another Los Angeles woman to a house of prostitution in San Diego. Ammerman himself is extremely nervous over the outcome of his venture and does not make an attempt to profess his innocence.

Nearly two months ago young Ammerman appeared before "Cupid" Kutz and wanted a license to marry Maude Cobb. When he said that he was under 18 years of age his application was turned down, and this despite the fact that a companion with him maintained that the boy was over the age of 18. A day or two after this the same two appeared and the elder represented himself as having raised Ernest Ammerman and said that he was prepared to make affidavit to the truth of what he stated. But by this time the matter had passed up to Judge Wilbur, and when it was discovered that Maude Cobb was an inmate of the Florence Home the ladies of the committee began to make inquiries.

Young Ammerman's guardian gave the name of Harry Emmerson and spoke of himself as the uncle of the boy and as the parents of the girl were willing that their daughter should marry Emmerson's protege it appeared for a time as if the two young people would be permitted to wed, even if there was a year or so shortage in the age. This for the reason that some difficulties would be removed by such a liberal course.

When first the matter was brought to the attention of Judge Wilbur he placed Maude Cobb in the custody of Miss E. Stoddard, as probation officer, and that lady went to a great deal of trouble to find out exactly how matters stood. Ultimately, however, it was found that the marriage could not take place at present, and then it was agreed by all parties that Ernest Ammerman could have the privilege of seeing his sweetheart at the Florence Home once a week. This was on the understanding that he would accept the situation gracefully and wait until the time when he could be married to the girl of his choice. So the matter stood.

These negotiations extended over several weeks, and Emmerson and his ward, Ernest Ammerman, were on the carpet before members of the ladies' committee more than once. Then Judge Wilbur had them in his chamber and it did seem as if the boy was making a hard and brave struggle for a bride. There was one particular feature of all these talks—Emmerson appeared to be more anxious for the marriage in some ways than did the prospective groom.

Young Ammerman exercised his privilege of calling and talking with Maudie at the Florence Home, and after playing the part of good boy for a time he took his guardian, Harry Emmerson, with him to see the girl. They remained a short time, and the same evening the bride in training disappeared.

Yesterday Judge Wilbur issued a bench warrant for the arrest of the girl—the marriage is voidable, though not void—and fixed the bail before any magistrate at $500. The question arises, where is Emmerson?

WHY

The Treatment I Give Is Followed by Permanent Cure

Half the failures to obtain good results are due to guesswork through the mail and other unreliable methods of treatment. When I treat your case you can depend upon one thing: I will know the EXACT CAUSE, and how to remove it.

THE MOST EFFECTIVE YET KNOWN

It is personally applied and every application is effective. You will note improvement from the first, which will be the beginning of a permanent cure and a re-establishment of functional order. Many weakened conditions are directly traceable to rectal troubles which have been neglected or entirely overlooked. My examinations are such that I am able to detect the exact location and condition requiring treatment.

WEAKNESS, decline of functional activity, strength and vitality, is nearly always traceable to a disturbance in the functions of the reproductive system. Under my treatment functional equilibrium is restored, the nerve irritation reduced, the circulation is increased and strength renewed. My cures are absolute and permanent.

CONTRACTED DISEASES become chronic through improper treatment; painful, caustic remedies are the direct cause of stricture, ulceration and deep-seated inflammation of the urinary tract. Chances are that every case now chronic could have been cured in one week to ten days with the right treatment, scientifically applied. I am confident I cure these ailments more quickly than anyone, and with less pain and inconvenience to patients.

VARICOCELE—My treatment effects a cure in 4 to 6 days, and the cure will be PERMANENT. Normal circulation is quickly restored, the pains cease, swellings subside, the patient's strength and vitality improve immediately.

KICK AND SCREAM

Baby's Awful Suffering from Eczema.

Could Not Hold Her. She Tore Her Face and Arms.

Cuticura Saved Her Life, So Mother Says.

"When my little girl was six months old, she had eczema. We had used cold creams and all kinds of remedies, but nothing did her any good, in fact, she kept getting worse. I used to wrap her hands up, and when I would dress her, I had to put her on the table for I could not hold her. She would kick and scream, and when she could, she would tear her face and arms almost to pieces. I used four boxes of Cuticura Ointment, two cakes of Cuticura Soap, and gave her the Cuticura Resolvent, and she was cured, and I see no traces of the humour left. I can truthfully say that they have saved her life, and any one suffering as she did, I should advise them to give Cuticura a fair trial." MRS. G. A. CONRAD, Lisbon, N. H., Feb. 7, 1898.

Five years later, viz., Feb. 23, 1903, Mrs. Conrad writes:

"It is with pleasure that I can inform you that the cure has been permanent as it is now six years since she was cured, and there has been no return of the disease since, and I have advised a lot of friends to use the Cuticura Remedies in all diseases of the skin."

Instant relief and refreshing sleep for skin-tortured babies, and rest for tired, fretted mothers, in warm baths with Cuticura Soap and gentle anointings with Cuticura Ointment, the great skin cure and purest of emollients, to be followed in severe cases by mild doses of Cuticura Resolvent. This is the purest, sweetest, most speedy, permanent and economical treatment for torturing, disfiguring, itching, burning, bleeding, scaly, crusted and pimply skin and scalp humours, eczemas, rashes and irritations.

Sold throughout the world. Cuticura Resolvent, in the form of Chocolate Coated Pills, 25c. per vial of 60. Ointment, 50c., Soap, 25c. Depots: London, 27 Charterhouse Sq.; Paris, 5 Rue de la Paix; Boston, 137 Columbus Ave.; Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Proprietors. Send for "Cuticura Skin Book."

WHEN WE WERE TWENTY-ONE
George A. Dobinson in the Herald: The piece was presented in this city by Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliot, but the Goodwin production was not equal to the one now to be seen at the Burbank.
Julian Johnson in The Times: Oliver Morosco was right when he ventured a managerial prediction that the new Neill-Morosco organization would be one of the best repertoire companies which has ever played at the Burbank Theater.
Constance Skinner in the Examiner: It is no discredit to the Neill-Morosco Company to compare them collectively and individually with the Goodwin company. Mr. Howard Gould gives a careful and natural performance. Miss Gardner's Phyllis I greatly prefer to Maxine Elliot's.
The Express: They form a strong company.
The Record: All in all, the company as made up is one of the strongest, if not the very best, that comes to the boards at the Burbank.

Japan's General Staff Goes to Korea to Direct Land Operations—Russians Successfully Hold the Yalu—Port Arthur's Condition Desperate.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.]—The World's Shanghai correspondent cables that the belief is growing that the war will shortly involve China. Troops and money are steadily being drafted northward. The principal arsenals and powder mills are working continuously. The Viceroy is directing the land mobilization at Kaingyin, at the same time placing the Yangtse squadron on a war footing. Four thousand additional Chinese soldiers have been posted in Northern China, and the Chinese government has recently placed large orders for guns and ammunition.

PORT ARTHUR'S DISTRESS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The World's Berlin cable says the position of the Russians at Port Arthur is described by the St. Petersburg correspondent of the Schliesische Zeitung as desperate. The damaged warship Retvizan, he states, blocks the narrow entrance to the harbor against all other battleships. All other battleships are landlocked. Scarcely anything is heard of the torpedo boats, and it is assumed they are without ammunition.

JAPAN'S GENERAL STAFF.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

TOKIO, March 1.—The General Staff and a regiment of the Guards left Japan today for a port on the west coast of Korea, probably Chemulpo.

HOLDING STRATEGIC POINTS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEWCHWANG, March 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Twenty-five thousand Russian cavalry, inclusive of Cossacks, mounted infantry and artillery, have been successfully placed across the Yalu, and are now distributed among the mountain passes and strategic points on the main roads between Wiju and Sakju and Son Chon.

Along the main road, acting generally as scouts of the outposts, there are several thousand more troops. It is believed that any advance the Japanese may attempt to make, looking to an invasion of the Yalu district, will be detected in future, so thorough have been the Russian preparations in Northern Korea. There is apparently no Russian fear that the Japanese may send troops up the Yalu. The river is now frozen at the head of the Korean Gulf, as are all bays there.

Antung and Wiju have been fortified extensively with high-powered artillery, and both sides of the river have been considered carefully, in view of possible attack from that quarter. From Antung to Liao Yang Russian forces are prepared to strengthen the army along the Yalu and in Northern Korea, or check any advance by the Japanese toward Mukden from the sea.

FROM CHEMULPO NORTHWARD.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TIEN-TSIN, March 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The French Consul here has cabled to his government that a Japanese movement is imminent from Chemulpo northward, operations extending practically across Korea from Gensan.

LIAO YANG MILITARY CITY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

YINKOW, March 1.—Liao Yang, Manchuria, is now essentially a military city, as an area comprising three and one-third square miles adjoining the railroad has been enclosed for a military camp and magazine purposes. There is also a military camp at Hai Cheng, Manchuria (30 miles from Newchwang) which, with its defenses, covers over one thousand acres.

JAPS OCCUPY ICHIO YANG.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

LIAO YANG, (Manchuria) March 1.—The Japanese have occupied Ichio Yang, Korea, and are now fortifying the walls of the town. This was the objective point of Gen. Mistchenk, who, with a detachment of mounted Cossacks, as announced yesterday, had reached Kasanja, Korea, and was expected to arrive at Ichio Yang yesterday. A detachment of Russian troops is in the neighborhood of Ichio Yang. The Koreans are averse to giving the Russians information regarding the movements of the Japanese.

The Chinese troops around Liau Che are being reinforced. Yuan Shi Kai, the Chinese commander-in-chief, has 10,000 men near Junip Fu, while 15,000 men are with Gen. Ma. Fresh troops are arriving in the province of Chi Li.

GEN. KUROPATKIN RETURNS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, March 1.—Gen. Kuropatkin has returned to St. Petersburg from his home, where he went to take leave of his family. His departure for the front remains fixed for March 11. Admiral Makaroff is expected to reach Port Arthur March 11.

RUSSIANS IN KOREA.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SEOUL, March 1.—Advices from the north report that 1400 Russians are at Chong Ju, 500 at Kusong, and fifty at Anju. These forces are probably only feelers, sent out to locate the position of the Japanese.

All the Americans formerly at Sunchun, with the exception of one family, have arrived at Ping Yang. The Emperor of Korea has dissolved the organization of the Peddlers' Guild, which has been a disturbing factor of the situation.

CONDITIONS AT VLADIVOSTOK.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

VLADIVOSTOK, March 1.—Certain Russian newspaper correspondents and residents of Vladivostok, who left here a short time ago, have returned. They say they found the conditions of living at Nikolsk and Harbin to be less favorable than here. Everything is quiet at Vladivostok. The rise in the price of provisions has been slight and trade continues. The blizzard has ceased, and there are snowdrifts stretching for sixty or seventy miles from the fortresses.

Schools have been started for the instruction of hospital nurses, who are recruited from among the wives and daughters of prominent citizens. Among them is the wife of Gen. Von Senetz, commandant at Vladivostok.

CHINESE BRIGANDS AT LARGE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, March 1.—Mail advices from Vladivostok say that 500 Chinese brigands are terrorizing the district of Ninguta. Their leader, Yavanten, proclaims himself invulnerable to bullets.

JAPS CARRYING HIGH HAND.

Letters from Vladivostok dated February 17, say that the warships in the harbor on that date were the Rossia, Gromoboi and Rutik and the transport Moskova. The port was frozen hard, and the ice-breakers were scarcely able to clear the channel.

Two Japanese attempted to blow up a dock at Vladivostok, but did not succeed. They escaped. A Japanese barber in Vladivistok, deeming himself insulted by a Russian officer, shot him dead and then dramatically announced that he was a captain on the Japanese General Staff, and was not used to taking insults.

MUST KEEP UP HER END.
BRITISH NAVAL ESTIMATES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, March 1.—[By Atlantic Cable.] In the course of a discussion of the naval estimates in the House of Commons tonight, Premier Balfour, while admitting the magnitude of the estimates, said the House should not only consider the amount, but should watch the general European and Asiatic situation, which alone could justify what the country was asked to expend. The country should not lose sight of the possibility of war between Great Britain and two maritime powers which could hardly end without great losses to both the enemy and Great Britain, in which event the other navies would be intact and in a maritime position which they do not now hold.

Continuing, Mr. Balfour said he was reluctant to mention the possibility of war. He did not think such a dreadful contingency was one which they at present had any reason to apprehend; but they must always be talking of the possibility of war and he was forced, when indicating the general outlines of the reasons which compelled the government to ask for this sacrifice, to indicate possibilities which did not exist two years ago. There was no possible comparison between the dependence Great Britain placed on her navy, which was defensive, and the dependence placed by America or any other European country on their navy, which was offensive.

Great Britain's policy had been to see what other nations were doing in the way of laying down ships and to immediately make a reply. So long as the Admiralty was careful not to anticipate or force other countries in, but simply to follow suit, insuring that others did not outstrip Great CHICAGO, Mar. 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The March lamb made his appearance in Chicago today. His coat of fleece had lost its snowy aspect, and he was entirely covered with moistened Chicago real estate. A maximum temperature of 34 deg. and a minimum of 25 was recorded. Cincinnati recorded 44 deg; St. Louis, 48; St. Paul, 34; Omaha, 52; Milwaukee, 34; Kansas City, 56; Indianapolis, 42; Duluth, 30; Detroit, 32; Bismarck, 62.

JUSTICE MURPHY'S FUNERAL.

Former Justice John C. Murphy, widely known as the "marrying justice," who died in California as the result of an accident, was buried in Calvary cemetery today. Funeral services were held at St. Mary's Church, Evanston. The church was decorated with floral tributes, and the coffin nearly covered with cut flowers.

WATSON ESCAPES THE RACK.

The examination of James S. Watson in connection with his knowledge of the business affairs of Porter Brothers, the bankrupt fruit and produce concern, was abandoned today by Attorney Albert Bach after the latter had cross-examined the witness less than an hour before Referee in Bankruptcy Wean. Watson had occupied the witness chair several times before, but his answers to questions were generally not satisfactory.

CANTY'S LOVING NATURE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SIOUX CITY (Iowa) Mar. 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Miss Della Jacques, a milliner, and Mrs. Anna Weir, proprietor of a bakery, both of Danbury, Iowa, today brought suits against J. W. Canty, a business man of that town, for $5000 apiece for two hugs. The reason why Canty got himself charged up with these sums for demonstrating his affectionate nature was that he did not observe the customary conventionalities. Miss Jacques says he hugged her on a public street, where it was seen by a number of people, and Mrs. Weir says he made his advances to her in her store.

CLEVELAND FACES AN EPIDEMIC.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CLEVELAND (Ohio) March 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Cleveland faces a typhoid-fever epidemic of alarming proportions. For several weeks, the number of cases has been growing larger, and for the last few days the scourge has swept on at a great rate. Today, sixty-eight new cases were reported. During February, there were 460 cases and 45 deaths. The city has spent millions to get pure water from intakes five miles out in the lake, but bacteriologists say it is ful. of fever germs. A movement is now on to build a filtration plant at a cost of $2,000,000.

UNIONS LOSING RESPECT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. PAUL, (Minn.) March 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Charles Lane, representing an eastern publication, who has just completed an exhaustive investigation in Montana and other Western States as to the actual strength of railway and other labor organizations, said tonight: "Throughout the West I find that the unions are preying on the working classes through insistence on extravagant rules and outrageous charges for every service, and are losing all respect. I should say unions are 40 per cent less powerful than two years ago, when I was last through that section."

ANNULS CHARTERS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) March 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Secretary of State Rose today took official action, annulling the charters of nearly one thousand corporations that have failed to make a report to the Secretary's office since March 1 of last year, as required by the anti-trust statute. Probably nine-tenths of this number are Chicago concerns, several of them being important ones.

SUES TYPOGRAPHICAL UNION.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TOLEDO (O.) March 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Patrick Galloway today entered suit for damages for $10,000 against the Toledo Typographical Union No. 63, alleging that the members secured his discharge from the Andrews Printing Company by threatening to boycott the shop and taking the union label from it.

DEBATE ON SOCIALISM.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BRIDGEPORT (Ct.) March 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Daniel Davenport, counsel for the American Anti-Boycott Association, Chicago Building Contractors' Association and other large bodies, has accepted the challenge of Solomon Fieldman, a leading Socialist here, to debate on Socialism.

UNION OUTLAWRY ASSAILED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, March 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Trade union outlawry and thuggery were denounced by the Appellate Court today for the second time within the year, in an opinion handed down by Judges Freeman, Miller and Stein, sustaining the injunction granted to the Illinois Malleable Iron Company by Judge Holmes restraining striking iron molders from committing acts of violence and interfering with the business of the company. This injunction was fought with all the legal forces the unionists could muster, and in the lower court it was attacked from all sides.

TROUBLE ON WHEELS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, March 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The disadvantages of owning an automobile will be told by Louis A. Howard, when a suit for $100,000 damages for alienation of his wife's affections, which was started against Charles Albert Sweet, comes to trial. While taking automobile trips, it is charged, Mr. Sweet met Mrs. Howard and was the cause of the estrangement of the complainant and his wife. The declaration in the case has not been filed, but Howard's lawyer says it will be soon. Both parties to the suit are prominent in Chicago social and business circles.

WAR NEWS AFTER MIDNIGHT.

CRITICAL, BUT NOT HOPELESS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. PETERSBURG, March 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Gen. Stoessel's ringing appeal to the defenders of Port Arthur, rather to die than to surrender, gives the keynote of the situation. The Birschewya Wyedomosti says: "The situation at Port Arthur is very serious, owing to the enemy, which has so long been preparing for war. This is shown by the order of the day, issued by the commandant at Port Arthur. We repeat, the position is very critical, but not hopeless. Every day that passes increases the chance of being able to drive the enemy away."

An excellent impression has been proposed by the telegram stating that Secretary of State Hay does not propose to hurry the matter of consular exequators.

Viceroy Alexieff has given all families forced to quit Port Arthur passes to Irkutsk and $5 for food.

A Russian dispatch says that the diplomatists at Constantinople have under consideration the passage of the Black Sea fleet through the Bosphorus. The turn in political affairs makes the fleet immediately necessary in its own waters.

"EMINENTLY SATISFACTORY."

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PARIS, March 1.—Authoritative advices received here show an eminently satisfactory condition of affairs in the Balkans. Roumania, Servia and Bulgaria have given fresh assurances that they propose to maintain peace despite the delay in the signature of the proposed agreement between Turkey and Bulgaria. This does not show any intention on the part of the Porte to take advantage of Russia's preoccupation in the Far East. It is denied that Russia is mobilizing troops, or that such steps are being taken by the Balkan States. The satisfactory condition has been brought about by the attitude of Germany, Russa and Austria are understood to be loyally acting together to bring about the enforcement of financial and other reforms in Macedonia.

LONDON'S NEWS SUMMARY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, March 2.—No confirmation of the report published yesterday in the Daily Telegraph, that the Japanese had bombarded Port Arthur February 29, has been received from any point. The wires from the scene of war have been practically silent for the last twenty-four hours, and in some quarters this silence is supposed to indicate that Japan's great attack on Port Arthur is actually in progress, and that consequently the use of the wires has been discontinued.

In a dispatch from Shanghai, a correspondent of the Daily Telegraph reports that the Japanese military authorities object to the installation of wireless telegraph apparatus on newspaper dispatch boats.

LANDINGS AT CHEMULPO.

The correspondent of the Daily Mail at Chefoo, who has just returned there from Chemulpo, cables that Japanese transports carrying troops continue to arrive at Chemulpo at the rate of one a day, while provisions are being landed near Hwang Ji, (ninety-four miles northwest of Chemulpo,) where a large force of Japanese infantry has concentrated.

"A serious defect has been disclosed," the correspondent continues. "It is feared that most of the Japanese horses are unserviceable."

The Japanese squadron at Chemulpo has been strengthened. A fleet of twelve battleships and cruisers has been stationed permanently in Prince Jerome Gulf, between Chebido Island and the anchorage.

"Yesterday," says the correspondent, "I saw a cruiser of the Niitaka type beached at the entrance of the Nam Yang creek; she was deserted, except for a Japanese guard. The Koreans are hostile to the Japanese, and they are assisting the Russians in Northern Korea."

RUSSIAN CAVALRY BEATEN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Herald's Tokio correspondent cables that reports issued by the Japanese War Office state that the Russian cavalry has been defeated near Anju and Ping Yang.

RISING IN THE CAUCASUS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BERLIN, March 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] According to an Ambassador of one of the great powers, there are threats of further complications of the situation in Russia because of a rising in the Caucasus. Russian military authorities must take steps to reinforce the garrisons in order to be prepared for trouble.

ALLOWED TO TAKE COAL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ALEXANDRIA, March 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Russian squadron at Suez has been allowed to take on sufficient coal to enable it to reach Bizerta.

GEN. KUROPATKIN'S FAREWELL.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, March 2.—Gen. Kuropatkin, who has resigned the post of Minister of War to take command of the military forces in the Far East, has issued an order of the day in which he takes leave of his subordinates in the ministry.

CAME, SAW, FIRED NOT.

PARIS, March 2.—The Matin this morning publishes a dispatch from its Harbin correspondent which says: "A private letter received here from Vladivostok asserts that on February 25, nine Japanese warships appeared off the roadstead there and remained the greater part of the day. They finally departed without firing. For purposes of personal defense, the authorities of Port Arthur are supplying the civilians there with rifles."

BRITAIN'S BALKAN ATTITUDE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PARIS, March 1.—Regarding Great Britain, there seems to be some doubt about her Balkan attitude. British influence is not as strong in that part of the world as formerly and Russia, Austria and Germany, acting together, can overcome a meddlesome policy on the part of any other power. The Turkish embasy today reiterated that the Porte purposed to pursue a policy of peace; if war occurs it will be begun by Bulgaria.

NEW ROAD WILL STOP HOGS' HIGH LIVING.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA, Mar. 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Puget Sound and Portland capitalists have raised $100,000 with which to build a railroad from Dalles, Or., to Durfur, thirty miles south, during the present summer. The line will tap a remarkably rich farming country. Articles of incorporation were filed today for the road, which will be known as the Great Southern. Right of way has been secured, construction work will begin in a short time, and it is expected trains will be running before next winter.

The line is projected for a considerable distance into the interior of Oregon, running through a good agricultural country nearly all the way and incidentally touching some mines. The country which the road will traverse is quite thickly populated. The road will afford an outlet for large quantities of fruit and crops now being fed to hogs for lack of transportation facilities.

The articles of incorporation allow the company to build to the Sound and San Francisco, but nothing definite has as yet been decided in regard to this course.

GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC BILL.

MODIFICATIONS ANNOUNCED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

OTTAWA (Ont.) March 1.—The government has announced a modification of the Grand Trunk Pacific Bill. It has been found that the provisions of the original measure were more important in some cases and the construction of this new transcontinental line was for a time looked upon as an impossibility.

The time for completing the line under the provisions of the new measure is extended to 1911. On the mountain section of the road, the government will guarantee the bonds to the extent of 75 per cent. of the cost of construction. The government will not take possession of the road in the event of the failure of the Grand Trunk Pacific to pay interest on its bonded indebtedness until the payments are five years behind time.

The deposits of $5,000,000 of the road's funds required under the original contract will be released at an earlier period in the construction of the road.

ABUSE OF PASS PRIVILEGE.

AGAINST INTERSTATE LAW.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, March 1.—The Executive Committee of the western pass agreement has met and arranged to prevent the issuance of free transportation to persons not entitled to the privilege.

The principal discussion was in regard to issuing annual and other passes to officers of so-called industrial roads. It was said that most of these lines are on sidetracks to industries and that the issuing of passes is in the nature of a rebate and in violation of the section of the Interstate Commerce Law.

It was decided that officials of no line of less than fifty miles should receive annual or trip passes unless it is a connecting link between standard roads.

AGAINST CALIFORNIA.

Representatives of American Wine Companies and Firms East of the Rockies Meet in New York.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, March 1.—A meeting of representatives of American wine companies and firms east of the Rockies was held here today to form a permanent organization. A committee was appointed to prepare a measure to be introduced in Congress to prohibit the manufacture of so-called "sugar wines."

A resolution was passed pledging every member present to make and sell only pure wines and to have them properly labeled. The new organization is to be known as the American Wine Growers' Association.

One of the objects of the association is to meet the competition of California wines.

FEUD CAUSES RESIGNATION.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—Postmaster E. S. Parnell of Junction, Union county, Ark., has resigned his office and in his letter to the Postmaster-General says the action is due to a political feud to escape which he is going to leave the State.

HISTORY OF THE FEUD.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LITTLE ROCK, March 1.—Former Postmaster Parnell is said to have moved to Oklahoma, where he has a brother.

The Tucker-Parnell feud had its origin at El Dorado. Guy B. Tucker, then City Marshal, headed the faction in opposition to the Parnells. In a street fight several of the Parnells were slain, Tucker was wounded, and Constable Dearing was killed. A few months later, Tucker killed another one of the Parnells. He has not been tried on the charge. All the parties to the feud are white men.

NON-UNION MEN MAY CARRY ARMS.

STRIKING KANSAS CITY TRUCK DRIVERS MUST BE GOOD.

Anticipating Violence, When Strike Was Called, Transfer Men Applied for Protection and Got It, Along With Permits to Have Guns.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) March 1.—Union truck drivers to the number of over four hundred struck today. Union officials assert that before tomorrow the full strength of the union, 800, will be involved. The men ask an increase in wages, a day of ten and one-half hours, six days to constitute a week, and that only union men be employed. The transfer men, anticipating violence, have provided for police protection, and numerous permits for non-union men to carry revolvers have been granted.

GO TO WORK OR TO JAIL.

STRIKING MINERS HAVE CHOICE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

TELLURIDE (Colo.) March 1.—Fifteen of the striking miners arrested yesterday for vagrancy and given until 2 o'clock today to leave the city, go to work or to jail, were taken into custody by the Sheriff this afternoon. They will be put to work on the streets and roads. The remainder left town, some going to the outlying camps for the purpose of accepting work if offered them. The local jail is filled to overflowing.

Arbitrate or be Locked Out.

NEW YORK, March 1.—The New York Lithographic Artists' and Designers' League has followed the example of the Lithographers' Union, consisting of the lithographic printers, in rejecting the ultimatum of the Employing Lithographers' Association. There are two thousand men in the union. The employers called on the workers to accept an arbitration agreement by March 15 or face a lockout of union men. A mass meeting has been called for March 10, and it is expected a decision will be reached as to whether the men shall strike or submit to a lockout.

Slugging Tactics in Chicago.

CHICAGO, March 1.—An injunction issued by the Superior Court against striking telegraph messenger boys failed today to put a stop to "slugging" tactics. One of the adult messengers employed as a strike-breaker, was beaten into insensibility, and another roughly handled. In each case the strike breaker was attacked by a dozen boys who had trailed him from the company's office. The assailants only desisted upon the arrival of the police.

WARRING ON AMERICANS.

NEW YORK, 1.—Gen. Francesco Leon Vasques, formerly Dominican Consul here and a brother of former President Horacio Vasquez of Santo Domingo, asserts that he has documentary proof that the Jiminez revolutionists are deliberately making war upon Americans in the islands in order that the United States government may be moved to interfere and assume a protectorate over the country. Gen. Vasquez, who has just returned from Santo Domingo, asserts that this policy of the revolutionists explains the killing of the machinist, Johnstone, of the United States gunboat Yankee and the firing on the Clyde line steamer New York by the revolutionists.

VERMONTERS AND BOOZE.

BURLINGTON (Vt.) March 1.—A decided change in sentiment on the license question was shown at the annual local elections held throughout the State. Forty-eight cities and towns have voted in favor of liquor selling, as compared with sixty last year, when the prohibition law of half a century was annulled. Where license won, it was with a greatly-reduced majority.

Rutland, the home of Percival W. Clement, who inaugurated the high-license campaign two years ago and which gave 1200 majority for license last year, today voted no license by 120 majority. Burlington voted for license by a narrow majority.

CHINA OF WHITE HOUSE.

Mrs. Roosevelt Starts Movement Dependent Upon Patriotism for Its Success.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Roosevelt has started a movement, which, if successful, will result in the installation in the White House of at least a part of the china used by every President of the United States from Washington to the present time. The task undertaken is no small one, for there is no fund with which to make a collection, and Mrs. Roosevelt is largely dependent upon the patriotism of those holding many rare pieces as relics.

Two cabinets have been filed and appropriately labeled with specimens of china of each administration from Lincoln down. It is believed some owners of White House china used before the Civil War will give a few pieces to the new collection, which is in the nature of a national collection. It is hardly probable that Congress will see fit to further the efforts of the President's wife by making an appropriation for this purpose.

SMALL FRY FROZEN OUT.

After Months of Haggling, German Steel Syndicate is Organized With Original Plans Much Changed.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BERLIN, March 1.—[By Atlantic Cable.] After long and tedious negotiations, the German steel syndicate has finally been organized. The original plan was for a syndicate of the entire German steel industry and was first set in motion at Frankfort-on-the-Main in the summer of 1902, but after long haggling this project was found to be impossible. Negotiations were then begun, and now have been concluded, among twenty-six of the largest concerns in the country. The smaller manufacturers, whose output rage from 1,000,000 to 1,500,000 tons, only are excluded.

DOLLAR FOR THEIR TROUBLE.

Burglars Carry Away Oregon Postoffice Safe.

Tried to Steal Hand Car, but Japs Rescued it.

Aged Preacher Trampled to Death—Floods Subside.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA March 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A dispatch from Newport says that burglars entered the postoffice at that place early this morning, securing the registered mail and the contents of the safe. Entrance was effected by boring through the rear door, just above the knob, after which it was an easy matter to turn the key and walk in.

After rifling three registered packages, they went to the front part of the building, occupied as a cigar and confectionery store by George Macy, carried out the safe, loaded it into a sleigh and hauled it to the outskirts of the town. Here the robbers proceeded to bore a hole in the safe, into which giant powder was placed, after which the contents were extracted. For all this trouble, the burglars secured but one dollar, in small change.

It is not known how much was secured from the registered mail, but it is believed to have been a small amount. Fifty dollars' worth of stamps were overlooked entirely.

After the job was finished, they tried to steal a hand car, but were frightened away by a Japanese section crew.

LOCATES PLEASANT CAMP.

ITS LATITUDE AND LONGITUDE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SEATTLE, March 1.—A special dispatch to the Post-Intelligencer from Skagway says that according to instructions from the United States government, Capt. W. P. Richardson, in charge of the Haines Military Post, recently located the latitude and longitude of Pleasant Camp, Alaska, astronomically. The London award designated the boundary in angles running to and from various peaks, and Pleasant Camp is conceived to be the only boundary line.

As there is no salient topographical feature to mark the position of the camp and as the physical evidences might become destroyed, it was deemed best to establish the boundary in this manner until such a time as it can be permanently marked by government survey.

CLAIMS FIFTEENTH VICTIM.

WOMAN DIES OF EXPOSURE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PORT TOWNSEND (Wash.) March 1.—The recent fire on board the steamship Queen, while en route from San Francisco to this port, claimed its fifteenth victim today when Mrs. Samuel Jones of Nanaimo, B. C., passed away at St. John's Hospital.

Mrs. Jones's death is due to exposure sustained while in an open boat into which she was placed with others to save them from possible death from the flames. She was 48 years of age, and leaves a husband and four children, one of whom, the youngest, accompanied her on the fatal trip.

SAYS COURT WAS DUPED.

PIERCY ESTATE SCRAP AIRED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN JOSE, March 1.—Andrew Piercy as administrator of the estate of Mary Piercy today filed a notice of motion for a new trial in the suit of Mrs. Mary Piercy against Edward M. Piercy to annul a deed made by her conveying to Edward real estate near San José, on the ground of coercion and undue influence, in which judgment was give for defendant on his cross complaint.

Andrew Piercy in his affidavit charges that Edward corruptly caused the trial to be conducted in his own interests, so that the court was imposed upon and a judgment to be rendered that would not have been given, had her witnesses been called.

TRAMP SHOOTS CONSTABLE.

CONSTABLE SHOOTS TRAMP.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

AUBURN, March 1.—Constable P. E. Herring was seriously wounded last night at Roseville Junction by a tramp. Herring had lined up eight hobos preparatory to searching them, as a number of robberies had been reported in Sacramento and Stockton.

When the order was given to be searched, one tramp stepped behind the others and pulled his revolver. Herring started for him, receiving a shot in the neck. The constable in turn shot the tramp through the lung. The latter was brought to Auburn and will probably die. In a statement made to Under Sheriff May, he gave his name as John Martin, aged 35, a native of Springfield, Ill., but refused to state where his relatives lived.

CONDITIONS MUCH IMPROVED.

FLOOD WATERS NOW FALLING.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SACRAMENTO, March 1.—The Bee this morning received news of the breaking of the levee on Staten Island, down the Sacramento River. The levee has broken on the island in two or three places, from the force of backwater from the Mokelumne. Fifteen thousand acres of land have been inundated. For the most part, the land is under cultivation. It belongs to J. B. Haggin and wealthy San Francisco people. About five hundred head of cattle have been driven to the high places and steamers have been sent for to take them off before they drown.

The Sacramento River at the foot of K street showed a considerable drop this morning, having registered twenty-five feet and two-tenths. This is a drop of almost three feet since the high water of last week. Conditions in all sections are vastly improved and travel has been resumed on all railroad lines.

CROPS TOTAL FAILURE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

STOCKTON, March 1.—High water prevails on the east and northeast of Stockton, and the Mokelumne is still out of its natural channel. The Braack tract and Staten Island are under water, nearly twenty thousand acres in all. From a grain standpoint, the crop on these islands will be a total failure. The reclamation districts in the vicinity of Stockton to the west withstood the high water in good shape, and it is felt now that the danger of a general inundation has passed.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

FOUND DEAD IN BATHTUB.

AGED WIDOW'S DIRE FATE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 1.—Elizabeth Radjesky, an aged widow, was found dead today in a bathtub. The tub was full of water and Mrs. Radjesky was lying face downward in it, with her nightgown on. It is thought that while preparing to take a bath she was seized with a spasm of the heart and fell unconscious into the tub.

JUSTICE OF PEACE OPINION.

ELECT NONE IN NOVEMBER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 1.—City Attorney Long today filed an opinion with the department of elections, in which he rules that there are to be no justices of the peace elected at the next general election in November. Long says that, in his opinion, the justices elected at the last general election hold until the first Monday in January, 1907.

JOHN SEXTON STAYS PUT.

HABEAS CORPUS REFUSED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 1.—The Supreme Court today refused to grant a petition for a writ of habeas corpus in favor of John E. Sexton, who was convicted of extortion in Placerville, Cal., more than five years ago and was sentenced to imprisonment for two years at Folsom. The defendant prepared the petition himself. He has made a hard fight to keep out of prison, carrying the case to the United States Supreme Court.

WHAT ARE PUBLIC LANDS?

MATT B. LENDAUR FINDS OUT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 1.—A case involving the question of what are public lands was appealed from the United States District Court of Montana. The United States sued Matt B. Lendaur to recover $28, the value of certain trees cut on the Como reserve in the Missoula land district. The defendant maintained that the government had no right to make these certain lands a reserve and the District Judge upheld his contention. The matter was appealed on a writ of error and the judgment of the District Court reversed.

RETIRED PREACHER KILLED.

TRAMPLED UNDER TEAM.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

OAKLAND, March 1.—The Rev. William T. Beale, an aged and retired preacher of the Methodist Episcopal Church, was knocked down and killed this afternoon by an Oakland Parcel Delivery Company's team driven by Rollin Blakeley. The accident occurred at the crossing of San Pablo avenue and Twenty-first street.

SLOPE BRIEFS.

Burns His Way to Liberty.

GRIDLEY, March 1.—W. C. Sowell, alias Shelton, was arrested in Marysville last night, brought here and locked in jail, on a charge of horse stealing. Some time during the night, he managed to make his escape by burning a hole in the ceiling with a candle provided him by a constable. After getting through the ceiling, he carved a hole through the roof with a case knife. It is thought that he had help from the outside, as two suspicious characters were making many inquiries regarding the jail in the afternoon, after his incarceration. The authorities along the railroad have been notified of the escape.

Got Out on Forged Pardons.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 1.—Joseph White, one of the military prisoners who secured his release from Alcatraz Island last October by means of a forged pardon, has been arrested in this city, and is again a convict in the island prison.

With four companions, he was released from Alcatraz on what the officers in charge of the prison thought to be a genuine order of release. Not until the men were well away, was the fraud discovered. An investigation showed that the entire plot had been hatched and carried out by the men in the prison, who had forged the names of the heads of the War Department, and also the names of Maj. H. M. Morrow, Judge-Advocate of the Department of California, and Maj. J. R. Williams, assistant Adjutant-General. Even letterheads upon which the pardons were printed were fraudulent.

Helped Locate Stations.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, March 1. —Prof. Arnold V. Steubenrauch, superintendent of the agricultural experiment station, has just returned from Washington, where he assisted in deciding on the establishment of two important horticultural projects within the borders of the State—the government seed and plant introduction gardens, and the date palm experiment station. Mecca, at the end of the Coahuila Valley, on the borders of the Colorado Desert, is the site selected for the date garden. The seed and plant introduction garden will go to Chico.

May Pursue Suit in State Courts.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 1.—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals handed down a decision today, reversing the decision of the Circuit Court and giving Mrs. Ella M. Weisshaar the right to pursue her suit against the Kimball Steamship Company in the State courts. Mrs. Weisshaar sued the company some time ago for $40,000 damages for the death of her husband, who was drowned at Golovin Bay, Alaska, in 1900, while being transported in a ship's boat from the beach to the company's steamer Albion. The boat was overcrowded and it capsized. The defendants set up a plea of contributory negligence on the part of Weisshaar on the ground that he knew the boat to be overcrowded and should not have entered it.

Lodging-house Keeper Found Dead.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 1.—A. J. De Zeyk, a lodging-house keeper, was found asphyxiated in his room here today. A defective gas fixture, it is said, was the cause of death.

Reports Two Boats Ashore.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 1.—The Kosmos steamer Anubis has arrived here with a large and valuable cargo from Hamburg, Antwerp, London and South American ports. She reports a British bark, said to have been the Luci Para, from Newcastle, Eng., for Seattle, ashore at Guayaquil, Ecuador. When the Anubis passed the vessel was fast on the beach, and the cargo was being removed. She also reports that the British steamer Lime Ranch is on the rocks at Cornel, the coaling port of Chile.

Gets Mandate to Get Back.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 1.—Superior Judge Hebbard today rendered a decision granting the prayer of George Dingwell in his action asking for the issuance of a writ of mandate to compel the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employés of America to restore him to membership. He and others were some time ago expelled and fined for having violated obligations, holding secret meetings and conspiring against the International Association's welfare. The court found that Dingwell was fined and expelled upon a charge not accounted for in the laws of the association, and, under the laws of this State, he cannot so lose his standing. The writ petitioned for was therefore ordered issued.

Horse Was Lion's Breakfast.

SAN JOSE, March 1.—Last night a trained lion, owned by Frank Hall, which had been shipped to this city in a cage, the cage being in a car, at the other end of which, and beyond a partition, was a horse also owned by Hall, escaped from his cage and broke through the partition, killing the animal and making a breakfast upon him. Men have been endeavoring since this morning to get the lion into the cage, but have not yet succeeded, as he has been made savage by his feast, and the presence of so many people outside his car. The lion was to have been exhibited here tomorrow in connection with the Norris and Rowe animal show.

Ornament Streets With Palms.

SAN JOSE, March 1.—The residents of the new Naglee Park section of this city, in which fifty or more fine residences have been erected, have decided to ornament all the streets in the tract with palms of various varieties. Palms and other trees will also be planted in Normal Park.

Transport Sherman Sails.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 1.—The United States army transport Sherman sailed today for the Philippines, via Honolulu. She carried the Twelfth Infantry, commanded by Col. J. W. Bubb, 400 infantry and 100 cavalry recruits, besides a large number of officers.

Policeman on Trial for Murder.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 1.—Policeman Joseph Feldt, who murdered his aged father-in-law, Fritz Dirken, on November 21 last, came to trial before the Superior Court yesterday. The day was occupied in selecting a jury. The case will proceed forthwith.

Loses His Political Contest.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 1.—John Farnham has lost in his contest with M. J. Hynes for the office of Public Administrator, Judge Sloss having given a decision in favor of Hynes, who was elected last November.

Saw no Signs of the Garms.

ASTORIA (Or.) March 1.—The schooner Laura Madsen, which reached port today after a trip of thirteen days from San Francisco, and which was driven far to the north, saw no signs of the missing schooner W. F. Garms.

To Investigate Queen Disaster.

SEATTLE, March 1.—The United States marine inspectors will begin an investigation of the disaster to the steamship Queen Thursday. Capt. Cousins filed his official report with the board today. It covers practically the same story as his statement given on arriving here Sunday. The Queen finished discharging today.

Moderately Severe Earth Shock.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 1.—A moderately severe earthquake shock was felt here at 6:09:08 o'clock this morning. Its duration was about four seconds. No damage was done.

NAMES SWITCHED FOR MARRIAGE.

GUARDIAN TOOK HIS WARD'S CHILD SWEETHEART.

Singular Developments in Cobb-Ammerman-Emmerson Matrimonial Tangle—Husband to be Tried for Perjury, Bride in the Juvenile Detention Home.

Lillian Maud May Cobb, the fifteen-year-old bride of three days, is rusticating in the Detention Home of the Juvenile Court. And she appears to be happy and perfectly content at being freed from the responsibilities of married life, for she smiled and chatted yesterday to the matron, and was in nowise cast down.

Her husband is boxed up in jail at Santa Ana, and when he is tried on the perjury charge, he will get the limit—if the women of the Advisory Committee have their wishes gratified.

Young Mrs. Cobb-Ammerman is kept secluded for the nonce, but from what has transpired it is apparent that the man who married her had laid a deliberate and cold-blooded scheme to get the girl into his power, and for the basest of purposes.

January 22, two young fellows appeared at the Courthouse asking for a marriage license. It was the younger of the two who wanted the license, and he gave the name of Ammerman, but stated that he was not yet 18. That fact prompted Sam Kutz to refuse to issue a license. The elder of the two—who appeared to be anywhere from 25 to 30—whispered in an aside to the boy: "Why didn't you say that you were over 18?" "Because I wasn't going to tell a lie," was the reply.

Then the elder approached the counter and maintained to Sam Kutz that Ammerman was really over 18, that he knew because he had raised him and was able to give consent though his ward, he conceded, was a long way under his majority. But he couldn't get satisfaction, and when the two returned the matter had got into court.

It developed that the guardian of young Ammerman was Harry Emmerson, and he passed as the uncle of the youngster whom he was attempting to marry off. Under these names the elder and the younger man passed the examination of Judge Wilbur and the women of the Advisory Committee, especially Miss Evelyn Stoddard, who has had Lillian Cobb in charge.

It turns out that it is the "guardian" that married the girl at Santa Ana, and perjured himself in doing it. When he applied for a license for his ward in Los Angeles he was known as Harry Emmerson, and the young fellow passed under the name of Ammerman; but down among the peatlands there was a switching around and Emmerson became Ammerman.

From the first it was noted that Emmerson was particularly interested in helping along the marriage of his ward, and the fact occasioned comment. From later events it is apparent that Emmerson prompted his ward to swap names with him so that he and not his ward might use the license. In any event he threw down the boy in whom he expressed such an interest.

Yesterday in Santa Ana County Clerk Lester and Deputy Williams testified to Ammerman's (Emmerson's) procuring the license under misrepresentation. The girl was placed on the witness stand and gave evidence that the man knew her correct name and age. He went on the stand in his own behalf and doled out a tale of his relations with the girl and explained that he did not think it necessary to give her full name in procuring the marriage license. At his request, a young man from Los Angeles named Ferguson, whom he called his adopted brother, told all he knew of the affair previous to the making off with the girl—substantially the same story as previously published. Ammerman-Emmerson was bound over for trial. He could not furnish bail.

TWENTY-THOUSAND LONG BEACH FIRE.

TWENTY thousand dollars' worth of property was destroyed by fire in Long Beach this morning between 1 and 2 o'clock, according to estimates made on the ground.

A two-story frame business block and a two-story frame residence on First street were burned. The business block, owned by Col. Hall, contained a hardware store, grocery and meat market, all well stocked, and from these practically nothing was saved.

The flames made such rapid headway that fighting was difficult and the firemen could only direct their efforts toward protecting adjoining property.

The blaze started in an oil house in the rear of the hardware store and seemed to burst out with startling suddenness. Had there been any wind it is believed whole blocks would have been swept away by the fire.

ALSO HORSE THIEVES.

Gang Arrested for Theft of Several Cows Will be Prosecuted for Having Stolen Horses.

Two of the four young men who were arrested Monday for having stolen several cows in various parts of the county will also be prosecuted for horse stealing. Bob Franklin, another alleged member of the gang, was captured yesterday by the detectives. He and Jim Cronin, who was arrested Monday, are accused of having stolen a horse, the property of Mrs. Della Atkinson, janitress of the Pico Heights school, ten days ago. Another case against them is the theft of a horse belonging to Isaac Dixon of Rivera. They sold the latter horse to a liverryman on Aliso street for $20, when the horse was worth $100, and were paid with a check. Their efforts to cash the check led to their detection. The detectives assert that they have positive evidence of the guilt of the prisoners, and that they expect to trace several thefts to members of this gang.

REFUGEES' SUFFERINGS.

ENGLISHWOMAN'S STORY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. PETERSBURG, March 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The flight of noncombatants from Port Arthur is described by a young English woman, recently married and settled there, who arrived here on the last train which left the besieged stronghold. She says:

"The Russians were totally unprepared for an attack at night, when the Japanese first bombarded the town. The commander-in-chief was giving a ball. When the noise of guns was heard, he said: 'It is only our own ships at maneuvers,' and paid no attention to it. Before anyone fully realized what was going on, half of the officers were drunk. When I left, no orders had been issued, even for sharpening swords.

"A shell fell into the garden next to mine. It created a fearful panic. Women ran with their children in all directions for shelter. One poor distracted mother dropped her child down a well for safety. Of course the unfortunate mite was killed.

"I had only twenty minutes' notice when the order came to leave town. I was obliged to leave behind nearly everything—house, linen, furniture, silver, even my trousseau. I spent seventeen days on a train packed in with ninety women and forty children. No opportunity was afforded any of us even to change a single garment in all that time. It was a terrible journey. Our worst sufferings came when we had to cross Lake Baikal. The cold was intense. Tired, dirty and literally miserable, we have arrived at St. Petersburg at last."

ASIA ATTACKING EUROPE.

RUSSIANS OUT WITH PAMPHLET.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PARIS, March 1.—[By Atlantic Cable.] M. Jacobson, an advocate of the Paris Court of Appeals, has published a pamphlet on the sittings of The Hague arbitration tribunal in the Venezuelan matter, to which Prof. De Martens, the Russian member of the tribunal, has contributed a preface, in which he touches on the Far Eastern question.

Prof. De Martens says the fact that Japan was a party to The Hague convention of 1899, and that she attacked her opponent without having made a declaration of war, will make many persons ask of what use is the arbitration tribunal. He explains that the first Japanese attacks at Port Arthur were not merely Japanese ships attacking Russian ships, but Asia attacking Christian Europe. These two civilizations have totally different ideas on the subject of arbitration, the Russian member of the court continues, and, although the Port Arthur incident seems to be discouraging, there is no doubt that the future will bring arbitration between nations, if not in Asia, at least in Europe.

RUSSIA IN PERSIA.

TELLING TRADE STATISTICS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PARIS, Mar. 1.—[Atlantic Cable.] In a dispatch from Teheran, Persia, a correspondent of the Petit Temps, transmits statistics of Persia's foreign trade and comments on their bearing on the political situation.

He says that Russia's share of this trade amounts to fifty per cent. and Great Britain's share to twenty-five per cent. of the whole; but, whereas the former takes goods from Persia amounting to $24,600,000, as against goods supplied by her amounting to $23,000,000, Great Britain, supplying Persia with $20,400,000 worth of goods per year, takes from her only $3,600,000 worth. Consequently, the correspondent argues, Persia's interest is obviously in favor of Russia.

He adds that Persia will long remain purely an agricultural country, which fact practically secures the dominating influence of Russia there.

FRENCH NAVY UNPREPARED.

SUPPLEMENTAL CREDITS BILL.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PARIS, March 1.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Council of Ministers has decided, on the advice of Premier Combes, to have Finance Minister Rouvier submit to the Chamber of Deputies today a bill providing supplemental credits for the navy and the improvement of colonial defenses. M. Combes explained that his purpose was to permit the government to make a categorical reply to the criticisms of the condition of the navy. The need of such a reply has been emphasized by an article appearing in a provincial paper, signed by Marine Minister Pailetan, setting forth the unpreparedness of the navy to meet war requirements, particularly in the Far East.

The Premier ridiculed the idea of any split in the present majority until the programme of anti-clerical legislation shall have been carried out thoroughly. M. Combes refused to discuss the policy of France beyond saying there was perfect accord between himself and Foreign Minister Delcassé.

ANSWER OF JAPAN.

Mikado's Government Denies the Russian Charges of Treachery and Cites the Preparations Made by the Muscovites.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The following authorized statement, received today from his government, is given out by the Japanese Minister.

"The Russian government has charged Japan with having treacherously obtained a victory by sudden attack upon Russia, who was bent on maintaining peace. It is further asserted that since a ruture of diplomatic relations can never be looked upon as the opening of hostilities, and since Japan did not issue a declaration of war until the 11th of February, she has been guilty of a flagrant breach of the principles of international law in making, as early as the 8th of February, most unwarrantable attacks on Russian men-of-war and merchant vessels.

"The answer to these charges may be found in the action of Russia herself. That her government never entertained any sincere desire for peace can be clearly seen from its conduct. Throughout the whole course of the negotiations, Russia persistently refused to meet the proposals made by Japan in a moderate and conciliatory spirit. These delays could not be construed as otherwise than wanton and unnecessary. She put off the settlement of the questions at issue, while at the same time busily extending her naval and military preparations. Her warlike preparations in the Far East have continued since last April, when she failed to carry out her treaty engagements. During that time the increase made in her naval strength in the Far East was as follows: Three battleships, tonnage 38,488; one armored cruiser, tonnage 7727; five cruisers, tonnage 26,417; seven destroyers, tonnage 2450; one gunboat, tonnage 1244; two vessels for laying mines, tonnage 6000; total number of vessels, nineteen, with a total tonnage of 82,415.

"In addition to these vessels, the Russian government sent torpedo-boat destroyers in sections by rail to Port Arthur, where the work of putting them together has been hastened, and seven of them have already been completed. Furthermore, two vessels of the volunteer fleet were armed at Vladivostok and hoisted the Russian naval ensign. The Russian government also ordered to the Far East one battleship, three cruisers, three destroyers and four torpedo boats of a total tonnage of about 30,740, which would have joined the Russian squadron in the Far East had not circumstances subsequently compelled Russia to recall them. These vessels, if added to the others brought to the Far East during the progress of negotiations, would have made a total increase in Russia's naval strength of about 113,000 tons.

LAND FORCES INCREASED.

"During the same period, the increase of Russia's land forces in the Far East has been equally marked. Since the 29th of last June, when under the pretext of trial transportation on the Siberian Railway the Russian government sent to China two infantry brigades, two artillery battalions and a large force of cavalry, troops have been constantly sent by military train from Russia to the Far East until the Russian forces were over forty thousand. At the same time, plans were being made for sending, if necessary, over two hundred thousand more men.

"During the same period, there has been the greatest activity possible at Port Arthur and at Vladivostok, and work has been carried on day and night to strengthen the fortifications of these naval posts while forts have been built at Liao Yang, Hunchun and other strategic points, and large quantities of arms and ammunition have been sent to the Far East by the Siberian Railway and the vessels of the volunteer fleet. In the middle of October last, a train of fourteen cars was hurriedly sent from Russia, laden with the equipment of a field hospital. From these military and naval preparations of every description, made during the progress of the negotiations, it is quite evident that Russia was not inclined to a friendly settlement of the questions then under discussion between Japan and herself, but sought solely by her military preponderance to force Japan into submission. During the latter part of January and up to the beginning of February, Russian military activity was still further intensified.

"On January 21, about two battalions of infantry and a detachment of cavalry were sent from Port Arthur and Dalny to the northern frontier of Korea, and on January 28, a formal order to prepare for war was given Admiral Alexieff to the forces which were stationed in the vicinity of the Yalu. On February 1, the military commandant at Vladivostok, under the orders of his government, requested the Japanese commercial agent at that port to notify his nation that a state of siege might be proclaimed at any moment, and they must make immediate preparations to withdraw to Habrovsk. About the same date, all of the warships at Port Arthur except a battleship then under repairs made a naval demonstration by leaving port, while troops were advanced in large numbers from Liao Yang toward the Yalu. In view of these facts, who can say that Russia had no warlike intentions, or that she was unprepared for war?

"Seeing that the situation had become so critical that it admitted of no further delay, the Japanese government was compelled to break off negotiations that had proved abortive and to take the necessary steps for self-protection. But the responsibility for the challenge to war rests not with Japan, but solely with Russia.

"On the sixth of February, Japan announced to Russia her decision to terminate the pending negotiations and to take such independent action as she might deem best to defend her position menaced by Russia and to protect her established rights and legitimate interests. At the same time, the government of Japan informed the Russian government that as its moderate and unselfish proposals in the interest of a firm and lasting peace in the Far East had not received the consideration which was their due, Japan had resolved to sever her diplomatic relations with Russia, which, for the reason named, had ceased to possess value and to withdraw her legation.

"The term 'independent action,' naturally included the opening of hostilities. The fact that Russia was unable to understand it in that light is, of course, no reason why Japan should be responsible for the misinterpretation made by Russia. It is the almost unanimous opinion of international jurists that a declaration of war is not an indispensable prerequisite to the opening of hostilities. Indeed, it has been the common practice in recent wars to declare war after hostilities have been begun. Japan's action, therefore, is not open to the least criticism in this regard. From the standpoint of international law, it must be understood that the charges made against her do not come with good grace from Russia, inasmuch as there are not only many historical instances of Russia herself resorting to hostilities without a declaration of war, but one case—that of her invasion of Finland, in 1808—when she began war before there had even been a rupture of diplomatic relations."

This increase will result in doubling the income from this source.

CONTRABAND OF WAR.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The British Ambassador had a conference with Secretary Hay this afternoon, and it is believed that the question as to what is contraband of war was the principal theme. It is believed that the governments of Great Britain and the United States will endeavor to formulate a declaration that will tend to remove the points that are in dispute and others that are likely to arise. Foodstuffs are designated by Russia as among the articles that will be treated as contraband.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, March 1, 7 p.m.—The Czar has received a telegram from Viceroy Alexieff, which, it is said, will be given out tonight. PORT ARTHUR ATTACK.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHEFOO, March 1.—A Russian official dispatch says that the Japanese renewed the attack on Port Arthur on the morning of February 26. The fleet kept beyond the range of all the most powerful land batteries. The engagement lasted one hour, the Japanese then retiring. Their loss is unknown. The Russian cruiser Askold had one gun dismounted, and two men injured. At low water February 26, the Russians discovered a Japanese torpedo-boat destroyer which had been sunk on the shore of the outer harbor. They also found five unexploded torpedoes. Port Arthur was quiet yesterday.

VICKSBURG INCIDENT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, March 1.—All the papers here print prominently this morning, but without comment, commander Marshall's report of the Vicksburg incident off Chemulpo, Korea, and the reasons assigned in the United States for his not uniting in the protest of the naval commanders against the action of the Japanese. The statements will doubtless clear up the misapprehension existing here concerning the affair. Coming simultaneously with the announcement that the State Department had decided to countermand the orders that Edward V. Morgan, appointed United States Consul at Port Dalny, proceed to his post, Commander Marshall's report should have good effect in allaying the anti-American irritation.

This is accepted as showing that all the troops necessary for the forward movement have been landed in Korea, and it is expected that the movement of troops will begin the last of this week. With respect to the Russian force, which will contest the way, it is said there will be some surprise manifested at the strength the Russians are able to dispose.

HAY REASSURES HIM.

Count Cassini Says the Relations Between the American and Russian Governments Continue Friendly Despite Popular Bitterness.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, March 1.—An important conference, lasting more than an hour, occurred between Secretary Hay and Count Cassini today. The growing ill-feeling in Russia against Americans and the continued attacks of certain portions of the American press upon Russia were the main subjects discussed.

Count Cassini also inquired informally about the report that the Commercial Cable Company had applied for landing privileges at Guam for a cable from that island to Japan. He was assured by Mr. Hay that this government at present was considering no such application. The Ambassador did not give any intimation as to what the attitude of his government would be in this matter. The Associated Press dispatches from St. Petersburg, however, stated that the Russian government would view askance the granting of such privileges by this government, and it is assumed that this government has declined for the present to consider such an application.

To a correspondent of the Associated Press, Count Cassini said that the Russian people long since had learned to regard the people of this country as their best friends, and that it had been a bitter disappointment to them to find American newspapers attacking the Russian government, the Russian people and the Russian policies. He said the first feeling of his people had been one of painful surprise, but that this is now crystalizing into a deplorable feeling of unfriendliness.

"The tone of the Russian newspapers," said the Ambassador, "in consequence of the tone of many American newspapers, is beginning to take a very painful direction in their reference to the United States, and in my opinion it is in the interests of both countries that some measures should be taken to check this before it is too late.

"Fortunately, the relations of the governments continue, as always, absolutely friendly, and for this reason I am hopeful that the present unfriendly attitude on the part of the press of the two countries will not be lasting. The friendliness of the American and Russian governments, it is my belief, furnishes the basis for the restoration and preservation of the traditional friendship of their two peoples, and I hope some means may be found for the latter to reach a better understanding."

"What is the cause of the present unfriendly policy of the Russian press toward this country?" the Ambassador was asked. He responded:

"It is the constant unfriendly feeling expressed in many American newspapers against Russia. I am sure that when these attacks, which, so far as Russia can see, are without cause, end, the relations of Russia and the United States will no longer be clouded.

"I am convinced of this, because a careful analysis of the criticism expressed in this country fails to show any real ground for the bad feeling which evidently prompts them. My people naturally cannot understand these attacks upon them, and have asked in all seriousness the reason for them. For example, one reason which has been advanced is that this country is displeased that Russia was unable to evacuate Manchuria last October. It was the earnest hope of my government that it would be possible to withdraw its troops from Manchuria at that time. The necessity for safeguarding our peculiar and predominant position there, a position which has been recognized by all the powers, made it impossible for the evacuation to take place with safety. This, in plain words, is the reason why it has been impossible for the evacuation to take place.

"There have been examples—and it is not necessary for me to specify—where a nation in good faith has declared its intention to evacuate a region, and to be obliged by unforeseen conditions to postpone the fulfillment of these intentions. The Russian people, knowing the situation in Manchuria; knowing, furthermore, that the avowed, prime and sole interest of the United States in that province is commercial, and that the government of Russia has given to all the powers, including the United States, the most positive assurances that their commercial rights will be protected and safeguarded whatever emergency may arise, are unable to explain the continued attacks of certain American newspapers against Russia, because she has been unable with safety to effect an evacuation.

"It is tradition in Russia to feel friendly toward America. Hundreds of Americans returning from Russia have told me of the marked kindliness with which they have been received in all parts of my country and of the friendship, of which they saw evidences on every side, for the United States. These travelers who have had the opportunity to study the situation on the spot are deeply impressed with the sincerity of this feeling, not only on the part of the people of Russia, but the government as well.

"It is believed that a feeling of disappointment has swept over Russia when American newspapers have arrived there attacking the government and the people in a bitter manner. I have been repeatedly assured by the officials that it is the earnest wish of this government that the old traditional friendship between Russia and the United States in the interest of the two people should not be disturbed. I have the best assurance that this government will observe complete neutrality in the Far Eastern war. Indeed, its attitude has in this respect been all that either belligerent could desire, and Russia has no doubt that it will continue absolutely correct.

"Russia does not expect, now that war is on, that this country shall be anything more than neutral. My country does not ask that you should be pro-Russian and not pro-Japanese, but that you should be pro-American. She expects, and I can but hope that she will receive, fair treatment at the hands of the American press—as you say in this country, a fair showing. One of the reasons for the present unfortunate situation has been the large number of absolutely false reports which have been sent to Russia from the United States about matters affecting the Far Eastern situation. Many of these reports have done much in arousing sentiment against the United States. True, they have been corrected, but unfortunately, a correction never reaches as many people as did the original report.

"I have spoken with you frankly, in the hope that something might be accomplished toward the clearing of the situation."

Miss Clara Barton, president of the American Red Cross Society, called at the Russian Embassy today and offered the services of the society to the Russian government. The Ambassador expressed the thanks of his government for the kind offer, but said that outside aid would not be needed, in view of the effective work of the Russian Red Cross Society.

NEW YORK, March 1.—Under the title "Why Japan Resists Russia," Mr. Takahira, the Japanese Minister at Washington, discusses the causes of the present conflict in the forthcoming number of the North American Review. Mr. Takahira points out the grounds for his government's belief that Russia's encraochments in the Far East were a menace to Japan, inasmuch as the absorption of Manchuria meant, as the "inevitable sequence of such action, the absorption of Korea." After explaining in some detail the events that led up to the war, he say:

"There is no foundation for the belief that Japan was prompted to war by ambition, or that the success, if happily she be successful, implies any danger to other nations. To thoughtful Japanese, there can be no greater cause for wonder than the conjecture whether their country's success may not be the precursor of a new alignment of races, Orient on one side, Caucasian on the other. To them it seems no more than a chimerical dream; a suggestion of memories of the age of Genghis Khan, impossible of achievement in these better days of intimate intercourse and mutual independence, among all nations.

"Let me add, also, that those who endeavor to attach some measure of reproach to Japan by characterizing this as a war between a Christian and a non-Christian country, fail utterly to appreciate the efforts of my countrymen to conform to the spirit, as well as the practices of modern civilization. Freedom of religious belief is as fully guaranteed in Japan as it is in any country in the world; and I speak with no thought of self-laudation or of invidious comparison, when I express the belief that rectitude of thought and conduct would be as fully exemplified by the actions of my countrymen during the present struggle as by those of their adversaries.

"Assured of the justice of our cause, yet not desirous of escaping judgment founded on knowledge, we do feel that we have the right to expect exemption from narrow minded criticism based on the prejudices of race or of creed."

President of the University of Chicago Undergoes Successful Operation for Appendicitis of Long Duration.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, March 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] William Rainey Harper, president of the University of Chicago, passed safely through an operation for appendicitis at the Presbyterian Hospital today, and is believed by Dr. Arthur Dean Bevan, who performed the operation, and Dr. C. P. Small, the university physician, to be on the road to recovery.

The operation was scheduled to begin at 9 o'clock, but the peculiarities of Dr. Harper's constitution made it difficult to put him under the influence of anesthetics and it was 9:40 before the first incision was made. The trouble was found to have been of long duration in spite of the fact that acute symptoms had only recently appeared. The conditions produced by this made the operation tedious, and it was nearly 10:30 o'clock before Dr. Bevan finished. Dr. Harper will have to remain in the hospital for several days, but no doubt is entertained of his speedy recovery.

The Hague Tribunal's Decision Allowing Thirty Per Cent. of Customs to Blockading Powers Not Expected.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CARACAS, March 1.—[By South American Cable.] The decision of the Hague Tribunal that the three powers which blockaded Venezuela, Great Britain, Germany and Italy, have the right to a preference of 30 per cent. of the customs duties at La Guayra and Puerto Cabello has caused surprise in this city. The general opinion here is voiced by high officials, who say: "The value of future decisions handed down by the arbitration tribunal is destroyed, because, in this finding, the tribunal has consecrated the triumph of might over right."

In an interview with the Associated Press, Minister Bowen said: "The tribunal was called upon to establish a new principle in international law, namely, that all creditor nations should be treated with equal consideration that preferential treatment should not be obtained by blockades and bombardments. The tribunal refused to establish this principle, and other principles now recognized as sound by international law were also at first rejected. We must therefore have patience."

BEEF TRUST OPERATIONS.

House Committee Agrees to Ask an Investigation.

Matter One of Importance to the Entire West.

Kaiser to Meet Fighting Bob. Cabinet and Canal.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] When the House Committee on Interstate Commerce, at its meeting today, agreed to report favorably to the House Representative Martin's resolution directing the Secretary of Commerce to investigate the operations of the Beef Trust, it took one of the most important anti-trust steps that has been taken by the government since Attorney-General Knox brought suit against the Northern Securities Company.

The people of the entire West have been asking for a long time that the Beef Trust and its operations be investigated, on account of the published market reports showing that beef on the hoof is selling at a low price and their own definite knowledge that beef at retail in all eastern cities is selling at almost prohibitively high prices.

Another consideration that comes into the matter is that of the public land system of the United States, the land, it is charged, being used by cattlemen, fenced in by them and practically taken from the United States in order that they may use it for cattle ranges, to the exclusion of all other people, homesteaders, as well as smaller cattle-growers.

This whole subject will be gone into as soon as the resolution has been adopted by Congress, and the findings in the case will be laid by Secretary of Commerce Cortelyou before the President. If they warrant commencement of legal proceedings the Attorney-General's department will institute suit, and the Interior Department will take steps, with this additional information at hand, to stop public-land stealing by cattlemen.

TRUST MANIPULATIONS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, March 1.—To illustrate how he believed the injunction against the Beef Trust was being evaded by that combination, which, it stated, consisted of seven concerns, Mr. Martin said he was told by a stockman that he had just sold a train load of fat steers in Chicago. When he arrived in that city he sought bids for his stock. He went to various concerns, but could secure a bid from only one. He finally accepted the bid. His curiosity had been aroused, and he resolved to see what the reason was for this condition. That night the steers were separated into seven equal lots and sent to the different concerns.

Explaining further, Mr. Martin said that before the injunction was issued it was the custom of these firms to agree, the night before, on the price they would bid the next day for beef on the hoof. To illustrate the profit that he asserted was being made by the "Beef Trust," Mr Martin said that, February 1, 1902, the price of "good to extra steers" was $8.37½; August 1, 1903, the price of beef sides the same as on February 1, but the price of live beef had dropped to $5.17½ per 100 pounds. During the month of August, 293,000 steers were sold on the Chicago market, making, according to Mr. Martin, an additional profit to the "trust" for the month of $3,882,263, or $144,317 for each of the business days of that month. This sum, he declared, would permit of the payment of $5000 per day fine by the seven companies for violation of the injunction, and leave a handsome profit resulting from the control of the price of beef.

KAISER AND "FIGHTING BOB." MAY MEET EACH OTHER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Mar. 1.—It is believed that Emperor William in arranging his itinerary during his Mediterranean cruise, has planned matters so that he will met Admiral Robley D. Evans on the return of the latter to the United States. Admiral Evans in a short time will leave Hongkong, where his flagship, the Kentucky, is now being docked, on his way to New York, via Suez; and he probably will meet with Emperor William, who will be on the Hohenzollern in the Eastern Mediterranean sea.

Admiral Evans has a standing invitation from the Emperor to visit him again in German waters. It is also intimated that the Emperor would like very much to see the Kentucky, represented to him to be a model American battleship.

PANAMA CANAL AFFAIRS.
DISCUSSED BY CABINET.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Mar. 1.—Important matters relating to the Panama canal were under discussion by the President and his Cabinet today. Attorney-General Knox and other officials of the Department of Justice have under consideration the title to the canal property which is to be passed to this country by the Panama Canal Company, but as yet they have not reached a conculsion. It was said after the meeting that no money could be paid by this government until a clear title to the property was obtained, but no intimation was given as to the length of time which might elapse before a decision was reached.

The entire question of the canal and its construction was discussed in addition to the legal phases. It is expected that the commission appointed yesterday will get to work immediately. It is said to be certain that the commission will go to the Isthmus very soon to inspect thoroughly the conditions and to start the preliminary work of construction. In this connection, it was decided, as heretofore indicated might be the case, to countermand the orders issued to the Third United States Infantry to go to the Isthmus to relieve the marines now on guard duty there. For some time, the marine detachment will continue to guard the Isthmus. This government is opposed to establishing two jurisdictions on the Isthmus, and as the naval vessels must remain there, it was thought best to allow the marines to continue to do land duty.

It is the earnest wish of the President and the members of the Cabinet that no unnecessary delay should occur in beginning the work on the canal, and it is their intention to press it with the utmost vigor.

POSTOFFICE TROUBLES.
MORE INVESTIGATION SOUGHT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, March 1.—An investigation of the Postoffice Department by a special committee of the House of Representatives is being urged by the minority members of the House Committee on Postoffices and Post Roads. A resolution to this end, introduced in the House January 25 last by Representative Hay (Dem. of Virginia,) was duplicated today by Representative Cowherd (Dem. of Missouri.) Mr. Cowherd is a member of the Postoffice Committee; Mr. Hay is not, and the reintroduction of the resolution is regarded as a move to bring the matter to a head in the near future.

The Cowherd resolution provides that a committee of five members of the House shall conduct the investigation.

The hearings had by the committee in the preparation of the Postoffice Bill, it is declared, developed much information. The sub-committee before which officials of the department made explanation of their estimates is to lay the information before the full committee in the near future. This information includes, it is stated, evidence of several hundred violations of law by members of the House, importuning the increase of salaries of rural postmasters and the increase of force in postoffices, where such increase was not absolutely justified by the facts, but which were granted by officials of the department. Other violations of law include a limited number of cases where members of the House have leased their property to the government for postoffice purposes.

Mr. Hay declared that he would ask the House to discharge the committee from consideration of his resolution for an investigation, and have the same called up in the House for the consideration of that body.

PROTESTS AGAINST SMOOT.
WILL COME UP TODAY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The investigation of the protests against Senator Reed Smoot retaining his seat in the United States Senate will not be begun until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. When Chairman Burrows called the committee to order today, Waldemann Van Cott of Salt Lake, one of the counsel for the defense, asked for a postponement until tomorrow on account of the unavoidable absence of A. S. Worthington of Washington, D. C., who has charge of the case for Senator Smoot. The attorney for the protestants made no objection to the continuance, for the reason that the witnesses they desired to put on the stand in opening the case had not yet arrived from Utah.

The one witness present was E. B. Critchlow, former United States District Attorney in Utah, who has prosecuted a number of cases against Mormons. Former Secretary of the Treasury J. G. Carlisle and former Representative Robert W. Taylor, attorneys for the prosecution, were present.

NAVAL APPROPRIATIONS.
TOTAL REACHES $97,001,728.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, March 1.—After only one session of the Committee on Naval Affairs, the Naval Appropriation Bill was today reported to the Senate. Comparatively few changes were made in the bill, as passed by the House, though the provision for a naval training station on the Great Lakes was again incorporated in the measure. The increase recommended by the Senate aggregates $347,000, making the total $97,001,728. Provision is also made for a considerable increase in the teaching force at the Naval Academy at Annapolis.

An important article in regard to promotions in the navy provides that, subject to restrictions imposed by existing law, boatswains, gunners and machinists shall be eligible for appointment to the grade of ensign after two years' service as warrant officers, and boatswains, gunners, carpenters and sailmakers after six years shall be eligible to the position of chief of their class.

HAY AND DURAND
CONFER ABOUT NEUTRALITY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, March 1.—There was a long conference at the State Department after the Cabinet meeting today between Secretary Hay and Sir Mortimer Durand, the British Ambassador, on several phases of the Far Eastern war. The Russian government's declaration of contraband of war is naturally a question jointly vital to the two English-speaking countries. In fact, this is only one of many questions which have a dual interest to the United States and Great Britain, because of a similarity of their interests in the Far East, and also because both countries are strongly under Russian suspicion.

The last fact makes it necessary that there shall be a very thorough understanding between the London and Washington governments regarding their fulfillment of the neutrality obligations. It can be stated for both governments that it is their firm intention to observe complete neutrality, losing no opportunity, however, to adequately protect their own interests.

PUBLIC DEBT STATEMENT.
APPARENT INCREASE NOTED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The monthly statement of the public debt shows that at the close of business February 29, 1904, the debt, less cash in the treasury, amounted to $918,044,634, which is an increase for the month of $2,972,091. This increase is accounted for by the decrease in the amount of cash on hand.

The debt is recapitulated as follows: Interest-bearing debt, $895,154,700; debt on which interest has ceased since maturity, $3,161,680; debt bearing no interest $392,704,759; total, $1,291,103,139. This amount, however, does not include $962,691,589 in certificates and the treasury notes outstanding, which are offset by an equal amount of cash on hand for their redemption.

The cash in the treasury is classified as follows: Gold reserve, $150,000,000; trust funds, $346,984,979; general fund, $142,173,715; national bank depositories, $162,595,517; in Philippine treasury, $5,526,611; total, $1,407,296,572. Against which there are demand liabilities outstanding of $1,034,228,068, which leaves a cash balance on hand of $373,069,505.

RECEIPTS AND EXPENSES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The monthly comparative statement of the government receipts and expenditures shows that for the month of February, 1904, the total receipts were $45,895,406 and the expenditures $42,654,772, leaving a surplus for the month of $3,240,634. For February, 1903, the surplus was $5,250,000.

The receipts from the several sources of revenue are given as follows: Customs, $20,794,649, decrease $1,600,000; internal revenue, $18,067,921, increase $2,000,000; miscellaneous, $7,032,835, increase, $2,150,000. The expenditures on account of the War Department show an increase of $1,000,000; on account of the Navy Department an increase of $1,900,000. For the eight months of the present fiscal year, the receipts exceeded the expenditures by $4,682,000.

COINAGE STATEMENT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The statement of the coinage executed at the mints of the United States during February shows a total of 18,928,000 pieces. The gold coined amounted to $35,603,500; silver, $1,475,000; minor coins, $22,350. This coin includes 9,545,000 pieces for the Philippine government.

MORALES IN A DILEMMA.
CAN'T BLOCKADE HIS PORTS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, March 1.—President Morales of the Dominican Republic has been refused permission to blockade his own ports to keep out the revolutionists, as shown by the following report to the Navy Department by Capt. Miller, commanding the cruiser Columbia:

"This morning (February 18) the American three-masted schooner W. R. Perkins came in from the eastward and our boat went alongside. The captain informed me that he had been warned off Macoris, and not allowed to enter, by the gunboat Presidente, and was told that he must proceed to this port. Immediately upon receipt of this, I communicated with the Minister, asking him to communicate with President Morales and inform him I would not recognize his right to blockade Macoris and refuse entrance to vessels flying the United States flag. The Minister informs me that the President demurred at first, but finally agreed to the fact."

THE CONGRESS.

REGULAR SESSION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, March 1.—SENATE. The Senate today resumed consideration of the bill requiring the employment of American vessels in the transportation of government supplies. Mr. Teller spoke in opposition to the measure. He based his objection upon the ground that the bill granted a monopoly to a certain class of trade.

Mr. Daniel also spoke in opposition to the bill. Mr. Carmack offered a series of amendments, all of which were tabled, as was also one offered by Mr. Newlands.

BILL IS PASSED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, March 1.—Mr. Carmack attacked the bill as unjust and inopportune. After an amendment by Mr. Malory had been tabled, the bill, by a strict party vote of 35 to 17, was passed.

The text of the bill as passed is as follows: "That vessels of the United States or belonging to the United States and no others shall be employed in the transportation by sea of coal, provisions, fodder or supplies of any description, purchased pursuant to law, for the use of the army or navy, unless the President shall find that the rates of freight charged by said vessels are excessive and unreasonable, in which case contracts shall be made under the law as it now exists, provided that no greater charges be made by such vessels for transportation of articles for the use of said army and navy than are made by such vessels for transportation of like goods for private parties or companies. This act shall take effect sixty days after its passage."

The Senate then passed the bill legalizing the waterworks bond election of the city of Geary, Okla.

At the request of Mr. Lodge, the Senate took up the bill requiring the use of American vessels in transporting merchandise between the United States and the Philippines and relieving vessels engaged in the inter-island trade of the Philippines of the rules of law governing coastwise vessels in the United States.

Mr. Carmack moved to amend by fixing July 1, 1909, as the time when the act shall take effect, instead of 1904, as fixed by the bill, but the amendment was voted down by 13 to 33.

The Democratic Senators made an effort to secure an extension of time when the bill shoulu go into effect, but Mr. Lodge resisted it. He did, however, accept an amendment by Mr. Allison deferring the time until July 1, 1905, saying that this extension was in accordance with the wishes of Secretary Taft.

The amendment was not acted upon. At 4:23 o'clock p.m., the Senate went into executive session, and at 5:17 p.m., adjourned.

HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, March 1.—HOUSE. The House today passed a bill giving the consent of Congress to the removal of restrictions from the sale of allotted lands on the Puyallup Reservation in Washington State. Consideration of the District of Columbia appropriation bill was then resumed in the committee of the whole. Mr. Williams called attention to his bill proposing to limit the number of immigrants to be admitted from any one country in any one year to 80,000. This would affect, he explained, but three countries, in Southern Europe, from which the most undesirable classes come. The danger to the East from this source, he added, was greater than was that of the yellow peril to the Pacific Coast.

FAVORS THE GAINES BILL.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, March 1.—Mr. Hopkins of Kentucky argued in favor of the Gaines bill to remove the internal revenue tax on stemmed twisted tobacco when sold by the producers. He charged that certain plugs of tobacco turned out by the trust contained many ingredients beside tobacco.

Mr. Floyd of Virginia followed in advocacy of the same relief to the tobacco growers of the South.

Mr. Williams of Oregon spoke for recognition by the national government of the exposition to be had at Portland, Or., in 1905, in commemoration of the Lewis and Clark expedition to the Pacific Coast.

Mr. McDermott of New Jersey gave notice that he should endeavor to fight the trusts through an amendment to the Constitution giving Congress authority to create and regulate corporations. He asserted that the reduction of the tariff on Cuban sugar had resulted in lowering the price of raw sugar, but not the price of sugar to the consumer. He based this statement on the testimony of representatives of Hawaiian sugar interests that the price of raw sugar had fallen to the amount of the reduction of tariff on Cuban sugar.

"But," added Mr. McDermott, "I cannot expect that anything not including an appropriation can gain the attention of this deserted banquet hall."

Referring to the remarks of Mr. Williams, Mr. McDermott said that attention might be secured for a bill to provide for the celebration of the six thousandth anniversary of the departure of Adam and Eve from the Garden of Eden, or some later event.

Mr. Mier of Indiana entered a protest against a ship subsidy. He declared that the pending bill for a commission to investigate this subject was but the same old question with a mask on. This closed the general debate.

At 5:07 p.m., the House adjourned.

FAIRBANKS JOYS IN SUBSTANTIAL BOOM.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The fact that a boom of substantial proportions has been started for Senator Fairbanks of Indiana for Vice-President shows that the last straw has been removed from the President's clear road to the nomination for President, and consequently he will not be obliged to bump anything in the way in his progress. The Senator went to the White House today, where he had a chat with the President. He looked pleased when he came away, but he would not say whether he had talked politics there.

At the hotel today Senator Fairbanks talked politics with a large number of Senators, and his political talk went into no broader field than his own possible nomination on the ticket with the President. This evening, however, there came an inspiring statement from the neighborhood of the White House, which stated with emphasis that the President has no candidate for Vice-President, but intends to leave that selection absolutely to the national Republican convention, just as President McKinley did four years ago when Col. Roosevelt himself was nominated for Vice-President at Philadelphia.

The President and his political friends believe it to be a good thing that the convention have a warm fight over the second place on the ticket, as there was years ago, when four or five names were being urged upon the convention, and the result was the selection of Col. Roosevelt, even against his will.

The indications are that the President intends to follow precisely the same course that President McKinley followed in the last campaign. He will take no active part in the anti-convention proceedings; will not try to influence the convention, and after his own nomination will take the ground that it is not becoming in a President of the United States to take an active speaking part in his own campaign.

The President still has under consideration the invitation he has received to attend the fiftieth anniversary of the birth of the Republican party at Jackson, Mich., July 6. He may decide that it will be unbecoming for him to make even this short trip after his nomination, so it is a question whether he will accept or not.

PRESIDENT'S "HANDS OFF."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Makers of candidates for Vice-Presidency need not look to the White House for suggestions. The President today announced as strongly as words could frame the assertion, that under no conditions or circumstances would he have any hand in selecting his running mate at Chicago next June. He has perfect confidence in the wisdom of the convention to name a strong, clean man for the place, and he does not intend to "mix" in the matter that is not within his province.

"The President has too many friends among the big men of the Republican party to jeopardize the regard of any of them by pronouncing in favor of this or that man for second place on the ticket," said a man who stands very close to the Chief Magistrate. "If he should come out for Fairbanks, the politicians of Indiana might feel flattered, but how about the friends of Gov. Cummins of Iowa? If he should demand of the convention that Van Zandt be his running mate, what would the adherents of Beveridge think of such a stand? Then there are Yates of Illinois, who has many supporters; Hawley of Texas, who would make a strong race if a southern man were placed on the ticket; Wolcott of Colorado, who is not an impossibility; Evans of Tennessee, now Consul-General at London, and half a dozen others who would measure up to the standard if the convention should, in its wisdom, decide to name any one of them for the place.

"The President feels that if he were to meddle with the prerogatives of the convention, he would stand a very good chance of losing some of his friends, as well as some of his self-respect."

ODELL IS SENT FOR.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ALBANY, March 1.—The President has summoned Gov. Odell to Washington, and the inference placed upon the summons tonight by those well informed is that the President intends to ask Odell to accept the chairmanship of the National Committee. Gov. Odell received the summons today, and this afternoon did not return to the executive chamber, so that no queries could not be put to him.

It is known, however, that any proposition made by the President that may in any way affect control of the State Committee by the Governor will be refused. If, however, the chairmanship of the National Committee is offered to the Governor free of any condition, so that the State Committee is in his hands, it is believed that Gov. Odell will consent to take charge of the national campaign, deputing to a subordinate in the State under his direction, the conduct of the State campaign. Gov. Odell will go to Washington Friday of this week.

OUR GOVERNMENT NEUTRAL.

The press dispatches have told us of a meeting held at the Academy of Music in New York, under the auspices of the Clan-Na-Gael—an organization of unfragrant memory—at which meeting resolutions were adopted "scoring the so-called policy of the United States in the Far East, and asking that the burden of favor be turned to Russia rather than to Japan." The proposed arbitration agreement with England was denounced as "a thinly-disguised alliance, publicly avowed by its English sponsors to be the first step to an open alliance intended to serve British interests alone, and thus enable England to wage war on other countries with greater freedom." Secretary of State Hay was charged with "friendship for England and hostility toward Russia," and many recent acts of the State Department were criticised as having been dictated by the Secretary's alleged bias.

This is nonsense. It is also impertinence of a more than ordinarily offensive character. In the first place, the charges brought against the Secretary of State and his department are untrue, and they are unsupported by any evidence that is worth a moment's serious consideration. In the second place, the Clan-Na-Gael is not a sufficiently representative American organization to entitle it to butt in with criticisms of the government of the United States, even if there were adequate ground for criticism, which there certainly is not in the present instance. From the inception of the Russo-Japanese war, the conduct of our government has been in strict conformity to the neutrality which it has professed. Not one of the acts singled out for criticism by the Clan-Na-Gael organization can justly be regarded as unduly favoring either of the combatants. The United States is friendly toward both, and it is the intention that it shall remain so throughout the war.

The demand that "the burden of favor be turned to Russia rather than to Japan," is a fair indication of the unreasonableness of the entire attitude of these would-be critics of the government. While we have reason for remembering Russia with gratitude, we certainly have no grievance against her antagonist in the present struggle, and it would be a gross breach of our professed neutrality to turn "the burden of favor" toward the one or the other of the combatants. Whatever may be its inclinations toward either of the combatants, the position of the United States government will be immeasurably stronger if it maintain a strict neutrality, and that is precisely what the State Department is doing.

The action taken by Secretatry Hay, which has resulted in guaranteeing the integrity of China, was a wise diplomatic move, not in the least inconsistent with our attitude of neutrality. If it has been otherwise construed, the wrong construction has been because of imperfect information as to its scope and intent. The action taken will tend to localize the war rather than to extend it to other nations and to other territory. With the integrity of China assured, the struggle narrows down to the two principal combatants, for there is no prospect that other nations may gain territory as a result of the war.

As for England, she is not in the war, nor is there any present prospect that she will become involved. The proposed arbitration treaty is a movement purely in the interests of peace, and it is hoped that eventually all the nations of the earth will unite in agreeing to its provisions. The government of the United States can probably get along without further suggestions and criticisms from the Clan-Na-Gael or any other proscriptive organization.

AMERICAN RAILROADING.

The advancement made in railroading in the United States during the past decade has been marvelous. Equipment that was considered magnificent ten years ago is now regarded as entirely out of date, and much of it has gone to the scrap heap. The trains of today are heavy, long and swift, and on many of the greatest railroads new bridges have been required for them over every river, creek and culvert, and often new and heavier rails.

In an article in the World's Work for March, Herbert Lawrence Strong says:

"The American railroad problem has been to increase the tonnage of a train to be handled by a single locomotive and crew. A locomotive with a single crew does as much work as three locomotives and three crews formerly did. A passenger train of sixteen cars, most of them heavy sleepers whose weight has greatly increased of late, is not now an uncommon train. Formerly such a train would have been run in two or more sections. And eighty to ninety and in some cases even 100 or 110 cars to a freight train are not unusual. Indeed on many main lines where the grades are not bad the "through freights" will average eighty cars to the train, and the superintendent or yard master who starts one with fewer risks a reprimand.

"In 1892 the average weight of a passenger locomotive, with tender, was about seventy-five tons. The latest type of locomotive, with tender, designed for the same service, weighs more than 142 tons. Only ten years ago the famous No. 999 of the New York Central, exhibited at the Chicago World's Fair, was looked upon as a marvel in size and speed; yet it weighed only 102 tons, as against the 150 tons of the present passenger engine."

Unfortunately, the advance in equipment and speed has not been accompanied by a lessening of accidents on the railroads, but rather the contrary. This, however, is a subject of sufficient importance for separate treatment.

A MONSTROUS PROPOSITION.

In the real estate department of The Times on February 21, the following paragraph appeared, under the heading "More Horrors:"

"Not satisfied with the hideous poles that disfigure the public streets, and the billboards, there is now a movement on foot to foist on this long-suffering community another outrageous infringement of good taste, in the shape of metal rubbish boxes, at frequent intervals along the curbs. It is an advertising scheme on the part of some enterprising individual who expects to make his profit out of advertising plastered on the boxes. Fancy a lot of bright-red or yellow objects of this kind, along the principal thoroughfares, covered with showy advertisements. That would be about the last straw on the camel's back. Is Los Angeles anxious to make itself the laughing stock for the people of wealth and culture who visit a city of which they have heard and read so much? Surely, the Councilmen will not need to reflect long before they turn down this brilliant scheme. The next thing would probably be to try to rent the front of the City Hall for billboards."

How much time the Councilmen took to reflect on this matter is unknown; but the result was that they tentatively indorsed this precious scheme on the recommendation of the Board of Public Works, only two Councilmen recording their votes against it. This is one of the worst jobs that has been attempted on the city of Los Angeles for many moons. An individual bearing the significant name of Busteed applied to the City Council for the privilege of erecting at frequent distances along the curb, on the principal streets, metal rubbish boxes, to the number of between five and six hundred, the boxes to be covered with advertising matter. The boxes would probably cost about $2 a piece. For this privilege, he offered to pay the Council the princely revenue of $1 per box per year, or in all, say about $500 a year. Not only this, but the franchise was asked for the long term of thirty years. This was a little too "raw," even for the Council, and the proposed term was cut down to fifteen years. Now it is not too much to say that, on the basis of the revenues derived from billboards, this advertising concession is worth at least $50 per box per annum, or from $25,000 to $30,000 a year for fifteen years—that is to say from $375,000 to $450,000 for the term. Yet the Council is asked to give away this fortune for a total of $7500.

The Council has taken the preliminary step of voting to advertise the franchise as prayed for, but it is likely that after maturer consideration the Councilmen will be convinced of the undesirability of the proposition and will not permit the scheme to go any further. Public sentiment is strongly against it. If the franchise should ever be sold, doubtless some speculator would raise Busteed's ridiculous bid.

SOME QUESTIONS OF REPRESENTATION.

The notion appears to be entertained in some quarters that the selection of delegates-at-large to the Republican National Convention, and of electors-at-large on the Republican State ticket, to be voted at the coming Presidential election, should be made by a coterie of so-called "leaders," instead of by the State convention. This idea is mischevious, fallacious and offensive. The selection of public representatives, in the capacities named, is properly the work of the convention, not the work of any clique or faction. The so-called "leaders" have no warrant, and no justification in political morality, for getting together and deciding in advance of the convention how honors shall be distributed. If they presume to do so, the convention should see to it that the slates thus fixed up beforehand are broken so effectively that they cannot be mended.

The territory to be represented is of large extent, and all sections should be given due and fair consideration. There should be no tolerance of the assumption that this aspirant, or that one, has a superior claim to the coveted honor, and that such claim must be recognized by the convention in order to placate one aspirant or another. The candidate who has to be placated in order to insure the continuity of his Republicanism is hardly worthy to be trusted by his party under any circumstances. One Republican has as good a right to aspire to these honors as another. It is folly to speculate as to whether this aspirant or that one "will be content to represent his faction as elector-at-large," or in any other capacity. Whoever shall be selected for these positions will be expected to represent, not his particular faction, but the Republican party—and in a broader sense the people at large—in the duties required of him. The man who imagines that he is to represent a faction is not broad minded enough to discharge acceptably the duties of any important public position.

The people are greater than any party. The political parties which are the instrumentalities of popular government are greater than any of their individual members. When political "leaders," so called, get the idea into their heads that they are greater than their party, or the people, it is time to turn them down, and it should be done so emphatically that there can be no mistake as to the significance of the action.

No man nor clique of men should "own" the Republican convention nor be permitted to control its deliberations. Machine politicians, who often pose as "leaders," rely upon pre-convention agreements and the fixing up of slates for the accomplishment of their purposes. They aim to have everything cut and dried before the convention is called to order, so that the actual work of the convention will be merely an indorsement of what they have decreed in advance. Needless to say, this "system" is an abomination and a stench in the nostrils of political decency. It tends to defeat the purposes and the achievements of representative government. Carried to an extreme—and the parasitic machine politician is always striving to carry it to the ultimate—it would destroy representative government, and would substitute therefor government by a corrupt and unscrupulous oligarchy.

Nominating conventions of all kinds, from the lowest to the highest, should be made truly representative of the people, so far as practicable. They are not so when they are controlled by ringsters or manipulated by slate-builders. Nominees of a convention should be the free choice of the delegates comprising the convention, not merely the choice of a few plotters actuated by selfish motives or narrow prejudices.

A judge in San Rafael has sentenced two footpads to imprisonment for life for footpadding in that vicinity. If this sort of heroic justice were meted out oftener, the crime of highway robbery would soon become beautifully less; for, in the majority of cases, the men who serve short sentences for that crime go into the "business" again after regaining their liberty, as the records of the courts will show. Every footpad is a possible murderer. Why should he not be regarded and punished as such?

The isthmian canal is not worrying George Gould. He is right—this great waterway will make all the more business for the railroads. Divers transcontinental rail magnates would today enjoy a greater reputation for level heads if they had come around long ago to George Gould's view of the canal question. However, it makes precious little difference now what the aforesaid magnates may think about it.

The status of the Municipal Art Commission as a part or parcel of the city government may be somewhat vague and indeterminate, and it may not have much of "a pull with the boys," but if its well-directed efforts succeed in abolishing or even modifying the pole nuisance on the residence streets, it will surely take a place among the powers that be.

Dowie has cabled that his "mission" to Australia is a success. He probably refers to his success in getting away from the mobs that have been chasing him through the streets and byways of the Australian cities.

The City Council can't get rid of the garbage question. "You may break, you may shatter the vase if you will, but the scent of the roses will hang round it still." It seems to make no difference whether the garbage is canned or not; it always succeeds in making the lives of the City Fathers more or less miserable.

After the jury in the Griffith case has been compelled to listen three days to the arguments of attorneys, it would not be surprising if it became necessary to summon an additional jury to inquire into their mental condition, as well as that of the defendant in the case.

Dispatches from Wyoming state that the cattle and sheep men of that State want the land laws undisturbed. Precisely. Enterprising train robbers would also, doubtless, object should railroad companies propose to carry half a dozen expert shotgun messengers on each train.

The ignorance of the laborite walking delegate was illustrated quite as strikingly as his impudence when he "officially" demanded to know of the Los Angeles Master Builders' Association "what right" the association had to send East for more mechanics.

Because the box office advance sales were unsatisfactory, Adelina Patti sent word that she "will never again visit Chicago." Chicago will now proceed to pine away and seek an early grave.

The boiler makers' strike was on just long enough to cause one railroad wreck—which is more efficiency for either mischief or good than almost any other strike started in this city has shown.

Glaring headlines state that the Japanese have seized Ichio Yang. The populace will refuse, however, to get excited until it has learned whether Ichio Yang is a man, a town or a battleship.

The Dominican revolutionists will never submit their cause to The Hague tribunal. It is a good deal safer to human life to fight it out.

Some Comfort.

Speaking once of the impossibility of ever completely effacing the consequence of mischief done in boyish pranks, Senator Scott of West Virginia says:

"My boon companion in boyhood was a mischievous lad, whose father would drive a nail into the bark of a tree facing the veranda for every transgression his son was guilty of. For every good deed that he would, I am loath to say somewhat rarely, be credited with, a nail would be removed. This debit and credit account continued, and in course of time such an effect did the custom have on him that not a nail remained. In after years, while on a visit to the old farm, my friend contemplated this tree with much gravity, and burst out crying. His aged father standing by inquired as to the cause of his tears, and his hopeful offspring, still sobbing, replied:

"'Father, the nails are all gone, but the holes will always remain.'"—[Boston Post.

LOST GIRL'S PITIFUL CRY.

From Sick Bed Mary Coffer Writes to Mother.

Will Soon Return to Tent Home in This City.

Labor "Leader" Father Deserts Her in Chicago.

Pretty Mary Coffer, the fifteen-year-old Los Angeles girl, deserted by her father in Chicago, and whose family could not locate her, has been found. The poor child has been for weeks in a hospital in Chicago, suffering bodily affliction and mental anguish, as she realized the baseness of the father who had enticed her from her home here and then ruthlessly deserted her.

This is no new tale in the chronicles of human experience, but is one that fortunately is not often told and one that arouses the contempt of every true man and woman.

Filled with the wander-lust of union-labor leadership, this man, known in Los Angeles as Sterling Price Coffer, or, more familiarly, as "Sam," coolly left to his wife the burden of supporting the family of five little children and the aged father and mother, while he wandered away to San Francisco and other northern points, as an emissary of the unions to put in his time stirring up strife, and posing as a "protector" of the interests of the workingman.

Soon the San Francisco field became too small for such talents as those possessed by Coffer, and he was sent on to the Windy City to add to the turmoil of that union-cursed place.

ENTICED GIRL FROM HOME.

Not content with heaping upon the patient wife in Los Angeles the cares that should have fallen on his own broad shoulders, this man set to work, after he reached Chicago, to entice his eldest daughter to leave her home here, where she might have been of much help to the poor mother in her struggle to hold the family together, and to go to him in Chicago.

His designs finally succeeded in turning the head of the foolish girl, who was carried away with the bright picture of a home with her father in a large city, and as the child still loved her father, despite his desertion of the family, she joined him.

But her bright dreams of life in Chicago soon proved a delusion. The man who had left his little ones in Los Angeles with no provision for their food or shelter, felt no compunctions in taking similar action in Chicago. After a short time, in which the father and his daughter lived in small rooms, he coolly informed the girl that she would have to look out for herself, and disappeared.

Since last Thanksgiving Day Mary Coffer has not seen her father, and for some time before that he had failed to contribute a cent toward her support.

When the girl realized that she was alone in a great city, with half the continent between her and those who loved her, and with no prospect of returning to them, she was overwhelmed with bitterness for the man whose protection she had every right to claim. But the girl set resolutely about the task of making a living, and entered one of the big department stores of Chicago.

PRIDE SILENCED HER.

So keenly did the poor girl feel her situation that her pride prevented her from writing to her mother in Los Angeles of the desertion of her father, and finally she ceased to write to the mother even about herself.

It was through other parties that the brave woman in this city, who even then seemed to have all the burdens she could bear, learned of the situation in Chicago, but she had lost track of the girl's location. Friends of Mrs. Coffer went from points near Chicago to that city and visited places where the girl had roomed, but she could not be found. At last there came the pitiful, heart-broken cry of the poor child, as she wrote to the mother, pleading just to be taken home again, and it was this plea that, through a peculiar train of circumstances, was made public in The Times, and which so touched the hearts of generous people that funds were provided for a ticket that the girl might return.

But the only way to reach her was through the uncertainty of a letter addressed to the general delivery of the Chicago postoffice, and although the mother sent at once the good news that her child might return to her, she waited day after day for a reply from the girl.

FOUND IN HOSPITAL.

But now a letter has arrived, stating that for several weeks Mary has been dangerously ill in a Chicago hospital, and is now just able to sit up. She is overjoyed at the prospect of returning to her mother, and as soon as she is able to travel she will be sent here.

Several days ago, The Times narrated the attempts of the family to provide themselves a tent home down in the sycamore flats along the Santa Fé Railroad, and that they were forced to remove, as the place had been taken for switch yards.

The lot offered for their new location proved unsatisfactory and the family is still stranded for a home site. To-day an effort will be made to secure some place to relocate her tent.

Some of the members of the Sunshine Society have become interested in the Coffer case, and it is to be reported to the regular meeting of the society. Several donations of cash have been received by The Times and have been sent to Mrs. Coffer, and these will be of great assistance to her.

CANS ARE CONDEMNED.

Board of Health Requests City Council to Not Permit Advertising Receptacles on Streets.

Will the City Council please not permit the disease-laden garbage cans designed for advertising purposes to be placed on the streets?

This is the request made by the Board of Health, as adopted at last night's meeting of the latter body. The board condemns the cans as unsanitary. This action is taken on account of the question of employing such cans for advertising purposes, as now before the city's governing body.

The board last evening received a letter from the State Board of Health bearing on measures to prevent the spread of bubonic plague from San Francisco. The State board asks the local board to have a post mortem examination of each body of a person dying in a Chinese district, and, if the cause of death be doubtful or suspicious to forward parts of the body to the Marine Hospital Service Bureau in San Francisco for examination.

The board simply filed the communication but instructed the Health Officer to investigate every suspicious death in the Mongolian quarter.

THE FRENCH ALLIANCE.

Address to be Delivered Under Its Auspices by M. Laborthe, the Eminent Orator.

M. Emile Laborthe, the eminent French barrister, who is on his return to the Orient, after performing a confidential mission for his government, has consented to deliver an address at Blanchard's Hall, this city, on Friday evening on "Japan." M. Laborthe is a finished orator, and is looked upon as one of the rising young men of France. The address is to be given under the auspices of the French Alliance. There are branches of this organization in many of the large cities in the East, notably in New York, of which Mr. James H. Hyde is president. It is the desire of M. Laborthe to organize a subdivisoin or section of the alliance in Los Angeles. The address on Friday evening will be followed by a debate, such as the French term "a conference."

TEN DOLLAR TROUBLE.

James Lynch and Harry Lenox, charged with looting the postoffice at Bloomington, San Bernardino county, the night of February 8, were brought in from San Bernardino by Deputy United States Marshal Traeger and Sheriff J. C. Ralphs of that county yesterday and lodged in the County Jail, after arraignment before Commissioner Williams. Ten dollars is the amount of the booty they are alleged to have abstracted unlawfully from Uncle Sam by their bold stroke at Bloomington. It "broke" the office. Their hearing is set for Saturday.

"Made-to-Fit" Plates

Artificial Plates, must, of a matter of first importance, be fitted with the utmost accuracy. This is the only guarantee of comfort and efficiency that the wearer can obtain. The least little imperfection in fit will make the denture more uncomfortable than a pinching shoe and more unbecoming than an ill-fitting gown. My plate work, at any price for any material, gets the best attention and ability in the minutest detail of fit. Established 1884.

WE SELL MONEY-MAKERS!

SOLID INVESTMENT PROPOSITIONS THAT WILL STAND THE CLOSEST INVESTIGATION. WE CAN ESTABLISH YOU IN A BUSINESS, WHETHER YOU HAVE $600 OR $50,000.

$4500—For a general merchandise business in near-by country town. This is a populous location, and the store practically controls the business of the surrounding country.

$14,000—Will buy a hardware and implement business in one of the southern towns. We consider this the best revenue-producer that is on our books. If you have this amount in cash, we want you to come and see us.

$8500—THIS WILL PURCHASE WHAT WE HONESTLY THINK IS THE BEST HOTEL PROPOSITION IN THE CITY OF LOS ANGELES AT PRESENT. IT WILL BUY A HOTEL, THAT IS NOW OCCUPIED COMPLETELY, AND WHICH PRODUCES A NET MONTHLY REVENUE OF ABOUT $600. THIS IS AN ESTABLISHED AND WELL KNOWN PROPOSITION, AND IF YOU HAVE THE MONEY, WE DO NOT THINK IT WILL TAKE YOU VERY LONG TO DECIDE THAT YOU HAVE STRUCK A "BONANZA."

$1200—The grocery store we have at this price is one of the few smaller stores in this line in the city that will pay you for your efforts. We unhesitatingly recommend this to any prospective purchaser who wants to take possession of a well-established business in good location, and which pays well; a fine trade at present and can be very materially increased merely by soliciting and without additional capital.

$7500—Will put you in possession of the best general merchandise store in Southern California; located in a town within 20 minutes on electric car from Los Angeles; it supplies one of the wealthiest sections of agricultural country in this vicinity. The present owner would prefer to retain an interest of one-half or one-third in this if possible. Don't miss this chance if you want to make an unusual per cent. on your money.

The above are only a few of the good things we have on our list. We can locate you in any business in any section of the city or country, no matter what amount you want to invest. We will give you the benefit of our experience and place you where you can get a good revenue. We will not recommend any business to a prospective purchaser without investigating same thoroughly, and if we give you a certificate as to the worth of the business, you can bank on it absolutely.

OUR OFFICERS ARE LOOKING FOR GOOD INVESTMENTS. BRING THEM IN.

SLEEP IS PRICELESS
But It Can Be Obtained by Simple Methods.

Are you a hard worker? Are you overcome with fatigue at the end of each day's labor, and instead of retiring to bed with a feeling of satisfaction at the prospect of a night's repose, do you wait the hour of bedtime with dread and shrinking?

Is it your unhappy lot to be awakened every night, just after you have dropped off to sleep, by an intense, uncontrollable itching of the rectum? Do you then endeavor to relieve the sensation by scratching so desperately that the skin becomes raw and lacerated, and you finally sink into the sleep of exhaustion?

If so, you do not need to be told that you are afflicted with itching piles. You have probably tried every remedy you could hear of, with but temporary relief, if any, and have concluded there was nothing left for you but to drag out a miserable existence. As a drowning man grasps at a straw, so should you eagerly devour the words of W. O. Milbury, 70 Pearl St., Reading, Mass.

"I am pleased to state that I bought one fifty-cent box of Pyramid Pile Cure at the drug store, and used about one half of it, and it not only cured me of itching piles, but also of constipation, a trouble of about fifteen years' standing. I have tried almost everything without any lasting benefit, but I can honestly and truthfully state that Pyramid Pile Cure has entirely cured me, as I have had no return of that terrible itching, which used to keep me awake by the hour, night after night. If the old trouble should ever return I will know just what to do, but I guess it won't for it is now six or seven months since I first used this wonderful remedy."

We vouch for the authenticity of this testimonial, and as Mr. Milbury found relief and a cure, so you may also. Do not delay, but buy a box and try it tonight, and do not allow any dealer to sell you "something just as good." You will do well to write Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., for their little book on the causes and cure of piles, which is sent free for the asking.

DOMINICANS IN MISCHIEF.

SANTO DOMINGO, Saturday, Feb. 27.—United States Minister Powell has been informed that the insurgents at San Pedro de Macoris have seized the tugboat Burro, belonging to the Clyde line of New York, and armed her. Many arrests have been made here, and several politicians were sent out of the country today on board the steamer Julia of the Cuba line. Edward C. Reed, United States consular agent at San Pedro de Macoris, is said to be in danger. Minister Powell has taken steps to secure the protection of all interests. The situation here remains unchanged.

JEFF WEIGHS OVERMUCH.

Big Champion Coming West to Get it Off.

Jim Corbett Thinks Munroe a Second Jeffries.

Lipton Asks Too Much From Americans—Race News.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] James J. Jeffries will close his theatrical tour as soon as possible in order to get back to the Coast, to begin early training for Jack Munroe. The big champion has a lot of extra weight on, and he wants to get it off slowly and by degrees.

The miner, who always is in fine shape, will reach the Coast in ample time for a thorough course of training. He is to be booked upon a tour that will carry him coastward through the Northwest.

JIM CORBETT'S ESTIMATE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS (Mo.) March 1.—Ex-Champion James J. Corbett, who is at present in St. Louis, thinks Miner Munroe, Sharkey's conqueror, has the making of a second Jeffries in him.

"Of course, Sharkey is not a world-beater," said Corbett, "but he is a good, tough boy that always has a dangerous wallop concealed about his person for use on his opponents. Munroe showed good form for one who has had so little experience. He gauged Sharkey well, and from the accounts appeared to have the better of the contest. Whether the miner will ever be a world's champion is a question.

"Munroe looks as good as any of the present heavyweights, bar Jeffries. You remember that when Jeffries trained me at Carson City he was nothing but a big, tough fellow, willing to mix it and capable of taking a tremendous walloping. Munroe is the same kind of a fellow now that Jeffries was then."

LIPTON ASKS TOO MUCH.

YACHT CLUB CANNOT CONSENT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Unless Sir Thomas Lipton can find a designer to turn out a blueprint of a boat capable of beating the Reliance, he will probably never again be seen in these waters as a challenger for the America's cup. The New York Yacht Club will not go beyond the deed of gift of the cup, nor is there any member anxious to spend some hundreds of thousands of dollars in building a boat on the Lipton model, just for the pleasure of seeing the baronet sail away with the cup.

Lipton some time ago wrote to the New York Yacht Club inquiring if he might challenge with a boat under the ninety-foot water line, and also if the club would be willing to have the challenger, no matter what the water line, between the 65 and 90-foot limits, for single-stickers, measured for time allowance in accordance with the new rating rule of the club. Boats of the Columbia and Reliance types would be heavily penalized under this rule, especially the latter type, which would be practically shut out from the race.

At the last general meeting of the New York Yacht Club, a committee was appointed to consider Lipton's proposals and formulate a reply. The committee has been hard at work on the matter since then, and has arrived at the conclusion, which is agreed to by all members of the club, that nothing can be done in the way of meeting Lipton's proposals.

The deed of gift specifically provides that "the club challenging for the cup and the club holding the same may, by mutual consent, make any arrangement satisfactory to both as to dates, courses, number of trials, rules and sailing regulations." The deed of gift makes no provision for time allowance, so that the challenger is not entitled to any, and the measurement rules come into play only for the purpose of time allowance.

Lipton, in other words, may send any sort of a challenger he pleases within the 65 and 90-foot water line, but, according to the deed of gift, he is not entitled to any time allowance. Time allowance was made, given and taken under the old sail-area rule, but it is considered too much to ask for a measurement that would give an allowance which would bar such boats as the Reliance and the race.

HOLLAND'S CHAMPION FIGHTER.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Henri J. Placke, champion heavyweight fighter of Holland, arrived here today. Placke is a giant in physique, standing 6 ft. 5 in. and weighing 240 pounds. He has come to induce Jeffries to give him a match for the championship.

HANLON OUTPOINTS DECKER.

COULDN'T KNOCK OUT LATTER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PHILADELPHIA, March 1.—Eddie Hanlon of California outpointed George Decker of this city tonight in a six-round bout at the National Athletic Club.

Hanlon had an advantage in weight over his antagonist, and the local man was kept on the defensive from the beginning to the end of the bout. The Californian tried hard to put Decker out, but the latter always managed to avoid the knockout blows, and was not once sent to the floor. Hanlon did much roughing. In one round, while the men were in a clinch, they fell through the ropes.

WOMEN AT PRIZE FIGHT.

DEWEY AND WILLIAMS DRAW.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN BERNARDINO, March 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Dewey-Williams fight here tonight resulted in a draw in the twelfth round. From start to finish both men fought with determination, Dewey assuming the aggressive. Though fairly smothered with blows, he showed little sign of the awful punishment he received. At the beginning of the twelfth round Dewey knocked Williams through the ropes twice in quick succession, and in retaliation Williams rushed him to the ropes, and while raining blows with his terrific right upon Dewey's face, with his left hand parted the ropes for the colored youth to fall through. In the midst of the excitement the referee, Charles Heap, declared the fight a draw.

As a preliminary Kid Solomon and Kid Sharkey of Los Angeles fought three hot rounds, the former winning the decision. About 1500 persons witnessed the mill, among the audience being many women.

MORLEY TO TRY A NEW PITCHER.

E. E. ASHER, LATE OF BUSH LEAGUE, THE MAN.

Has Physique of a Rusie and Will Get Good Chance—Admission to Park During Training by Ticket Only—Hard Work.

There may be another member of the Looloo box staff this season besides the twirlers and slant artists already on the Morleyite pay roll, if E. E. Asher, a husky brother from the San Joaquin bushes, who was working out at Chutes Park with the team yesterday makes good as a pitcher. The young man has asked a trial at Morley's hands, and as the experiments of the local manager have mostly been successful, he has decided to give Asher a good chance to show what he can do. The aspirant's physique is certainly in his favor. He is tall, remarkably muscular, and looks to have the physique of another Amos Rusie. Whether he will develop the same speed and other pitching "goods" remains to be seen.

The outfielder who died in Milwaukee not long since of typhoid fever—"Matty" McVicker—is a son of Groundkeeper McVicker, who officiates at Chutes Park. "Mac," as the players familiarly know the old man, is heartbroken at his loss. "Matty" was a fine, strong young fellow about 23 years old and in his prime. Those who knew him say he was an outfielder of great ability.

Morley has decided to have all admission to the grounds during the practice season by ticket. This is to exclude an undesirable class from making the park their headquarters during the training season, and interfering with the ball players at their work. The tickets are gratis, and Mr. Morley will be glad to present any who desire with the necessary transportation during the training season.

All hands of the Looloo ship of state put in a full day's work at the park yesterday, beginning at 10 o'clock in the morning and quitting about 3, with an intermission for lunch. Morley donned a uniform and cavorted around the field like one of "de gang." Spring practice appeals to others than the regular ball players. It gives a host of aspiring lights a chance to show what they cannot do at the bat or in the field, and all can get valuable exercise from the chasing about.

Pitcher McDonald, a southpaw who was with the Minneapolis team last year, is doing light work with the Looloos. He expects to stay on the Coast this summer, having a desire to see the country and being in love with the climate.

ELY WANTS CASTRO.

SAYS HE WILL KEEP HIM.

Louis Castro, the shortstop who has signed with the Portland team of the Pacific Coast League, and yet has been awarded to Manager Ned Hanlon of the Baltimore team, arrived at Bakersfield yesterday and reported at once to Manager Ely for practice, the Portland team being now in Bakersfield. Castro at once donned a uniform and spent several hours practicing with the team.

He is one of the players that is the cause of the wrangling that is now going on between the East and the West and Manager Ely of Portland says he will hold him.

DUBOIS HERE.

WILLING TO PLAY.

Frank DuBois, the San Francisco balkline billiard expert, now in the city, has agreed to play Morley a 300-point match Friday night for $50 a side. A friend is backing DuBois; the San Francisco man plays billiards solely because he likes the game.

TRACK ATHLETICS.

U.S.C.-OCCIDENTAL MEET.

The track meet between Occidental College and U.S.C., which was to have been held at Fiesta Park last Saturday, but was postponed on account of wet grounds, will take place tomorrow afternoon at Fiesta Park, beginning at 2 o'clock. Half-holidays have been granted in both institutions, and a large crowd of spectators is assured, for the rivalry between the two colleges is very strong. STUYVE WINS EASY RACE.

Takes Randolph Handicap in a Common Gallop.

Hildebrand First in Two Out of Four Mounts.

Labor Runs Surprisingly Well in Closing Event.

Stuyve came down from Oakland some days ago, went out to Ascot Park, got into a race yesterday and won about $5000 for his friends and admirers. He did all this with apparent ease and at no time after the start did Joe Yeager feel the least bit uneasy about the ultimate ownership of the $2000 that he won on Stuyve.

This is the horse that won seven straight races up around San Francisco and in his present form he could apparently hold his own with any horse in these parts at any distance from a half-mile to a mile and an eighth. In his race yesterday he ran the half in 49½, the six furlongs in 1:14⅘, the mile in 1:41 and the mile and a sixteenth in 1:47¼, making every post a winning one with but little effort. Still, he skipped along as if he was intending to catch the last car, and Hildebrand rode him well, for Joe Yeager, his employer, had about $2000 bet on the horse. Hildy took him out in front of Bragg and led all the way. Campbell was next and Nitrate last, and thus they ran the journey, with the exception that in the stretch Nitrate passed Campbell and took the show money.

This handicap race was about the only feature of an ordinary card, for the other races were made up of big fields hard to pick. As a result the sports, aside from Yeager and a few others, failed to do much good business and spent most of the afternoon shooting at the moon. It was very strenuous work, too, for the sky seemed full of moons, each about as good looking as the other. There was a large crowd of marksmen out, however. The track was fast and the weather about as fine as anyone could ask for.

HILDEBRAND'S GOOD WORK.

Hildebrand rode two winners, a second and a third out of four mounts, and certainly made enough money for his friends with his victories on Stuyve and Laureatea. The other winning horses were ridden by Mountain, L. Jackson and Sinnott on the flat and Schimmel took the jumping event with Sir Hugh. The speed of Glenrice in the third event was a surprise, for after she had been practically left at the post in a field of thirteen, she made up an acre of ground and finished third, running over everything in the stretch. Mistletide, the winner in this race, was run up $200 over her entered price, but was retained by her owner.

CAESAR COMES ACROSS.

BIG BOOKMAKER IN TOWN.

Caesar Young, the bookmaker, who is said to have left San Francisco and his wife in company with an ex-actress, arrived here yesterday morning in company with a woman said to be the one he picks as a winner. The story was told at Ascot Park yesterday that he was taken at once to a Hamman bath house and remained there the greater part of the day. Whether or not he will return to San Francisco remains to be seen. His manager, Johnny Millin, was to have started for San Francisco yesterday morning, but Young arrived before Millin's train left and instead of going Millin stayed here to take care of Young.

HE WON AND HE LOST.

"YOUNG CORBETT'S" RECEIPTS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Young Corbett" will not be able to buy a vast tract of real estate or make a big riffle at the race track on what he got for beating Sullivan last night. There was only $5500 in the house, and as Corbett himself guaranteed his opponent $2500, win, lose or draw, it left little for him, and the Yosemite Club to divide. The club allowed the fighters 65 per cent. of the gross receipts, which left Corbett, after Sullivan's share had been extracted, the munificent sum of $1000. It is not often that the loser profits more than the winner, and especially where the winner is a champion.

"I have no fault to find with the result," said Corbett this morning. "I took the match on speculation, and I lost. I thought the fight would draw at least $12,000, but I now see where I was mistaken. I guess my match with Britt hurt last night's show in point of attendance. Britt being a local favorite, the public wanted to wait and see him box me."

Corbett had the following to say today about last night's bout: "The fight last night was easier than I thought it would be. Sullivan is clever, but his blows did not have force enough to stop me. I shall now start training for Jimmy Britt. I think I shall succeed in putting him away inside of eleven rounds. I shall have to do so in order to make good my declaration that the Californian will prove easier picking than did the Bostonian. One thing I will say for Sullivan, and that is that he is about the gamest I ever put on the gloves with. He is never whipped, and never stops fighting until completely knocked out."

Britt said today: "I saw last night's fight between Corbett and Sullivan. While the champion put up a fine contest, it was just such an argument as I hope he will hand out when he faces me in the ring at the end of this month. I can stop all the blows he handed out to Sullivan, and can deliver a series of jolts that I believe will soon bring the Denver man to time. Corbett will learn in an actual contest that he has no chopping block, like Dave Sullivan, in front of him when he faces me."

The dates for the readings of Prof. S. H. Clark of the University of Chicago have been changed to the original schedule, and tonight at Cumnock Hall he will give "The Tempest," while Sophocles's "Antigone" will be given Saturday afternoon.

Bentley and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Reggies. They will be conducted by H. F. Buckley.

Children's Purim Ball.

The annual Purim ball, given last evening at Turn Halle by the Temple society of the B'nai B'rith Synagogue, was a merry season for the young people of the Sabbath-school. After a brief address by Rabbi Hecht, the floor was surrendered to the dancers, and the "light fantastic" was tripped until a late hour. During the evening refreshments were served by the ladies of the synagogue, and as diversion a little dramatic skit, entitled "Too Much Hymen," was presented by the children.

Refinery Sold.

The Texas and California Refining Company's plant at the corner of Holly and St. James streets was sold yesterday to Calvin F. Hunter of the firm of Hunter & Camfield; consideration named $15,000. The plant is situated on a tract of five acres, which was included in the purchase price. The refinery has been closed a couple of months, but it is understood that eastern parties for whom it was bought will remodel the factory and resume operations in a short time.

Died on the Street.

John McNair, aged about 45, died very suddenly yesterday afternoon on Main street near Jefferson from a sudden attack of heart disease. He was standing at the corner of Jefferson and Main street waiting for a street car, intending to come downtown, when he was seen to place his hands to his breast and fall to the sidewalk. When the several persons who ran to his assistance reached him he was unconscious. He was carried into a rooming-house and a physician summoned, but before he could be placed on a bed he expired.

To Save His Life.

A delicate surgical operation will be performed at the County Hospital at 10 o'clock this morning in the effort to save the life of Leopold Levy, one of the sewer inspecting force of the city street department. Levy fell into a manhole at Second and Main streets Monday and broke his back, and unless the fracture can be reduced by the operation the injury is certain to result in his death. The spine is dislocated at the first dorsal vertebra, and the man's lower limbs are paralyzed. The surgeons will attempt to relieve the pressure on the spinal cord, and to do this it may be necessary to remove a section of the vetebra.

Dwellings Find Buyers.

W. W. Wishorn buys of Mrs. J. E. Waterman, through Althouse Bros., a new, modern, eight-room frame dwelling, with lot 50x145 feet, on the north side of Sixth street 200 feet west of Bixel street; consideration named, $7500. M. A. Kornblum has secured of Eric P. Hultberg 60x160 feet, with a new five-room cottage, No. 1121 Los Angeles street; consideration named, $7000. F. A. Curtin is reported to have purchased of the Hotel Maryland Company of Pasadena 30x165 feet and 30x195 feet adjoining, on the west side of Olive street between Second and Third streets, with frame dwelling, No. 227; consideration named, $13,500.

Junior Debating Contest.

"Capital punishment should be abolished," was the decision rendered last evening at the Y.M.C.A. auditorium in the contest engaged in by members of the Junior Debating Lyceum. The young spellbinders contending for the affirmative were Ernest Findley and Walter E. Switzer, while the negative was supported by Marcel Herbelin and Theodore M. Fisher. Both sides of the question were interestingly presented, but in the minds of Judges Frank Groesman and Fred Johnson the affirmative had a shade the best of the argument. Judge J. D. Hoyt dissented from the opinion of his associates.

Was Los Angeles Enterprise.

The bids for furnishing the United States government with 150,000 barrels of cement to be used in the construction of the dam in Tonto Basin, Ariz., were opened Monday in the Department of the Interior at Washington. The lowest figure was submitted by the Portland Cement Company of Denver, Colo. This company was organized and the plant constructed by C. Leonardt of Los Angeles, who is now using this cement in the construction of many of the principal buildings in this city, such as the Herman W. Heilman building, Edison building, Trust Company and the Pacific Electric Railway Company's building at Sixth and Main streets.

Drunk Saved a Block.

Patrolman Butler followed a drunken man from Main to Los Angeles street at 3 o'clock yesterday morning, and the fellow pleaded to be permitted to go to his room. The officer told him to go, and followed him along Commercial street to Los Angeles street to see that he did not fall by the wayside. While he stood watching, Butler saw smoke issuing from the office of the Price Cereal Food Company, No. 307 North Los Angeles street, and upon investigation found the place in flames. He turned in an alarm of fire and after an hour's work the firemen succeeded in extinguishing the flames. The cause of the fire is not known. In that building, in addition to the food company's office, are the printing establishment of E. L. Moat and the plant of the Los Angeles Pump Supply Company. The loss amounted to several hundred dollars, fully covered by insurance.

WAS MAN OF MYSTERY.

William Deste, Aged Frenchman, Silent as to His Past, Commits Suicide by Shooting.

William Deste, an aged Frenchman who has been a resident of Los Angeles for many years, and who claimed he was once a member of the French Chamber of Deputies, committed suicide yesterday afternoon at his home at West Eleventh and Irolo streets, Pico Heights. He placed a revolver in his mouth and sent a bullet through the base of the brain, dying instantly. Ill-health of long duration and severe pain from which the physicians could give him no relief prompted the deed.

Deceased conducted a cleaning and dyeing establishment at No. 521½ South Broadway, and had been in that business for many years. He came here from Chicago and to those intimate with him had frequently said he was once a member of the French lawmaking body. He would never tell why he left France.

Yesterday afternoon his wife started to a near-by grocery, and before leaving asked her husband whether he wanted anything. He replied that he was in great agony and that he could not stand the pain much longer. She tried to comfort him, and then left the house. Upon her return, while she was passing her husband's bedroom, she heard a shot. Rushing into the house she found him in bed, the blood flowing from his mouth and a revolver clenched in his hand. He lived less than five minutes. The Coroner was notified and took charge of the remains.

Several years ago Deste was shot at by another Frenchman, but he refused to prosecute his assailant. Subsequently he had trouble over an estate of which he was administrator, and participated in a long contest in the courts. He leaves a widow but no children.

SISTER TO HER OWN CHILDREN.

CHICAGO, March 1.—Becoming the sister of her own children is the situation of Mrs. Minnie Kruger, who, with her four sons, has been legally adopted by William R. A. Wodrich and his wife. This unique arrangement resulted through the desire of Mr. and Mrs. Wodrich to make Mrs. Kruger, who had lived with them since she was 7 years old, their legal daughter. Mrs. Kruger, who is a widow, is 25 years of age, and her four children, —William, Paul, Arthur and John— who now become her legal brothers, are 9, 6, 4 and 1 years old, respectively. Not only do the children become brothers of their mother, but should she remarry they would be brothers-in-law to their stepfather.

TWO ENGINES ARE DITCHED.

Indirect Result of "Espee" Boiler-makers' Strike.

Defective Locomotives Unable to Move Freight.

Singular Chapter of Mishaps—A Fireman Hurt.

As an indirect result of the Southern Pacific boiler makers' strike two locomotives were ditched yesterday. Fireman J. T. Johnson had his back injured, and traffic on the Southern Pacific's Santa Monica line was cut off for many hours.

A series of minor accidents, due to defective engines, which began on the long wharf at Port Los Angeles before 12 o'clock Monday night, culminated in a general smash-up about 1:45 p.m., on Twenty-fifth street, this city, just west of the point where the Southern Pacific tracks cross the Pacific Electric's Long Beach line.

Probably not in the history of the Santa Monica-Port Los Angeles branch has the Southern Pacific been subjected to greater expense and more annoying delay in moving a trainload of freight.

With four locomotives the company was unable to move seventeen carloads of freight from the Port Los Angeles wharf to the freight sheds in this city, in twenty-four hours. It was only by means of a wrecking train that the task was at last accomplished.

CHAPTER OF MISHAPS.

The freight delayed in transit was a cargo of merchandise from Hamburg, Germany, consigned to merchants in this city. The vessel which brought the goods was five months in making the voyage from Hamburg to Port Los Angeles. The work of unloading from the ship to Southern Pacific cars was accomplished Monday evening, and engine No. 1720, in charge of Engineer Doyle was sent down to the sea to haul the seventeen cars of merchandise to the city, for delivery to the importing merchants this morning.

Doyle was ready to pull his freight a little before midnight, but before he got fairly started something happened to his oil-burnnig apparatus, and he could not get up sufficient steam to move the train.

Switch engine No. 1104, with Engineer E. J. Kelly at the throttle, was sent down to pull Doyle and his stalled train to Los Angeles. The new engine got as far as Ivy station with the train, when it also "went dead," on account of a blow-out of its oil feeder.

Switch engine No. 2055, in charge of Engineer E. Ross, was next sent to the rescue. It is an old light coal engine, and was not hefty enough to get the train, with its two dead engines, over the summit.

Engine No. 2049, Engineer Robbins, in charge of a work train, found the stalled freight and its three engines on the hill and pushed it over.

SIGNAL NOT HEEDED.

Engine No. 2055 was puffing away at the head of the train. The dead engine, No. 1104, was next to it. Engine No. 1720, also dead, and No. 2049, the work-train engine, were at the rear, the latter pushing, as the Pacific Electric crossing on Twenty-fifth street was approached. Within a few hundred feet of the crossing is a switch and semaphore operated from a switching tower several hundred yards east of the electric road.

The semaphore showed a signal to come to a full stop before reaching the switch, and, as it is operated by the block system, the switch was set with a "short rail," so as to ditch the engine that attempted to pass before the signal for a clear track was given.

For some inexplicable reason, Engineer Ross, the driver of the head engine, which was the only one at that end of the train that had any air, disregarded the semaphore signal and attempted to run by the switch. The moment the drive wheels struck the "short rail" the engine jumped the track and toppled over into the ditch on the north side of the track. Engine No. 1104 followed suit. Engine No. 2049, at the rear of the train, not having been signaled to put on the air, and being out of sight of the semaphore, kept on pushing, and thus the derailed front engine had its nose run deeply into the ground before the train came to a standstill.

ENGINE MEN JUMPED.

Before the leading engines toppled completely over, the engine crews, with the exception of Fireman Johnson of the leading engine, had time to jump and escaped unhurt. Johnson went down with the engine, and had his back wrenched and bruised, but was able to walk to the Long Beach electric line and board a car which conveyed him uptown. The rest of the trainmen stayed by the wreck until the wrecking train arrived to relieve them. Some of them had been up all night laboring with disabled engines and were almost worn out in body and mind.

Only one of the freight cars was wrecked. The first one in the string telescoped against the tender of engine 1104, and the forward end was knocked off the trucks, but the car was not demolished, nor was the merchandise it contained damaged.

Engineer Kelly of No. 1104 narrowly escaped being crushed by the derailed car after he jumped. He had to make a second jump, instantly, as the corner of the car dropped to the ground on the very spot where he first landed.

WHO IS TO BLAME?

Engineer Ross, upon whom responsibility for the accident appears to rest, declined to make any explanation for publication, of his failure to heed the signal to stop. He gave a fictitious name to the reporters and declined to answer any questions as to the cause of the accident.

Ross has been in the employ of the Southern Pacific Company for a long while, but has been running a switch engine in the local yards for only about two months. It is said that this was his first run over the Santa Monica branch, and it may be that unfamiliarity with the track was the cause of his failure to observe and obey the signal. The train was running only about four miles an hour at the time, and the grade being practically level, it would not have been very difficult to come to a standstill before the switch was reached, if the signal had been obeyed in time.

The wrecker appeared on the scene about 3 o'clock and a large force of men, under personal direction of Trainmaster Thomas McCaffrey, was soon at work raising the ditched engines and clearing the track.

Many spectators visited the scene of the wreck and all marveled that nobody was killed. A serious collision occurred at the same place about four years ago.

The defective condition of the engines involved in yesterday's wreck is said to be due to the late boiler makers' strike, and some of the railroad men therefore alleged that the disaster was indirectly chargeable to the strike.

TROUBLE OVER WOMEN.

Dr. Wise and M. F. Quinn Have Amusing Tilt Over Ancient Ladies. Pioneers' Society Meets.

Various pioneer women were libeled in a perfectly scandalous manner last night at the meeting of the Pioneers' Society.

Among them Mother Eve, who was denounced by Dr. K. D. Wise as a "meddlesome old woman."

What set it going was a paper read by M. F. Quinn, a pioneer of El Monte, who had delved into ancient history and brought out facts redounding to the reputation of several ladies of whom Dr. Wise did not approve.

His remarks on the subject, which seemed to give him pain, were deliciously typical—of Dr. Wise, who is witty and not as savage as he sounds.

"Brother Quinn," he said, "you didn't do a good job hunting up women. You began 3000 years before Christ; went over the situation with a fine-tooth comb—skinned history—and only found three women, and they don't amount to much.

"This Queen Isabella, I never thought much of her. She had a lot of old jewelry she had stolen from someone. She pawned it and with the money chartered three scows that were not worth more than $75, kit and parcel.

"This man Columbus—who couldn't have missed America, so he deserves no credit for discovering it—brought back to her some stale nuts and old roots and a squaw, and she put him in prison; that's what women did for him.

"I am astonished that that woman Cleopatra should be mentioned at any civilized meeting. She was no good. She was a disgrace to the name of woman."

His refreshing and certainly unhackneyed remarks were received with shouts of laughter by the pioneers who comfortably filled Caledonia Hall.

Mr. Quinn's was really a very interesting paper. His choice for the world's heroines were Semiramis, Queen of Assyria, Cleopatra, Isabella, and the present Empress of China.

Music and a literary programme were also rendered.

During the brief business meeting, W. H. Workman, M. F. Quinn and J. M. Guin were appointed a committee to draft resolutions in regard to the death of T. D. Mott.

LARGE LIABILITIES.

Edward Green, the local liquor dealer whose financial affairs have occasioned public comment before, was yesterday declared a bankrupt, following his filing of a bankruptcy petition with the clerk of the United States District Court Monday afternoon. The amount in which his liabilities are scheduled is rather staggering—$22,478.27. Assets amount to $5100. The names of fifty creditors are given.

George J. Gould has expressed himself as well pleased with Southern California.

This makes it unanimous.

But George J. Gould cannot tell us anything about Southern California—and the thing that he can tell us about, he will not.

For instance, when asked if he is seeking Southern California with his steel tracks, George J. Gould makes the sphinx sound like the first quilting bee after harvest.

He didn't offer what might be called extended comment on the fact that Gould and Rockefeller brokers have lately been heavy buyers of Pennsylvania stock.

He didn't even attempt to explain the reason for the recent change in ownership of many small Pacific Slope railroads.

He was willing to talk about the isthmian canal, about the beauties of the country, about oiled roads—in fact, about almost anything except Gould's railroad plans.

But he forgot himself once, at least—and behind his quick-spoken words is a significance appreciated by all who have kept in touch with the great movements going on in the railroad world.

Gould visited Los Angeles yesterday, and put in a full day of sightseeing. He strolled leisurely along West Adams street, admiring its handsome homes. He didn't scorn car rides, but saw a great deal of the city from his seat in a trolley car. The new Chamdence district. Carriages were scorned. Trolley cars were good enough.

"Do the people of Southern California take much interest in the isthmian canal?" asked Mr. Gould of The Times reporter.

"They certainly do and are confident it is coming. They feel it is absolutely necessary to the development of this western country."

TONGUE SLIP—PERHAPS.

"I have always been an enthusiastic supporter of the canal, and while I have transcontinental railroad interests, I feel that whatever business the canal may take from the railroads, we will be repaid one hundredfold by the increase in business to this Coast. I realise more than ever before its importance here," Mr. Gould answered.

"But I thought you disclaimed any 'transcontinental railroad interests?'"

"Well, I meant to say 'transcontinental traffic interests,'" was the quick answer.

"It is said that the Gould-Rockefeller interests have been buying enormous blocks of Pennsylvania stock, and that upon the expiration of Cassatt's term as president, you or some one friendly to the Gould-Rockefeller interests will succeed him. Is this so?"

"I do not know that Mr. Cassatt will drop out. I believe he will continue to be president."

"But if you controlled the Pennsylvania, giving you a dominancy from the Mississippi Valley to the Atlantic seaboard, you would not stop there, would you?"

"I could not go much farther in that direction."

"But is it not your ambition to continue your system to this Coast."

"Oh, a man's ambition might carry him any place. Do people here like asphaltum streets? I understand you oil a great many of your roads."

"Yes, they oil roads outside the city and fight about them over in Pasadena."

WHAT RUMBLING MEANS.

Another transfer from Washington street to Twenty-third was made, where the sightseers walked through Chester Place to Adams street. The jaunt continued east on Adams street to Grand avenue. There the party boarded a car to the Chamber of Commerce. Here A. H. Nutt and Mr. Thorn discussed the relative merits of products of California and of Texas. Mr. Gould was deeply interested in the exhibits, and examined them closely.

"Of course these jars magnify a little, don't they?" he asked, "these things all look pretty big."

Mr. Thorn was soon lost in a corner behind a show case of wine.

"Will Gould complete his line to California, Mr. Thorn?"

"If you will put your ear to the earth you will hear the tramp of thousands of men and teams completing the connecting link between his eastern system and Pittsburgh and Baltimore; and if you continue to listen you will hear the rumble move westward. Why, George Kramer, who is vice-president of the Colorado Midland, and I will not feel that our mission on earth has been completed until we see the great engines of the Gould system roll on to the shores of the Golden West, and we will see it. Isn't that so, Kramer?"

"That is our mission," answered the latter.

At the Arcade depot Engineer Haddber of Commerce also interested him, and he inspected it thoroughly.

BUSY TIME UPTOWN.

Arriving from San Diego at La Grande station at 1:30 o'clock, the special was at once transferred to the Arcade Depot, where the men of the party, nine in number, went uptown to the office of the Texas and Pacific. Superintendent Ingram of the Southern Pacific was not in when a visit was paid to his office at the Arcade, but he caught the visitors at the Gould headquarters.

Mr. Ingram, Mr. Gould and E. T. Jeffery, president of the Denver and Rio Grande, sat down to a desk and held an earnest consultation for half an hour, while the private secretaries plugged off telegrams and messages on three typewriters. It was a busy place for a few minutes. After a short reception at the hands of old friends who had caught news of the arrival and dropped in to pay their respects, the tour of the city began.

Westlake Park was visited, then the party went to the southwestern resilock sat in the window of his record flyer all in readiness to start. This engine will have covered over 3000 miles at the end of this tour, and will have traveled over many lines other than her own, something which is seldom allowed in railroading. Although late in starting, the party waited while their pictures were taken by The Times photographer, and then with a wave of their hats bade farewell to Los Angeles. The next stop will be made at Santa Barbara.

VISIT IS SIGNIFICANT.

So closes one chapter in vast transcontinental plans which are in embryo. Engineers have been in the field examining passes and surveying routes between Salt Lake City and San Francisco, and also between Denver and San Diego. A number of short roads in Arizona and New Mexico have unaccountably changed hands. Several new roads have been projected in the same region. Mystery has surrounded all these movements. Capital, sufficient to maintain a dozen corps of engineers in the field, to negotiate for right-of-way and terminal facilities and to purchase local roads capable of being merged into trunk lines, has been unsparingly used, but the financial sponsors for all these operations have been carefully concealed from the public.

While these movements have been proceeding steadily between the Rocky Mountains and the Pacific Coast, a significant and gigantic struggle has been going on east of the Ohio River between two master spirits in the railroad world. When George J. Gould made a determined effort to reach the Atlantic seaboard with his Wabash system, he was held at bay by Alexander J. Cassatt of the Pennsylvania road. Gould persisted and bought into roads competing with the Pennsylvania. He is president and largest owner of the Western Union Telegraph Company, and was serving the Pennsylvania Railway. Cassatt threatened to remove the Western Union wires, and finally ordered the poles chopped down. A suit resulted and the Pennsylvania won.

EYES TURN COASTWARD.

Gould took his medicine, but quietly formed an alliance with John D. Rockefeller, who was already a large holder of New York Central stock, principal competitor of the Pennsylvania system. Recently the Rockefeller and Gould brokers have been buying enormous blocks of Pennsylvania stock. Cassatt's term as president expires within a year. A new president friendly to the Rockefeller-Gould combination will be elected, and then Gould will have access to the seaboard. He will have unobstructed transportation from the Mississippi Valley, where his system has extensive ramifications, to the coveted port of New York.

But Gould will not attain the full measure of his ambition till he also commands the gateways of the Pacific. Consequently, unlimited capital is preparing to complete a grand transcontinental railway system which will control the traffic between the two oceans. When Gould and Rockefeller build their western extensions and secure their eastern terminals they will own the most gigantic system of transportation on the globe.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE—OFFICIAL DOINGS.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Municipal Art Commission passed judgment on a number of pictures of poles submitted in prize competition at the session yesterday. The commission decided that the pole nuisance must be abated if Los Angeles is to become an artistic city.

Another blow at the advertising rubbish cans was delivered by the Art Commission yesterday.

City Treasurer Workman had an interview with Attorney Frank Flint yesterday, and it is not likely that the city money will be recalled from local banks.

A colored preacher provided a show for the Police Commission yesterday morning.

The facts in connection with the making of the will by the late Mrs. Rosetta Ingersoll in which she cut her husband out of her thoughts altogether, and left a valuable estate to a brother and sister, is being inquired into by Judge Wilbur.

The modest yet comfortable estate left by the late David S. Wardlaw is in court, and a peculiar feature is that the deceased left the will, but without having it witnessed.

Overholtzer and his dupe, Mrs. Allen, were held to answer for forging a deed, in the Police Court yesterday.

AT THE CITY HALL.

POLE NUISANCE IS DEPLORED.

ART COMMISSION VIEWS SOME HARROWING PICTURES.

Photographs of Our Leafless Forest Submitted in Prize Competition—Art Board Will Assist Citizens in Vigorous Campaign Against Poles.

The unsightly telephone and telegraph poles must go. The Municipal Art Commission has said it.

At the session in the committee room yesterday another step was taken in the fight against the pole nuisance. It was declared that the movement to remove all poles from the principal streets had not worn itself out in storming the Council chamber walls. On the contrary the opponents of the poles are said to be waiting for a chance to strike more effectively than before.

Residents of West Adams street, who carried the matter before the Council, were not enthusiastic over their reception, but they are biding their time, working with the civic organizations, stirring up public sentiment and planning for a grand coup at the polls next December.

It is predicted that in every ward the pole nuisance will be one of the issues which candidates must face.

In order to make the public aware of the extent of the nuisance the Municipal League offered $30 in three prizes for the most striking views of the offending poles. Yesterday the Municipal Art Commission sat in judgment upon the photographs sent in.

The first prize of $10 for the three best pictures 4½x4½ inches in size, was awarded to H. M. Harwood of No. 965 Ingraham street. Of these three photographs the one showing the poles at Ninth and Park View streets was the most striking. The others depicted lines of poles at Ninth and Figueroa street and at Tenth and Hill street.

In this class G. Durnarin received favorable mention for views taken at Adams and Figueroa street and at Ninth street and Burlington avenue. It was the judgment of the commission, however, that Mr. Durnerim had allowed his artistic temperament to get the best of him, and that in a contest where the "worst picture was the best" he had chosen altogether too lovely a background for his poles.

A member of the Los Angeles Camera Club, signing the initials "J. B. F.," won the second prize, of $6 for pictures 5x7 inches with views taken at Sixteenth and Georgia street, Figueroa and Washington street and Figueroa and twenty-third street.

The third prize of $4 for 4x5-inch pictures went to H. M. Harwood.

In discussing the pole nuisance the commissioners expressed themselves very forcible on what they termed the "headstones of civic pride," "the horrible poles," and "the Nemesis of art."

They argued that the poles should be removed because they disfigure the streets, obstruct the sidewalks and everywhere interfere with the view.

Whatever can be done by the Municipal Art Commissoin to arouse public sentiment against the unsightly poles will be carried out with a will, as the members are impressed with the idea that the removal of this transplanted and leafless forest is one of the first things that must be done to make Los Angeles the beautiful city that nature intended.

ADVERTISING CANS.

At the mere mention of the project to place rubbish cans covered with advertising on the sidewalks of the business section the commissioners were aroused to emphatic protest. That it would be a great mistake to allow these iron billboards along the curbs, each member of the board was convinced.

Commissioner Parkinson introduced a resolution, which was unanimously adopted, advising the Council that in the opinion of the Municipal Art Commission the proposed advertising rubbish cans would disfigure the street and harm the city from an artistic standpoint. It was suggested that if the city must have these cans that they be placed in the alleys.

Mrs. Washburn read some extracts from Charles Mulford Robinson's late book on "Modern Civic Art—The City Made Beautiful," in which a strong stand was taken against such methods of advertising.

In New York it appears that a private corporation tried to secure the same right that is asked here and offered 12½ per cent. of the gross receipts. From figures laid before the city authorities at the time it appeared that the gross revenue from this franchise would be nearly $1,000,000 a year.

The author of the work laid down the principle that it was a first requisite to making a city beautiful to dispense with sidewalk advertising and everything else not absolutely essential to the convenience of the street.

The communication from the Municipal Art Commissoin is only one of a number in like vein that will be submitted to the Council next Monday.

LIGHTING BROADWAY.

Hearty indorsement was given the plan to illumine Broadway by placing ornamental lamp posts fifty feet apart for the full distance from Temple to Tenth street. A plan of the post to be used and of the incandescent and arc lamp was before the commission, and was approved. A resolution was adopted, reciting that as a plan was on foot to make of Broadway an attractive boulevard for pedestrians at night, "the Municipal Art Commission views with pleasure and heartily commends the efforts of those having the work in hand and in complimenting them trusts that their endeavors to improve and beautify our city will not fall of emulation on the part of other public-spirited citizens desirous of seeing Los Angeles the model city of the Pacific Coast."

A recommendation was sent to the Council advocating the employment of a landscape gardener in laying out the grounds of the new Polytechnic High School.

CITY MONEY IN BANKS.
WHAT THE CHARTER SAYS.

There is no present probability that the City Treasurer will be compelled to recall the city's money from the banks where it is now on deposit. The only effect that the notice served by Flint & Barker on behalf of an unknown client is likely to have is to make the banks extremely wary of purchasing municipal securities and to decrease the chances of the local sale of the $400,000 storm-drain bonds.

City Treasurer Workman had an interview with Attorney Frank Flint yesterday as a result of which he was much comforted. The attorney assured the City Treasurer that if the banks would unite and assist in the passage through the Legislature of a bill making it legal to loan out the city's money no suit would be brought to compel the keeping of the money in the unsafe city vault.

What would happen in case such a suit should be brought successfully would be problematical. Few people would care to take the responsibility for over $2,000,000 stored in the Treasurer's vault and it would be next to impossible for anyone to secure a bond such as the charter requires under such circumstances.

The charter says that "Whenever the city shall provide a proper vault and safes in the City Hall for the keeping of the city money, the Treasurer shall keep said moneys in said vault, except as hereinafter provided." Competent legal authority holds that as the keeping of city money is distinctly a municipal affair this charter provision would excuse the Treasurer from putting money in an insecure vault. The charter also contains a scheme for making that bank which bids the highest rate of interest the depository for the city's money, but the Supreme Court punctured the section in a case which was tried several years ago.

As the controversy over the city's money has arisen it may be interesting for citizens to know how the $2,158,397.57 is apportioned among the banks. The list follows: American National Bank, $356,000; Broadway Bank and Trust Company, $187,000; Central Bank of Los Angeles, $111,373; Citizens' National Bank, $79,000; Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank, $438,000; Merchants' National Bank, $146,000; Southwestern National Bank, $356,000; State Bank and Trust Company, $134,000; Commercial National Bank, $30,000; First National Bank, $136,000; Los Angeles National Bank, $5000; Los Angeles Trust Company, $59,000; National Bank of California, $100,000. Gold, silver and currency in city vaults, $66,022.97.

AFTER DRY PLACE.
COLORED PREACHER WINS.

"Rev." George Moses Washington—perhaps a nom de plume—was the chief feature of the Police Commission session yesterday morning. It was well that he did not present his complaint until the table was cleared of other business, as he aroused such laughter as to put the commissioners hors du combat.

It was all because Mistah Washington thought that he had been discriminated against in the matter of street preaching. He thought he had drawn a poor money-making location and wanted to be transferred to another post.

With a tall beaver hat in one hand and a cane in the other the colored preacher came to the table to address the board. He was a picture of dilapidation. The hat was a relic of the Revolutionary period. He wore a long duster coat, torn and bedraggled. Mistah Washington was a few shades darker than the ace of spades and might plead to the use of lampblack as a cosmetic. His nose must have been going somewhere at sixty miles an hour sometime and suffered a collision. At least it wasn't exactly aquiline. Then there were the whites of Mistah Washington's eyes as a startling contrast.

"Shood it please dis honorable body," began Mistah Washington, "I'se wants er dry place to speak de gospel ob de Lord. I'se not a doin' berry well down where I is naow. I'ze er way down on er corner ob Vignes an' First street, an' I can't make enny money daown dere. Where I was on First an' Los Angeles streets, I'ze made er plenty ob money, but dere ain't enny money a preachin' daown dere at Vignes street. An I'se been in de water a preachin', too. Very wet daown dere. I'ze wants er dry place to preach in an'——"

But the colored preacher got no further. His speech delivered in the inimitable drawl of the negro, was too much for the risibles of the commissioners. Keeney made a dive for his pocket.

"I guess a collection is about all we can do for you," he said.

Amid much laughter the commissioners dug out all their small change and Keeney dumped it all into the preacher's battered beaver hat. The collection amounted to several dollars.

Then it was the preacher's turn to laugh, and he did right heartily; he blessed all the commissioners and with difficulty was prevented from delivering a long sermon on the spot.

The Police Commissioners—cynics they all get to be—knowing the record and habits of the venerable colored preacher, were compelled to doubt whether he would seek a dry spot or a brand of "wet goods" that has before landed him at the city's bastile.

STAR POINTERS.

Miss Emma F. Baily, matron of the Salvation Army Rescue Home on Griffin avenue, was appointed a special policeman by the board yesterday. She is the second woman in this city to hold such a position. The late Staff Captain Nellie Truelove of the Salvation Army was the first.

Chief Elton requested one week's further time to report on pending applications for saloon licenses which led to the surmise that the applicants were not enamored of having Bowen in the Mayor's chair when the licenses were acted upon.

Benjamin Gold was again denied a permit to preach on the streets, the board having once revoked his permit.

H. L. Varey was appointed a regular policeman and Richard Rose, Robert aPntz and Joseph Schneider were appointed regular special policemen.

Requisition was made on the Civil Service Commission for eight more eligibles for the position of patrolman.

The usual number of billiard-hall applications were acted upon.

Ask Pipe-line Permit.

The Mission Transportation and Refining Company filed two applications for pipe-line permits with the City Clerk yesterday. The company wishes to lay pipes not more than six inches in diameter from its plant on East Sixth street to the plants of the Los Angeles Electric Company, the Los Angeles Lighting Company and other companies down near the river.

CONTESTS WILL OF HIS WIFE.

CHARGE OF UNDUE INFLUENCE MADE BY HUSBAND.

Battle Being Urged in Court Over the Estate of Rosetta S. Ingersoll, Which is Valued at Seventy-five Thousand Dollars.

The sensational contest of the will of the late Rosetta S. Ingersoll is being tried before Judge Wilbur, and the allegations of the most startling character are to be implied from the testimony that is being put in rather than gleaned from anything actually said.

The contest is made by C. K. Ingersoll, the husband of deceased. Mr. and Mrs. Ingersoll lived on a very fine orange grove at Monrovia, and though there have been outside statements to the effect that they were not altogether happy during the last few years of Mrs. Ingersoll's life, even that has to be inferred from the testimony, as no direct proof of cruelty is charged.

That the late Mrs. Ingersoll was a woman of refined character and artistic ability, is shown by the paintings that line the walls of the Monrovia home, some of which are the product of her brush. There was some talk of having Mrs. Ingersoll committed for insanity, but the charge fell flat. Later she had a paralytic stroke, to July, 1902, and her weakness and debility then became acute. Her mind became affected, according to the statements of her husband, and she contracted a violent dislike for people who had theretofore been among her best friends. But Ingersoll avers, with a certain pathos, that even then she bore him the same affection she had ever done, and by every evidence showed that she regarded him with undiminished regard. But just a year later, in July, 1903, Mrs. Ingersoll had a second stroke of paralysis, and after that her mental trouble became accentuated. Her husband says that then for the first time did she indicate in any way distrust of him, and this became pointedly distinct only when her brother arrived from the East.

The contesting husband avers that it was at the solicitation of his wife that her brother, L. J. Elliott, of Racine, Wis., came to Southern California. When he arrived he professed the greatest regard for Ingersoll and learning of his sister's peculiar condition said he would do what he could to make her realize that her husband was all that she had ever thought him. But instead of doing this, Ingersoll says, on October 8 his wife made her will, now being offered for probate, in which he was altogether ignored and left the entire property to her brother and sister, Elliott getting two-thirds and a sister, Mrs. Louisa M. Deacon, one-third.

The actual value of the estate has not yet been shown, but one side avers that it is about $75,000, for the reason that this is the amount that Mrs. Ingersoll handed over to her husband for investment. The husband, on the other hand, maintains that though his wife did receive bequests from members of her family, it was at various times and in varying amounts, and did not exceed $12,000 in all. These moneys were put with his earnings in the common fund, and Ingersoll invested them as he saw best.

After the will had been made by Mrs. Ingersoll it is alleged by the contestant that Mr. Elliott made arrangements on the quiet to take his sister away, and October 15 did take her with him East without allowing her husband even an opportunity to say good-by to his wife.

And to cap the climax, it is further alleged, that on the very day that Elliott and his sister took train for the East she swore to a complaint in a suit brought against the husband to compel him to make an accounting of all the moneys handed over by his wife from time to time for investment. This latter suit will probably form an aftermath to the present action, and though it may fall of its own weight if Mr. Ingersoll succeeds in breaking the will, under the contrary circumstances a sad tangle up of accounts must follow. This for the reason that the separate property of Mrs. Ingersoll was placed and used with the other family funds which were community property.

Upon the stand Mr. Ingersoll said in answer to the interrogatories of Valentine & Newby, that for the last ten years his wife had not been in vigorous health, and after she had the first stroke she found it impossible to get about without assistance. She could not close her hand at all.

She could grasp a book or any large object, but could not hold a pen or pencil. She walked with the assistance of a crutch, and was at all times feeble and debilitated.

The contention of the husband is that his wife did not sign the will, and even if she did it was under pressure from her brother, who had poisoned her mind. He said that in talking together and making plans it was always considered that what money they had striven to accumulate as well as what she had inherited was common property and would go to the one that survived the other. When the possibility of death removing her first became a strong probability, he said that his wife told him that he was to have it all.

As Mr. Ingersoll told his story and spoke of his wife he was visibly affected, but only in a very quiet way, for he is a hardy kind of old man of the plain-spoken variety.

Mr. Elliott, the brother, who is attacked by the contestant, is a wealthy manufacturer, and bears a fine reputation in his home city. He denies the allegations of Ingersoll in toto.

NOT A WILL.
MERELY A MUTILATED PAPER.

Mrs. Mary A. Wardlow has petitioned for letters of administration in the estate of her deceased husband, David S. Wardlow, who died February 24. The estate is valued at $25,923. The widow and three children are living at Burnett, in this county, and the bulk of the estate is represented by an eighty-four-acre ranch under cultivation. It is valued at $20,000.

What purports to be a will was found among the papers of the deceased, but is neither witnessed, nor is the handwriting wholly that of the deceased. For these reasons the widow alleges that her husband died intestate.

OFFICIALS' REPORTS.
COUNTY MONEYS BOXED UP.

With the exception of about three months during the past year the county funds have never fallen below the $1,000,000 mark. And the count made yesterday by the officials as required by law shows that March forms no exception to the general rule. There was found in gold $832,710; currency, $246,877; and in silver $577.74; making a grand total of $1,080,184.74.

And all of this money is withdrawn absolutely from circulation and is stored in the county's depository.

County Clerk Keyes reported having received the following fees during the month of February: probate, $679.90; civil, $1925.75; miscellaneous, $654.15; making a total of $3285.80. This amount was disposed of as follows: To Law Library Fund, $325; salary fund, $2220.80; total, $3285.80.

During the month of February County Tax Collector Welch gathered in the following amounts to the several tax funds: road tax, $3309.26; school, $2118.81; city, $14,631.99; country, $4618.38; Long Beach wharf, $3.62; 15 per cent. penalty, $417.32; over and double assessments, $7.42.

This makes a grand aggregate of $27,106.80 collected during the month just ended.

COURT NOTES.
BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

LIBBY COMMITTED. Malcolm M. Libby, the young electrician who attempted to assault Rev. J. Kendall at Santa Monica with a pair of scissors, and otherwise showed decided signs of insanity, was committed to Highland yesterday. The young fellow lost his mental poise suddenly, and yesterday shouted and raved while before Judge Wilbur. It developed, however, that since a child he has been troubled with abscesses in the head, and though the present attack is far more acute than any previously experienced it is believed by the medical examiners that he will recover.

IMPORTANT FORECLOSURE. The Farmers' and Merchants' Bank yesterday began suit against Richard Garvey et al to foreclose large holdings in the Rancho Potrero Grande, to satisfy a balance of $80,399 due on a note.

HASTINGS DIVORCE. Mrs. E. H. Hastings was granted a decree by Judge Bledsoe, sitting yesterday for Judge Conrey, divorcing her from L. Hastings, on the ground of desertion.

THE INFERIOR COURTS.

MUST ANSWER FOR FORGERY.

OVERHOLTZER AND MRS. ALLEN BOTH BOUND OVER.

No Defense Offered at the Preliminary Examination—Both Defendants Extremely Penitent—The Woman Not to Blame in This Case.

J. A. Overholtzer and Mrs. E. W. Allen were held to answer yesterday, by Justice Chambers, on the charge of forgery. They made no defense at the preliminary examination, and it is understood that Overholtzer will plead guilty in the Superior Court, while the case against Mrs. Allen will probably be dismissed on motion of the District Attorney.

At the hearing yesterday, Mrs. Mary E Griswold testified that she never sold her Pasadena property, or any other property to Overholtzer, or Carl Anderson, the name under which he conducted the fraudulent transaction. She was only slightly acquainted with Overholtzer and did not know Mrs. Allen at all.

John Wayer, a notary public, testified to the signing and acknowledgment of the deed, in his presence, by Mrs. Allen impersonating Mrs. Griswold, by which the latter's five acres at North Pasadena were conveyed to Carl Anderson. Wayer said Overholtzer, known to him as Carl Anderson, introduced Mrs. Allen to him as Mrs. Griswold, and the latter acknowledged the deed in the name of Mrs. Griswold.

Capt. Bradish and A. P. Mulford, Esq., testified to conversations had with Overholtzer after his arrest, in which he acknowledged his guilt, and stated that Mrs. Allen signed Mrs. Griswold's name, and swore falsely at his request and without knowledge of the crime, she was committing in so doing.

Overholtzer was accompanied in court by his two sons, two fine-looking young men, one of them a merchant in Pomona, and the other a resident of Berkeley. The sons feel their father's disgrace keenly and are unable to account for his lapse from rectitude after he had led an honorable life for more than sixty years.

Mrs. Allen was accompanied in court by her husband, who tried to comfort her as she sat and wept bitterly during the recital of her wrongdoing. Overholtzer also looked deeply dejected and hid his face with his hands.

Justice Chambers in holding them to answer, fixed the bail at the same figures it was before, $5000 bond, or $3000 cash for the man and $2000 bond or $1000 cash for his dupe, the woman.

MUST PAY OLD SCORE.
"MACS" REAPPEAR IN COURT.

Two complaints were lodged against Edward C. Rice yesterday. The old charge of vagrancy upon which he was given a "floater" about a year ago, was resurrected and he will be required to serve the time, having reappeared in the city in violation of the order of the court. Rice was also charged with gambling in connection with J. H. O'Brien's sure-thing wheel-of-fortune, having been arrested in O'Brien's place on the "Spring-street Midway." Both cases were set for tomorrow, when O'Brien will also come up for trial.

A third man roped in at the same time is O. F. Cline, over whose head hangs a ninety-day "floater" for vagrancy, having been convicted at the same time that Rice was. His case will be taken up today. Both he and Rice say they will employ attorneys and fight the floater. Both are well-known "macs" and it is said by the police that they have brought their "ladies" back to the city with them. They had been seen about Ascot Park prior to their arrest on Monday, but as that is outside the city they could not be arrested.

DREW A PAIR.
STURGIS GOT DOUBLE-HEADER.

Policeman Waltz was after S. D. Sturgis yesterday with a warrant sworn out by Building Inspector Krause, charging him with a violation of the city ordinance for persisting in his determination to repair the burned building on Fifth street, in defiance of the order of the inspector. When Waltz got him, Sturgis was driving an automobile that did not carry a number, and he was charged with that offense after having been arraigned on the warrant. He made the plea that the number had been removed to repaint the machine, and had been overlooked. Justice Austin imposed the nominal fine of $1. Hearing in the other case was set for tomorrow at 2 o'clock.

A warrant is out for Robert Macall, also in connection with the reconstruction of the burned building on Fifth street, and he will be arraigned today.

Wire Thieves Sentenced.

George Williams and Oscar Banks who were convicted of stealing two coils of copper wire from the Pacific Electric company, were yesterday sentenced to serve 120 days each.

PICKPOCKET CAUGHT AT WORK.

STEALS PURSE, IS DISCOVERED AND QUICKLY CAPTURED.

"Touches" Pittsburgh Tourist for Several Hundred Dollars, Drops Money When Chased to Divert Pursuit, and Runs Into Officer.

One of the pickpockets who have been robbing people in various parts of the city during the past month, was caught in the act of committing a robbery yesterday morning, was chased into the arms of a policeman and is now behind the bars. The prisoner give the name of William Adams and is believed to be a professional crook. The name he gave is probably assumed.

W. H. Galbraith, a wealthy glass manufacturer whose home is in Pittsburgh, was at the Fourth-street depot of the Los Angeles-Pacific Railway Company with his daughter, and while in the act of lifting her upon a car, felt somebody's hand in his hip pocket. In that pocket was a purse containing several hundred dollars. Still holding his daughter, Galbraith turned just in time to see a man withdraw his hand with the purse in it. Galbraith tried to seize the thief, but the man eluded his grasp and started to run, with Galbraith in pursuit.

As he ran the thief dropped the purse, thinking his victim would stop to recover it and give him a chance to escape. Galbraith, however, continued in pursuit of the thief and called for help and also called to those near by to get his purse. Patrolman Alexander was at Fourth and Hill streets. He was off duty, and was not in uniform, and the thief ran directly into his arms. Galbraith was only a few feet behind and soon explained the nature of the trouble. Alexander promptly handcuffed the thief and sent him to the City Jail. He was charged with grand larceny.

Galbraith returned to the car and found his purse in the street. Instead of going to Santa Monica he went to police headquarters, where he positively identified the prisoner as the pickpocket. The thief was also identified by other persons who witnessed the robbery.

Adams refused positively to make any statement. He would not tell where he came from or where he lived. He seemed to realise that he had been fairly caught and did not propose to give the police any further information. His manner has convinced the officers that he is an expert pickpocket and that he has been under arrest before.

RAILROAD NOTES.

The Salt Lake road will run a theater train on the first Saturday in every month from Glendale, leaving that place at 6:45 p.m. and returning at 11:30. The run has been put on at the request of the residents of Glendale and Tropico, and is considered an enterprising act on the part of the railroad.

It was announced yesterday by the officials of the Southern Pacific Company that the new Chatsworth Park route will be formally opened on the 20th inst. All trains of the Coast line will be run through the tunnel and the valley lines will continue to go by way of the San Fernando grade.

Dr. John R. Colburn has been appointed chief surgeon of the Salt Lake Railroad. Dr. Guy Cochran has been made assistant chief surgeon.

Epes Randolph, general manager of the Pacific Electric Railway Company, arrived from Tucson yesterday afternoon to remain. He appears in the best of health and is glad to be in Los Angeles again.

FIERY SHOTS BY COUNSEL

Day of Pointed Oratory the Griffith Case.

Attorney Rogers Says Som Unkind Things.

Clicking Demonstration o Action of "Hammerless."

With bitterness Earl Rogers slash various people during his argumen the Griffith case yesterday.

Out of the old-time warfare betw himself and the District Attorn Capt. Fredericks got a stinging shot

In his own argument, Frederick had called Oscar Lawler, a witness, curly-headed youth."

"If this curly-headed youth," sa Rogers savagely, "had wanted th job Fredericks holds, if he had let be known for about fifteen minut that he would take it, Capt. Frede icks would not have even been amou the 'also rans.' He would not ha gone to the post. He would not ha been taken from the stable."

Fredericks had just stepped fro the courtroom for a moment whe Rogers made that remark.

He accused Fredericks of havin "inspired" the evening papers to pri his speeches.

"When the papers came out tha afternoon, I read the eloquent closin remarks of Mr. Fredericks. I went t the telephone and asked when Fred ericks had closed. The reply was tha he was not through yet. I found ou later that I had enjoyed those "clos ing remarks" about an hour and half before they were made."

Rogers charged, among other wick things, that the prosecution had su pressed testimony.

Joseph Mesmer, a brother of Mr Griffith, also "got his."

Rogers alluded to the fact that t money over which Griffith was alleg to have shot Mrs. Griffith was in th hends of her brother, Mr. Mesmer.

"And let me tell you," Rogers sai scornfully, "that no sane man woul consider money in Joe Mesmer's hand as being near enough cash to sho anyone for. It would be all the di ference between cash and conversa tion."

Rogers begged of the jury not t send Griffith to prison, but to gi him a chance to be cured of a disease He practically guaranteed that Griffith, if acquitted, would go to a pr vate asylum and would do everythin he or his money had power to do, t make every reparation to Mrs. Griffi for this terrible wrong.

THE RUSH TO HEAR.

For years, every time the colore janitors have seen Rogers marchin down the Courthouse corridor with long-tailed coat and a dignified tread they have knocked off work and stampeded for the courtroom.

"You can allus tell," said Deacon Anderson, the mop expert of th fourth-floor squad, "that they is somethin' doin' when Mistah Rogers is i that flap-tail coat."

Rogers talked powerfully. As mas as could possibly get into the cour room listened, standing on one an other's bunions.

They even stood on agonizing th toes peeking over the curtains by th clerk's desk, and more than half the crowd was of women.

The most devoted listener was a man with toothache, who sat in th only seat he could get—in the draught of an open window, his jaw on—by special dispensation—and pulled down over his eyes and the collar of his coat held up about his poor old pro testing tusk. But he stayed to listen

STRUGGLE FOR REVOLVER.

Rogers hit one of the most strikin points in Griffith's defense at the very drop of the starting flag—the most striking point tending to show that Mrs. Griffith was struggling for the revolver and caused it to be acci dentally discharged in Griffith's hands

Rogers sought to show this by th fact that Griffith wrote four of the famous questions on the card from which he read to Mrs. Griffith praying on her knees before him, yet only read three of them.

Mrs. Griffith herself testified that the fourth question was not read to her.

"Why did he not read that fourth?" said Rogers. "He told her to get on her knees and answer some questions He had them written on a card. Why did he read three of those questions and not the fourth?"

He said it indicated clearly that he had been interrupted. By whom?

"Don't tell me," said Rogers, "that a man or a woman will not grab a revolver pointed at him."

ROGERS AS A REPORTER.

He told a story out of his own experience to illustrate.

"It was in the days when I was young, innocent and full of imagination—a reporter."

One day he heard a rustle near his desk and looked up to see a woman at his side pointing a revolver into his ear.

"She looked as big as the Courthouse. With a number and two headlights she would have done for a hack—she was just about the shape."

"Who wrote that article about me?" she demanded in a thunderous voice.

Rogers amusingly explained how he guilefully got the woman to find the article in the newspaper, then grabbed the gun.

Going back to the case, he explained his belief that the course of the bullet as it plowed through Mrs. Griffith's head, showed that the shot could not have been fired as Mrs. Griffith claimed, while she was on her knees.

His conclusion was that it was a deplorable accident resulting from an insane idea of this man's; an idea to make his wife swear not to disgrace his fancied exalted position in life by any misconduct.

It was in this connection that Rogers insinuated the truth had been suppressed.

"Why was it?" he demanded, "that they so studiously avoided asking Mrs. Griffith the position of the revolver and what became of it?"

He said that it was a case of high-priced special counsel prosecuting, not genuinely in the interests of the State, but for private revenge.

THAT OVERCOAT.

He said that Griffith's overcoat was a significant point. Had he been sane and plotting murder, Griffith would not have come into the room and packed his overcoat in a trunk before committing his frenzied deed. Also, Rogers claimed that Griffith would have planned some escape instead of giving himself into custody.

"He must have been crazy; don't you think he must have been crazy?"

That fatal remark of Mrs. Griffith's, made to the first one who came to her after the shooting, you may be sure Rogers seized with the eagerness of a hound puppy after liver.

He endeavored to show that she was

Rogers hit one of the most striking points in Griffith's defense at the very top of the starting flag—the most striking point tending to show that Mrs. Griffith was struggling for the revolver and caused it to be accidentally discharged in Griffith's hands.

Rogers sought to show this by the fact that Griffith wrote four of the famous questions on the card from which he read to Mrs. Griffith praying on her knees before him, yet only read three of them.

Mrs. Griffith herself testified that the fourth question was not read to her.

"Why did he not read that fourth?" said Rogers. "He told her to get on her knees and answer some questions. He had them written on a card. Why did he read three of those questions and not the fourth?"

He said it indicated clearly that he had been interrupted. By whom?

"Don't tell me," said Rogers, "that a man or a woman will not grab a revolver pointed at him,"

ROGERS AS A REPORTER.

He told a story out of his own experience to illustrate.

"It was in the days when I was young, innocent and full of imagination—a reporter."

One day he heard a rustle near his desk and looked up to see a woman at his side pointing a revolver into his ear.

"She looked as big as the Courthouse. With a number and two headlights she would have done for a hack—she was just about the shape."

"Who wrote that article about me?" he demanded in a thunderous voice.

Rogers amusingly explained how he ruefully got the woman to find the article in the newspaper, then grabbed the gun.

Going back to the case, he explained his belief that the course of the bullet as it plowed through Mrs. Griffith's head, showed that the shot could not have been fired as Mrs. Griffith claimed, while she was on her knees.

His conclusion was that it was a deplorable accident resulting from an insane idea of this man's; an idea to make his wife swear not to disgrace a fancied exalted position in life by any misconduct.

It was in this connection that Rogers insinuated the truth had been suppressed.

"Why was it?" he demanded, "that they so studiously avoided asking Mrs. Griffith the position of the revolver and what became of it?"

He said that it was a case of high-priced special counsel prosecuting, not genuinely in the interests of the State, but for private revenge.

THAT OVERCOAT.

He said that Griffith's overcoat was a significant point. Had he been sane and plotting murder, Griffith would not have come into the room and packed the overcoat in a trunk before committing his frenzied deed. Also, Rogers claimed that Griffith would have planned some escape instead of giving himself into custody.

"He must have been crazy; don't you think he must have been crazy?"

That fatal remark of Mrs. Griffith's, made to the first one who came to her after the shooting, you may be sure was seized with the eagerness of a hound puppy after liver.

He endeavored to show that she was at that time in the fear of death and that her statement had the sacredness—in the eyes of the law—of an oath.

QUESTION OF MONEY.

He sniffed with scorn at the contention of the prosecution that Griffith wanted to kill his wife to avoid an accounting of her inheritance from the Mesmer estate.

"Heavens and earth," he growled, "Griffith gave more money to this city than the whole Mesmer family ever had."

Rogers was obliged to differ with District Attorney Fredericks as to the order of merit of the medical experts. Fredericks stated his candid belief to be that for learning the experts for the prosecution made the experts for the defense look like dubs. Rogers's opinion was that Griffith's experts were immeasurably and infinitely superior in acumen and learning.

He hurled shafts of ridicule at the Napa asylum expert—Dr. Cohn—who had been a Hammam bath man.

The one for the jury to believe, he said, was Dr. Brainerd.

"Why, Dr. Brainerd taught most of these kids who have testified, and I must say that they are not much of a credit to him. The doctor and I were obliged to agree on that."

THE FERVENT VAPOR.

He let steam baths down easy, however.

"We city men," he said, "lead strenuous lives until we break down. Then we have to be braced. We are steamed and sweated and rubbed and cold tubbed. Then a smoke, a beefsteak and we are ready for the next case."

One of the most striking features of Rogers's argument was a number of cases cited out of his experience.

He told of a steward on a steamship going out of San Diego who had always been regarded as the sanest of men, coming out of the cabin one day and murdering one of the passengers. Investigations after his arrest showed that for years he had had the delusion that a Catholic priest was trying to induce people to poison him. This delusion he kept concealed. Rogers cited this because experts said during the trial that Griffith would have more generally shown his delusions had he been afflicted with them.

"HAMMERLESS" CLICKED.

Toward the end of Rogers's argument came an incident that was not impressive. An elderly juror who has risen up at intervals during the case to ask wise questions, wanted to see the fatal revolver.

Rogers brought the weapon and explained its action. The old juror wanted to know if a hammerless revolver could go off in a struggle. To show him, Rogers gave him the stock of the firearm while he gallantly held the muzzle. They struggled until the juror grew scarlet from the courtroom's snickers and the old revolver kept clicking at a fearful rate.

At the close, in stating Griffith's intentions to do all in his power to make reparation to his wife, Rogers said: "We lawyers have to act by instructions, so you can judge why it was that we have not been permitted to say one word against the woman who stands here as the accuser of Col. Griffith. He would not allow it."

Maj. John T. Jones will make the closing argument for the defense this morning to be followed by Mr. Gage. Court will convene at 9 o'clock. The case will go to the jury late today.

PILGRIMS START FOR JERUSALEM.

PARTY OF ELEVEN GO OUT FROM LOS ANGELES.

Colored Delegates to Methodist Conference Give Notice of Their Coming and of Candidacy of Dr. Scott for Bishop—Welshmen Remember Patron Saint.

The start for Jerusalem of the party of pilgrims who go to attend the meeting of the International Sunday-school Association, was made the occasion of a demonstration on the part of the friends of those who started on the journey yesterday. Upward of a hundred people assembled at the Southern Pacific station, and there was a great display of enthusiasm as the train pulled out. Those composing the party are Rev. Dr. Hugh K. Walker, W. E. McVay, Mrs. Jennie E. Fullwood, Miss May Stewart, W. C. Weld, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Baskerville, Miss Bosbyshell, all of this city; Miss Mabel Hewes, of San Francisco; Rev. Mr. Taylor of San Diego, Rev. Mr. McCauley of Riverside.

Among the incidents attending the departure of the pilgrims was one in connection with the service in Immanuel Presbyterian Church on Sunday night. The last act of their popular pastor, Rev. Dr. Hugh K. Walker, was to receive into his large flock sixty-five new members. After the benediction had been pronounced at the evening service, during which the doctor had talked of his proposed journey, the choir unexpectedly sprung the sacred song, "God be With You Till We Meet Again." As the audience sang, the old people who customarily occupy the front pews crowded around their favorite pastor, put their arms about him, and sobbed out their hopes that he might safely return. It was a most touching scene, by which Dr. Walker was completely unnerved and overcome.

WANT COLORED BISHOP.

SEND NOTICE IN ADVANCE.

Word has come sailing along on the wings of the air that the colored delegates will be on hand at the Methodist General Conference in great force. They have sent notice that they will be here, and further, that they intend to press the claims of Rev. Dr. I. B. Scott of New Orleans for election to the bishopric. Dr. Scott is editor of the Southwestern Christian Advocate.

The local Executive Committee met with its first entertainment problem yesterday, when it was discovered that two of the hotels which have granted special rates during the conference were already filled for the full term of the conference.

The result has come about in this way: All delegates are to be entertained absolutely free of cost, from the time they leave home until they get back. The local committee has fixed the allowance for board and lodging at $1.50 per day, and all delegates are to be entertained at hotels if they accept the offer of the committee. If, however, any prefer to do so, they will receive their allowance in cash at the rate of $1.50 per day, and they can live at a higher-priced house, making their own arrangements. So many have already done this that, as stated, two of the hotels have been filled already.

At yesterday's meeting of the committee the Hotel Committee was authorized to appoint an auxiliary committee of twenty-five ladies to assist in the matter of entertainment and reception.

They also announce that committees will be appointed to go out along the railroads and meet incoming delegations, and have everything understood when the trains arrive at the station. In order to make it still easier for those who may have some difficulty in getting themselves located, the committee has secured a concession from the transfer company which will allow baggage to lay in the office for ten days without cost for storage.

Secretary Hough says that all the indications point to at least 10,000 persons who will come on the conference rates. This is indicated by the number who apply for accommodations for from three to four persons.

The desires of the Evangelistic Committee have to some extent blocked the general committee for some time, but yesterday this question was disposed of to the best advantage possible under the circumstances. The Evangelistic Committee stood out for securing Wednesday evenings for evangelistic meetings, but the presence at the conference of great ecclesiastical lights from all over the world, both in and out of the Methodist church, make it necessary to use Hazard's Pavilion every night in order that these people may be heard, and even the Sunday afternoons will be so occupied. It has finally been determined that the evangelistic meetings will be held at 4 o'clock each Sunday afternoon in the First Methodist Church, to be conducted by the great evangelistic lights among the bishops—Mallelieu, Fowler, Hamilton, Joyce and others. Bishop Fowler will be the first to preach at these services, and the size of the men will make the size of the church all too small.

HONOR PATRON SAINTS.

WELSHMEN REMEMBER ST. DAVI

Down in the little Welsh Presbyterian Church, on Crocker street last night, the red dragon of Wales held sway at a celebration of St. David's Day, but the loyal Welshmen saw to it that the Stars and Stripes were given a prominent place in both decorations and speeches.

It was 1303 years ago yesterday since the death of the patron saint of Wales, but judged by the fervency of the talk and the enthusiasm created by the songs and recitations in the native tongue, he might have died but yesterday. To the visitor who is not versed in the Welsh language, the songs sounded like the ripplings of a wheelbarrow over cobblestones, but laughter and great applause was the response of the appreciative audience of Welshmen.

R. G. Roberts presided, and the following programme was carried out:

Address, R. G. Roberts; opening song, "Bydd Myrdd," audience; solo, Fred Hughes; recitation, D. C. Williams; solo, Mrs. Roseberry; anthem, choir; address, Rev. T. W. Williams, solo, John Morris; quartette, Miss R. M. Davies, Miss S. E. Evans, Fred Hughes, Thomas Davies; solo, "Colomen Wen" ("O Spotless Dove,") R. O. Roberts; address, "St. David's Day," Rev. Wm. Davies; solo, "Gwlad Y Delyn," Miss R. M. Davies; duet, "Gwyrs Ir Gad," Fred Hughes Thos. Davies; solo, "Holy City," Mrs. Williams Vignes; address, Daniel Jones; national air, John Morris.

Mrs. B. Fay Mills will lecture tonight in Unity Church on "The Story of Jean Valjean." Mrs. Mills will also deliver a series of eight lectures in the Woman's Club House, on the life and message of Ralph Waldo Emerson. The lectures will be on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings and on Wednesday afternoons of next week and the succeeding one.

Today a police guard of honor will be stationed at the residence. It will consist of two officers in dress uniform, and will be maintained until the hour of the funeral. The pallbears will be Chief Elton, Capts. Bradish, Auble and Roberts (retired,) and Sergts. McKeag, Williams, Harris and Haupt. UNION PILLS ARE BITTER.

Laborites Don't Like Their Own Medicine.

Master Builders Impudently Called to Account.

Association Elects Officers for Ensuing Year.

The Master Builders' Association has been "called down" by the local labor council, and yellow journalism has magnanimously given the association opportunity to make full explanation of its acts, plans and purposes.

The "call-down" is one of the most laughable exhibitions of gall on the part of the union laborites, and the chance to explain given by yellow journalism presents a ludicrous side of the local labor situation, as brought out yesterday at the annual meeting of the Master Builders' Association of Los Angeles.

Some months ago the totem branded plasterers held up the contractors for a daily wage of $4 and $5. The scarcity of men gave the strikers a temporary cinch. The master builders, however, determined upon giving the unionites a dose of their own medicine. Throughout the East men were advertised for, and plasterers came to Los Angeles in bunches. The result is the labor market is well supplied. Men can be had for the asking, but contractors have not taken advantage of this fact. Wages remain at the old figures—$5 and $4 per day.

NO PLACE FOR STRIKERS.

But there is no work at any figure for the men who struck. Non-union men are given the preference. Smarting under existing conditions, a few days ago a committee from the labor council approached President Morrison. "What right has the Master Builders' Association to send east for men when there are enough men to do the work?" insolently demanded the committee.

"The only reply I have to make," said President Morrison, "is that the members of our association decline to be pinched by the jawsmiths and their associates."

After the committee had waited upon the association a yellow journal tried its hand at President Morrison and asked if he had anything to say. His reply was discomforting. He assured the sheet that the question between plasterers and contractors was an ancient history, and the association had no explanations to make to meddlesome newspapers.

RIGHTS OF EMPLOYERS.

It seems difficult for the union laborites to understand that while the employé has a right to refuse to work the employer also has a right to find a man, East or West, for place vacated. Another fact will some day dawn upon the boycotting element, and that is that an employer who has been pinched not only has the right, but is likely to possess the inclination to bar out the man who leaves him in the lurch.

IRRESPONSIBLE CONTRACTORS.

The work of weeding out the irresponsible contractors of the city was also emphasized at yesterday's meeting of the Master Builders' Association. In the past this element has given the impression abroad that the development of the city was founded upon a fictitious speculative basis, an impression that has worked a hardship upon men of stability, and seriously injured building interests. The crusade waged against this detrimental element has been rewarded by a change in the situation that cannot but make for better conditions in the building trades of the city.

BUILDING ACTIVITY.

"The adjustment of labor conditions and the placing of contract work upon a stable basis," said President Morrison yesterday, "is largely responsible for the unusual activity manifested in the building trades. While there may be nothing great in sight in the way of contracts there is projected a large number of rooming-houses, tourist hotels and residences. Nor is this activity based upon an extravagant impression of the city's future. A person visiting only the business center and the residence section of the city cannot appreciate the inducements combining to attract a larger population. Factories are springing up in every direction, employing from five to twenty men. Wages and material are at a normal stage, and homeseekers are convinced that a better time than the present to build could hardly be found."

ASSOCIATION OFFICERS.

At the conclusion of the meeting yesterday the following officers of the Master Builders' Association were chosen:

President, J. W. Morrison; vice-president, A. McNally; secretary, W. J. Scholl; treasurer, J. F. Hall; board of advisors, two years, W. E. Thornton, J. H. Bean; one year, F. L. Spaulding, John Rebman.

OFF TO ST. LOUIS.

Frank Wiggins and Party Leave to Direct Installation of Exhibit at Coming World's Fair.

Following the three carloads of exhibits which have already been shipped from Southern California to St. Louis, Frank Wiggins, member of the California St. Louis World's Fair Commission from this end of the State, left last night at 7:30 o'clock for the exhibition city.

He was accompanied by Mrs. Wiggins, Charles L. Wilson, chief of installation for California at St. Louis, and Clarence Wilson, an attaché of the California Commission's headquarters in San Francisco.

J. A. Filcher of San Francisco, Mr. Wiggins's fellow commissioner, will leave for the same destination in a few days. The departure of these officials for the future scene of action marks an important step, following long months of arduous collecting and preparing products from far and near throughout the State. Now the actual work of concentrating and installing this great, but hitherto scattered, display is to be begun by Mr. Wilson, under Commissioners Wiggins and Filcher.

The troubles of the commissioners have not been as to how to secure adequate material, but rather where to place all that has been put at their disposal. Although California secured space at St. Louis greater than that of almost any other State, her exhibit will be cramped for room.

Mr. Wiggins stated yesterday that he did not know how long he would be gone, but he may be able to return for a visit here at the end of six weeks or two months.

Another carload of Southern California products is being made ready for shipment.

EVENTS IN LOCAL SOCIETY.

THERE have been brides and brides—but how many clever enough to think of turning the tables upon the members of their bridal party, who so lately showered them with rice and old shoes and other appropriate emblems, as Mr. and Mrs. Roy B. Sumner of No. 1167 West Twenty-ninth street, did by giving a dinner a day or two ago, which was delightful and artistic to a degree, with a menu in which rice, the food of the Oriental, was served to the guests in every imaginable form and shape! There was "potage au riz," there were oysters in rice cups, there was rice salad, but the masterpiece of the whole affair and more particularly reminiscent of the recent wedding, was a certain delicious rice cream, served in orange baskets, tied with bows of white illusion, and decked in exquisitely fragrant orange blossoms.

The table was a gracious sight, with pink wedding bells, apparently pealing merry chimes from the chandelier from which were festooned airy fluffy strands of illusion, tied in great lover's knots to the candelabra at each end. Rose-shaded candles lent a soft light to the scene, bright, pink carnations bloomed in the center of the table, while white illusion mingled with the lace-like tracery of asparagus plumosus wound in artistic design upon the table cloth.

The place cards which bore the names of the fortunate guests also served as menus, and were ornamented with clever water-color sketches of brides and grooms being pelted with rice, old shoes, hearts, etc., and the significant inscription underneath, "How would you like these things to come your way?" They also bore the words "Vive le riz," which all the guests surely agreed with after the dainty feast of which they had partaken.

Tiny suit cases filled with rice and wedding cake formed the souvenirs, and a huge wedding cake was cut and found to contain a ring for Miss Fanny Reed, a heart which fell to Miss Sheldon, the thimble of single-blessedness to Mr. Irvine and the penny for riches to Mrs. McKay.

The guests, who were bidden to this dinner "au riz," took advantage of the occasion to meet at a friend's, and arming themselves with the requisite outfit for a tin shower, proceeded to give the young couple a serenade with clashing tins and other necessary articles for making a noise, and furnishing an ideal kitchen.

Those who took part in the festivities were Mr. and Mrs. W. E. McKay, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Callander, Miss Jessie Hartwell, Miss Fanny Reed, Miss Blanche Sheldon, Miss Josephine Lounsbury, Miss Delia F. Bates, Miss Emma M. Bates, Willard Arnold, Russell Baxter, Joe Irvine, George Turnerand Roy Arnold.

Tuesday Card Club.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. and Miss Smart entertained the Tuesday Afternoon Card Club at Brent's Hall, in the blue room. The room was festooned with smilax and red hearts hung in every conceivable nook and corner, while cut flowers arranged in low bowls gave an artistic finish to the whole.

The score cards were in the form of hearts, and punch was served from a cut-glass bowl set in the midst of a mass of delicate greenery. Later refreshments were served at the tables.

Prizes were awarded as follows. The first prize, a handsome picture, to Mrs. Ed Guthrie; the second, a water-color sketch, to Mrs. W. H. Crail. The consolation went to Mrs. De Groot.

The next meeting will be held at the residence of Mrs. Henry Sill of South Figueroa street.

—o—

Auto Party.

Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Schull of Minneapolis, who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Stimson, and who have their touring automobile with them, made up a party to Redlands and Riverside.

They had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Stimson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Holliday, Mr. and Mrs. Nat W. Myrick, Mrs. W. A. Barker, Miss Lila Fairchild, Mrs. Bob Clark of Peoria, Ill., Mrs. Meyler of Chicago, Fred Johnson, and Charles Praesants of Chicago.

—o—

In Riverside.

Mrs. Andrew Mullen, Mrs. G. A. Hancock, Miss Mary Mullen and Mrs. H. S. Schreffel of Chicago are at the Glenwood, in Riverside, for a short stay. They expect to be gone for two or three weeks.

—o—

Philolethia Club.

The Philolethia Club announce a dance, to be given on Friday evening, March 11, at Kramer's Hall. There will be good music and excellent floors.

—o—

Eschscholtzia Chapter.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. W. E. Reed was at home to the Eschscholtzia Chapter of Daughters of the American Revolution, at her home, No. 1413 Malvern avenue.

There were many interesting points taken up during the course of the afternoon, among which was the reading of letters from the northern chapters regarding the vice-regency of this State, and it was announced that Mrs. Cameron E. Thom of Los Angeles has been appointed. Mrs. Thom is a woman fully capable of filling this responsible position, and the daughters of her own chapter are rejoicing over her nomination. The State officers nominate the candidates, and then it is left to a committee of all the chapters to elect the nominated one.

Mrs. Thom will have the distinction of being the first vice-regent, as they have never had one in California before.

Mrs. Miller, a visiting daughter from Topeka, Kan., told in a most interesting way of the work of her chapter. It seems that they have erected a stone where the first building was in Topeka, and also where the first flag was raised. A point that is of special interest to Californians, since the discussions concerning El Camino Real is the fine work that this chapter is doing in tracing the old Santa Fé line which runs all the way from Westport, Mo., through Kansas and over the plains toward California.

Mrs. Sylvester of the Monroe Chapter, Rochester, N. Y., spoke of the difference between New York and California as to breadth of scope for their wrok which the organization is carrying on.

Later a social hour was enjoyed by these delightful descendants of Revolutionary heroes, and dainty refreshments were served in buffet fashion. The house had been made attractive with cut flowers and potted plants.

—o—

Friday Morning Club.

The Woman's Club House was filled with handsomely-gowned women between the hours of 2 and 6 o'clock yesterday, for it was the occasion of their by-monthly tea. The members have teas twice a month, and though this one was devoted to music and the gossip that always flows so easily over the teacups, they are converting some of them from mere pink teas into real salons, where the people of note gather to discuss in friendly fashion the topics of the day, and they now are planning with their customary ambition and vigor another art exhibition, as the one given for Miss DuVal's work created so much pleasant inspiration and gathered so many leading lights under the same roof.

Yesterday chocolate was poured by Mrs. C. T. Whitney and Mrs. Henry N. Mannington and Mrs. J. A. Clark were at the tea table. Guests were Mrs. E. S. Staples, Mrs. Randall Hutchinson, Mrs. Ballard, Mrs. Ira W. Phelps, Mrs. J. Rigdon Moore, and Mrs. Bashford.

The clubhouse was cool and refreshing in aspect, simple green being used in carrying out a dainty decoration.

—o—

Box Party.

Miss Mae Chapman, formerly of Atlanta, Ga., who will be married to Dr. Malden during the early part of April, gave a very pretty box party at the Orpheum Monday evening for her bridal party. Miss Chapman was in school at Marlborough four years, and she has quite a large circle of very warm friends here. Several showers are being planned for her during March. Covers were laid at Christopher's for Misses Mae Chapman, Myrna Baldwin, Lillian Waite, Mabel Reynolds, Ruby Crowther, Queeny Martz, Dr. Malden, Reed, Weltz, Ross, Warren.

—o—

Woodbury Dance.

The members of Woodbury Business College enjoyed a dance last evening in their fine new hall. There were flowers in profusion, good music and dainty refreshments, and the young people all had a merry evening.

—o—

Westminister Class.

The members of the Westminster class of the Central Presbyterian Sunday-school held their second annual banquet in their classroom Monday evening, February 22. In addition to the pastor, Rev. A. B. Prichard, there were forty-eight young people, mostly members of the class, seated around the tables.

After doing justice to the eight-course menu provided by Caterer H. R. Morse, O. C. Holden, president of the class and toastmaster, assumed charge of the programme, consisting of toasts and music.

From an original membership of thirteen, Westminster class has grown to its present membership of fifty-two in a little over two years.

Casino Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Johnston entertained a party of friends at the Casino Theater Monday evening with a box party, and a supper at Levy's followed.

Mrs. Winston's Birthday.

One cannot say that "birthdays roll around too fast" when they come on the 29th of February, and when the friends of Mrs. J. B. Winston heard that she was about to commemorate her "eighth birthday" they thought surely one who had not had a birthday for eight years deserved some kind of a celebration.

Mrs. Winston, who has just returned from an extended trip through Mexico, had not had time to invite her friends to help her enjoy the event, but they knowing the doors of Mr. and Mrs. Winston's hospitable home are ever open, took advantage of the occasion and, loaded with flowers and goodies, they took Mrs. Winston completely by surprise.

The floors were soon made ready for dancing, and the hours flew by only too quickly. During the evening Mr. Baldwin, whose pleasing baritone voice has won for him the appreciation of many Los Angeles audiences, entertained the company with a number of selections. Miss Allie Taylor and Miss Hazel La Touche gave some humorous readings in keeping with the occasion.

At a late hour about forty guests bid Mrs. Winston good-by and wished her many happy returns of the day, even though it is destined to come so infrequently.

—o—

For Eastern Friends.

Last evening Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Kennedy of West Thirty-seventh street gave a delightful dinner for a few eastern friends who are staying at the Hotel Green in Pasadena.

The table glowed with the fresh beauty and fragrance of many violets. On a centerpiece of flimsy lace over lavender satin, a mass of violets, together with maidenhair ferns, whose strands trailed airily over the snowy damask, gave a pleasing effect, and everywhere about the room violets were arranged. Place cards were hand-painted sketches of the blue-eyed blossoms, and covers were laid for eight. The guests were Mrs. Mary Forbes Simpson, Miss Forbes, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dillon of Wheeling, W. Va., and Frank Widney.

—o—

Trip to Jerusalem.

Dr. Hugh K. Walker accompanied by W. E. McVey left yesterday for New York, where they are to meet W. C. Weld, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Baskerville and Miss Borbyshell. From New York they will sail for Jerusalem on the 19th of this month, where they will attend the World's National Sunday-school Convention. There will be representatives from all over the Christian world, and this promises to be one of the largest conventions ever held of the kind.

Notes and Personals.

Count Holstein leaves for Coronado today for a week's stay.

Mrs. Charles F. Orthwein and Miss Orthwein of St. Louis are domiciled at the Van Nuys for the winter.

Col. A. W. Hamilton has as his guests at the Van Nuys his mother and sister, Mrs. John S. Williams and Mrs. R. H. Stoner of Mt. Sterling, Ky.

Mrs. Harriet B. Fletcher of Pasadena, who for several months has been visiting in the East, is expected home soon. Mrs. Fletcher was with Mrs. James Hasbruch of New York part of the time.

Mrs. Elizabeth Drake left recently for a six weeks' trip through Arizona and Mexico. She will visit Garfield Drake of Redrock, Ariz., who married a short time since Miss Dorothy Berliner. Later she will visit friends in Tucson, and from there will make a sojourn in New Mexico.

A cathartic of the highest merit.

PORK AND PROVISIONS. The Cincinnati Price Current of February 8 says the winter season in the packing regards is nearing a close, with supplies of hogs well maintained, although falling off in comparison with the liberal number for the preceding week. Total western packing 515,000, compared with 585,000 the preceding week, and 475,000 two weeks ago. For corresponding time last year the number was 450,000, and two years ago 695,000. From November 1 the total is 4,558,000, against 8,180,000 last year—an increase of 375,000. Good quality is maintained generally, with evidences of some decline in exceptional instances. Prices are decidedly higher, prominent markets at the close averaging about $5.25 per 100 pounds, compared with $5.15 a week ago, $5.10 two weeks ago, $7.06 a year ago, $6 two years ago, $5.45 three years ago, $4.80 four years ago.

The speculative provision market was active the past week, and there was an upward trend to prices, with the strength in the grain markets and the war situation in the Far East the most important factors in controlling values. The condition of the market is unsettled, and the week's trading covered wide ranges in prices each day. The export clearances of product were fair, and show an increase as compared with the preceding week, and a gain over the corresponding week last year.

The following shows the lowest, highest and closing prices of leading articles at Chicago for the week, for deliveries indicated, and also the closing a week ago and a year ago:

	May— Pork.	Lard.	Ribs.
Lowest	$14.95	$7.70	$7.17½
Highest	15.15	8.05	7.37½
Closing	15.15	8.00	7.37½
Week ago	14.97½	7.75	7.20
Year ago	17.55	9.00	9.02½

For current delivery, green hams 16 pounds selling at $9.37½@9.50, green shoulders $6.37½@6.50 per 100 pounds, sweet pickled hams 16 pounds $9.50@9.75, shoulders $6.50@6.75—at Chicago.

FIX EGG PRICES. Every year the question arises among wholesale dealers in produce, "How shall we handle local ranch eggs to the satisfaction of the trade and without loss to ourselves?" It is a serious question, and every year the time of heavy receipts of local ranch eggs is dreaded by all. The primary market is the country store, where they are gathered by the merchant a few dozens at a time and sold to agents of the different city wholesale houses, who are in turn shipped to supply the city retail trade. Every city retailer, however, has certain country customers who, when the hens begin to lay freely, bring their eggs to the city to exchange for merchandise, with the impression that they will receive more for them if they avoid the jobbers' profit. This is where, in the opinion of the jobber, they are mistaken; for the number of eggs thus thrown upon the market is an unknown quantity and with a market naturally weak, demoralization occure.

The Los Angeles Produce Exchange has spent many hours in discussion of this problem and now believe it has solved it to the benefit of the whole trade. The plan as outlined by the secretary is as follows:

Each Monday and Thursday the exchange will meet and fix the price that is to obtain for eggs f.o.b. Los Angeles, until the next meeting. As soon as the price is named uniform printed postal cards will be sent by each member to his country correspondent so that he may know what to pay for them. The price fixed at present is 16½ cents, which is on the basis of candled stock, the loss on account of bad eggs to be borne by the shipper. Members of the exchange believe the plan will steady the market and enable them to make a small profit after paying the farmer more than they could afford to do upon a demoralized market. Of course, the consumer may sometimes pay slightly more for eggs, but it is argued that a cent a dozen to the consumer amounts to little, while a cent to the producer or retailer amounts to much, and that the public is vitally interested in any measure that will promote the interest of the merchant and the producer. It will not take long to demonstrate the success or failure of the plan.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

SHARES AND MONEY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, March 1.—The movement of today's stock market was somewhat more consistent than yesterday's, in that prices were above yesterday's level throughout the day, but the character of the market was not essentially changed. Trading was near the minimum record for the last four years and the movement of prices was so narrow and slight as to be imperceptible. There were minutes at a time when the ticker was silent and motionless. The fact that prices moved upward had no news to account for it. The news, in fact, offered various unfavorable features. The fact that these unfavorable news factors failed to depress prices was the subtle reason for the advance. That is to say, traders short of stocks who had been awaiting a decline on bad news to cover their contracts, uneasy at the failure to decline, covered their shorts and lifted prices. The uncertainty over the outcome of the Paris settlement seems to have been a large influence in a negative way in our market. The progress of the settlement today and reports that an arrangement had been made to patch up threatened difficulties in connection with it relieved the stock market from some of its depression and conduced to the rally. Sugar was the strongest stock, Rock Island and Canadian Pacific showed some heaviness early in the day, but stocks of other companies advanced. Prices dropped from the best after a period of practical stagnation. Bonds were irregular; total sales, $95,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

CHICAG

A MAN; A WOMAN A PURSE; A SCENE.

YOUNG WIFE WHO LEAVES AGED HUBBY FINDS TROUBLE.

Goes to Levy's With Another Man, Has Dinner Mostly of the Cup that Cheers, and Accuses Companion of Trying to Rob Her.

A well-dressed, diamond-bedecked woman screaming for help; a well-dressed man running downstairs and escaping in a hack; an appeal to a policeman for assistance and then an effort to hush up the matter—such was an incident which occurred at Levy's yesterday morning after the theater crowd had partaken of its midnight dinner and departed.

The woman is a guest at Hotel Angelus, possessed of wealth and also of a husband many years her senior. The man in the case is named Harris and is well known at the restaurant. The officer is Patrolman Ebert, who happened to be in front of Levy's when the trouble occurred. The cause of the row was the alleged attempt on the part of Harris to part the woman from a purse containing several hundred dollars and several diamond rings.

Whether he really attempted the robbery could not be proved, but the woman made a tremendous outcry and was positive in her accusation. Despite the fact that she was intoxicated, the incident sobered her and she told all that had happened.

The woman's name was not made public even to the officer, and at her request her husband was summoned. Upon his arrival he told her she had been out late enough and insisted upon her accompanying him to the hotel, which she did.

According to the woman's statement to the officer, she had been introduced to Harris, and meeting him at Third and Spring streets consented to accompany him to Levy's to dinner. There they had many rounds of drinks—in fact, their dinner consisted more of liquid refreshments than of solid food. The liquor had its effect upon the woman and made her sick. She said that Harris was holding her head and while doing so she saw him trying to remove the contents of her chatelaine bag which contained nearly $400 and several diamond rings. Then she screamed for assistance and when several waiters reached the room she accused him of having tried to rob her. He denied the charge and she insisted that the police be sent for. Then Harris ran out and the woman followed him to the street, her cries attracting a number of people to the place. Inasmuch as no robbery had been committed, and several persons vouched for Harris, Patrolman Ebert made no arrests.

DELEGATE CALLS OUT PAINTERS.

WORKMEN ON HUGHES BROS. JOB QUIT THEIR BRUSHES.

Unionites Plan to Cinch Contractors on Wood Bros.' Building, but Independent Men Are Found to Take the Places of the Deserters.

A walking delegate broke into the establishment of Wood Bros., nearing completion at No. 343 South Spring street, yesterday afternoon and the sight that met his gaze filled his soul with horror.

There, working side by side with non-union painters, were five lily-white union artists. The work of calling them out was accomplished without incident and five non-union men are working in their places this morning.

There has been no dispute as to wages. Hughes Bros., who have the contract for finishing the place, have been paying whatever salary a man demanded and commanded. There has been no complaint as to hours for union and non-union men have been putting in but an eight-hour day. In fact there has been nothing in evidence to inspire a kick.

The work involving an outlay of $18,000, is a rush job. Wood Bros., propose opening one of the finest-equipped clothing stores in the State. The opening has been advertised for next Saturday. Hundreds of dollars have been expended in making the announcement. Hughes Bros. are duty bound to complete their task on time. Men have been working night and day to this end. What an opportunity to get even, measurably, with Hughes Bros., who years ago frustrated the unions at every point by cutting loose from the laborites and conducting an open mill. Obedient to the command of the subsidized walking delegate the men threw up their jobs. But there had been a miscalculation as to the census with reference to painters. An hour after the walk-out two good men were found to take the place of the deserters. Three more are pledged to independent service this morning. The unionites are out and the others are in. The work progresses without interruption. And Hughes Bros. are through with union men.

"That's what we get for trying to be decent," said G. T. Hughes yesterday. "We have been paying whatever men asked, there has been no complaint as to hours, and we have not asked a man whether he was union or otherwise. We have tried to be absolutely fair. But what can be expected of the whole union bunch but dirt. I'm through with them. They thought they had me in a hole, but these union fellows had better wake up to the fact that they can never control conditions here. I've got all the men I want and this attempt to cinch me has failed."

According to the rumor William and John Haddix, moonshiners, were killed and Jack Combes, a moonshiner, was fatally wounded. One deputy marshal was reported killed.

TOUGH SALOONS CLOSED TIGHT.

THREE CRIB-DISTRICT JOINTS THAT ARE NO MORE.

Proprietor of One of Them Conducting Dive at First and Alameda Streets—Effort to Reopen Dens of Crime Not Abandoned.

As a result of the revocation of their licenses by the Board of Police Commissioners at the request of the City Attorney, three of the most notorious saloons in the city were closed yesterday. They are the Pantheon, on Ferguson alley, the Basket, on Alameda street north of Aliso, and the Eden Café, northeast corner of Aliso and Alameda streets, all in the heart of the crib district.

The proprietors of these dives had exerted every known political pull to secure new licenses before March 1, but even with the assistance of the powerful brewery influence they were unsuccessful and when at 1 o'clock yesterday morning their doors were closed, they were closed permanently. Last night the crib district presented a different aspect to what had been the rule there for years. The place was dark and practically deserted. On Nigger alley the tough billiard halls were open, but the number of their customers was not as large as formerly. Without booze the crowd found nothing to entertain it, and the hangers-on sought other sections where they could get drinks.

The effort to have these saloons reopened has not been abandoned. It was given out that they will be again doing business within a week, but this statement is believed to be only a bluff, for the Board of Police Commissioners could not afford to insult the respectable element of the community by again granting a license for these dives.

The Pantheon saloon was the property of Nick Oswald, who owned a row of cribs, and was one of the worst joints in that vile section. In its most prosperous days, that is to say the days when it was Toughest, this place was a model saloon as compared with another of Oswald's dives.

As it is conducted at present Oswald's saloon at the northeast corner of First and Alameda streets is the worst place in the city, and is so regarded by the police. With total disregard for the rules of the Police Commission, private boxes have been placed in that saloon and the place is frequented by immoral negroes of both sexes and whites who are no better. It is a favorite resort for the lowest of prostitutes and frequent brawls have occurred there. A policeman said last night that the once-notorious Adobe saloon was a temple of virtue as compared with Oswald's present dive. That it was not included in the order revoking the saloon licenses was a source of surprise to those who know its character.

FUTILE FIGHT OF UNIONS.

GANG'S DESPERATE EFFORTS DON'T HURT RANDSBURG.

Walking Delegate at Barstow Warns Men to Keep Away from Mining Camp, but Town Continues More Prosperous Than Ever Before.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

RANDSBURG, March 1.—The labor union gang has failed utterly in its desperate efforts to destroy the business of this town. The mines here, operated with non-union workmen, are producing better than ever before.

All about the country wherever beer is sold there are posters displayed warning men to keep away from Randsburg, Johannesburg and other neighboring camps.

When Randsburg started as an "orange-picking" mining camp many gamblers and others that had had no mining experience began working in ten-foot holes and gulches, dry washing. Then they organized a union. First they worked ten hours, then their working day was reduced to nine hours. Those in the employ of the Yellow Aster Company grew arrogant and sought to run the company's business to suit themselves. The company refused to submit to the insolent dictation, and the union men lost their positions and were scattered over the country.

One of them, a walking delegate, hangs about Barstow, and tells men on outgoing trains to keep away from Randsburg and other camps. A large number of the men who joined in the futile strike are working at almost anything but mining. To get employment in the larger mines they must know something about mining more than the mere shoveling of gravel.

Some of the business men of Randsburg fear to express their opinions, but they are not unmindful of the fact that when pay day comes it is non-union men's money that keeps business moving, and not the union plotters that are vainly attempting to take trade from the camp.

COLOMBIA'S PUZZLING ELECTION.

COLON, March 1.—Persons who have arrived here from Savanilla and Cartagena in Colombia, say there was much uncertainty in the early part of last week as to whether Joaquin Velez or Gen. Reyes had been elected President of Colombia. They declare, however, that the latest dispatch received from Bogota asserts authoritatively that Joaquin Velez was elected President and Valesquez Coba Vice-President of the republic.

CASTRO SNUBS TWO ADMIRALS.

NEW YORK, March 1.—Admirals Douglass and Fawkes, in command of the British North American and cruiser squadrons, have not visited President Castro, although the fleet of warships has been here some time, cables the Herald's correspondent at La Guayra, Venezuela. The dispatch adds that their failure to do so is supposed to be due to a statement attributed to President Castro that he would in no case return a visit from the admirals.

THEY ACTUALLY DO THE WORK

Food Eaten Is Worthless Unless Digested —Some St.omachs Must Have Help.

Food taken into the stomach which, from the nature of the food or the condition of the stomach, is not digested, is worse than no food at all. This is a true statement as far as it goes and a great many dyspeptics go only this far with their reasoning. They argue with themselves that because their stomachs do not do the work given them, they must be given less work; in other words they must be starved. It would be just as sensible for a business man who is unable to do all his own work to cut down his business to his own capacity as it is for a man to starve himself to relieve his stomach. The sensible business man employs help and goes forward with his business. Likewise the sensible dyspeptic will employ help for his stomach and give his body proper nourishment.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets actually do the work assigned to them. They relieve weak and overburdened action. Their component parts are identical with those of the digestive fluids and secretions of the stomach and they simply take up the grind and carry on the work just the same as a good, strong, healthy stomach would do it.

On this account Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are perfectly natural in their action and effects. They do not cause any unnatural or violent disturbance in the stomach or bowels. They themselves digest the food and supply the system with all the nourishment contained in what is eaten and carry out Nature's plans for the sustenance and maintenance of the body.

How much more sensible is this method than that employed by many sufferers from weak stomachs. By this means body and brain get all the good, nutritious food they need and the man is properly nourished and equipped to carry on his work and perform his duties. He could not posibly be in proper working condition by starving himself or employing some new fangled, insufficient food that does not contain enough nutriment for a year-old baby. A strong man doing strong work must be properly fed and this applies to the brain as well as the body.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, by relieving the stomach of its work, enable it to recuperate and regain its normal health and strength. Nature repairs the worn and wasted tissues just as she heals and knits the bones of a broken limb, which is of course not used during the process of repair.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale by all druggists at 50 cents a box and they are the one article that the druggist does not try to sell something in the place of that's "just as good." Their unqualified merit and success and the universal demand for them has placed them within the reach of every one.

[NEWS REPORTS FROM TIMES CORRESPONDENTS.]

GREAT TELESCOPE ON MT. WILSON.

YERKES OBSERVATORY BRANCH WORK UNDER WAY.

Important to Southern California and to Science Will be the New Institution — Prof. Smith Breaks Pasadena Code—Fashionable Society Tea.

PASADENA, Office of The Times, No. 49 South Raymond Avenue, March 1.—The scientists who have been investigating the qualifications of Mt. Wilson as a site for the branch of the Yerkes Observatory, seem to have reached a decision. Burros have been employed for two or three day hauling material to the peak for a temporary observatory building, and it is said that the location there of one of the greatest astronomical observatories in the country has practically been settled upon.

The selection of Mount Wilson after investigations of various other possible sites is a compliment to this section, the importance of which cannot be overestimated. As the institution will be a branch of the famous Yerkes establishment at Lake Geneva, Wis., and connected with the association of similar concerns the world over, the most noted men, and their reports will attract them, and their reports will command the attention of the world at large to Pasadena.

Two sites were found near Martin's camp, either of which would have suited, viz., Mount Harvard and the present. The latter place seems to have been selected. The huge horizontal telescope, about 150 feet in length, was one of the first things hauled up by the burros, and is now ready for placing. A powerful spectro-heliograph will also be placed. Prof. George E. Hale, who has spent some time here, is in charge.

ELKS INITIATE TWENTY.

Pasadena Lodge, No. 672, B.P.O.E., took a class of twenty on the long form of the master Elks at the local lodge room last night. Members of the order from Los Angeles to the number of forty came out in a special car. After the initiations a banquet was served, and speeches were made by local and visiting Elks.

It is the intention of the lodge to hold initiations each Tuesday evening during the present month. Candidates to the number of twenty will be initiated at each weekly session. The membership of the local lodge now totals nearly 300, a remarkable growth for three years.

A TATTERED PROFESSOR.

Prof. James Smith is a joke. Clad in a suit of misfit clothes, he placarded the business and residence streets of Pasadena with handbills yesterday announcing that he has had "thirty years' experience in hair dressing, manicuress, perfumer and tonsorial artist." He claimed Los Angeles as his home, which greatly relieved the local police. Three dollars cash bail awaits his appearance in police court this morning for a fracture of the city code.

ANNUAL THROOP CONCERT.

The annual concert of the Throop Mandolin and Guitar Club was given last night before a large and fashionable audience at the Lowe Operahouse. The Pasadena Hospital will benefit largely by the affair, which took the place of a social as well as a school function. Appreciation of the varied programme was warmly manifested.

Later in the month the club will leave on its second northern trip, appearing in San Francisco and every town of any size in the San Joaquin Valley.

PLEASANT AT HOME.

The Lenten season is not very rigidly observed, as is evidenced by the large teas given and well attended by fashionable folk. That of yesterday afternoon given by Mrs. Fred Nash of East Colorado street in honor of her guest, Miss McHenry, of Dennison, Iowa, was an elaborately-appointed and delightful affair. The drawing-room and reception room were fragrant with a wealth of floral ornamentation, daylight was excluded and handsome lamps, shaded with tissue in colors to match the prevailing flower tint, gave soft illumination. White stock, white carnations, asparagus plumosus, arranged with trailing jasmine, embellished the drawing-room; freesias and ferns beautified the library, and the dining-room was particularly pretty with pink carnations and smilax. Baskets of these fluffy blossoms ornamented the table, and were set off with fluffy bows of pink tulle; from these floating widths of tulle were carried to a larger basket suspended from the chandelier, from which fell a shower of pink carnations.

Mrs. Nash was assisted in receiving by Mmes. H. H. Goodrich, W. A. McHarg, Rose Whitmore, Luther Ford, and Carrie L. Goodrich. Mrs. H. H. Ellamroth and Miss Leslie Shoemaker presided at the punch table; in the dining-room Mrs. McHenry and Mrs. Goodrich were relieved after the first hour by Mrs. Robert Ford and Mrs. Holborn. The young ladies assisting were Misses Emily Norton, Mabel Norton, Marie Markham, Alice Markham, Emma Claypool and Anne Whitmore.

SLAVIN WILL BUILD.

Councilman Matthew Slavin announces that he will build his handsome block on the northeast corner of Fair Oaks avenue and Colorado street this summer, at a cost of $50,000 or more. Slavin acquired the property several months ago, and said then that he would replace the old Williams block with a modern structure, but was undecided as to just when he would begin. Now he has decided that no more time should be lost.

The new building will be of brick, three stories in height. The plans are being prepared by Architect F. L. Rhoades. They are for a modern structure, complete in every particular, with a frontage of 80 feet on Colorado street and 93 feet on Fair Oaks avenue. It will be the largest office and building block in the city.

BRIEF CITY NEWS.

The funeral of Mrs. Valenta Wetherby, wife of Theodore Wetherby and mother of Francis Bruce Wetherby of this city and Wallace Wetherby of San Francisco, will be held Thursday morning at 10:30 from the residence, No. 1 South Madison avenue.

Lee Boyle, the youth injured at the troop Monday by a fellow student at play, was not seriously hurt. An unconceived effort to suppress mention of the accident gave rise to alarming reports as to young Boyle's condition before he arrived at his home in Los Angeles. He has returned to school.

C. H. Baxter of New York, who has spent several winters at Hotel Green, has purchased the O. H. Picher property on Marengo avenue and California street, 300 by 792 feet, for $10,000. The property is a handsome one, and the price paid is regarded very low by real estate men.

The new electric line out Colorado street to Lamanda Park was opened to the public yesterday. There will be a fifteen-minute service from Orange Grove avenue eastward.

William Lambert, distributing bills without a license, was fined yesterday. He was advertising Ellery's Band.

Ah Jung, Chinese, peddling fruit without the proper municipal totem, was gathered in yesterday by the police.

The owners of two strolling horses will have a pretty penny to pay some of the ranchers of Altadena. The nags have been gayly prancing over the newly-planted hay fields and sundry cuss words are stored up against them.

The Council yesterday received a communication from Superintendent Rowray of the electric railway, stating that the suggested reduction of speed of cars inside the city will be complied with.

"To be or not to be," may very properly be called a question, but advertising in the Los Angeles Times is no question; results are sure. Telephone your wants to Red 1451 and our Pasadena Agency will take your ad, and send it to main office.

THE CITY ASSESSMENT.

HOLLYWOOD, March 1.—The City Council has passed an ordinance by which the city assessment will be made by the County Assessor and the city taxes collected by the County Treasurer, on account of extra pressure in the mains the large pipe at the corner of Highland and Prospect avenues broke today and flooded the streets. No other damage was done.

SCHOOL BOND ELECTION.

The Union High School Board held a meeting today and completed arrangements for the High School bond election, which will take place in the High School room on Highland avenue next Saturday. The indications are favorable for a practically unanimous vote in favor of the bond issue.

Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Halleras of Minnesota, Mrs. J. Adde, W. A. Walkins and wife, Mrs. Mabel Linn of Chicago, Mrs. John Willson of Peoria, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Kent of Huron, S. D., are guests at Hotel Hollywood.

OCEAN PARK.

THE NEW BATH-HOUSE.

OCEAN PARK, March 1.—While the directors of the Ocean Park Bathhouse and Amusement Company have not formally declared the location of the proposed new bath-house there is no longer any uncertainty about the structure being built. Contrary to previous plans, the plunge will be located on Ocean Front between Navy and Ozone streets, instead of between Navy and Marine. This throws the building one block farther south, but the required 200 feet front of the chosen site costs only about $20,000, whereas the cost of the site first decided upon was in the neighborhood of $36,000. Sufficient funds to buy the land and build and equip the bathhouse has been subscribed and the plans presented by Architect Newsome have been adopted. Options have been secured on the land contemplated to be used and the purpose of the directors is to receive figures on at least a part of the work by the last of the present week. The building will have a frontage on the ocean of 200 feet and will be 103 feet in depth. It will contain a cold plunge and a warm plunge as well as several score of tubs and more than four hundred dressing rooms.

GATHERED ON THE SANDS.

The detective force of Short Line Beach has as yet been unable to locate the offenders who have been shooting the globes off the incandescent lamps that line the board walk.

Workmen are engaged at the Los Angeles and Pacific power-house in removing the boilers and steam engine. These are to be taken to the company's power-house at Vineyard, which will hereafter supply the substations. No power will be generated here after the new converters are in place.

F. M. Benedict, Dana Burks and Miss Lavayea are each building seaside cottages in the new clubhouse tract. These houses will cost approximately $1500 each and all are in the new town. C. H. Burris is improving the Ganahl property on Third street, which he has just purchased. Lewis Depuy is making extensive repairs to his Fourth-street property.

ALHAMBRA.

BOARD OF TRADE ORGANIZED.

ALHAMBRA, March 1.—The Alhambra Board of Trade is now legally incorporated and at a meeting held last evening was duly organized, the directors choosing the following officers: President, W. F. Lawson, cashier of Alhambra Bank; vice-president, Gail Borden; secretary, J. J. Williams; treasurer, S. D. Crow. The sentiment of the board is for public-school expansion. It was also decided to hold the first annual public meeting of the Board of Trade on the evening of March 17, at which time it is expected there will be a banquet and speeches from invited representatives of other boards of trade of the surrounding country, as well as from home members.

SAN PEDRO.

SLAYER HELD FOR TRIAL.

SAN PEDRO, March 1.—Charles Pierce, charged with the murder of Mike Castellano, was given a preliminary examination before Justice Downing this morning. Charles Conar, Emil Christensen and Tom Mershon, the three boys who witnessed the tragedy, testified, and the accused was held to answer. Pierce had nothing to say and looked haggard. He was taken to Los Angeles this afternoon. His wife and child have been sent to relatives in Thacker, Va., by the citizens of San Pedro.

OPPOSITION PARTY TICKETS FOR CITY TRUSTEES.

One Element Indorses Present Urban Fathers and Other Favors Candidates Understood to be More Liberal in Their Ideas on Liquor Question.

LONG BEACH, March 1.—The thermometer of local politics is registering at a high point on the scale. With the municipal election more than a month away the town is wondering how lofty a mark the mercury will reach before the biennial choosing of officers shall have been accomplished.

At a meeting held last evening J. B. Losee, R. A. Eno and R. S. Oakford were named for City Trustees. These gentlemen, it is understood, stand for a policy more liberal than that of the present city administration. It is stated that the position of the element they represent is not by any means in favor of restoring saloons to this prohibition town, but rather to slightly modify the present conditions under which not even a glass of wine may be served with a meal at a hotel.

This action in nominating a ticket for City Trustees follows close on the heels of the meeting which on a recent rainy night indorsed the present Board of City Trustees, the City Treasurer, City Clerk and City Marshal.

It is believed that the present treasurer, clerk and marshal will be also indorsed by the party which has brought out the new aldermanic ticket.

G.A.R. PLANS.

Messrs. Daubenspeck, Van Horn and Sanden of Los Angeles, representatives of the G.A.R., conferred with local members of that veteran order yesterday and with the W.R.C. last evening relative to the proper observance of Long Beach day which is to be a feature of the coming department encampment of that organization in Los Angeles early in April. The Long Beach Board of Trade was also represented yesterday at the meeting. The board is giving hearty encouragement to the plans for entertaining the visitors.

SEASIDE BRIEFS.

The infant daughter of Frank Bradensburg, foreman of the United Electric, Gas and Power Company, died this morning.

George E. Steele, the engineer who has been engaged on a preliminary survey for the Los Angeles and Long Beach boulevard, has finished his work and it is expected will submit a report to the Boards of Trade soon.

J. Driskill has been appointed inspector of pier construction by the City Trustees with a salary of $3.50 per day.

A protest signed by 204 taxpayers, praying that the City Trustees call no bond election for a municipal lighting plant is in the hands of that body.
